

Chapter: 151

Her Father Phone Call

After walking around on the street for a while longer, both of them finally returned to their hotel. When they arrived at their suite, the two of them stared at each other awkwardly.

Or actually, it was Su Ruan who found it awkward.

While they were in D Town, Long Fei would send her back until they reach the front of her Grandpa's orchard. But this time, Long Fei was sending her to her door.

Su Ruan did not know how to react to this situation. Her hands were tugging at the hem of her shirt as she was thinking of what she should do.

Just then, Long Fei leaned over and kissed her cheek, making her stunned. His lips curled into a smile. "Good night."

Su Ruan touched the spot where he had kissed her and started to blush.

"Go in and rest. Tomorrow, let's have breakfast together before you head out to see your friends." Long Fei stretched his hand to push a few strands of hair behind her ear.

Worried that he would scare her, Long Fei took a step back and turned around to head back to his room.

Su Ruan took a deep breath as she watched his retreating back. "Long Fei."

The man turned around looked at her questioningly.

"I'll see you tomorrow."

Long Fei let out a chuckle and nodded. "I'll see you tomorrow." He watched as she enter her room before he turned to his room.

A faint smile appeared on his face when he thought about Su Ruan's reddened face. However, the smile disappeared again when he thought about her childhood story.

Although she had said that she did not mind what happened, Long Fei could tell that the girl was sad that her parents were divorced and she could not see her mother as much as she liked to.

Her sadness was something that he too could feel.

Su Ruan woke up early in the morning with a dazed look on her face. The mattress and pillow were very comfortable that she did not want to wake up. However, the phone on the side table continued to ring, urging her to wake up.

It took her a while for her to realize that she was staying in the Presidential Suite of The Orchid Hotel. Once the realization came over, Su Ruan sat up quickly and gasped.

Before she could sort out her mind, the phone that had stopped ringing a few seconds ago started to ring again.

Su Ruan finally reached for her phone and stared at the caller ID with a complicated look on her face. Just before the phone stopped ringing, Su Ruan slid her finger on the screen and pressed the phone to her ear.

"Su Ruan?" Her father's voice was heard on the other line.

"Dad, sorry. I was sleeping just now."

"It's already late." Su Yu reminded his daughter.

"Mmm... I know. I was busy with my work last night," Su Ruan said.

There was a long silence on Su Yu's side. "Your stepmother said she ran into you at the restaurant last night. You were with your boyfriend?"

Last night, his wife had called and told him about this. Hearing that his daughter was now in a relationship made him anxious. Su Yu wanted to give her a call right away. However, it was already in the middle of the night.

Su Yu forced himself to calm down and called her again in the morning.

His worry caused him to lose his sleep. Su Yu waited until he had breakfast with the kids before she finally dialed his daughter's number.

Hearing that the girl had only woken up from her sleep, Su Yu's mind began to wander. Of course, if Su Yu knew that his daughter was staying in the same suite with her boyfriend, he would definitely go crazy.

Su Ruan heaved a breath when she heard her father's words. The moment she saw her father's name on the caller ID, she had already guessed at what her father wanted to ask.

She had prepared herself for this conversation with her father.

"Mmm... Mother had already told you about it?"

"If she did not run into you at the restaurant, are you going to keep this a secret from me?"

"It's not that," Su Ruan. "But we recently got together. I think I wanted to wait for a while before I can tell you about him."

In the end, Su Ruan spent her morning talking to her father about her boyfriend. When the call ended, Su Ruan realized that she only have a little time before her appointment with her former editor.

She ran into the bathroom to take a quick shower and came out. However, just as she was about to step out of the door, Su Ruan ran into a wall and had almost fell backward.

A warm arm encircled her waist, preventing her from falling.

When she looked up again, Su Ruan was surprised to see Long Fei's face a few inches away from her. His eyes were watching him with concern.

"Are you alright?"

Su Ruan stared back at him with her eyes wide. Then, she slowly nodded. "I'm alright."

"Can you stand up?"

Su Ruan nodded again.

With Long Fei's help, Su Ruan stood up again. She lowered her head and adjusted her clothes.

"Sorry. I was about to knock on your door when you suddenly came out," Long Fei explained. "I remember that you have an appointment with your former editor. I thought you were still sleeping and would be late for the meeting."

It was then that she realized that the 'wall' was actually Long Fei's chest. "Thank you." Su Ruan bit her lower lips and pointed to the door. "I should go now."

Before the girl could turn around and leave, Long Fei held her arms to stop her. "Go and have your breakfast first. It's not good to begin your morning with an empty stomach."

"But I'm already late." Su Ruan was still worried. She still needed to catch up with the bus to head over to the meeting location.

"Don't worry about it," Long Fei said. "I already arranged transportation for you. Someone will drive you over to your meeting location. For now, you should have your breakfast."

After a brief hesitation, Su Ruan finally agreed.

Chapter: 152

Not In A Hurry

Su Ruan followed him to the dining room and saw that there was already food on the table. She sat down and the butler came to pour her a cup of hot coffee.

"Eat."

Picking up her cutlery, Su Ruan scabbled at the scrambled egg and took a bite.

Now that she was sitting across Long Fei for breakfast, Su Ruan could not help but felt a little awkward again. Having breakfast together first thing in the morning... gave off the feeling that they were living together, right?

As she recalled her conversation with her father earlier, Su Ruan started to bite at her fork with a dazed expression. She did not expect her father was worried about her relationship. She's a girl and her father worry that her boyfriend would take advantage of her.

"What is it? The food is not to your palate? I can ask the butler to prepare something quick," Long Fei spoke. He looked up and was about to call the butler to prepare something new when Su Ruan had stopped him.

"No. The food is fine." Seeing the worry on his face, Su Ruan quickly made an excuse. "Just that, I was thinking about my appointment."

His lips finally formed a smile. "Worry that you will not arrive in time?"

"My former editor wanted to introduce me to someone else. I worry whether I would be able to impress that person or not."

Previously, Su Ruan had mentioned about her interview with this person that his former editor was going to introduce her to. "You will be fine," Long Fei said. "Hurry and eat. I promise that I will send you there after this."

Su Ruan was about to speak when she saw that Long Fei had lowered his head to look at his phone. Thinking that he was a busy man and was dealing with his work matter, Su Ruan lowered her head again and ate her breakfast.

The food that the butler had prepared was good. Su Ruan finished her breakfast and stood up at the same time as Long Fei. The man led her out until they arrived at the hotel's entrance where a car was already waiting for them.

As they approached, Fu Xing alighted and greeted his boss. However, his gaze halted again when he saw the person beside Long Fei.

Fu Xing had thought that perhaps, he was still in the la la land.

It was a couple of months ago since the last time he had seen his boss and Su Ruan together. Now, the two of them had come out of the hotel together.

His boss who had never been in a relationship with another gender had actually come out of the hotel together. This was too unbelievable, right?

Their progress was too fast!

"Fu Xing, what are you doing?" Long Fei's face darkened when he noticed that his assistant has been staring at his girlfriend.

The assistant snapped out of his trance and helped to open the door. "Miss Su, please come in."

Su Ruan gave him a quick nod before she slid into the vehicle. She was aware of Fu Xing's identity as Long Fei's assistant. However, the last time she saw him in D Town, the two of them barely had any interaction. Now that she had seen him again, she did not know how she should address him.

As she was thinking about the assistant, Long Fei slid in and sat down beside her.

"Am I not going to delay you?" Su Ruan asked. "It was rush hour. There might be slight traffic."

She recalled how he was dealing with a few documents while having breakfast and worried that he might be late to head to his office.

"Moreover, my meeting place is in the opposite direction of your office," Su Ruan reminded him. "You might be wasting a lot of time because of me. I could grab a taxi and head over."

"It's fine. I'm not in a hurry." Long Fei flashed her a smile. He raised the tablet in his hand and spoke, "Besides, I can use the time traveling to look at my documents. You won't be delaying my work."

Fu Xing had just entered the car when he heard his boss's words.

Didn't he summon the directors and managers for a meeting? What did he mean by he was not in a hurry? It couldn't be that his boss was trying to impress a girl, right?

However, Fu Xing decided not to say anything. After all, this person was the president of the company. Even if he showed up a few hours late, no one was going to complain.

Noticing that Fu Xing was glancing at them through the rear mirror, Long Fei decided to speak, "Su Ruan, this is my assistant. Fu Xing."

Su Ruan nodded at him through the mirror. "Hello, Assistant Fu. Sorry to trouble you early in the morning."

"Miss Su, please be at ease. It's no trouble at all." Fu Xing waved his hands. He glanced at the couple on the back seat of the car and wondered what was their relationship at this time.

They were together, but they did not seem very affectionate. Could it be that he had misjudged things? Or was it that his boss was still wooing the girl?

Fu Xing thought that this idea seemed possible. After all, his boss had never been in a relationship before. How can he woo someone that fast?

Fortunately for Fu Xing, his boss was unaware of his thought. Otherwise, he might get himself in trouble.

"Mmm... Su Ruan, later, I will give you my assistant number," Long Fei said. "If you can't reach me, you can always call my assistant. Just call whenever you need anything."

"Alright." Su Ruan nodded. After she had reported the address, Fu Xing started to concentrate on his driving. Su Ruan glanced at the person beside her and noticed that he was reading some report on his tablet.

A faint sigh escaped her as she wondered if the man was not being truthful about being busy.

He was the President of Blue Media Group after all. Now that he had come to Capital City, he should have had a lot of work to do. But he still wanted to send her over to her meeting place.

Her lips curled up as she thought about this.

Chapter: 153

In A Good Mood

After sending Su Ruan to her meeting place, Long Fei headed straight to his office. When he arrived, his cousin, Long Yu Heng was already waiting for him at the entrance.

Long Fei glanced at his cousin before walking into the elevator together.

Once the door closed, Long Yu Heng turned to his cousin and asked, "I heard that you came to Capital City with Miss Su. What is your relationship right now?"

Long Fei continued to look up ahead and answered, "She's my girlfriend."

Long Yu Heng looked at his cousin with his eyes wide. "When did this happen?"

"Just a few weeks before we came here." Long Fei shot a warning gaze at his cousin. "Don't tell the elders."

"I know." Long Yu Heng heaved a long breath. "Regarding Miss Su, I won't tell the elders anything."

After what Long Fei had done at the old residence, the elders were busy looking for a way to retaliate. If they found out this information, who knew what the elders would do to Su Ruan.

The elevator door slid open with a ding. The cousin walked out and headed to Long Fei's office together.

"Do you have something to tell me?" Long Fei asked.

Long Yu Heng let out a cough. "My dad said your father is looking for you all over. It seemed that he was really in pain without Eldest Aunt around. Are you not planning to let them reunite soon?"

"Do you want to speak on my father's behalf?" Long Fei raised a brow.

"My father was worried that your father would cause a ruckus when he could no longer hold on," Long Yu Heng said.

Long Fei sneered. "He deserved it."

Hearing this answer suddenly gave Long Yu Heng a headache. His father has been urging him. Last night, their grandfather had called to ask about the father and son's situation as well. Meanwhile, Long Fei acted as if he was not a part of this.

Being this man's right-hand man was really not an easy thing.

Long Yu Heng stared at his cousin for a long time and spoke, "Now that you have been staying around Miss Su, you should understand your father's feelings as well. Tell me, when Miss Su was away from you did you really feel in pain?"

Long Fei was looking at the documents in his hand when he heard this question. He gave it a long thought and spoke, "It felt as if you're a fish out of the water. It feels as if you're going to die."

The corner of his lips twitched. "And you still want to let your parents separated." This person did not worry about his father at all.

"My father still has a lake around him to swim around. The feeling might not be as good as having his wife around, but he'll survive. If he wanted to see me, he can come and find me. Otherwise, he'll have to wait until we returned to D Town."

At this time, someone knocked on the door. Fu Xing entered the room and announced, "President Long, the others are waiting for you in the meeting room."

Long Fei nodded. He sent a message to Su Ruan before he walked out to attend the meeting. Then, as if he had thought of something, Long Fei looked at his cousin again and spoke, "Yu Heng, help me to look up for something."

Seeing the serious look on Long Fei's face, Long Yu Heng had thought that his cousin was going to ask him to do something important, but Long Fei's next words startle him so much that he thought he was going to pass out.

"Yu Heng, help me to find a good place for me to have a date with my girlfriend."

Long Yu Heng had thought that he had misheard his cousin's words. "Ah Fei, you... are you serious?"

Long Fei stared back at his cousin with a serious look on her face.

"I know." Long Yu Heng coughed. "Just that, can you be a little more specific? What kind of place are you planning to go to?"

"Any place that a girl would like to go to," Long Fei said. "It would be best if it was a place that could help us to cultivate our feelings."

Long Yu Heng thought about it for a long time and decided to go to the forum and ask around.

Meanwhile, Long Fei left to attend the meeting with his assistant.

Perhaps, it was because he has been close to Su Ruan for more than twenty-four hours. His mood was especially great.

The group of directors and managers were preparing themselves to spend long hours facing their boss's anger. Surprisingly, the man seemed to be in a good mood.

However, their president's good mood was also very scary. They sent Assistant Fu Xing their stress signal, but the man continued to ignore them.

Meanwhile, Su Ruan was in a deep conversation with her former editor, Ji Fan Yin. It has been months since the last time they saw each other and there was a lot for them to talk about.

After Su Ruan had left the magazine, there seem to be a lot of changes in 'Upcoming'.

Something strange happened to Director Guo. His body turned to stiff as a stone and it doesn't look as if he was going to recover from that condition.

With Director Guo no longer around, it was hard for Yan Xi to stay around. In the end, she found another golden thigh for her to hold on to and was transferred to another magazine.

Her colleague did not like her very much, but Yan Xi stayed around and was enjoying being in a high position. Moreover, it seemed that there was something wrong with Yan Xi. She had a new golden thigh to hug and enjoyed being in a new position, however, she would return to 'Upcoming' to mess around with the others.

Su Ruan could sense that Editor Ji was not very happy with this situation as well.

"Editor Ji, are you not planning to quit this company and look for new job opportunities?" Su Ruan asked. Her former editor has been looking over her and helping her to find freelance jobs. Naturally, Su Ruan worries about Ji Fan Yin as well.

Ji Fan Yin took a sip from her drink. "I was planning to find new opportunities as well, but there are a lot of things for me to consider. When you are married like me, you will have a lot of responsibility as well."

Just as they were chatting, a shadow loomed over her.

Su Ruan looked up and was surprised to see that it was a face that she recognized.

The person was Shen Yue, Yu Zhi Yi's fiancée.

Chapter: 154

Do You Have Any Misunderstanding

Her lips parted to say something but before Su Ruan could say a word, Editor Ji had stood up. "Editor Fang, you're here."

Shifting her gaze to Ji Fan Yin, Su Ruan saw the woman stretch her hand to greet the person beside Shen Yue. It was only then that Su Ruan figured out that the two should have come over together.

"Editor Ji, hello," Editor Fang greeted as they shook their hands. She glanced at Shen Yue and continued, "This is my friend, Miss Shen Yue. If you don't mind, can she stay as well?"

"Of course," Editor Ji quickly agreed. "Hello, Miss Shen." She greeted Shen Yue before turning to Su Ruan again. "Editor Fang, Miss Shen, let me introduce... this is Miss Su Ruan, the writer that I have mentioned previously."

Su Ruan stood up and exchanged her greetings with them both.

"Su Ruan, I did not expect to see you here," Shen Yue spoke. "When did you return to Capital City?"

"Yesterday," Su Ruan said.

Instantly, Shen Yue's expression changed. She thought about Yu Zhi Yi who claimed to be running a few errands to buy something for their wedding preparation. However, the man returned with an empty hand despite going out for hours.

As the thought came to her mind, Shen Yue watched Su Ruan suspiciously.

Editor Fang turned to her friend. "Shen Yue, you know each other?"

"Mhm..." Shen Yue flashed a smile. "She's Yu Zhi Yi's friend that I have mentioned to you before."

Instantly, Editor Fang's expression changed.

Su Ruan did not know what did Shen Yue had said about her, but she could guess that it shouldn't be anything good. She could already foresee that this interview would not go as well as she had expected.

But for the sake of Editor Ji, she still has to stay.

The four of them sat together and they chatted. Editor Ji Yan Yin brought up the matter about her freelance writing job, but Editor Fang only spoke a little about it before she would change the subject.

After being quiet for a while, Su Ruan finally excused herself to go to the restroom. The air around them was too stifling!

Su Ruan washed her hand and stared back at her reflection in the mirror. She took a few deep breaths and readied herself to go out and made an excuse to leave.

However, as she walked out of the restroom, Su Ruan ran into Shen Yue on the narrow path. Looking at Shen Yue's eyes, Su Ruan could tell that Shen Yue has been waiting for her to come out.

After giving this matter a thought, Su Ruan walked over and spoke, "You have something to say to me?"

"Yesterday, did Zhi Yi pick you up from the airport?" Shen Yue asked.

Su Ruan was unaware of Yu Zhi Yi and Shen Yue's relationship and had thought that the two of them were a happy couple. After all, she could still remember Yu Zhi Yi's expression when he talked about his fiance.

"That's right." Su Ruan answered without delay.

However, hearing Su Ruan's nonchalant answer, Shen Yue had thought that Su Ruan was showing up. Her anger boiled, at the thought that Su Ruan was trying to seduce her fiance. Yu Zhi Yi even dared to lie for Su Ruan's sake!

"Miss Su, I knew that you came to Capital City to attend my and Zhi Yi's wedding. However, I would appreciate it if you could stop contacting my fiance after the wedding."

"What?" Su Ruan was dumbfounded.

"Actually, I didn't want you to come to our wedding at all. But considering that you are his best friend, I guess I could not stop you from coming."

Her relationship with Yu Zhi Yi was a little shaky at this moment. If Yu Zhi Yi knew that she had stopped Su Ruan from showing up at their wedding, the man would definitely fight her.

What if Yu Zhi Yi decided to break up with her for the sake of his best friend?

That was not what she want.

Moreover, it would be best if Su Ruan attended their wedding and watch Yu Zhi Yi marry. Perhaps then, Su Ruan would stop being around Yu Zhi Yi.

"Miss Shen, I have told you before. My relationship with Yu Zhi Yi was not like that," Su Ruan said. "The person that he loves is you. Besides, I already am in a relationship."

Shen Yue narrowed her eyes as if she did not believe in Su Ruan's words. "Since you have said it like that, then, it shouldn't be hard for you not to show up around him after we got married, right?" The corner of her lips tilted into a sneer. Then, Shen Yue turned around and headed back to the table.

Su Ruan tightened her hands into fists as she watched Shen Yue turn around and leave.

An indescribable sadness surrounded her. She couldn't help but felt wronged.

Although she had explained things over and over again, Shen Yue did not believe her. Were her feelings towards Yu Zhi Yi that transparent?

However, Su Ruan really did not have any intention to disturb Yu Zhi Yi's relationship. If he was happy, then, she would be happy as well. This was what she had decided long ago.

Su Ruan headed back to the table and found that both Shen Yue and Editor Fang had left. At the table, only Editor Ji Fan Yin was waiting for her.

Hearing her footsteps, Ji Fan Yin looked up with a worried look on her face. "Su Ruan, what happened? Do you have any misunderstanding with Editor Fang?"

Ji Fan Yin was not blind. She could see that Editor Fang did not like Su Ruan. Seeing the way Editor Fang has been ignoring Su Ruan earlier was enough. The situation was awkward. However, both sides were her friends and she did not want to take sides without knowing the situation.

Ji Fan Yin was regretting her decision to introduce Su Ruan to her friend. If she was not insistent to introduce Su Ruan to her friend, this situation would not happen.

"It was not Editor Fang. It was her friend, Miss Shen," Su Ruan said. "Her fiance is my best friend. However, she seemed to misunderstand our relationship and thought that I liked him more than friends. But it really wasn't like that."

Ji Fan Yin was surprised to hear this. She did not expect Editor Fang to treat Su Ruan coldly because of her friend. Even though she wanted to help her friend, this... she was not professional at all. They came here to discuss work!

Su Ruan's phone on the table buzzed, breaking the silence.

"That's right. Your phone has been ringing since a few minutes ago." Ji Fan Yin pointed out.

Su Ruan picked up her phone and stared at the caller ID with a dazed look on her face.

Chapter: 155

Wait For Me

Blue Media Group

The directors and managers in the meeting room decided that they should be cautious. Even though their boss seemed to be in a good mood, none of them dared to take things lightly.

To them, President Long Fei was too unpredictable. Everyone in the room was worried that President Long Fei's good mood was nothing but a trap. Who knows that once they had their guard low and were not paying attention, this boss would turn things around and scold them to death?

At this time, the manager from the marketing department was giving his presentation. While he was speaking in front of the crowd, the man continued to glance between the screen and President Long Fei alternately. He was examining his boss's mood and was afraid that he might say something wrong to trigger this man's bad mood.

Initially, their president had a calm look on his face as he listened to his presentation.

However, as time goes by, the marketing manager soon realized that something was wrong. His body started to tremble when he saw the look on President Long Fei's face.

An alarm sounded in his mind as he braced himself to be scolded by his boss in front of everyone else.

The marketing manager recalled his presentation and was worried that perhaps he had said something wrong to upset the big boss.

A few seconds ago, Long Fei was listening to the report when he suddenly felt his heart grow heavy and uncomfortable. He pressed a hand at his chest and frowned.

This uncomfortable feeling... he seemed to have experienced this several times before.

As a thought came to his mind, Long Fei picked up his phone and stood up. "This meeting is adjourned."

Before the others could react, their big boss had already left the meeting room. As they watched their boss disappear behind the wall, the group of directors and managers started to whisper among each other.

Assistant Fu Xing saw that his boss had run out and quickly go after him. "President Long, what's wrong?"

Long Fei did not answer but he continued to tap his fingers on the phone. The frown on his face deepened when he heard the dial tone on the other line.

However, he still did not give up. Long Fei tried again but the call was still left unanswered.

His heart was feeling uncomfortable and Su Ruan still did not pick up his phone call.

Noticing that his assistant was trailing after him, Long Fei then spoke, "Fu Xing, do you still remember the café that you have sent Miss Su to earlier?" He saw his assistant nod and spoke, "Send me there."

Fu Xing's eyes lit up. Thinking that his boss was anxious because something had happened to Su Ruan, Fu Xing picked up his pace and headed to the vehicle which was parked outside the company's entrance.

Meanwhile, Long Fei continued to dial Su Ruan's number again. Just as he thought that perhaps the girl was not going to pick up the phone, the phone call was finally connected.

For a second, he wondered whether he was imagining things, but once he heard Su Ruan's voice on the other line, Long Fei finally calm down.

"Long Fei?" Su Ruan called again when the man did not say a word.

"Su Ruan, are you alright?"

Su Ruan was a little surprised to hear his question. For a while, she was unable to react. "I'm fine. What's wrong?"

Long Fe placed a hand on his chest and frowned. He could tell that she was not feeling alright. "Are you still at the café?"

"Un." Su Ruan nodded. "What's wrong?"

"Then, wait for me. Don't move around. I will come over to your side quickly."

"Ah?" Before he could speak, Long Fei had already hung up the phone call. Su Ruan stared at her phone with a dazed look on her face, wondering if she had heard the right thing.

Long Fei was coming to her side?

Judging from his tone earlier, he sounded a little anxious. What happened?

"Su Ruan, what's wrong?"

Hearing the voice, Su Ruan snapped out of her trance but continued to stare at her phone with the same dazed expression. "No. It's nothing My boyfriend called."

Ji Fan Yin's eyes lit up. "Boyfriend? Then, why do you look so surprised?"

"He told me to wait for him here," Su Ruan continued. As she was not looking at the editor's face, Su Ruan did not see the editor's expression.

"Since he's on his way, then, you should wait for him here."

Su Ruan sent a text to Long Fei and turned to look at the editor. Seeing the glint in the editor's eyes made her startle. "Editor Ji, what's wrong? Why... are you looking at me like that"

"Your boyfriend?" Ji Fan Yin flashed a playful smile. "Since you already have a boyfriend, why would Miss Shen accuse you of liking her fiance?"

Su Ruan lowered his gaze. "I don't understand this as well. Even though I have explained my situation, Miss Shen did believe my word. Was it really impossible for a man and a woman to be just friends?"

Ji Fan Yin let out a helpless sigh. "But Su Ruan, I'm sorry. If it was not for me, you would not be receiving this unfair treatment. I did not expect that my Editor Fang would act like this either."

"Editor Ji, don't say it. You were only helping me to get an opportunity." Su Ruan pursed her lips into a thin line. "You did not plan for this to happen as well."

Ji Fan Yin leaned over and stared at Su Ruan. "Alright. Let's stop talking about this unhappy thing. Why don't you tell me about your boyfriend? Previously, you are too busy with your work and did not have time to date. Did you meet him during your break?" As Su Ruan's editor, she had watched how Yan Xi had bullied Su Ruan, causing the girl to work overtime almost every day.

Su Ruan laughed. "You can say that."

Suddenly, Su Ruan seemed to recall that Editor Ji Fan Yin was the one who had given her the task to interview Long Fei. If Editor Ji knew that she was dating Long Fei, would she be shocked?
