

Chapter 641

In an instant, Fade's eyes turned cold. He reached out his right hand and grabbed the shoulder of the long-haired man who was throwing things. Fade said coldly, "It's time to stop!"

The long-haired man heard the words and turned his head. He glanced at Fade and said impatiently, "Who are you? It's none of your business!"

Fade said coldly, "You don't need to know who I am. I asked you to stop. Do you hear me?"

"Why should I listen to you? Who do you think you are? Get out!" The long-haired man was angry. He turned around and tried to punch Fade in the face.

Fade snorted and squeezed his right hand, the hand that was holding the long-haired man's shoulder.

The long-haired man felt a sharp pain and his body suddenly became soft. His cheeks collapsed, and his face was full of pain. "Ah, it hurts, it hurts. Let go of me, quick!"

Fade didn't let go of him. He only stared at him coldly and said, "Do you still want to fight me?"

"No, I don't. Let go of me!" the long-haired man said.

Fade pulled the long-haired man out of the house and threw him onto the corridor.

The long-haired man rubbed his shoulders, and his face looked like he was full of pain.

After he finally relieved the pain, he raised his head and looked at Fade. Then, he looked at Uncle Liu and asked, "Did you hire them?"

Uncle Liu glared at the long-haired man and said angrily, "This is Fade and Quin. Yesterday, he saved me from a gangster and even cured your mother's illness. He is my savior. Quickly apologise to them!"

The long-haired man curled his lip and showed a look of indifference. He said coldly, "A saviour! Humph, do such good people still exist? I think he has bad intentions. He might help you just to get your house like me."

Hearing this, Uncle Liu was furious. He slapped his son on the head. "You're a bad person. Do you think everyone is as bad as you are?"

When the long-haired man saw that Uncle Liu was going to hit him, he instinctively wanted to fight back.

But at this moment, Fade snorted, stepped forward, and said in a cold voice, "Do you still want to replay what happened just now?"

The long-haired man shivered and shook his head in a hurry.

"Then get out!" Fade shouted angrily.

The long-haired man's face flickered, and he went downstairs gloomily. However, as he reached the bottom floor, he seemed to be unwilling. He shouted to them from downstairs, "Old thing, I don't care what helpers you have hired. I'm telling you, the outcome can't be changed. Brother Hong will bring his men to take over the house soon. You wait and meet Brother Hong's anger!"

Hearing this, Uncle Liu was so angry that he wanted to rush down and beat this unfilial son hard.

10:14

Fade quickly held on to Uncle Liu, who was flushed with anger. Fade helped Uncle Liu into the house and injected some Positive Energy into him so that he would calm down.

Uncle Liu calmed himself down and couldn't help sighing. With disappointment and anger in his eyes, he said to Fade and Quin, "Fade, Quin, I'm sorry that you had to encounter this after helping me."

"Now, you should leave quickly!" Uncle Liu said.

Fade sat down and said, "Uncle Liu, I'm not in a rush. Is that your son? Can you tell me what's going on?"

Uncle Liu sighed for a while and finally said slowly, "Didn't I tell you before? My son hangs around with the hooligans all the time and ends up not coming home."

"Yes!" Fade and Quin nodded.

Uncle Liu continued, "Spending so much time with them, he picked up many bad habits. He drinks, gambles, and plays with women. However, he doesn't earn much money. So, he would ask my wife and I for money."

"In the beginning, my wife was worried for him and she would give him money from time to time. But later, my wife fell sick, so she stopped giving him money."

"As a result, this b*stard was insatiable. He has come to the house to cause trouble several times, and he even stole things from the house to sell for money."

"Later, we really had no money left. In addition, there were rumours that the government wants to develop the area and relocate the people living here, so he fixed his eyes on this old house. He wants to sell the house and relocate!"

10:14

Fade nodded after hearing that. Then, he was confused and said, "Uncle Liu, this community is indeed a little old. If you're being relocated, the compensation should be good. If it's really torn down, you can live in a new house and live a better life!"

Uncle Liu sighed and said, "If it's really an official relocation, I'm willing to tear down the old house. But these people are not official."

"Not official? What do you mean?" Quin was puzzled as he questioned Uncle Liu.

Uncle Liu explained, "Here's the thing. The rumour of relocation of this community started only a few months ago. It'll take at least one or two years for the official relocation to happen."

"It's because of this one or two years of waiting that the local gangsters took a fancy to us. They want to take advantage of this opportunity to get our houses at a low price before the official relocation by the government, so that when it happens, they can make a lot of money."

"What!" Fade and Quin were enraged and their expressions turned cold.

Uncle Liu continued, "I've heard that the government's plan for relocation is to replace our house with a house of the same size with a little added subsidies."

"However, these gangsters are only offering 1,000 yuan per square meter. With this price, how am I supposed to afford a house? That bastard was forced to sell the house at this price because he has gambling debt, that's why he is forcing us to do this."

"One thousand yuan? That's unacceptable!" Fade was really angry. He didn't expect the group of gangsters to be so vicious in taking over ordinary people's property. It seemed that the underground world of Bay City was indeed in chaos. How could this kind of thing happen?

10:14

Thinking of this, Fade took his mobile phone out and called Darren Hong. "Are you up? Bring some men over to me. I'm..."
"Yes, Mr. Chen. I'll be there right away!" Darren responded as soon as he heard Fade's order.

After ending the call, Fade looked at the worried Uncle Liu and comforted him, "Uncle Liu, don't worry. I'll help you solve this problem!"

"But that gangster, Brother Hong, is not easy to deal with. He is the local villain, and he has hundreds of people under him. Fade, you'd better take Quin away first!" Uncle Liu said worriedly.

Fade shook his head, patted Uncle Liu's hand, and said, "Uncle Liu, don't worry. They can't hurt me."

After that, Fade looked at Quin again and asked with an inquiring look, "Honey, about the tomb..."

Quin said softly, "It's still early. Let's solve this problem here first."

"Well, thank you, dear!" Fade smiled.

Chapter 642

Although Fade and Quin tried to comfort them over and over again, Uncle Liu and his wife were still worried.

They were especially worried 20 minutes later when there were footsteps and shouts in the corridor. Uncle Liu and his wife suddenly looked anxious. They looked at Fade and Quin and said, "They're coming. They're coming. You..."

Fade smiled confidently. He walked out of the room and said, "I'll handle it. It'll be fine."

Accompanying the sound of footsteps was a group of people who rushed over.

Among them, the one leading the way, Uncle Liu's son, who had just ran away.

When he saw Fade, there was a fierce look in his eyes. He said ferociously, "Kid, how dare you stay here? I've brought my brothers. You can't run anymore!"

Fade looked at the long-haired man coldly and said, "I'm not going anywhere. You should worry about yourself."

As he spoke, Fade kicked the long-haired man, sending him flying. He knocked down several punks who were behind him, causing a burst of shouts.

"Fu*k, how dare you hit me! Beat him to death!"

"That's him. Let's get him!"

10:14

"Kill him!"

.....

A group of punks rushed over and attacked Fade fiercely.

Among them, the leader, was a red-haired gangster.

Seeing the red-haired gangster, Fade couldn't help but laugh, saying, "It's you again! It seems like last night's lesson was not enough!"

When the red-haired gangster heard these words, he looked forward and recognized Fade as the person who had beat him at the sweet potato stall the night before. He was shocked. However, he glared at Fade and said, "I got so many backup now, and yet you dare to be arrogant. I think you are looking for death."

"Everyone, get him!" the red-haired gangster shouted and indicated for the gangsters behind him to rush forward.

However, the guy unconsciously took a few steps back and hid behind them.

Then, there was the sound of punching, followed by screams.

The men who rushed over had all fallen in front of Fade with bloody noses and swollen faces, and all of them were knocked down. At this moment, Fade was still standing at the door, like an unshakable King Kong.

The situation shocked the red-haired gangster and he took a few steps back again.

Seeing this, Fade looked over and said coldly, "Why? Weren't you very cocky just now? Are you trying to run away now?"

The red-haired gangster said in a trembling voice, "You... don't mess around. I'm telling you, I'm Brother Hong's man, and Brother Hong is on the way. When Brother Hong arrives, prepare to suffer."

10:14

"Really? I'd like to see what kind of skills this Brother Hong that you speak of has. Does he dare touch me?" Fade said.

At this moment, a shout came from the corridor. "I don't dare to touch you? I'd like to see who this arrogant person is!"

As this person was speaking, all the ruffians in the corridor cleared a way, leaving a clear road in the middle. A burly man, in his mid-thirties with a fierce look, swaggered over.

At the sight of this man, the gangsters on both sides of the corridor all showed respect and joy.

"Brother Hong!"

"Welcome Brother Hong!"

"Brother Hong, here you are!"

.....

Brother Hong walked to the door and stopped. He looked Fade from head to toe, then he put on a fierce look and said, "So you're the one who beat my men!"

Fade immediately kicked a gangster away and said coldly, "They deserve it!"

Seeing this, Brother Hong's face turned cold and he said in a low voice, "I'm the one to decide if my people deserve to be hit or not."

Fade said, "They want to take over Uncle Liu's house. They deserve to be hit."

"Take over the house?" Brother Hong snorted and pointed at Uncle Liu's son. "That's not right. He sold me this house. It belongs

Fade shook his head and said, "It's you who got it wrong. It is Uncle Liu's name on the house ownership certificate of this house. His son's name is not there. Therefore, his son cannot sell the house to you."

"Is that so?" Brother Hong's expression changed and he glared at the long-haired man.

The long-haired man was terrified and he stammered, "Brother Hong, my dad said that he would leave this house to me. I-I assumed that it was mine..."

"Assume that it's yours!" Brother Hong's face couldn't help changing. He kicked the long-haired man hard and said, "I'll even assume it is mine!"

Seeing this, Fade said, "Since you're all clear about this, then, please leave!"

Brother Hong looked up at Fade and said in a low voice, "Leave? I came all the way here, so I will not leave so easily."

"Since the name on the property ownership certificate is the old man's name, then, let the old man come out and sign," Brother Hong shouted. "I'm telling you, I'll get this house no matter what."

Fade glanced at him coldly and said in a cold voice, "No matter what? I'd like to see how sure you are about that."

"How sure am I?" Brother Hong shouted. Then, he waved his hand and said, "Get him!"

In an instant, all the gangsters behind him rushed over, larger in scale than they previously were.

However, Fade stood still at the door. No matter how many people there were, they could not move him at all.

On the other hand, Fade, with a series of thunderous sounds, knocked the gangsters down one by one and threw them out.

Within less than five minutes, Fade had put the twenty or so punks on the ground.

The situation shocked Brother Hong who was full of confidence before. With an astonished look on his face, he took a few steps back and looked at Fade with a change of heart. "H-how could this be possible?"

"Nothing is impossible!" Fade said coldly. Then, he stepped forward and approached Brother Hong. "Are you running away? Are you afraid?"

Brother Hong's eyes flickered, but he was still determined to say. "I'm telling you, don't touch me. I am Monkey King's man, the Monkey King of North Bay City. Do you know him?"

"One of the Four Heavenly Kings under Uncle Jimmy's command?" Fade asked.

"You do know him! Let me tell you, I am a subordinate of Monkey King. The business here has been ordered by Monkey King. If you dare to mess with us, you are going against Monkey King. I advise you to surrender immediately, otherwise, when Monkey King arrives, you are doomed," Brother Hong threatened.

Fade sneered and said, "Really? I'd like to see who will be doomed when Monkey King arrives."

"You don't believe me? Let me tell you, Monkey King and I used to be brothers who fought for territory together. Later, Monkey King had a meteoric rise with Uncle Jimmy, but he didn't forget me..." Brother Hong continued.

At this moment, there came a shout. "Who's the Brother who fought alongside me for territory?"

Chapter 643

Then, a thin figure arrived. His eyes were cold and his voice was low. It was Darren Hong.

Brother Hong, who was speaking, heard the voice. He suddenly frowned and said discontentedly, "I'm talking about the matter between Monkey King and I. Who is interrupting? D*mn it, who the..."

He turned around cursing, but when he saw the thin man in front of him, he trembled violently, as if he had been struck by lightning. Then, he faltered, "M-monkey King, why are you here?"

As soon as the name "Monkey King" left Brother Hong's mouth, all the punks at the scene were shocked. They looked at Darren in surprise, and then their faces changed greatly. They lay on the ground and didn't dare to look up.

Darren snorted and said, "I heard that someone has been bullying the weak in my name. Of course, I had to come and check it out for myself."

Upon hearing this, Brother Hong's face changed. He wanted nothing more than to slap himself in the face. He had so much regret in his heart.

However, with a smile on his face, he tried to explain, "Monkey King, I-I was joking. I wouldn't dare do bad things in your name. This is all a misunderstanding."

After that, Brother Hong gave Fade and Uncle Liu's son a fierce look, and his intentions were evident. "Quick, say something!"

10:14

Uncle Liu's son's eyes moved, then his mouth moved, and he said, "Monkey King, t-this is indeed a misunderstanding. This house belongs to my family, and I want to sell it. Brother Hong didn't bully the weak."

Brother Hong quickly said, "Yes, that's it. Monkey King, that is what happened. It's just a misunderstanding."

Meanwhile, when Fade heard this, he couldn't help but kick Old Uncle Liu's son and glare at him.

Then, Fade looked at Brother Hong and said coldly, "That's not what I heard. You..."

Seeing that Fade was about to speak, Brother Hong immediately glared at him and threatened with a low voice, "What the hell are you talking about? Be careful that I..."

Without waiting for Brother Hong to finish, Darren stepped forward and slapped the back of Brother Hong's head. He shouted angrily, "How dare you talk to Mr. Chen like that? Do you want to die?"

Then, Darren walked up to Fade, bowed respectfully, and said, "Mr. Chen, I've brought my men here."

Fade nodded and said, "That's good. Can you deal with everything else here?"

After that, Fade and Quin turned around and went back to their rooms.

After Darren respectfully watched Fade go back to the house, he turned around and looked at Brother Hong and others with cold and ferocious eyes.

At this moment, Brother Hong and the others were stunned and they could not believe what they had just seen.

"T-this is impossible!"

"W-who is that person? Why does Monkey King respect him so much?"

10:14

"Is there something wrong with my eyes? Did I see it wrongly?"

.....

Among the shocked expressions, Darren shouted coldly, "Why don't you tell me the truth? Or should I find it out myself?"

This time, Brother Hong was so scared that his whole body trembled. He didn't dare to hide anything, so he could only explain the situation in full detail.

Darren immediately dealt with the situation. After finishing up, he respectfully went into the house and reported the relevant information to Fade.

Brother Hong had led some people to buy more than a dozen houses at a low price in this old residential quarter. They were preparing for the upcoming relocation. If he really succeeded, the final profits could be as much as tens of millions.

However, now that Darren had shown up, Brother Hong returned all the houses that he had forcibly occupied.

Fade understood what was going on. He nodded and said to Darren, "I won't worry about all these if you're the one taking care of things."

Darren nodded and said, "Mr. Chen, you told me about the chaos in the underground world of Bay City. I..."

Fade waved his hand and said, "I still have something to do. Let's talk about it later. Go back and investigate the situation first. Start with the preparation work. Also, you should pay more attention to the chaotic situation, much like what happened in this district."

"Yes!" said Darren.

"Okay, you may leave," Fade waved his hand and said. Darren then left with his men respectfully.

Fade and Quin said goodbye to Uncle Liu and his wife and left.

As for Uncle Liu's son, for Old Uncle Liu's sake, Fade did not kill him. He ordered Darren to take him away and teach him a good lesson.

Darren had been in the underground world for so many years, and there were too many ways to deal with this kind of gangster. He believed that in Darren's hands, in less than a week, this guy would definitely be able to get rid of his bad habit.

After Uncle Liu's affairs were settled, Fade and Quin drove to Daniel Lin's grave.

Although there were some delays, fortunately, the cemetery was nearby. It was not too far away from Uncle Liu's residential area.

At 10:30 in the morning, Fade and Quin rushed into the cemetery.

The cemetery was large, and thousands of people were buried here. The densely-placed tombstones were neatly arranged, giving one a sense of solemnity.

In addition to the flowers placed in front of the tombstones and the burning wax paper money in front of the graves, floating smoke lingered in the air above the cemetery. The quiet chirping of birds and insects made one feel like one was in a different world.

Here, if you calmed yourself down, closed your eyes, and smelled the fragrance in the air, your mind would seem to float in the air. You might feel like you had seen the smiles of the relatives and friends there.

Since it was not any particular festival that day, there were not many people in the large cemetery. It was very quiet. However, even so, Fade and Quin still slowed down and moved forward solemnly. This was out of courtesy and respect; respect to the ones who were buried there, and respect to their relatives and friends who were still alive.

Daniel liked quiet places, so Quin and her mother, Chrystal Xie, had chosen a burial plot in the quietest corner of the cemetery for him.

Fade and Quin walked over. The trees along the corridor were lush, and the flagstone pavement was partially submerged.

The wild grass and the shady trees made this place feel quiet and even a little cold. This was especially the case when light wind would blow from time to time. In this kind of place, one could not help but think of myths like ghosts and monsters.

However, Quin did not believe all that and Fade was not afraid either.

As they were about to arrive at Daniel's grave, suddenly, a burst of noisy music broke through the quiet cemetery.

Chapter 644

It was a cacophony of music. There was a guitar, bass guitar, and other instruments playing.

"Why is there music in a place like this?" Fade and Quin were both confused at the same time.

They took a few more steps. Then, the noisy music got louder, and this time, there was even the sound of drums and singing.

Upon hearing this, the doubtful looks on Fade and Quin's faces became even more intense.

"Is it... a band?"

"Why would there be a band here?"

Amidst confusion, Fade and Quin couldn't help but quicken their pace and hurriedly walked forward.

As they turned a corner and looked over a small hill, they finally saw what was happening.

They were at a corner of the cemetery, and there were not many people buried there. Only a few tombs were there. Because nobody took care of them, some of them were already broken.

In this environment, a group of young men in leather clothes with long hair were dancing among the graves with various instruments. They seemed like a proper band.

In front of the band was a young man in his twenties. With a camera in his hand, he was taking videos of the band that was singing and dancing among the tombs, giving non-stop suggestions.

"Not bad. That exciting feeling is very good!"

"It is such a cool idea using a graveyard to shoot this kind of rock song."

"This time, our work will definitely win the prize!"

"Liam, you're the vocal. You should behave more wildly."

"The rest of you, do the same. Be wilder with more youthful enthusiasm and arrogance."

.....

From the looks of it, the band was shooting a music video.

Seeing this, Fade and Quin stopped and did not continue to move forward. After all, the band was video-shooting, so they did not want to enter the frame and disturb them.

However, it did not mean that Fade and Quin agreed with what they were doing.

Watching this group of youngster's arrogant and unruly actions, Fade and Quin frowned slightly, and they shook their heads. They thought that the band should not be playing unbridled and vigorous rock music in a place like a cemetery.

However, although they did not agree with their actions, they did not disturb them rashly.

The two of them continued to watch, and the young men in the band started dancing more enthusiastically. The crazy music and dance, and the hoarse roar of the main singer Liam seemed to have intoxicated them.

About ten minutes later, the song was finally over. The cameraman made an OK gesture and said with a smile, "It's done."

Looking good! Awesome, guys!"

When the young men of the band heard what he said, they were even happy and they smiled. They clapped their hands excitedly and hugged each other to celebrate.

Seeing this, Fade and Quin were already on their way to their destination. After all, the band had finished filming.

But at this moment, Liam the long-haired one suddenly said, "I have another idea. Listen to me."

As he spoke, he picked up the guitar and played a violent melody. The companions around him immediately cheered enthusiastically.

The more Liam sang, the more excited he became, and his movements got bigger and bigger.

He sat down on a tombstone and danced excitedly. After a while, he jumped onto the tombstone, stepped on it, and danced wildly.

The most excessive thing was that Liam seemed to be excited. When he saw a pile of burning wax paper money in front of a grave, he laughed disdainfully and said, "A group of superstitious fools. What era is it now? They are still using wax paper money? Rubbish!"

After that, he kicked all the wax papers and offerings in front of the tomb.

Seeing this, his companions immediately applauded and cheered. They joined him, one after another.

Some of them kicked over the offerings in front of the tombstones, others stepped on the graves to demolish the towers. Some even crushed the already crumbling tombstones with great force.

10:14

At the same time, as they destroyed the graves, they kept bragging.

"Stupid people. It's ridiculous to believe in these!"

"A group of uneducated trash. How can they believe in these feudal superstitions?"

"No wonder there is no good rock music in this country. There are too many fools with this backward thinking. They should learn from foreign countries in order to produce better music."

"Not just the music, but everything else too. Anyway, I have decided that after graduation, I will go abroad to study!"

"Haha, me too. I'll ask my father to arrange everything for me!"

"Anyway, we won't stay in this garbage place for long, so let's vent our anger as much as we can!" the leading singer, Liam, opened his arms and shouted.

Then, he took the lead in destroying the grave. He kicked the offerings and smashed the tombstone. Suddenly, he decided to jump onto a tombstone where he started unbuttoning his pants, as if he was about to pee on the grave.

At the same time, he laughed and said, "Haha, come on, shoot this! I want to show you what a real cemetery party is like."

"Haha, cemetery party. Liam, you're so talented!"

"I want one too. Hurry up and shoot it for me!"

"Awesome, this is so innovative. So unruly. Haha!"

.....

The group of people were extremely excited as they burst into laughter.

10:14

At this moment, the expression on Quin's face completely cooled down. She stood up with a cold face and shouted at Liam, "Come down!"

That was because the grave that Liam had jumped on was the grave of her father, Daniel Lin.

Quin was well raised and she rarely got angry. Even if she encountered actions that she didn't like or didn't agree with, she usually didn't get bothered and wouldn't get angry easily.

But now, this group of people before her was really going overboard. Although Quin was only slightly uncomfortable in the beginning when they were playing rock music at the grave, their destructive behavior now made Quin really angry.

Quin's angry roar shocked the young men who were in a state of excitement. They turned their heads and looked at her.

When they saw Quin's face clearly, they couldn't help but get shocked. Then, they smiled.

Liam raised his eyebrows and whistled at Quin. "Beauty, are you calling me?"

Quin's face was gloomy and she snapped, "Get down now!"

Seeing this, Liam snorted and said, "Beauty, who are you? If you want me to go down, I'll go down!"

Liam's companions also went to his side and spoke up for him.

"Beauty, we're in the middle of something here. Don't cause any trouble!" said the bass player.

"Beauty, why are you so angry?" the drummer said.

"Haha, in my opinion, she is just a meddlesome prude!" This was from a female guitar player.

Chapter 645

Quin looked at them and her expression grew colder. She gritted her teeth and said, "That's my father's grave."

When the band members heard this, they were stunned for a moment, and then their faces changed.

Someone looked at Liam and said, "Liam, come down!"

"That's right. It's not good to disrespect her father's grave! Get off!"

Hearing this, Liam did not take it seriously. He looked at Quin and said, "So what if it's your father's grave? Although it's a grave, in fact, it's just a piece of stone. There's nothing special about it."

"Besides, how lucky of you to be included in our music video. Our music is destined to be famous internationally, and it will forever leave a mark in the history of music." Liam was full of confidence.

Quin was so angry that the muscles on her pretty face began to tremble. With a gloomy face, she gritted her teeth and said, "That's my father's grave. I won't allow you to insult him. Come down now and apologise to my father!"

Hearing this, Liam did not care at all as he said, "Beauty, you are a little unreasonable. As you said, your father is dead. All I did was step on a stone. You consider this an insult? I think you are making a fuss."

"You!" Quin was so angry that she was about to hit him.

At this moment, Fade walked to Quin's side and held her. Then, he looked at Liam coldly and shouted, "Get down!"

10:14

Hearing this, Liam's face darkened. He snorted and said, "F*ck, if you talked properly, maybe I'll come down instantly. But since you're acting tough in front of me, let me tell you that I'm not coming down."

"I'm telling you that I, Liam, am not afraid of being ruthless. Not only am I not going to go down, but I will also pee and party here." As he spoke, he starting to take off his pants, and then he smiled and requested that his companions film him.

Seeing this, Fade's eyes turned cold and he uttered a cold voice, "You're looking for death!"

Then, Fade turned into a shadow and disappeared from where he was. With a gust of strong wind, he appeared in front of Liam.

Liam was caught off guard, and then he saw a foot appear in front of him. Before he could react, the foot kicked him between his legs. The huge force sent him flying and he slid more than ten metres and hit the wall of the courtyard. Then, he fell down with a bang.

The situation shocked Liam's companions. Some rushed over to help him while others glared at Fade with resentment in their eyes.

Fade stared at them and said coldly, "Do you still have resentment? You are lucky that you're still alive after what you did."

Several people returned with Liam and looked at Fade with unconvinced looks.

"What do you mean? What do you mean by what we did? What's the matter?"

"What we were doing was great music. You fools can't understand that, and yet you dare to slander us."

.....

"Music, great music. Bah!" Fade spat and cursed. "People like you are not qualified to be considered people. How dare you say that you can make great music? Your so-called music, like you, is a pile of garbage."

10:15

"You... you're speaking nonsense!"

The group was angry, and they shouted at Fade while their faces were filled with rage.

"People like you don't understand our work!"

"This country's feudal farts can't understand our trends. How sad!"

"A group of superstitious old b*stards. How ridiculous that, even after so many years, they still come here to play with paper money!"

.....

Fade stared at them coldly and said, "You think you are trendy and unruly. In my opinion, you are nothing but a group of kids who don't even know basic respect."

"Respect?" Liam sneered and said. "It's ridiculous that you expect us to respect this kind of feudal nonsense!"

"That's right. This kind of superstition came from thousands of years ago. I have to say that this country has failed at making progress!"

"This kind of person is destined to stay at the bottom. As for us, we are going abroad to pursue a higher level of culture. Hehe!"

"Oh, all this wax paper money, offerings, and tomb-cleaning. Are you going to tell me that demons and ghosts exist? Haha! What a sad fool."

When Fade heard this, he was angry and sad. He did not expect this group of young people to consider the culture of his country, which was thousands of years old, as old-fashioned and superstitious. They completely abandoned their traditional culture, as if it were dirt, and turned to pursue this so-called high-level culture that had a history of only a few hundred years. It was really saddening.

These Chinese traditions were part of a culture that had been passed down for thousands of years. It was also one of the main components of Chinese history that had lasted for thousands of years.

As those punks were young people of the new era, Fade could understand their interest and distrust in such traditional things. If all they did was not believe it, Fade wouldn't say anything and he would've just let them go.

However, not only did they not believe in the traditions but they also turned to unscrupulous slander of Chinese culture, even describing it as nonsense. This was a great disrespect.

The way these punks saw it, if others were different from them, they were of a lower class. If others believed in feudal superstitions, they were backward. This kind of radical thinking had completely eroded them and completely turned them into lost souls with no cultural backing.

In Fade's opinion, this kind of spiritual betrayal was a sign that they had lost their cultural foundation, and he also saw it as a betrayal.

At this moment, Fade was not in the mood to argue with them anymore. He shook his head with sadness and disappointment in his eyes, and gently lowered his head.

Seeing Fade's reaction, this group of young people got even more excited. They thought that they had won the argument, so they all laughed and started to ridicule him unscrupulously.

"Hehe. He has nothing to say! He has no comeback for what we said!"

"Nonsense is nonsense. No matter what you say, it can't be changed! Haha!"

"These low-level beings will never be better than the higher-level people like us! It has been destined for a long time."

Just as they were mocking him, Fade suddenly raised his head, and his eyes flashed with a fierce light. Then, he clapped his hands and shouted, "Rise!"

In an instant, wild wind blew violently and the grass and trees whirred. The strong wind passed over the tombstones and burst into a shrill howl, like the screams of ghosts and wolves.

This change of events caused a change of facial expression on Liam and the others. They looked around and asked, "W-what's going on?"

Liam narrowed his eyes and said, "Don't be afraid. The wind is just a little strong."

As soon as he finished speaking, Fade faced his palms towards the sky and clapped once. In an instant, the sky was full of murky clouds and it became dark.

Chapter 646

At this moment, the howling wind became stronger. Under the overcast sky, the whole garden fell into darkness.

Liam and his companion's faces changed when they saw what had happened.

"W-what's going on?"

"The sky is completely overcast!"

"That guy is playing tricks on us!"

"Hey, stop playing tricks. I'm telling you, your dirty tricks won't scare us!" Liam took the lead and shouted at Fade.

Fade, however, just glanced at them and ignored them. He shot several rounds of black Qi energy with both hands. The Qi energy surged and spread quickly through the air. Then, it turned into a black mist, quickly enveloping the entire cemetery.

The black mist pervaded the air and soon, Liam and the others could no longer see what was happening around them.

They could only hear the wind blowing around and the dark clouds getting thicker. The whole sky seemed to collapse in the fierce wind.

A sense of oppression that had never been felt before caused Liam and other people's faces to become gloomy and nervous.

10:15

The two girls said nervously, "What's happening? Is there really a ghost?"

The words made Liam and the others tremble, and they involuntarily began to think of stories with demons and ghosts.

The more they thought about it, the more frightened they became. Their legs trembled. They stood on the ground and didn't dare to move anymore.

Seeing this, Liam took a deep breath, snorted, and said disdainfully, "There are no ghosts in this world. You are scaring yourself."

"T-then, what's going on now?" a girl asked.

Liam said, "This is just a magic trick. They created some smoke and blew some air. Let's go. As long as we walk out of the smoke, we will be fine."

After that, Liam took the lead and went forward. Although his companions behind him were nervous, they followed him, one by one.

Liam took the lead, identified a direction, and walked straight forward.

They were surrounded by a hazy black fog. If it weren't for the occasional tombstone as reference, they wouldn't have known whether they were moving or not.

However, after walking for more than ten minutes, they realised that they were still surrounded by black fog. They couldn't see what was going on outside at all, let alone get out.

Suddenly, the two nervous girls couldn't help but speak again.

"We've been walking for so long, but why haven't we gotten out yet?"

10:15

"Yeah, the cemetery is not that big!"

"It can't be. Is it really a paranormal event? I don't think a trick can be executed on such a large scale!"

.....

When Liam, who was leading the way, heard this, the muscles on his face twitched a few times, and then he gritted his teeth and said, "Don't think too much. There are no ghosts or paranormal activities in this world. This is just some trick that kid is playing. As long as we continue to walk straight, we will surely get out."

As he spoke, Liam continued to move forward. But after a short while, he stopped and froze on the spot.

Seeing this, his companions behind him couldn't help but get curious and ask, "Liam, what's wrong? Why aren't you moving?"

Liam did not speak. The people behind him could only see his wide back suddenly begin to tremble slightly.

Curious, someone walked to Liam's side and looked in front of him.

When he saw what Liam saw, he was also shocked and he exclaimed, "H-how could this be possible?"

"What's going on?"

"What's happening?"

"What the hell is going on?"

.....

Their voices trembled at this moment.

10:15

And their faces were livid with horror.

Because, before them was a broken tombstone. It wasn't just any tombstone, but the one that Liam had broken just now.

This meant that they had returned to their original spot after walking for so long.

Thinking of this, they couldn't help but feel a chill in their hearts as their bodies couldn't help but tremble. In addition, the wind blowing through the graveyard got stronger and stronger. There were whistling sounds, and it sounded like mournful screams.

"W-we're lost!" The person who was in charge of filming, at this moment, was trembling all over, and his face was full of horror.

"It's true! Ghosts are real!"

"No, don't come over. Don't come over!"

"We're wrong. We won't dare to do it again!"

.....

Crying and shouting rang throughout the group.

Even Liam, who didn't believe in ghosts a moment ago, was stiff with terror. His face was pale and his lips trembled.

He kept shaking his head and whispering to himself, "No, it's impossible. It's impossible, absolutely impossible. I believe in God. There are no ghosts. Impossible..."

Just as he was murmuring, suddenly, another gust of wind whistled by.

Then, he felt the soil under his feet move.

10:15

He looked down and saw a decayed hand suddenly stretch out from the soil next to the broken tombstone. The flesh and blood was rotten, full of maggots, and even through there was flesh and blood, he could see the white bones within.

The big rotten hand reached out of the ground as if there was a force pulling it out.

More parts of the arm stretched out, including the forearm, elbow, and shoulder. Then, a rotten head with a black skull came out of the earth.

The corpse, emitting a rotten breath, blew black fog out and pounced at Liam with a deep and low groan, "You disturbed my sleep. I'm going to kill you!"

At the same moment, from the surrounding tombstones came sounds of corpses breaking out of their graves, one after another.

"Ignorant human, you have tarnished our honour. I want you to pay the price!"

"Who destroyed my grave? I want revenge!"

.....

Liam turned his head and looked around, only to find that he and his companions had been surrounded by decayed corpses.

Suddenly, he couldn't stand it anymore. He ran away in horror and kept shouting, "Ghost, don't kill me, don't..."

Liam was terrified. His companions had long been scared out of their wits. Like headless flies, they fled like crazy.

However, no matter how they fled, they found it impossible to escape the thick black fog.

The decaying bodies who were chasing after them knocked them down and tore their flesh off piece by piece with sharp claws of bones. They ate their flesh bit by bit with their mouths.

10:16

Unable to withstand the shocking fear, the group of people all fainted.

Chapter 647

At this moment, in the cemetery, Fade looked at Liam and the others who were trembling non-stop not far ahead. He snorted and said, "This is just a preliminary lesson!"

While speaking, Fade released a burst of Qi energy and injected it into their bodies. Almost immediately, they woke up.

Just as they woke up, they couldn't help but scream. Then, when they saw their surroundings clearly, they breathed a sigh of relief.

However, when they thought of the horrible experience they just had, they shivered all over and could no longer control the fear in their hearts. They rushed frantically to the entrance of the cemetery.

"Ghosts, there are ghosts!"

"I saw ghosts!"

"Don't eat me! Don't kill me! Help!"

.....

The youths rushed out like lunatics. They even abandoned their treasured musical instruments as they fled out of the cemetery.

In the cemetery, some people occasionally glanced at this group of people and couldn't help their strange expression. They shook their heads and said, "How could the management of this cemetery be so lenient. How can they allow crazy people in?"

10:16

At this moment, Fade looked at Liam and the others who had fled and disappeared. He then turned around and looked at Quin, saying, "Honey, I have chased them away. Don't be angry anymore."

What Liam and his gang just witnessed were not really ghosts. It was simply Fade using his Positive Energy to create an illusion for them.

This way, Fade could frighten those youths and instill in them a sense of reverence, teaching them to respect others.

Quin looked at Fade and then back at Liam and the others. A flicker of doubt flashed across her eyes. However, she did not ask Fade further, because she knew that her husband had his ways. It was good enough that those people had been scared away.

Immediately, Quin went to her father's grave and carefully pulled the weeds and cleaned the garbage around the grave. Then, she lit a candle and burned a stack of paper money at the grave.

In the end, Quin knelt in front of the grave and kowtowed three times as a sign of respect for the late Daniel Lin.

Fade also saluted his father-in-law.

After the ritual, Quin and Fade packed up the wax paper that was in front of the grave, and they turned to leave.

As they walked to the entrance, several uniformed staff members were sitting lazily in the duty room, dozing off.

Quin suddenly thought of something. She stepped forward, knocked on the window of the duty room, and said, "Hello!"

The middle-aged man on duty was awakened. He opened his eyes, looked at her impatiently, and asked, "What's your problem?"

His attitude made Quin frown, but she said calmly, "Hello, I have a question for you."

"What's the question?" The middle-aged man on duty scratched his hands as if he didn't care at all.

10:16

Quin said, "I wanted to ask if you knew that a group of students were playing as a band in the cemetery, and they even destroyed many tombs."

Hearing this, the man's face changed slightly and his eyes flickered. But then, he waved his hand and said, "What student? What band? I don't know. It's nothing!"

Quin originally wanted to talk about it nicely, but his attitude caused her even more dissatisfaction. She said in a low voice, "They caused such a big commotion and they even pulled the wires in the cemetery. How could you not know about this?"

Hearing this, the man on duty made a fierce look with his face and said, "I've said it. I don't know. So why are you asking so many questions? What's more, what does this have to do with you?"

"What's does this have to do with me?" Quin's face darkened. She said coldly, "They destroyed and insulted my father's grave. Does it have anything to do with me?"

The man on duty froze for a few seconds and then said, "I don't know what you're talking about! If there's nothing else, don't disturb our work."

As he spoke, the man was about to close the window and turn a blind eye to Quin.

At this moment, a big hand reached out and grabbed the window. He told the man on duty coldly, "Until the matter is solved, I advise you to answer the questions properly."

The man on duty looked at the young man who was blocking the window with an unhappy look and shouted, "You are causing trouble and disturbing our work!"

When Fade heard this, he couldn't help sneering and said, "Work? How dare you say that you're working?"

10:16

"Everyone paid money to the cemetery, and the cemetery paid you a salary. You were asked to manage the cemetery, but you didn't even care that the deceased were insulted in the cemetery, and you even prevented us from giving feedback! Is this the attitude you have when you're working?"

When faced with Fade's question, the man couldn't help changing his expression, and then his face completely darkened. He said coldly, "I don't know what you are talking about. Leave now, otherwise, don't blame us for being rude."

As he spoke, the man on duty waved his hand and immediately summoned five or six uniformed men who were on duty.

The few of them glared menacingly at Fade and Quin.

"Get the hell out of my way, boy!"

"Don't make me do it, or I'll kill you."

"Get out of here! Go as far as you can, right away!"

Looking at their arrogant looks, Fade shook his head and said in a cold voice, "We thought you were the staff and we wanted to talk to you nicely."

"But now, it seems like you are not the staff after all. You are nothing but a group of hooligans. Since you've said that, go to hell!" Fade shouted and glared at the people in front of him.

Seeing this, the man on duty sneered and said, "Boy, you're so arrogant! Brothers, let's fight together. If we don't teach this guy a lesson, he won't know how powerful we are."

10:16

As they spoke, they rushed towards Fade and hit him with their fists and feet. However, their fists and feet couldn't land on Fade at all. Instead, Fade punched and kicked them, and they turned black and blue. They were beaten so badly that they couldn't stop crying. They fell to the ground with their hands over their heads and begged.

"S-stop hitting us. We know we're wrong!"

"No! Stop hitting us! Please!"

"Brother, stop. Hurry up!"

.....

Fade didn't stop and he continued to beat them up.

The arrogant man on duty was beaten up badly. His eyes were red and swollen, and his head had also become swollen. He groaned, "Y-you dare to touch me. Let me tell you, I follow Brother Hong. If you hit me, Brother Hong will not let you go."

Chapter 648

"Brother Hong!" Hearing this name, Fade paused for a moment and then thought of something. He sneered and said, "Haha. I thought you were just ignoring your duty, but turns out you really are a bunch of hooligans!"

"We are Brother Hong's men, and Brother Hong is the big boss of this area. If you dare to mess around, he will not spare you," the man threatened.

Fade said in a cold voice, "Go and ask Brother Hong to come, and we'll see who will be the one begging for mercy!"

Hearing this, the man on duty was stunned for a moment. Next, he quickly winked at the man beside him. That man hurriedly took his mobile phone out and began to dial a number.

As for Fade, he crossed his arms in front of his chest and didn't intend to stop him at all. Until the phone call was over, Fade didn't do anything.

Given the circumstances, the man on duty couldn't help but have a flash of sternness in his eyes. He said silently, "Just you wait. I am Brother Hong's loyal follower. When Brother Hong comes, you're finished."

Fade stopped beating them up. He just waited by the side and made a few phone calls.

Before long, a group of punks came over in a mighty manner.

Seeing this, the man on duty didn't care that his head was extremely swollen and bruise. He got off the ground and greeted,

10:16

"Brother Hong, you're finally here. We were beaten up and bullied!"

Brother Hong, who was in the lead, glanced at the man on duty who was beaten into a pulp and he was stunned. Then, he frowned and said, "What's going on? How did you end up like this?"

The man on duty cried suddenly as he complained, "It's a kid who insisted on causing trouble. We said a few words, but he fought back against us, and it turned out like this."

"What? How dare a kid attack my people? Doesn't he know that this is my, Brother Hong's, territory?" Brother Hong shouted angrily.

When the man on duty heard this, he quickly pointed in Fade's direction and said, "Brother Hong, that's the guy. He's over there! Teach him a lesson and help us take revenge!"

"Don't worry. If he hit my man, he won't leave in one piece!" Brother Hong went over aggressively.

The man on duty was red-faced. He looked at Fade smugly and resentfully and said, "B*stard, Brother Hong is here. Let's see how arrogant you are!"

As he spoke, the aggressive Brother Hong walked over to Fade and saw clearly the face of the young man in front of him.

In an instant, Brother Hong's face changed and he suddenly collapsed. His tall and straight body suddenly bent forward. He bowed and bowed to Fade, and said with a smile, "Mr. Chen, why are you here?"

"What's wrong? If it wasn't me, you would have beaten me up?" Fade snorted and looked at Brother Hong.

Brother Hong was not someone else. It was Brother Hong, the ruffian who was at Uncle Liu's house that morning.

10:16

Fade taught him a lesson just that morning, and his heart was still fluttering with fear. As soon as he calmed down, he learned that his people at the cemetery had been beaten, so he wanted to bring some people with him to teach the perpetrators a lesson and vent his anger.

However, he didn't expect the perpetrator to be Fade.

In an instant, Brother Hong was so scared that he almost fell to the ground. He smiled and said to Fade, "No, Mr. Chen, I definitely didn't mean that!"

The man on duty, who had been proud and vengeful, looked at the situation in front of him and was a little confused. "Brother Hong, it was him who beat me. Why aren't you doing anything? Instead..."

Before the man on duty could finish his sentence, Brother Hong turned around and slapped the man across the face. His eyes were red and he said, "Shut up!"

"How dare you attack Mr. Chen? Do you want to die?"

"Mr. Chen! What Mr. Chen?" The man on duty was stunned and he was at a loss.

Brother Hong gritted his teeth and said, "This is Mr. Chen. Even the Monkey King has to obey his orders. Who do you think Mr. Chen is?"

Hearing this, the man on duty couldn't help but think of something, then his whole body trembled, and he had a horrified look on his face. He didn't dare to look Fade in the eyes. He said in a trembling voice, "H-he is the legendary Mr. Chen?"

"Who else could it be?" Brother Hong shouted angrily. "Kneel down and apologise to Mr. Chen."

10:16

The man on duty didn't dare to complain or seek revenge. He knelt down and kowtowed to Fade to apologise. Fade looked at him coldly. The man kowtowed until his forehead was bleeding and his flesh was badly mutilated. He was about to faint. Only then did Fade wave his hand slightly and say, "That's enough!"

"Thank you, Mr. Chen. Thank you!" The man on duty wanted to get up and leave as if he had been granted amnesty.

Fade said coldly, "Did I ask you to leave?"

"I..." The man on duty froze again.

Fade said, "I have a question to ask you."

"Please ask me anything!" the man on duty said respectfully.

Fade looked at Quin and asked the man, "Just now, what was the matter with the students and the band? Tell me the truth!"

The man on duty froze, and there was a hint of hesitation on his face.

However, before Fade could open his mouth, Brother Hong kicked him right away and shouted angrily, "When Mr. Chen ask you a question, don't dare you hide anything! Do you want to die?"

The man on duty didn't dare to hide anything. He quickly said, "I'll tell you! I'll tell you all about it!"

Then, the man on duty told him what had happened.

After listening, Fade and Quin finally figured out what had happened.

It turned out that the group of students were freshmen at the Bay City University School of Arts. They came from relatively well to do families, and they usually stayed alone.

10:16

After entering the university, they formed a band, but unlike other student bands who sang love songs and went around picking up girls, they regarded themselves as the rock and roll vanguard of the nation, intentionally taking a different route from the others. They would do anything that was eye-catching or controversial.

Some time ago, they took a fancy to the cemetery and wanted to play music there. So, they applied to the staff to enter the garden.

Naturally, in the beginning, the staff did not agree. However, when the group of students offered 2,000 yuan, the man on duty did not have much scruples. He let them into the garden and let them play music. He did not even bat an eye when they destroyed the graves.

After hearing all these, Fade and Quin couldn't help but burn with anger. They kicked him again. Then, they asked Brother Hong to teach him a lesson he will never forget.

Brother Hong nodded quickly and agreed. Then, he left with the man who was crying and howling.

Fade and Quin calmed down their anger and drove out of the cemetery.

Meanwhile, as Fade and Quin left the cemetery, in front of Daniel's grave, a floating figure that looked like an angel stood in front of the grave. The figure downed a glass of clear wine and muttered, "I'm here to see you again."

Chapter 649

Of course, Fade and Quin were not aware of what was happening back at the cemetery at that moment.

The two of them drove home. Along the way, Quin called Housekeeper Wong in advance to say that she was on the way back to the villa. She then instructed Housekeeper Wong to prepare for their arrival.

When Housekeeper Wong heard that they would coming back, she was very surprised. She quickly replied that she would buy some food and prepare a good meal for them.

Fade and Quin hadn't eaten food prepared by Housekeeper Wong in a long time. When they heard Housekeeper Wong say that she was going to cook, they couldn't help but look forward to it. They said excitedly, "Housekeeper Wong, we're looking forward to a scrumptious meal at home!"

Housekeeper Wong chuckled and said, "Okay, okay. I'll cook more. That way, you and Master can eat as much as you please."

Hanging up the phone, Fade and Quin drove back. When they arrived downtown, Fade stopped the car.

Because Housekeeper Wong still needed to buy food and prepare, it would be awhile before the food was ready. Therefore, Fade was not in a hurry to go back. Besides, they hadn't been back in a long time, and they wanted to bring Housekeeper Wong some small gifts.

Therefore, they decided to shop at a nearby shopping mall.

10:16

Finally, after shopping for an hour, they chose two small gifts for Housekeeper Wong. After wrapping them up, they exited the mall and were ready to drive back.

However, just as Fade and Quin were about to get into the car, they suddenly saw a familiar figure walk past them.

At once, Fade greeted him with a smile, "Jordan, what a coincidence. Are you here to shop?"

In front of them were two men and a woman. They all looked about twenty-eight or twenty-nine years old. After hearing Fade's voice, a simple-looking man with glasses looked over at them. It was Jordan Qi, the son of Housekeeper Wong.

When Jordan saw that it was Fade and Quin, he could not help but look surprised, and then he came over quickly and greeted them, "President Chen, President Lin, I..."

Fade patted Jordan on the shoulder and said with a smile, "Jordan, don't be so polite. Just call me Fade."

Jordan was still a little embarrassed. He pushed his glasses up and said, "I'd better call you Mr. Chen!"

Fade did not force him. He nodded and said, "It's up to you. By the way, are you here shopping with your friends?"

As he spoke, Fade pointed at the man and woman with Jordan, a questioning look on his face.

Jordan turned his head, pointed at the burly man, and introduced, "This is my classmate, Brandon Wang."

"This is Brandon's friend, Nicole Liu. Brandon introduced her to me." Next, Jordan pointed at the woman in a coat next to the burly man.

However, as he introduced Nicole, Jordan couldn't help but lower his head with a blush and a somewhat uncomfortable expression on his face.

10:16

Seeing this, Fade couldn't help but think of something. It seemed like Brandon was matchmaking Jordan with Nicole. Thinking of this, Fade couldn't help but look at Nicole.

Nicole's was about 1.6 meters tall, and her appearance was above average. After some dressing up, she did not look too bad. It could be said that she dressed like an average city girl.

Generally speaking, Nicole was a girl commonly found in the city. She was ordinary and didn't seem like anything special. However, Jordan probably liked this type of girl. That's why, at this moment, Jordan looked at Nicole with a strange light in his eyes.

Seeing this, Fade nodded and said, "Oh, they are your friends! Where are you going now?"

Jordan said, "We just finished shopping. We're going to find a place to have dinner."

"Dinner!" Fade's heart skipped a beat. Then, he said, "What a coincidence! We're also going back for dinner. How about this, Jordan? Why not ask your friends to follow us home for dinner? Let's eat together. It'll be more lively."

As he spoke, Fade looked at Quin with an inquiring expression.

Quin was so smart that she had already saw through the situation and understood Fade's intention. He wanted to get Jordan and Nicole closer together and give Housekeeper Wong a look while they were at it, so he invited them back for dinner.

Thinking of this, Quin affirmed what Fade said, saying, "Well, Housekeeper Wong has prepared a lot of dishes, and we won't be able to finish them alone. Why don't we eat together?"

"This..." Jordan really wanted to eat the dishes prepared by his mother, but he didn't know what his classmates thought. So, he turned his head and looked at Brandon and Nicole with questioning eyes. "Brandon, Nicole, you..."

Nicole didn't know him well, so she didn't say anything. Brandon said, "Jordan, since your friend is so kind, let's eat together."

When Jordan heard this, he turned his head and nodded at Fade and Quin. Then, he said with some embarrassment, "Mr. Chen, sorry to trouble you."

Fade smiled and said, "Don't mention it. Let's get into the car! The dishes prepared by Housekeeper Wong are so delicious that I can't wait."

Then, the group of them got into the car. Fade and Quin sat in the front seats, while Jordan and the other two sat behind.

When Brandon and Nicole saw Fade's car, they couldn't help but look surprised, because Fade was driving a BMW 7 series, a million yuan luxury car!

Suddenly, Brandon patted Jordan's shoulder with a smile and said, "Jordan, I didn't expect you to have such a rich friend."

There was also a hint of surprise in Nicole's eyes. She couldn't help but look in Fade's direction.

Jordan didn't know what to say. He could only smile and say, "Mr. Chen and Miss Lin are business people."

"Oh, business people, so you both are big bosses! No wonder." Brandon smiled, then patted Jordan on the shoulder again. He said, "Jordan, you're not too bad yourself. I heard that you've changed jobs once, and you've become the manager."

Jordan was not just a manager, but the general manager of Life Elixir Wine business of Fei Enterprises Holdings Inc in Bay City. He was also known as Director Qi. However, Jordan was not used to this, and he always thought of himself as an engineer, so he did not mention these.

"No, I'm just an ordinary engineer," Jordan said modestly.

"Don't be so modest!" Brandon patted Jordan on the shoulder. Then, he told Nicole, "Nicole, when we were in college, Jordan was one of the top students in our class, and his achievements and abilities were absolutely top-notch."

Hearing this, the corner of Nicole's mouth twitched and she smiled gently. But then, she looked in Fade's direction, then looked at Quin, and asked softly, "Jordan, what's the relationship between your two friends?"

Jordan said, "Mr. Chen and Miss Lin are husband and wife."

"Ah, he's already married." A look of disappointment flashed across Nicole's eyes when she heard that. Then, she shut her mouth and said nothing else.

Brandon was energetic. He looked at Fade and Quin and said with a smile, "Jordan, your friends are really the perfect match for each other! A successful man with a beautiful woman"

Chapter 650

They got into the car as they spoke, and the three of them squeezed into the back seat.

Then, Fade drove to the villa.

Brandon was a lively person. Along the way, he not only chatted with Jordan but also with Fade from time to time. They became more familiar with each other.

Nicole, on the other hand, seemed a little shy. She didn't say anything along the way. Occasionally, she would say a few words and ask about the relationship Jordan had with Fade and Quin.

In this regard, Fade did not intend to hide anything. He answered frankly, "Jordan and his mother are working for me."

Upon hearing that, Nicole nodded and rolled her eyes. The corners of her mouth lifted slightly as if she had suddenly realized something.

Brandon, on the other hand, did not have that many thoughts. After hearing what Fade said, he smiled at Fade and said, "So you are Jordan's boss, Mr. Chen!"

"Mr. Chen, Jordan, and I are classmates, and my technical skills are also up to par. Boss Chen, we'll need to look up to you for guidance from now on!" Brandon said half-jokingly.

Fade also smiled and said, "Brandon, with your great attitude, even if you are not a technician, you are going to be a great salesman!"

"Haha, thank you for your kind words, Mr. Chen," Brandon said with a smile.

Along the way, they chatted and laughed together. Before long, they arrived at the villa area.

As soon as they entered the area, the look in Brandon and Nicole's eyes changed again. They seemed to be shocked.

Even though they had already known that Fade and Quin were business owners, it did not occur to them that they lived in such a luxurious villa area.

This was the most luxurious area in the entire Bay City. Any villa here was worth more than tens of millions. Among them, the better villas could cost over a hundred million yuan.

Just as they were caught in shock, the car had already driven into a villa's courtyard.

Fade parked the car and everyone got out.

Brandon and Nicole looked around at the design and location of the villa, and immediately, they were further amazed. Even if they were not professionals, they could see that this villa was the cream of the crop for this residential area. Even disregarding the exquisite renovation and design work, the villa itself would have cost a lot of money.

For a moment, Brandon opened his mouth wide and then said to Fade, "Mr. Chen, you're such a rich man! I feel like I'm dreaming."

Fade laughed and said, "Don't just stand there. Please go in and have a seat!"

Brandon smiled and walked into the house. At this moment, Nicole's eyes were also full of shock. She could not help but change her perception of Jordan.

Nicole inconspicuously moved to Jordan's side, and asked, "Jordan, Mr. Chen's business must be quite large, and you and your mother are working under him. You must be doing quite well!"

Jordan was already nervous when he chatted with the girl earlier, so at this moment, he couldn't discern the ulterior meaning in Nicole's words. He merely nodded and said, "Well, not too bad."

Upon hearing that, the smile on Nicole's face grew even wider.

Then, they also walked into the house.

Hearing the sounds of their arrival, Housekeeper Wong, who was busy in the kitchen, came out to greet them in a hurry.

Fade and Quin hurried forward to help. They helped Housekeeper Wong bring the hot food out and placed them on the table.

As soon as they saw the delicious food on the table, brightly-colored and fargrant, their eyes lit up and they couldn't wait to eat it.

Soon, the dishes were ready. Everyone sat down and they were ready to have their meal.

Housekeeper Wong served everyone and turned back to the kitchen. But then, Fade stopped Housekeeper Wong and said, "Housekeeper Wong, sit down and eat with us!"

Housekeeper Wong wanted to say something, but Quin stopped her, whispered something, and looked at Jordan and Nicole. It seemed like she was talking about Brandon introducing Nicole to Jordan.

Hearing this, Housekeeper Wong couldn't help but grin. She sat down beside Quin, and then kept looking at Nicole.

After everyone sat down, and they started to eat.

10:16

After tasting the food, everyone had to sigh with emotion, praising Housekeeper Wong for her wonderful cooking skills. These dishes had all kinds of colors, aromas, and tastes.

At the dining table, they didn't bother with talking as they were busy gulping down the delicious food.

After a long while, everyone leaned back against their chairs with satisfied looks. Obviously, they enjoyed the meal very much.

Brandon couldn't help but give Housekeeper Wong a thumbs-up and praised, "Auntie, your cooking is awesome. I've never eaten such delicious food before."

Nicole smiled as well and said, "Mr. Chen, your family's housekeeper is indeed extraordinary. She's really good at cooking. I think she's even better than the chefs of many hotels."

"No, it's nothing. It's just some home-cooked dishes." Housekeeper Wong waved her hand modestly. Then, she stood up with a smile and began to clear away the bowls and chopsticks.

Meanwhile, Jordan saw this and quickly got up to help. "Mom, let me help you!"

Mom?

When they heard this, Brandon and Nicole were involuntarily stunned, and their faces were full of surprise.

When Jordan saw this, he suddenly smacked his head and said with a smile, "I forgot to introduce her. This is my mother. This is Brandon, my college classmate. This is Nicole, a friend of Brandon's."

When Brandon heard this, he quickly got up and helped to clear the bowls and chopsticks. He said, "Auntie, so you are Jordan's mother! No wonder when I was in college, whenever I ate the food that Jordan brought to the dormitory, it always tasted very good. Turns out, you were the chef behind the delicious cooking. I'm lucky to have tasted your cooking again."

"Young man, you have such a sweet mouth!" Housekeeper Wong looked at Brandon and couldn't help but laugh.

At that moment, Nicole's expression didn't look so good. Moments ago, her face was full of smiles, but at this moment, she looked like she was in a bad mood.

"Nice to meet you, Auntie Wong!" she stood up and greeted Housekeeper Wong. Then, she took her bag and turned to leave. "Sorry, I'm going to the bathroom."

Meanwhile, they quickly cleaned up the table, sat down on the sofa, and chatted happily.

At the same time, Nicole came out of the bathroom.

With a gloomy face, she walked over to Brandon and said, "Brandon, I'm sorry, but something suddenly came up and I have to leave."

Brandon heard what she said and could not help but be shocked. He got up quickly and asked with concern, "Nicole, what's wrong? What happened? Why are you in such a hurry to go back?"

With this, Brandon winked at Jordan, indicating that Jordan should come over and persuade her to stay.

Jordan saw this and he stood up in a daze. He walked over to Nicole and said, "Nicole, if there's something urgent, I'll send you back. There aren't many buses here, so it'll be a bit of a hassle if we go out to look for a bus."

Hearing this, Nicole looked at Jordan with cold eyes. She shook her head right away and said coldly, "No, I've already called someone to pick me up."
