Peter Pan finally understood what Jiang Ning was trying to do. Jiang Ning wasn't just accompanying his child idly all day, but actually making arrangements on the sly.

Donghai started getting busy.

A lot of people had entered Donghai recently, and Peter Pan knew that these were people whom Jiang Ning had called upon.

These people weren't formidable high level martial artists, but the things they brought along with them were a bigger threat to human life than any martial artist.

“Military exercise!”

Donghai was actually going to start a military exercise within the city. All sorts of weapons and soldiers had entered the city.

Jiang Ning had made use of the connections he had from the past. This was the authority he wielded as the God of War of the East!

With just one command, everyone would reach Donghai in the shortest time possible.

Even though it was supposedly just an exercise, Peter Pan knew that Jiang Ning was doing this to protect the Lin family. This move was something that nobody in the world, not even the most powerful monster, would dare to be careless about.

Mr Lang had experienced for himself how frightening modern technology could be and nearly lost his life as a result. The weaponry that was coming in now was even more terrifying than what the wolves had prepared the last time.

“Jiang Ning doesn’t fully trust me after all.”

Peter Pan snorted.

Jiang Ning only trusted himself. He would never leave the lives of his family members in someone else’s hands.

Peter Pan didn’t get angry. That was the right thing to do.

He turned and was about to walk out of the Extreme Martial Arts Academy when a voice rang out behind him.

“Is there really meaning to living forever?”

It was Chen Huangtang.

He had recovered from his injuries and had been staying within the academy as he pondered on some questions.

He knew that the Longevity Pond existed, and he knew that Mr Lang was looking for it so that the person he loved could come back to life. But was that possible?

There was someone he loved too, and he wished she could come back to life too.

Peter Pan glanced at him and said calmly, “It’s normal for the living to remember and miss the dead, but there are many things that we are unable to change. Even if that person we love comes back to life, things have already changed. Do you understand what I'm saying?"

NH

Chen Huangtang didn't say anything.

"Keep your eyes in front. Humans need something they can look forward to. If that anticipation changes, then it will also lose its meaning, and you'd have to look for it all over again."

With that, he didn't say anymore and left.

Donghai's current state left everyone in awe.

Modern weaponry with state of the art technology and fittings appeared before everyone and boosted their confidence. Ordinary citizens looked on and cheered excitedly. This represented the might of their country!

These weapons were practically invincible. This was a power that could protect them!

Jiang Ning stood among all these and several men quickly approached him. They were all dressed for battle and exuded an extraordinary and authoritative air.

"Big Boss!" everyone shouted in unison."

Jiang Ning nodded and smiled. "It's been a long time. All of you haven't changed at all."

"But you've changed, Big Boss. You seem to enjoy smiling more now.”

“Is that so?” Jiang Ning kept his smile on. “I suppose so. I’m a little different from before.”

After saying that, the expression on his face slowly became solemn.

“Thanks for the hard work this time. Did the boss say anything about this?”

“He said to cooperate fully with you, regardless of the cost!”

Jiang Ning’s eyes sparkled brightly.

“Great! Once everything is over, let’s go for a drink together.”

“Alright! We want to see your daughter too! We’ve brought her presents!”

After chatting, they all took a step back, bowed with all seriousness, then left in a flash to start on their missions.

Jiang Ning could finally relax and do what he was supposed to be doing.

He turned around to find himself face to face with Peter Pan.

“Who are you going to pick?”

“I want my disciple,” said Peter Pan.

He had made his choice. Ever since he gave the necklace that was the most important thing to him to Jiang Yao, Peter Pan had found the reason for continuing to live on.

Just like what he told Chen Huangtang earlier – he had to have something to look forward to in life all the time. Otherwise, what’s the point of living?

In the past, he didn't have anything to look forward to. From the time he had been put to sleep until now, the only thing he wanted to do was to kill Mr Lang. But now, he found that living for the sake of doing this was really meaningless.

On the other hand, if he took in a disciple and watched her grow from making gurgling noises to the stage where she could call him 'Master', and keep honing her skills and becoming a fighter in her own right, then he would have a completely different sense of achievement.

Besides, he had already confirmed that Jiang Yao was extremely gifted in this area, and would definitely surpass his level in the future.

"And what if someone wants to harm your disciple?" Jiang Ning looked at Peter Pan. "What would you do?"

"I'll kill him!"

A terrifying cold glint suddenly exploded from his eyes.

Jiang Ning nodded and didn't say anything. He turned and was prepared to leave.

"Remember my name." Peter Pan yelled out from behind him, "My name is Seven Kill!"

Jiang Ning stopped in his footsteps. Seven Kill!

He had most certainly heard of this name. But he never expected this fellow to actually be that legendary man.

Jiang Ning didn't turn back and just stuck out one finger to show that he had heard him, then disappeared in an instant.

Peter Pan stood in the courtyard. There were layers upon layers of protection to ensure the safety of the Lin family, and Peter Pan's presence gave everyone the greatest sense of security.

"My precious disciple, it is really my great fortune to have met you," he said quietly. "As long as I'm around, nobody can harm you. Not even that asshole, Greedy Wolf, can hurt you!"

.....

Meanwhile.

An earthquake was happening at Mount Zhongnan.

The earth trembled and the mountains shook.

The terrifying tremors uprooted large trees, created new gorges and rivers, causing a tremendous change in the landscape.

This area was uninhabited, so nobody got hurt. But it attracted the attention of several parties. Nobody expected a place that had been stable for so many years to suddenly experience an earthquake. It didn't make any sense.

They had no idea that this huge commotion was actually caused by humans.

The second spatial dimension was about to be unveiled!

Mr Lang felt the quaking from afar and his gaze became sharp. There were many people standing behind him. These were all the people whom Heifeng had just awoken from their slumber.

“All of you are very lucky. You’ve just woken up and you’ve already gotten the chance to look for the Longevity Pond. Make sure all of you remember this favor,” he said without bothering to be polite. “This is a favor that I, Greedy Wolf, has given you!”

Heifeng and the rest shouted in unison, “Yes, sir!”

Even though every single person here were one of the best fighters from that time and a martial artist who stood at the pinnacle of power, they were nowhere near those three legendary men.

Seven Kill, Greedy Wolf and Broken Soldier!

But Broken Soldier was dead.

He had died at Greedy Wolf’s hands!

Even Seven Kill had been severely injured and lost his memory, so he had slept till now. If Jiang Ning hadn’t appeared and messed up Greedy Wolf’s plans, he wouldn’t have to return to the city and awaken everyone from their slumber to work for him.

Mr Lang took a large step out and the winds howled violently. His eyes were fixed in the direction of Mount Zhongnan. “Actually, the ‘Lang’ in my name doesn't mean 'gentleman', it really means 'wolf'! HAHA!"

NH

He pointed one finger outwards, and everyone behind him flew in that direction so quickly that only their shadow could be seen.

"Seven Kill! Have you made your decision? Are you really willing to give up on the Longevity Pond? I won't believe that! I won't!" shouted Mr Lang loudly. His voice sounded hysterical, as if he had gone mad.

Nobody could possibly bear to give up on their dreams and hopes. He couldn't, so he was sure nobody could. If that stupid Broken Soldier hadn't hidden all the clues to the Longevity Pond inside the Extreme Fist Technique Manual, he wouldn't have had to waste so much time and effort.

SWOOSH!

Mr Lang disappeared too.

Meanwhile, deep inside Mount Zhongnan where the mountain gate was.

Jiang Ning and his men had arrived.

The lines in the ground were the same as the lines on the manual pages, and black smoke was rising from those lines. These were the same lines that had caused the earthquake earlier, and created a major change in the mountain gate!

"This second spatial dimension is within the mountain gate!"
