

The Protector Chapter 819

Levi did not bother to explain himself to Wales.

He simple hung up the phone.

But that made him understand why Zoey and Iris acted so cold toward him.

It was obvious that the Jones family told them the same thing.

That was the reason for the two girls' strange reaction!

So be it!

Levi felt it was unnecessary to explain for himself.

As the God of War, it was below his dignity to bother about a nest of ants.

However if the Jones family kept on provoking him, he would have to take action against them.

If they were to cross the line, he would let them know what cruelty he was capable of.

At this moment, Kirin called and asked, “Sir, it will be the biannual celebration of Morris Group soon. All the top executives would like to meet you, especially Iris.”

Levi laughed, “Now that the Morris Group is stabilizing, it is high time for me to reveal myself!”

Levi seemed to spend most of his time drinking tea and sleeping, but his decisions and directions were what shaped the growth of Morris Group.

It could be said that his hands was what pushed Morris Group forwards.

“Fine, I shall inform the management and staff.” Kirin smiled and said.

Soon, everyone in Morris Group began to cheer.

Except for those pioneers, the others had never seen the boss at all.

Hence, everyone was very excited to hear that the mysterious boss would make an appearance.

After all, the boss had given them a lot of expectations.

“Oh yeah!” Iris was the most eager one to meet the boss.

The moment she received Neil's notification, she cheered and danced.

She could finally meet the legendary boss. The man was literally her idol!

Since the day she came back from abroad, no man could win her heart.

Levi was the man she had most contact with.

Not that she was not disinterested in romance, but she wanted a man she found desirable.

The mysterious boss had left a deep impression within her heart.

Iris vowed. If the boss were single, she would do everything in her power to pursue him, regardless of how he looked.

What she valued was his talent.

The progress of Morris Group up to now was due to this boss' hard work behind the scenes.

She was just the implementer.

Iris danced and skipped right up to Zoey's office, "Zoey, I have good news for you. The boss of Morris Group will make an appearance at our biannual celebration!"

“You will come, won’t you?” Iris invited her.

“That would not be appropriate, would it? We are just business partner.”

Actually, Zoey was also curious about what the boss of Morris Group would look like.

“What’s so inappropriate? Don’t forget that I’m the vice president.”
