

Chapter: 46

Miss You Are Very Lucky

Su Ruan took a deep breath, enjoying the cool, fresh air around her. From where she stood, Su Ruan could hear the sounds of the birds chirping happily.

She looked at the scenery in front of her and thought of how relaxing it was to stay in this town. It has only been a day but she was starting to love this town more and more.

"Sister Ruan, let's go."

Hearing her voice, Su Ruan turned to her cousin and halted. She stared at the girl beside her and couldn't help but think that there was something different about her.

"Yu Xi, you've grown taller."

Ma Yu Xi rolled her eyes. "Sister Ruan, I'm wearing a high heel."

Su Ruan shifted her gaze and finally noticed that the sneakers that Ma Yu Xi wore a while ago were now switched into a pair of high heels.

"I didn't wear them just now because I was driving," Ma Yu Xi explained. She grabbed Su Ruan's arms and giggled happily. "Come on, I'll take you around this place."

Su Ruan raised her brow. "You mean, you're going to take me to that bakery?"

"Sister Ruan, don't tease me. Grandma was joking. Don't listen to her words." Ma Yu Xi pouted. "I only wanted you to try their chocolate rolls. They're delicious."

"Alright." Su Ruan laughed. "I believe you."

The two of them walked along the sidewalk beside the lake water and Ma Yu Xi continued to show her around the place.

It was a small town but there were all kinds of shops around the place. Su Ruan looked at the shop lot lining along the street and finally understood what her grandpa meant by this town belonged to the Long family.

The signboard already told her that the shops belonged to their family. From the convenience store to the workshop... each and every one of them had the name 'Long' on the signboard.

Su Ruan continued to look around the town and suddenly felt as if she was being watched.

Her steps halted. Su Ruan turned to scan her surroundings but could not find anything suspicious.

The people around her continued to go on their way. No one was looking at her or acting suspiciously. The frown on her face deepened. Su Ruan could not help but feel as if this feeling was very familiar...

"Sister Ruan, what's wrong?" Noticing that her cousin had suddenly stopped, Ma Yu Xi began to worry.

"Nothing." Su Ruan flashed a smile, deciding to discard that feeling.

It was the first time she came and visit this town. Perhaps the local here was curious to see her, an outsider walking around and taking a few glances at her.

She shouldn't be thinking too much.

Ma Yu Xi stared at her cousin's expression for a few seconds longer. Seeing that there was nothing wrong with her, Ma Yu Xi began to relax.

After listening to her grandpa about how her cousin's traumatized experience, Ma Yu Xi was a little worried that Su Ruan would suddenly recall that awful memory and started to behave strangely.

"That's right... didn't you tell me that you're going to take me to the shop to repair my phone?" Su Ruan said.

Yesterday, she fell into the water along with her phone. Su Ruan waited for the whole night and wait for her phone to dry. This morning, she tried to switch it on but it was not working.

Since they were visiting the town center, Su Ruan was planning to look if they could repair her phone. Or else, she might need to buy a new phone.

She did not care much about her phone but the most important thing is her sim card. As long as it was still working, she would be very thankful.

Or else, they might need to head to the nearest city to get a replacement card.

Ma Yu Xi slapped herself on her forehead. "That's right. I almost forgot." She pointed in a direction and spoke, "The shop is just around the corner."

Su Ruan followed her cousin to the shop and looked around.

A young man with shoulder-length hair approached and Su Ruan a look over. Then, he shifted his gaze to Ma Yu Xi and smiled. "Ma Yu Xi, why are you here?" He glanced at Su Ruan and asked, "Who is this?"

"Chu Jin, this is my elder cousin, Su Ruan," Ma Yu Xi introduced. "She's Auntie Zheng Zheng's daughter. Sister Ruan, this is Chu Jin. He was my classmate in high school."

The two of them exchanged polite greetings.

"What brings you here?" Chu Jin asked.

Su Ruan took out her phone and explained her problem. Chu Jin took her phone and brought it over to the counter.

"Let me look at it first and see if it can be fixed." Chu Jin flashed a smile. "It will only take a while."

"Alright." Su Ruan nodded. While the boy was looking at her phone, Su Ruan took the chance to look around the shop. It was then that she noticed that this shop too had the name 'Long' on its signboard.

"I'm sorry, it doesn't look as if this phone is repairable," Chu Jin spoke, gaining Su Ruan's attention again.

Su Ruan looked at her phone on the counter and sighed. "Then, what about the sim card? Can it still be used?"

Chu Jin moved to take a phone under the counter to test the sim card.

The smile on his face told Su Ruan that it was still working.

"Then, I'll just buy a new phone. What type of model do you have here?"

Chu Jin moved quickly and took out a few latest models from their shop. He began to explain each of the phone's features and recommended two models.

"Chu Jin, this is my cousin, remember to give her a big discount," Ma Yu Xi reminded him.

Chu Jin scoffed. "I know. This is the first time that your cousin came to this town. Of course, I will give her a good discount." He looked at Su Ruan again and smiled. "Miss Su, which one did you like best?"

After comparing the two models that Chu Jin recommended, Su Ruan finally made her decision. She took out her card and sighed thinking of the amount of money she had to spend when she was still jobless.

Chu Jin was about to take her card when the landline phone rang. He asked Su Ruan to wait and pick up the phone call.

Su Ruan did not know what was going on, but she could see that Chu Jin's expression changed slightly as he answered the phone call.

The call only took him a minute. Chu Jin came back to the register and settled with Su Ruan's payment.

Just as she was about to pay, Su Ruan noticed that the total she had to pay was different than what they had agreed on.

"Are you sure you have keyed in the right amount?"

"Uh-huh." Chu Jin nodded. "My boss called just now and said to give this discount to the first customer today.. Miss, you are very lucky."

Chapter: 47

Where Did These People Come From

Once the phone was all set up, the cousins left the shop together with a brand new phone in Su Ruan's hand.

"Sister Ruan, you're really lucky."

Su Ruan heaved a sigh. "If only I knew that they were going to give such a generous discount, I would have chosen the other model."

Ma Yu Xi paused. Then, she burst into laughter.

The cousins continued to walk on the path and finally arrived at the bakery.

Su Ruan tilted her head to look at the signboard and saw the 'Long' name written on the signboard again. This bakery should belong to the family as well.

It made her wonder just how many businesses in this town belonged to the family.

Ma Yu Xi pulled her into the bakery. The moment they entered, Su Ruan scanned the room to look for the boy that her cousin had fancied.

Seeing that Ma Yu Xi was choosing a few pastries while glancing at the man behind the glass window, Su Ruan quickly guessed that this should be the boy her grandma had mentioned.

"Is that him?" Su Ruan pointed to the person who was kneading some dough in the kitchen.

Ma Yu Xi gave a startle before she went back to choose a few loaves of bread and pastries. "Sister Ruan, I don't understand what you're talking about." She picked up a chocolate loaf in front of her and smiled. "How about this one? I think this is pretty delicious."

Su Ruan narrowed her eyes. Seeing that this cousin was not willing to speak about the person, she could only play along with her.

The two of them walked to the cashier and Su Ruan ordered two cups of coffee. "Yu Xi, let's sit around for a while. I'm a bit tired after walking around for a while."

Ma Yu Xi snapped out of her trance and turned to Su Ruan with her eyes widened. "That's right. My dad mentioned that you hurt your ankle. Don't tell me that it's hurting again?"

"My ankle is fine," Su Ruan said quickly to stop her cousin from worrying. "Just that, the weather is good. I'm thinking about enjoying a cup of coffee with the lake view."

Ma Yu Xi pondered about this idea and quickly agreed. Anyway, she could use this chance to look at the person she liked.

The two of them chose a seat close to the lake and sat down.

Su Ruan watched the scenery in front of her and finally, her gaze stopped at her cousin again.

The bakery had glass walls all around, making it easier for her to peek at the boy again.

"Alright. Are you not going to tell me about this boy? For example, what is his name?"

Hearing her question, Ma Yu Xi quickly tore her gaze away. She hesitated, wanting to continue and play dumb. But in the end, Ma Yu Xi heaved a sigh and looked at Su Ruan warningly. "Sister Ruan, you mustn't tell anyone about this."

Su Ruan nodded and made a zipping motion to her lips.

"He's Sun Cheng. A senior from high school," Ma Yu Xi said. "I liked him for a few years already."

"Then, why didn't you tell him?"

Ma Yu Xi heaved a sigh. "No. I don't think I would be prepared to be rejected. It's best if I could look at him secretly like this."

Su Ruan raised a brow. She wanted to say something as encouragement but decided against it as she saw the look on Ma Yu Xi's face.

It seemed that there were stories behind it?

The cousins continued to drink their coffee in silence.

Su Ruan was looking at the lake view when she noticed that a shadow was looming over. She looked up and was surprised to see that Long Fei was standing in front of her.

At the side, Ma Yu Xi let out a loud gasp.

Suddenly, her surroundings became a little noisier.

It was rare for Long Fei to come out from the residence and take a walk around the town center. Now that he had suddenly appeared, the townspeople were very surprised. They could not stop wondering whether their eyes were playing tricks on them.

A lot of them wanted to get close to him but none of them dared to step closer. They were afraid of offending him.

"Miss Su, hello." Long Fei smiled as he greeted her. He lowered his gaze until it reached her ankle. "How is your ankle? I hope you are feeling better today."

Ma Yu Xi stared at the man in shock. This was the first time that she had seen Young Master Long in this close distance. The man's presence alone had stunned her.

"I'm fine. Thank you Mr. Long for your concern." Su Ruan flashed him a smile. Suddenly, she had this feeling as if everyone around her was looking her way. It made her a little uncomfortable.

Of course, Su Ruan was not aware that there were a few jealous eyes on her.

The moment Long Fei came to talk to Su Ruan, she had become the envy of other girls.

Ma Yu Xi finally snapped out of her trance. She looked at Long Fei with the same dazed look on her face while poking Su Ruan with her elbow.

Long Fei naturally noticed her small movement. He turned to Ma Yu Xi and flashed an amiable smile. "Hello. I heard that Miss Su is coming to this town to visit her family. You must be her relatives, then."

Ma Yu Xi nodded. Her face turned a little red as the handsome man was speaking to her. "H-hello." She began to stutter. "I'm Su Ruan's cousin. Ma Yu Xi."

Long Fei touched his chin as if he was thinking of something. "Are you Mr. Ma Xin Yu's daughter?"

"That's right." Her body turned cold with excitement. This was the first time she came this close to this young master. Ma Yu Xi thought that she would only be allowed to look at him. Who would have thought that this man would talk to her?

She had even told him her name!

Ma Yu Xi was going crazy at this thought.

"Miss Su, Miss Ma, do you mind if I join your table?" Long Fei asked. "I was planning to sit around for a cup of coffee but this place is already full. Miss Su, you're the only person I know around this place."

Su Ruan frowned. She seemed to remember that there were a few empty seats available. However, when she turned around, Su Ruan realized that those seats were all occupied.

Where did these people come from?

"It would only take a while," Long Fei tried to convince them. "I will leave once my cousin showed up."

"Young Master Long, please, have a seat," Ma Yu Xi spoke quickly.

Chapter: 48

A Legend About A Dragon

Just a few minutes ago, Su Ruan and Ma Yu Xi could still chat freely. However, with Long Fei sitting at the same table with them, the cousins did not think that they could speak as freely.

Ma Yu Xi looked at the man in front of her with a dazed look on her face.

To think that she would be sitting at the same table as this man... It was an incredible thing. She wanted to take out her phone and sneak a few photos of Long Fei and use them to brag at her friends. However, she was too scared to even move her finger.

A waiter walked over and placed a cup of coffee on the table. After stealing a few glances at Long Fei, the waiter then left,

Su Ruan watched as the man drank his coffee from the corner of her eyes. Unlike her cousin, Ma Yu Xi, Su Ruan was used to meeting and interviewing some small celebrities.

Although Long Fei's presence was making her nervous, her reaction was still not as bad as her cousin's.

Su Ruan was mulling over the idea to start a conversation with Long Fei but after watching the man continuously stare at the lake water for a long time, Su Ruan decided to keep quiet.

Perhaps, this man was merely looking for a place to sit and drink his coffee while waiting for his cousin.

Since he did not want to be disturbed, then, she should let him be.

However, it did not stop the awkward feeling to have him sitting with them. Su Ruan lowered her head and threw her gaze elsewhere.

"Miss Su, what do you think about this town?"

Su Ruan lifted her head and meet Long Fei's gaze. It took her a few seconds to register that this man was talking to her.

"It's beautiful."

His lips curled into a faint smile. "I wonder if Miss Su and Miss Ma have heard of a legend about this town."

Su Ruan glanced at her cousin. She looked at Long Fei again, wondering if he was going to talk about how most of the business in this town belonged to the Long family. "What legend?"

"A legend about a dragon."

Her expression changed upon hearing his words. Her thought went back to the creature that she had seen underwater yesterday.

Su Ruan had tried her best to forget what she had seen and pretended that the creature she had seen did not exist.

However, this man had suddenly brought up this topic. Su Ruan could not help but wonder if what she had seen under the water was real.

Could it be that the creature she had seen yesterday was a dragon?

It couldn't be, right? A dragon was merely a mystical creature. They don't exist.

"I have probably heard a little bit about it," Ma Yu Xi said. "Our Grandpa had mentioned this matter once when we were still a child."

Long Fei chuckled.

In the past, the townspeople would often talk about the dragon and its legend. However, most people had moved out and the elders no longer talk about this legend to their children.

The youngsters were not interested in such matters and would rather play with their phones or tablet.

Long Fei turned to Ma Yu Xi and asked, "What do you remember about this legend?"

Ma Yu Xi's face turned red. She lowered her head shyly and admitted. "Nothing much. But Grandpa said that hundred years ago, there was a dragon in this lake. It was a long time ago. I don't remember much about it."

Su Ruan's heart skipped a beat. She turned to her cousin and later looked away. Her hands were sweating. The memory of what she had seen under the water was still hazy.

Could it be that this creature was real?

"Young Master Long, do you know anything about this legend?" Ma Yu Xi asked.

"Mhm... It was just as what your grandfather had told you when you were younger. It was said that hundreds of years ago, there was indeed a dragon living in this lake." Long Fei glanced at Su Ruan, watching her every reaction as he told them this story.

His eyes narrowed as he saw her pale face.

The smile on his face widened but it did not reach his eyes. Long Fei placed his hand on the table and tapped his fingers a few times, signaling Long Yu Heng to come over to him in a few minutes.

"It was said that this dragon was the protector of this town," Long Fei continued. "It helped the townspeople to defeat those who tried to conquer their land. Hundred of years ago, this dragon and the townspeople live harmoniously together. Because of this dragon, the town was very peaceful for years."

Su Ruan could not stop thinking about the creature she saw but continued to force herself to listen to this man's story.

"However, some people got greedy. They knew that this dragon's body was very valuable and wanted to sell it. One dragon's scale was enough to turn them into rich men overnight. Can you imagine what it would be if they sell the dragon's body?" Long Fei chuckled. "One day, a man managed to lure this dragon out of the water. The dragon did not suspect anything and followed after the man. However, this dragon was imprisoned in a place without water. He struggled but without water, his body grew weaker and he could no longer fight those humans."

Ma Yu Xi stared at the man with her eyes wide. "No! That's a terrible thing to do!"

Long Fei raised a brow. "Don't you think that the dragon is quite pitiful?"

Ma Yu Xi nodded. "Then what happened to this dragon? Did someone rescue him?"

"Hmm..." Long Fei tilted his head to one side. "Perhaps he did not manage to survive or perhaps he managed to escape. Who knows? It was called a legend. Who knows if this story is real or not."

Hearing his words, Su Ruan looked up and meet the man's gaze again. There was something in his eyes that made her heartbeat escalate.

She could not help but wonder why was he telling them this story.

"Ladies, I have to thank you for letting me join your table today." Long Fei flashed them a smile. Then, he turned his head to look at the man who was standing not too far away from them. "It seemed that my cousin is here." He stood up and grabbed his cup of coffee.. "It's time for me to go."

Chapter: 49

Preparing Her

Long Yu Heng watch as his cousin stood up and walked over to him.

A while ago, Long Fei had suddenly come back from his swim around the lake and announced that they would be heading to the town center.

He had thought that Long Fei had an important matter when he asked him to gather a few men with them. It was not until he had seen Su Ruan from a distance away did Long Yu Heng understood the reason they came to this place.

However, Long Yu Heng was puzzled again when Long Fei instructed their men to sit around the bakery and occupy every table.

It was only when he saw Long Fei walk to Su Ruan's table did Long Yu Heng realized that his cousin was trying to get close to Su Ruan.

Long Fei's change of mind was making him happier.

At least he would no longer have to watch the girl like a creepy stalker like he used to be, and finally had his reason to appear by Su Ruan's side.

However, Long Yu Heng quickly thought that something was wrong.

From a distance, it might seem as if Long Fei was chatting with the girls. However, the look on Su Ruan's face was too strange.

This cousin of his... it couldn't be that he did not know how to pick up girls, right?

Or else, why would Su Ruan's face turned pale?

Long Yu Heng straightened his posture as Long Fei came closer. Sensing that Su Ruan and her cousin were still looking in his direction, Long Yu Heng decided not to be anxious and wait.

"What did you tell her?" Long Yu Heng asked the moment Long Fei walked to his side. "Miss Su's face was too pale."

The corner of his lips turned up. "Nothing much. I was just telling them a story."

"What story?" Long Yu Heng's intuition told him that this story shouldn't be anything good.

Long Fei took a sip at his coffee leisurely. "Just an old legend about this town."

His expression turned aghast. "You told them your secret?"

"No. Just that old legend and nothing else." Long Fei saw the puzzled look on his cousin's face and smiled.

Long Yu Heng seemed to have forgotten that when he was soaking in the lake water yesterday, he had shifted into his other form. Therefore, he did not understand why Long Fei had told Su Ruan that legend.

Of course, Long Fei only wanted to test Su Ruan's reaction.

He had thought that Su Ruan had passed out from swallowing too much water. It was only after Su Ruan had turned home that Long Fei suddenly remember this important matter.

After all, Su Ruan had been quite relaxed about it.

He did not expect that Su Ruan had seen him in that form. That was the reason her face turned pale when he had mentioned a dragon.

It seemed that she had not even mentioned this matter to anyone in her family.

The smile on his face widened as he thought about Su Ruan's easygoing attitude and how she had tried to put this matter in the back of her mind.

Su Ruan is definitely an interesting girl.

Meanwhile, Long Yu Heng had another opinion about his cousin. "Ah Fei, didn't you say that you wanted to make Miss Su stay beside you willingly? Why are you telling her that old legend? Do you know how to pick up girls?"

"I was preparing her. Sooner or later she will have to know about the story. About us," Long Fei said.

Long Yu Heng pondered over his words.

It was decided from their childhood that Long Fei could only be with Su Ruan and no one else. Since that was the case, Su Ruan will have to learn about their family secret sooner or later.

It was not a bad move to let her prepare for it.

At least, when she found out the truth, Su Ruan would not be as surprised

"Besides, Miss Su and I were still unfamiliar with each other. Under that circumstance, how do you think I should start a conversation with them?"

Long Yu Heng pondered over his words and thought that Long Fei's words made sense. However, it was still a little too strange to bring up that old story. Long Yu Heng had an uncomfortable feeling but he did not know what it was.

"Anyway, what do you know about picking up girls?" Long Fei glanced at his cousin in disdain. "As long as I could remember, you are someone who never had a date before." His brow rose. "And now, you are planning to teach me how to pick up girls?"

Long Yu Heng stared at Long Fei unhappily. "I spend most of my time around you. How am I supposed to have a girlfriend if I was babysitting you most of the time?"

"I didn't ask you to babysit me." Noticing that they were standing too close to each other, Long Fei took a step back and looked at his cousin in disdain. "Don't get too close to me. I don't want people to misunderstand our relationship."

His eyes widened as Long Yu Heng stared back in disbelief. "Hey, what does that mean? Long Fei!"

From where she sat, Su Ruan continued to watch Long Fei as he leave with his cousin. Her brow furrowed as she thought about the story that Long Fei had mentioned.

Could it be that he know something?

"Sister Ruan, what's wrong with you? Ma Yu Xi asked. "Why do you look a little pale? Are you feeling unwell?"

Su Ruan snapped out of her thought and flashed an amiable smile at her cousin. "Am I?" She raised her hands to touch her cheek. "Perhaps, it was a little cold."

"That's right. I forgot that you are not used to the temperature around here," Ma Yu Xi sat up straight and look at her with a serious look on her face. "Then, should we go back to Grandpa's place?"

"That would be a good idea too. Let's come over to the town center another day." Su Ruan was not in a good mood after Long Fei had told them the story. Naturally, she had no objection when her cousin suggested they leave.

The girls picked up their belongings and returned to the pickup truck.

"Yu Xi, why do you think that Mr. Long suddenly brought up that story?" Su Ruan asked as they reached the parking lot.

"Ah?" Ma Yu Xi pondered about the reason and spoke, "Maybe he was just finding a topic to talk to us?"

Really?

Su Ruan had a feeling that things weren't this simple.. Her instinct told her that it was not a coincidence for Long Fei to suddenly brought up the dragon.

Chapter: 50

Don't Be Scared

Perhaps, she was affected by the story that Long Fei had told them. For the next few nights, Su Ruan had the same dreams over and over again.

In these dreams, she would see the same boy that he had dreamed about for the past few years.

This time, the boy in her dream was no longer as hazy as it used to be.

Although she still could not see his face, Su Ruan could see the horns on both sides of his head. The horns that she had thought belonged to a reindeer were not what she had thought. Now that she could get a closer look, Su Ruan realized that they were dragon's horns.

The boy's body slowly turned bigger. His hands turned into claws and his body stretched up long like a snake.

In this dream, Su Ruan saw herself getting scared. She wanted to scream but each time she opened her mouth, her voice would not come out.

The scales on the boy's body were blueish purple. Under the moonlight, his scale looked as if they were sparkling.

Su Ruan soon realized that the creature in front of her was the same dragon she had seen under the water a few days ago.

The dragon was big and he was towering over her. It was too scary.

Her legs shook. Su Ruan found that she could not run away.

The dragon approached her slowly. He stretched his claws grabbed her easily. He lifted her up high until their gazes met.

Surprisingly, his eyes were not as scary as his looks. Su Ruan found that the longer she looked into that eyes, the more she felt at ease. She actually felt safer with him.

"Su Ruan, don't be scared."

Even though the dragon did not speak, Su Ruan could hear his voice in her head. His voice was soft as if he was trying to coax her.

Her eyes widened. "How do you know my name?"

"I will not hurt you."

She did not know why but when she heard his words, Su Ruan felt as if she could believe his words. There was a feeling deep inside that told her that as long as she stayed close to this dragon, he will protect her from any harm.

It made her feel comfortable.

"Who are you? Do I know you?"

The dragon did not move but Su Ruan could feel as if he was smiling at her.

It did not make any sense. Can a dragon smile?

Just as she had asked those questions, Su Ruan would wake up from her dream. Unlike the last time she had dreamed about this dragon, Su Ruan found that she was no longer panting and sweating as much.

Each time that she woke up from this dream, Su Ruan would sit on her bed for a long time. She tried to recall every detail that she had seen in that dream but could not find any clues.

Who was that boy and how did he turn into a dragon?

Why would she have this dream repeatedly?

Does a dragon really exist?

Su Ruan had too many questions but she could not find the answer to any of them.

Taking a deep breath, Su Ruan climbed out of her bed and walked over to the window. The air was cold but she decided to stay there and let the air cool her mind.

The night view of this town was as beautiful as the day view.

She could see the moon shining brightly in the sky and the stars were glittering. The atmosphere was quiet and the only sound she could hear was the singing of the crickets.

After standing there for a long time, Su Ruan moved to close the window. Her movement halted when she saw Long's residence in the distance.

Her brow furrowed as she thought of the young master of that family.

Long Fei...

It has been a few days since the last time she ran into him in the town center. Each time that she had this strange dream, Su Ruan would think of the story that Long Fei had told them a few days ago.

She could not help but wonder if this story was related to her dream.

Could it be that it was the same dragon?

The cold breeze blew to her face and Su Ruan decided to discard that thought.

Perhaps, she should stop thinking about this matter. The more she tried to think of it, the more it will make her confused.

In the morning, Su Ruan headed to the dining area after washing up.

After greeting the elders, Su Ruan sat down and peek at the breakfast items that her grandmother had prepared.

Because she was planning to stay with them for a while, the breakfast in the house was a little luxurious.

Su Ruan took a sip of the hot milk and looked at the bowl of porridge in front of her.

"Su Ruan, do you have anything planned for today?" Ma Hao Dong asked as he looked at his granddaughter with a smile.

After that day she had visited the town center, Su Ruan had not left the house again. The past few days, she would spend her days leisurely accompanying her mother.

After her parents were divorced, Su Ruan decided to follow her father. It was a rare chance to see her mother. Now that she was staying in the town, Su Ruan decided to spend more time with her mother.

"I don't have anything planned," Su Ruan said. "I thought I was going to read some books and walk around."

"Then, do you want to come with me and look around at the orchard?" Ma Hao Dong asked. "It has been a few days since you come here. The last time, I told you that I will bring you around to look at the trees I planted. Your cousin, Yu Xi will be there as well."

Su Ruan thought about her grandpa's idea and agreed. "Alright. I have nothing to do at the house anyway."

Since she had come to her grandpa's place, it would be a waste not to walk around the orchard.. The last time, her grandpa had said that he would bring her to pick up some fruits together.
