

Chapter 748

Sophia was an arms dealer, so she knew about the various bombs in the world. She was aware of the bomb because she was the one who made them.

The explosion range of this bomb was huge!

Seeing the bomb dropping, Sophia instantly made a decision.

When the bomb landed, her arms would probably be blown off!

She fired her gun at the bomb!

Bang!

The bomb exploded in the sky.

The horrific blast wave caused Sophia, who had just found cover, to collapse to the ground in a heap. Her clothes were torn, her hair was a mess, and her face was dirty.

Thankfully, she survived!

Boom!

The gunfight lasted for more than ten minutes. Suddenly, it became quiet.

A terrifying silence.

The only survivor, Sophia, stood up. She knew what this meant. All the guards in the house were dead, and she was the only one breathing!

Swoosh!

A group of heavily armed men came over, pouring in from all directions. Each of them held a gun in their hands and aimed them directly at Sophia.

"Sophia, put down the gun!" The leader was a woman.

She looked extremely cold.

She would only listen to Loomis now.

Loomis' order was to bring Sophia back.

Sophia was silent for a few seconds. Suddenly, she fired!

With a loud boom, five people were killed!

She was not afraid of death!

However...

Boom!

A bullet shot over and pierced Sophia's hand.

Clatter!

Her rifle fell to the ground. She endured the pain and tried to pick up the rifle.

The woman came over and kicked her.

Sophia clutched her stomach and fell to the ground. Her face was pale, and she didn't have the strength to get up again. Even if she was a combat expert, she could not withstand this kick.

Sophia didn't faint because she could be considered to have good physical strength. In other people's cases, they would have screamed and passed out.

"Take her away!" The woman turned and left.

The fully armed men surrounded Sophia and forcefully picked her up.

To them, Sophia and the Four Greatest Households were like a piece of cake at this time.

The strength of the hidden family wasn't something the Four Greatest Households could compare with at all.

As soon as Loomis gave the order, the Lawrence family's guards would be easily wiped out.

"Oh, Sophia, we meet again! Did you miss me?" Loomis laughed out loud. Although Sophia's clothes were in tatters, she looked wild but still kept her charm.

Sophia was cold and silent. The same as last time when Loomis asked her for bombs.

She was used to it. If it wasn't for Chuck, she would have been tortured by Loomis at that time. But now, she still had to face Loomis.

"You seem to have a good relationship with Chuck. Did something happen between you and him?" Loomis said with a sneer.

"What are you talking about?"

Sophia felt irritated and her heart was in turmoil. She could never tell anyone about her relationship with Chuck!

She absolutely couldn't admit it.

"That's true. Chuck is trash. How can he be with you? Oh, Sophia, how do you stay so young? By the way, Sophia, do you know why I called you over?" Loomis reached out and grabbed her face.

"Don't touch me!" Sophia was in fear.

As a woman, she saw the intent in Loomis' eyes. She was scared. She had decided that Chuck was the man for her. Even if she died, she would not let another man insult her.

It would be a betrayal to Chuck.

"How can I let you go when you're in my hands? You should know that Chuck had hurt me because of you. It seems that you still carry some weight in Chuck's eyes. Let's see if he will come to your rescue!"

Loomis laughed sinisterly.

What fun it was to torture Chuck's friends and family one by one?

It was revenge on Chuck!

"Listen, call Chuck now and tell him you're in my hands. Then, I'll let you go!"

Loomis laughed perversely.

How could he let Sophia go?

He would torture Sophia in front of Chuck, so that Chuck would see his friend die in pain.

"I won't call him!" Sophia was determined.

If Chuck came here, he would be standing in front of hell's gates. How could she do that to him?

"This isn't something you can control! Do you understand?" Loomis laughed sinisterly. His hand reached out.

Sophia felt scared. "What are you doing?"

"What do you think? I'll do something to you if you don't call him... Sophia, you!" Loomis was suddenly enraged. He noticed that Sophia's mouth was suddenly bleeding. What was this?

She bit her tongue!

Loomis let go. "Hmph, I didn't expect you to be so stubborn!"

This was really beyond his expectations. After all, Sophia was the head of Lawrence family, yet she couldn't endure humiliation?

Was she going to kill herself over such a trivial matter?

However, Loomis laughed. In any case, his earlier guess was wrong. Sophia was such a strong woman. How could Chuck touch her?

This was impossible.

If she hadn't been touched by Chuck, she would have been of some value to him.

Sophia's mouth turned numb. Her bloodshot eyes stared at him.

She didn't regret what she had just done. She couldn't betray Chuck even if she were to die. Voluntary or not, she couldn't do it!

"Forget it, come here. Either way, I want her to call Chuck personally for help," Loomis said lazily.

For him, Sophia still couldn't die.

"Yes, master!" A woman came over. She was going to use her means to make Sophia surrender.

Sophia closed her eyes.

She must endure the torture.

Loomis' patience started to wear off. Sophia was too stubborn. If this went on, she wouldn't call Chuck even if she were dying.

His face was distorted. Suddenly, he had a new idea. It was definitely possible to get Sophia to make that call!

Elise's plane was attacked by the Yeager family when she left and the plane's fuel tank was destroyed.

The plane was forced to descend to a wilderness area, and she now needed to get help!

Chuck! The first and only person she thought of was Chuck.

She had to find a way to find Chuck.

Elise ran around the forest on her own. She was already injured. She was worried about Sophia. Has Sophia met her end?

She didn't dare to think about it.

Suddenly, there was a movement. Elise was vigilantly looking for a place to hide. With a crashing sound, someone rushed over and was fully armed.

Elise felt shocked. She noticed that they were all from the Yeager family!

"No! Don't!" Elise ran crazily, but a man showed her a ferocious smile and gave her a kick. How could she resist?

A miserable scream rang out.

The man picked up Elise and boarded the plane to leave.

"Oh, you've found her? Sophia, let's see if you'll make this call or not!" Loomis said with a sinister smile.

Chapter 749

Chuck was still unaware of Sophia and Elise's situation. 1

After he and Karen came back from the company, he went to his casino.

He felt at ease after confirming that the casino was safe and sound.

Patricia had always arranged for extra guards, and there was nothing wrong with the casino yet.

However, Chuck knew that if anything went wrong, the new casino would be over!

He straightened it out with Patricia, who seriously guaranteed that if there any problems arose, she would be responsible.

Chuck did not need her to do that. He just needed her to be more careful.

He explained to her.

When Chuck came back from his casino, Willa and Yvette were all present. They were discussing things together.

During this process, Chuck was absent-minded.

If they couldn't deal with the Yeager family under Loomis' control, should he listen to Chadrick and ask Adriana for help?

Chuck didn't know what he should do now, but he didn't want Karen, Yvette, or Willa to be harmed.

If things came to that point, Chuck would not hesitate.

Karen suddenly received a phone call. She was stunned. "Chucky, something has happened to Sophia."

Chuck stood up immediately.

What?

Sophia was in trouble?

Because of Loomis?

Chuck's eyes turned cold, and his anger immediately soared into the heavens. Loomis, he actually dared to do this?

Why did he divert his anger to Sophia?

"Mom, I got it. I'm going out," Chuck said coldly.

Karen was more astonished. Chuck's gaze was scary. Why did Sophia evoke such a reaction out of Chuck?

"Wait!" Willa, Yvette and Karen all stopped him at the same time.

"Since it has come to this point, there is nothing more to say. Chucky, Loomis should be in control of Sophia. You can go see her. As for me, Willa and Yvette, let's go to Yeager's house!" Karen felt that she couldn't delay any longer.

They should give a blow to Loomis!

"I, I want to go with Chuck," Yvette said hurriedly.

How could she be assured?

It was too dangerous for Chuck to meet Loomis alone!

"Yvette, I think Sophia will make a call and ask Chucky to go alone."
Karen shook her head.

Willa was worried, but Karen's words were reasonable.

Chuck would stall Loomis, and they would go straight to the Yeager's house to gain control. It was also a good solution.

If they took control of the Yeager family, Loomis would definitely be panicking!

Then Chuck would be much safer, which was the best way right now.

"But, but... "

Yvette felt worried, but she had to listen to Karen.

"Hubby, you have to be careful!" Yvette couldn't control her emotions.

This time, they were going to deal with a hidden family!

"Okay." Chuck asked Karen for the address, and Karen told him. Chuck remembered it and went out.

Karen, Willa and Yvette did not speak. Chuck left them in silence.

"Yvette, go prepare! You'd better guard here," Karen began to assign tasks.

She and Willa were both great at night raids.

The two of them were prepared to go straight to the Yeager family.

"I don't want to stay here. I want to go too!" Yvette rejected.

Karen was shocked. Yvette bowed her head, and her voice was much softer than before. "I don't want to stay here. I want to go. Don't look down on me. I will surpass you one day!"

"All right! Go and get ready!" Karen agreed.

Yvette ran out to prepare.

Willa's beautiful eyes had been looking outside, and her heart followed Chuck.

"Don't worry. Chucky is more capable than Loomis. Be rest assured," Karen said.

She didn't need to worry about Chuck.

Well, she was in a situation like this before. She had encountered it and survived, it was a huge wakeup call. Chuck needed to go through that process.

No one could help him. All the growth still had to be carried out by himself.

"Alas!" Willa sighed.

What was the point of worrying?

"By the way, remember to put on the bulletproof vest. I think there might be an accident this time," Karen said.

Her sixth sense told her that something was going to happen.

What was it? She was not sure, but there was definitely something!

After so many years, Karen had been able to survive until now. She firmly believed in her sixth sense.

Willa was stunned. "What have you felt?"

Willa absolutely believed in Karen.

"I merely feel that something unexpected will happen. It's better to be careful."

Karen could only say this.

"Okay." Willa didn't have this feeling just now, but Karen suddenly mentioned it, and she also had this feeling!

Just what sort of accident could happen?

They went to prepare.

The three of them went out. Karen took the lead and went to Yeager's house by plane, while Betty did not go. All of Karen's properties were monitored by Betty. As soon as something was wrong, Betty would immediately go fix it!

Chuck drove out of his house and headed straight for the place that Karen had told him about.

He was thoroughly prepared. However, after he left home, Chuck suddenly stopped for some reason.

He felt a little uncomfortable and also felt that something unexpected would happen. What was it?

Chuck didn't think much of it. Perhaps he was being paranoid!

He continued driving.

Halfway there, Chuck received a call from Alexandrina, saying that she had an emergency.

Chuck didn't want to go, but it was on his way, so he drove over.

Last time, Alexandrina said that she had arranged a spy among the three secret families, didn't she?

Perhaps she would give him some clues.

It would also increase his confidence in facing Loomis.

"My lover, where are you going?" After arriving at her place, Alexandrina was startled. Chuck's expression was very serious. She knew where Chuck was going.

It was too dangerous!

Chuck didn't say much, but Alexandrina was very anxious. She didn't care about anything and handed the last three bombs to Chuck.

In fact, Chuck still had a few more in his hands.

"Keep it for yourself."

Chuck didn't want it. As the saying went, "True feelings are revealed in times of trouble". He wasn't in trouble, but Chuck had seen her true feelings.

"You don't want it? Take it. You are my cute lover. I won't allow you to die. Do you understand?" Alexandrina's eyes were red.

Anyway, she had a good impression of Chuck.

Chuck couldn't refuse. He took one and left two for her.

Alexandrina shook her head. Chuck insisted, "Alexandrina, don't be like this. You have to live too!"

Alexandrina then put it away. "I received a secret message that something happened to the Yeager family."

"What?" Chuck asked in surprise.

"My people told me that a secret storage unit of the Yeager family was stolen. Loomis doesn't know about it yet."

"Who took it?" Chuck didn't expect that Alexandrina would tell him about it. Could it be that this was the reason for his sixth sense?
