

My Dreamy Old Husband

Chapter 473

Seeing the old lady getting worked up, Michael seemed to want to say something, but Natasha immediately interrupted him, saying, "Taylor, let's send Grandma to the room to get some rest first. Grandma's had a long day, and she is too old to stay up late." She then turned to the old lady. "Grandma, you've been on the plane for the whole day. You must be tired. Let's go to the room to rest. Taylor is famous, so some things about him shouldn't be discussed in such a crowded public space..."

Seeing how caring Natasha treated Taylor, Old Madam Murray's gloomy face instantly became relaxed as she said, "You're so considerate, Nat! You're doing everything for Taylor."

It would not help to sustain the topic. Hence, Michael quickly sent someone to arrange a room in the hotel to let Old Madam Murray check in.

After Old Madam Murray went into the room, Natasha immediately faced Michael anxiously. "Taylor, Grandma is getting older, so you shouldn't talk back to her. If she wants to meet Mrs. Murray, you should just let her. Your wife is so nice, so I'm pretty sure she can woo Grandma with her charms."

He frowned slightly as he replied, "I will try."

Natasha looked like she was very considerate, almost as if she were trying to solve the conflicts between Sophia and Old Madam Murray, but as soon as she turned her back, a layer of triumph flashed past her eyes.

Grandma is Taylor Murray's weakness. As long as I hold onto this weakness, Taylor would be mine.

I have even contacted the media in advance to spread the news. Now, the news has been posted on every online network. If that woman sees it, she will go crazy and start questioning Michael like a madwoman. She'd even have to face Old Madam Murray.

If she doesn't come, then Old Madam Murray would be even angrier!

No matter whether that woman is coming or not, Grandma would definitely ask Taylor to kick her out!

"Taylor, you go ahead and do your work. I will take care of Grandma," Natasha spoke to him in a very sweet voice.

Michael nodded and thanked her. "Okay. Thank you very much."

Hearing his gratitude, she lowered her head shyly. "I am willing to do anything for you, Taylor."

At this time, the whole party was spreading the rumor around that Natasha had officially been certified by the Murrays as Michael's wife.

There were many media at the scene. Everyone was sending out the drafts instantly.

Taylor has officially married into a wealthy family!

Looking around the whole venue, Michael was not able to find Sophia. After making a few inquiries, he learned that she had already returned to the room.

Getting back to the room where they had stayed for a month, Michael saw Sophia packing up her luggage.

Sophia was clearly upset about that whole fiasco.

It was so hurtful to see the scene where Natasha sat next to Old Madam Murray and called her 'Grandma'.

The scene was so hurtful that she wanted to cry.

She had already offended the Murray Family, and the old woman obviously wanted to get rid of her.

In comparison, Natasha was so well-behaved and had a wealthy family background aside from being such a sweet-talker. No wonder the Murray Family preferred her more.

In such a short time, someone had already posted the news on the Internet. The news was about how Michael and Natasha were both officially together, and Natasha had even met his family.

Sophia was packing up her luggage when she saw her little notebook, which was filled with her travel plans.

Soon after the after-party was over, they headed to the Panda Foundation to visit the big round panda they had adopted.

Right after that, they departed from the Panda Foundation and traveled all the way back to Bayside City. When they were back, the school would have started to announce the scholarships...

After what had happened in the party hall, it seemed like the travel plan had gone to waste.

Michael would definitely come to ask her to meet Old Madam Murray. After seeing his grandmother personally, she was afraid that she would need to kneel down to offer tea to her.

The fact that she hurt James and beat up Larry alone was enough to make Old Madam Murray not accept her at all.

As soon as Stanley found out the news, he immediately called her to offer comfort.

“This is too much! He is not a man at all. It’s not your fault! It’s all the Murray Family’s fault! Better yet, you should just divorce him. You are still so young. You can get any guy you want. You should find someone of the same age, like me!” roared Stanley. “If you were with me, I’d be willing to give Sunset to you as my token of love.”

Putting the notebook in her luggage, Sophia felt that Michael might not be able to go with her, so she decided to go by herself.

There’s no difficulty to travel by oneself too!

While she was packing her things, she talked to Stanley on the phone after putting it on the loudspeaker. All these times, it was just him talking nonstop, and she just occasionally replied to him vaguely.

“The Murray Family is living in such a traditional feudalistic world. What century is it now? How dare they still advocate about the superiority of men! Such a dinosaur! It’s not like they have a throne waiting to be inherited. You’d better come back quickly. Study hard and start a business. In the future, you’ll become a kick-*ss president. You can get any kind of man you want...” Stanley added further.

All of a sudden, Michael walked in and hanged up her phone, causing Stanley’s voice to disappear.

Hearing Michael’s footsteps, Sophia voiced out first before he got a chance.

“I’m not going. And I won’t divorce you either.”

I don’t want to meet his grandmother, nor would I divorce him so easily.

If Michael wants to divorce me, I will complain to Old Master Fletcher. I'll make sure the Murray Family will be turned upside down!

Michael did not say anything and patted her shoulder lightly. "If you don't want to go, you don't have to go. I'll take care of it. I will be back late, so you should go ahead and sleep earlier when you've finished packing your luggage."

Shortly after, he changed into some comfortable clothes and headed out.

Sophia was feeling resentful packing her luggage. She even planned out a few ways to counterattack.

As long as I am here, Natasha will always be just the lover. Wait! No, she's not even a lover!

When she was packing her luggage, she suddenly thought of something and flashed a devilish grin before calling Sean.

Sean was just watching the news about Natasha being officially accepted into the Murray Family. He was just getting worried about Sophia, and coincidentally, he got a call from her.

"Hey, Sophia... Uh, are you sure? Are you sure this is a good idea? Have you discussed with Uncle Michael? Okay..."

After hanging up the phone, Sean looked very solemn, but Sophia's tone showed that she was dead serious.

It seemed like she was really very riled up by Natasha. However, what Natasha did to her was too much! Such a gorgeous and wealthy girl like Natasha Mitchell actually used so much time and effort just to get a male star? How ironic is that? I just can't believe a Mitchell would do such a thing. How embarrassing!

At the same time, in the hotel room, Old Madam Murray was talking softly with Natasha.

“I really like a cute little girl like you. You are such a good match for my Taylor!”

Natasha’s face blushed up immediately. “Grandma, don’t say that. Taylor already has a wife!”

Though she had not met her in person, Old Madam Murray was already extremely disappointed in Michael’s wife. She said in a fierce tone, “That woman! I will get her out of my grandson’s house as soon as possible. In this world, only you can be a great match to my grandson!”

Natasha’s face was getting redder with embarrassment.

Upon the opportunity, Olivia even suggested, “Taylor must get married to Nat! How about we let them sleep together tonight? Then Michael won’t hesitate anymore!”

Old Madam Murray was so happy that she slapped her thigh. “If what’s done has been done, it cannot be undone! Then the woman will have to divorce Michael even if she doesn’t want to!”
