Ugly Expression

Long Yu Heng scanned the place with his eyes. His gaze fell on the professor who was standing nearby for a couple of seconds before he retracted his gaze.

The corner of his lips tilted up slightly. The bullet in the old man's hand and the ugly expression on his face made him feel slightly better.

However, when he thought of the snake that had to sacrifice because of this situation, Long Yu Heng felt a little regretful.

Following Ma Hao Dong, Long Yu Heng went closer to look at the snake. He listened to the other's conversation and heard that someone will come to pick up the snake's carcass for further inspection.

Once he had looked enough, Long Yu Heng turned around to look for Su Ruan.

He finally found her standing among the crowd and gave her a quick look over. A slight crease appeared on his face as he wondered what was going through Su Ruan's mind at this time.

A few hours ago, Long Fei had told him that Su Ruan had seen him in his other form.

Long Fei was resting under the tree in the Ma's orchard, wanting to get slightly closer to Su Ruan before he could regain his energy and return home.

However, Su Ruan appeared in front of him and helped to heal his wound. Surprisingly, the girl did not seem to be afraid of him. Because of her presence, Long Fei managed to dig out the bullet and heal a little faster.

Long Fei was a little worried that Su Ruan would get scared after experiencing last night's event. He sent him over to the Old Ma's orchard to look at the situation as well as to check on Su Ruan.

Seeing that the girl seemed to be in a good condition, Long Yu Heng felt a little at ease.

Their gazes met and Long Yu Heng walked over to greet the girls. "Miss Su, Miss Ma."

"Mr. Long." Su Ruan nodded politely.

"Hello, Mr. Long." Ma Yu Xi greeted politely.

"Did you come over to join the fun as well?" Long Yu Heng asked.

"What fun?" Ma Yu Xi gasped. "I got scared thinking of how this snake was found close to our orchard. I heard from the others that the snake should be around a hundred years. Some people were saying that we shouldn't enter the water lest we would run into the snake's family. Who knows how many of them were around this town?"

After having a meal with Long Yu Heng previously, Ma Yu Xi had become quite friendly with this man and was no longer as afraid.

"I think, someone must have disturbed the snake's habitat for it to come out. Otherwise, it wouldn't come out." Long Yu Heng glanced at Su Ruan. "You don't have to be scared of getting into the water."

"That's what I thought too," Ma Yu Xi said. "The town's people relied a lot on the lake for their daily life. It would be troublesome if we can't get near the water."

"Old Master Long had heard this incident and said that he will invite some expert to let everyone know that the lake water is safe," Long Yu Heng said. He lowered his head as if thinking about something and speak again, "I hope that this incident does not make you change your mind and cancel our plan to go fishing."

"Of course not." Ma Yu Xi smiled brilliantly. "Mr. Long, we should still go."

After spending almost an hour at the orchard to observe others' reactions towards the snake, Long Yu Heng finally went back to the old residence. He went straight to Long Fei's courtyard and found the man in his office, standing beside the window to look in a certain direction.

"How was the situation?" Long Fei asked. He did not even look back to know that the person who had entered his office was no other than his cousin.

"It's pretty good." Long Yu Heng flashed a smile. "I arrived in time to witness that old man's reaction after finding the bullet." He chuckled and continued, "I have never thought I would be very satisfied upon seeing the look on his face. It was too ugly."

"Did they buy it?" Long Fei turned around and frowned.

"I have done everything to make it believable," Long Yu Heng said. His expression turned serious. "Trust me on this."

Long Fei let out a sigh. "I'm just a little worried. I was too careless last night. I did not expect that the old man would be hiding among the men to set a trap."

"It's not your fault. We have always known how tricky that old man and his group could be. This isn't the first time that we have faced them." He lowered his head to think of something and spoke again, "Don't worry. I will let someone divert their attention. Once they think that they have found a new lead, perhaps they would leave this place."

"I hope so." Long Fei frowned. "Now that they have found the bullet and the snake, I hope that they will leave this town and stop showing up. And that mayor... we have to do something and pull him out from his position. Since he dared to touch this town, he should not be left unpunished."

"I know. Fu Xing had already sent the mayor's information. I will send someone to handle this matter."

Hearing that Long Yu Heng had taken care of things made him feel more at ease.

Long Fei walked over to his desk and tapped his fingers on the table twice. "What about Su Ruan? How is she? Did you see her?"

Long Yu Heng stared at his cousin speechlessly. It seemed that Long Fei was more agitated to know about Su Ruan's wellbeing.

"Miss Su and her cousin were at the scene to look at the scene when I arrived," Long Yu Heng said. "I think that Miss Su looked pretty well. She was not scared or agitated. That reminds me, you still haven't told me what was going on with you and Miss Su last night. That bullet... was not something ordinary. I still could not believe that you could heal faster by just staying close to her."

"You are right. Staying closer shouldn't be enough to help me heal that fast." Long Fei pondered about last night's incident again. "Yu Heng, it was not staying close to her that made me heal that fast."

"What do you mean?"

"Last night.... it was a drop of her blood that helped me to heal."

Chapter: 72

Rainy Night

The Long's old residence was especially lively with the finding of the snake.

Those who were aware of their history knew that the only reason the snake had come out was to protect the family's secret. To protect the young master of the family as well as the family's wealth and reputation, the elders had to work together to stop Professor Chen from making trouble in the town.

Long Fei stood beside the window and looked out with both hands behind his back.

The sky had long turned dark. From the distance, he could see the dim light coming from Ma's household.

The sound of the knocking on the door snapped him out of his trance. Long Fei turned around and watched as Long Yu Heng entered his room with a tired look on his face.

"I heard that the old man and the others are going to leave this town tomorrow morning," Long Yu Heng said as he walked in. "Most probably, they will return to Capital City."

"It's better as long as they stay away from this town." Long Fei walked over to his desk and sat down. "Still, tell the others not to be negligent. The old man is too cunning. It would be dangerous for us if he had a spy in this town somewhere."

This was supposed to be the place where he could be at ease.

Long Yu Heng nodded. "Rest assured. I already asked those who live around the town's entrance to pay extra attention to visitors." He suddenly went silent and his expression turned a little complicated.

"What's wrong?"

"When I returned to the residence a while ago, I seemed to notice one of the old man's students in the driveway."

Long Fei raised a brow. "Oh? They suspected something?"

"Probably. Our family had a long history. It was not strange if they wanted to keep an eye on us."

"Don't worry. I will be more careful," Long Fei said. "The next mayor better be someone who knows how to behave."

Long Yu Heng nodded. "The elders had already discussed a few candidates. Grandfather will look at the list himself."

Long Fei finally let out a breath. He propped one hand on the table and started to massage his head.

Although the bullet had left his body, the side effect from his injury had not fully gone. Last night, he only get a drop of Su Ruan's blood and it was just enough to help to stop his bleeding and repaired his skin.

It was still not enough.

"Ah Fei, are you sure that you did not want to let grandfather know about your injury? He asked me about that bullet. I could only tell him that the old man missed and you have picked up the thing to be used later."

Long Fei heaved a long breath. "Don't tell him. I don't want him to worry."

"But what if there's any effect afterward?"

"Forget it. If he knew, Grandfather will start to ask how I healed. I still don't think that it's time to tell them about Miss Su."

Long Yu Heng pursed his lips into a thin line.

After what had happened last night, Long Yu Heng thought that it would be better to have someone like Su Ruan stay close to Long Fei. But Long Fei was determined that he did not want to force Su Ruan to stay.

Looking at the situation now, Long Yu Heng did not know when will Long Fei be able to convince Su Ruan to stay by his side. It seemed that each time he saw her, Su Ruan seemed to be guarding against Long Fei.

"Don't think too much about it." Long Fei spoke. "I know what to do."

The cousins exchanged a few more words before Long Yu Heng finally left the room.

Long Fei stood up and was about to head back to his bedroom to rest. However, his steps halted as his gaze fell on the dim light at a certain distance.

...

Su Ruan returned to her room after dinner.

Today, Ma Yu Xi's family had joined them for a meal and everyone was still talking about the snake. Su Ruan sat at the table while listening to everyone's discussion in silence.

As the snake was found close to their orchard, Ma Hao Dong decided to purchase some items that could scare the snakes away.

Anyway, it was better to be safe than sorry.

When Su Ruan entered her room, she took out her laptop to look at some news online.

Just as she had thought, the news about the giant snake was reported by several major presses. The picture of the snake carcass being lifted up by the crane circulated online. The netizen started to discuss the snake and soon, a few experts came out to say their opinion as well.

Su Ruan read their comments and finally thought that nothing was interesting in their discussion. After surfing the internet for a while, she finally logged out to get ready for bed.

Just in time, the sound of knocking could be heard from her door.

Su Ruan walked over and saw her mother standing outside with a gentle smile on her face.

"Mom?"

Ma Zheng Zheng thrust the small tray in her hand. "I was worried that you would feel uncomfortable after what happened this morning."

Su Ruan flashed a warm smile as she took the tray away from her mother. "Mom, I'm fine. I'm not scared."

"I know you're not." Once her hands were free, Ma Zheng Zheng patted her daughter on her head. "My Su Ruan is already a big girl. I just made you a mug of hot milk so that you can sleep soundly tonight."

Su Ruan looked at the mug of hot milk and smiled. She knew well that her mother was worried that her condition would worsen after seeing such a scary scene in the morning.

"Un. I know. I'll drink it before I go to bed." Su Ruan nodded. "Thank you, Mom."

Ma Zheng Zheng hesitated. "If you have anything, just come over to my room, alright."

The mother and daughter exchanged a few words. After saying their goodnight, Su Ruan closed the door and placed the tray on the table.

Her body warmed after taking a few sips of the milk. She could taste a hint of honey in the milk. The taste was the same as the one her mother would prepare for her during her childhood.

The sound of the rain pitter-pattering against the window snapped her out of her trance. Su Ruan placed the mug on the table and walked over to the window.

It seemed that the weather in D Town was a little unpredictable. She was very sure that the sky was very clear a while ago.

She pushed the window and looked up at the sky. There was only a thin layer of clouds. The rain would not last for a long time.

Su Ruan stood by the window, enjoying the rainy night scene. She finished drinking her milk and planned to head to bed.. Just as she was about to close the window, her eyes caught the sight of the blue creature sitting by her window, looking back at her.

Chapter: 73

Little Dragon

Su Ruan stared back at the creature, wondering if perhaps she was worrying too much about her little friend that she had started to imagine things.

She watched as the creature slithered towards her and wrapped his body around her hands.

Her eyes finally focused and Su Ruan looked at the creature in her hand carefully. "Mushu!"

The moment Long Fei heard that name, he started to bare his teeth in displeasure.

It's that stupid name again!

However, even if Long Fei showed her that he was unhappy to be called with that name, Su Ruan does not seem as if she had noticed anything.

At this moment, Su Ruan was just too happy to see that creature again.

She held the creature with one hand and peeked outside the window. Once she was sure that there was nothing strange outside, Su Ruan brought the tiny dragon into her room and closed the window.

She then placed the dragon on her desk and caressed his head with a finger. "Are you alright?" Su Ruan recalled his injury last night and lifted the dragon up to look at the injured spot.

Long Fei struggled in her hands. To be lifted and handled like this by Su Ruan made him feel embarrassed.

A sigh of relief escaped her upon seeing that he was not injured.

"I was worried about you," Su Ruan said. Her brow furrowed. "You left without saying a word. I even thought that last night was nothing but my imagination."

Long Fei looked up and saw the worry on her face. He felt slightly guilty that he had left while she was sleeping but there was nothing else he could do about it either.

It was not possible for a dragon to leave a note to tell her not to worry about him, right?

That would be too scary.

"You don't know how worried I am when I heard that they have found a snake carcass in the lake," Su Ruan continued. "I thought... it was you. I thought something had happened to you. I thought someone had found you and killed you."

Long Fei stared back at her in shock. He certainly did not think that Su Ruan would be this worried about him.

His heart ached. He did not like the sad expression on her face.

Long Fei climbed over her arms and patted her cheek with his tiny claw.

Seeing this scene made Su Ruan stunned. She took him off her shoulder and stared at him for a long time. Gradually, a faint smile appeared on her face.

"Mushu, are you trying to comfort me?"

His movement halted when he heard that name.

Long Fei grew frustrated, not knowing how he should tell her that his name was not Mushu and he really did not like that stupid dragon.

First of all, he is a lake's dragon and he could not spit fire through his mouth. However, he can control the water. Secondly, he was not as stupid as that fictional character. Long Fei also thought that he was more good-looking than that stupid dragon.

Su Ruan seemed to notice that the creature did not look very happy. She tilted her head to one side and raised a brow. "You don't seem to like this name."

Long Fei stared back at her and bared his teeth again.

His response shocked her.

Last night, this dragon had responded to most of her questions as well. She had thought of him as an intelligent creature. Now that he had responded to her again, Su Ruan was sure that this tiny dragon could really understand human words.

"Then, what do you like me to call you?" Su Ruan asked.

Long Fei wished that he could tell her his name. However, Long Fei did not doubt that Su Ruan would throw his body out of the window once she find out who he is.

A grownup man sneaking into a young maiden room... Surely, that man's intention could not be pure.

However, Long Fei had no other option. He needed to be close to her and this was the only way he knew. His situation was too complicated. As a human, Su Ruan seemed to have her guards up. But with this form, Su Ruan would let him get close to her.

"I don't know how should I call you." A thought came to her mind and her lips curled into a faint smile.

"Then, should I just call you Little Dragon?"

Long Fei pondered over this nickname. He was not too happy with this name. However, anything is better than Mushu.

Seeing that the dragon did not look unhappy, Su Ruan finally heaved in relief. "Then, I will call you Little Dragon from now on."

Long Fei stared back at her with a complicated look on his face. In the end, he could only tell himself to bear with this name.

"Little Dragon, I'm just glad that you are safe." Su Ruan scooped him in her hand again and brought him over to her bed. She placed him on the soft mattress and patted his head with her finger again. "From now on, you need to be careful."

Su Ruan frowned again when she recalled the group of people who came to her grandpa's orchard earlier that day. Her instinct was telling her that there was something wrong with that group of people led by that professor. However, Su Ruan could not figure out what it was.

"Earlier today, there was a group of people from the city who came to look at the snake's carcass. I saw the old professor holding a bullet that looked similar to the one you dig out from your body last night."

Long Fei's expression darkened, knowing that Su Ruan was talking about that old man and his group.

"Little Dragon, could it be that the person who hunted you last night was the same person who killed the snake?"

Long Fei hesitated to answer. He was worried that Su Ruan would be in danger if she knew a little too much. Before she agreed to stay by his side, it would be better if she knew less about him.

Wanting to avoid her inquiring gaze, Long Fei moved to her pillow and coiled himself into a comfortable position.

Anyway, the only reason he came to find Su Ruan was to heal a little faster.

"Hey, are you not going to answer?"

Long Fei feigned a yawn and closed his eyes.

Seeing that the dragon was no longer in the mood to chat with her, Su Ruan could only sigh.

Chapter: 74

Going To Fish

When Su Ruan woke up again, the little friend was no longer around. This situation really made her wonder if the dragon came to her bedroom just to sleep.

The thought made her a little speechless.

She wondered if that little dragon was going to find her again when the sky turned dark. Suddenly, she was looking forward to meeting that little friend again.

However, she would not expect that she would not be seeing the tiny dragon again for a long time.

A few days later, Su Ruan walked into the dining area and found that her cousin, Ma Yu Xi was having her breakfast while chatting with their grandma.

It took her a few seconds to remember that she had promised this cousin that she would accompany her to the lake with Long Fei and his cousin.

She was not looking forward to meeting Long Fei. However, she remember that Ma Yu Xi had mentioned that there was a also good spot to swim nearby.

Thinking about the little dragon that she had not seen for a few days, Su Ruan thought that this would be a good chance to check on him. If she comes along with them, perhaps she might get the chance to glance at the dragon later. She wondered if he would come out to say hi to her.

"Su Ruan, come over and have your breakfast." Their grandma, Lan Shi, was the first to notice Su Ruan's presence. "Have a seat. I'll go and get your breakfast first."

Su Ruan watched as her grandma went into the kitchen helplessly. The food on the table was plenty, but her grandma still wanted to bring in more food.

"Sister Ruan! You're up. I thought that I am going to your room if you did not come down in five minutes." Ma Yu Xi spoke in a cheerful tone.

Su Ruan flashed her a smile. "You seem very excited."

Ma Yu Xi grinned sheepishly. "Why wouldn't I be excited? Brother Yu Heng said..."

"Brother Yu Heng?" Su Ruan raised a brow and looked at her cousin suspiciously. "When did you get close to him?"

The girl let out a cough. "We exchanged our contact the day we went on breakfast together so that it would be convenient for us to discuss this trip. Then, he told me to call him Brother Yu Heng. Mister Long is too confusing, right?"

At this time, Lan Shi walked out from the kitchen carrying a tray of hot porridge. "Su Ruan, come and eat your breakfast." She placed the tray on the table and looked at her granddaughters. "That's right, the two of you are going out today, right? Where are you going again?"

"Grandma, I'm taking Sister Ruan to fish."

Lan Shi's expression turned anxious. "Will it be alright? It's not too dangerous, is it?"

The news about the giant snake was still a hot topic among the townspeople. Everyone was still afraid of the lake water and Lan Shi was one of them. Hearing that her granddaughters were going to the lake made her worry.

"Grandma, don't worry. There will be other people as well. Besides, this was not the first time that I have gone with a few friends on a fishing trip, right?" Ma Yu Xi glanced at Su Ruan and motioned her to eat her breakfast quickly so that they could leave faster.

As Su Ruan was having her breakfast, Ma Yu Xi continued to reassure their grandma that they would be safe.

Half an hour later, Su Ruan followed Ma Yu Xi to her pickup truck. "Where are we meeting them?"

"We're going to the town's jetty," Ma Yu Xi said. "They will meet us there."

Su Ruan nodded before she turned to look at the scenery out the window. Because of that, she failed to notice the playful smile on Ma Yu Xi's face.

...

"Are you sure she will be coming?" Long Fei asked as he looked at his cousin.

"That girl said her Sister Ruan is coming. They should be on their way to the jetty," Long Yu Heng said. He leaned on the wall and raised a brow. "Are you going to leave the boat if she did not come along?"

Long Fei chuckled. "What's the use of me coming along if I could not see her?"

Long Yu Heng narrowed his eyes. The phone in his hand buzzed and he quickly tapped his fingers on the screen to check on the message. After reading the messages for a while, his lips curled up into a smile.

"What happened?"

"Mayor Ding's matters have been settled," Long Yu Heng said. He passed his phone to Long Fei and continued. "He won't be able to stay in the political scene anymore. And that old and his apprentice seemed to be in trouble after they returned to Capital City. From the look of it, they would not be able to come over and make trouble for us."

Long Fei read the messages before he passed the phone back. "That's good." He hesitated for a while and spoke. "But this will only hold that old man for a while. We need to figure out a way to stop him from meddling in our life."

"What do you suggest?" Long Yu Heng raised his brow. After pondering for a while, he raised his hand and pointed his thumb to his neck, making a throat-cutting gesture.

"Don't be ridiculous." Long Fei chuckled. "That old man is not someone without a background. If something happened to us, it will only bring us trouble."

Long Yu Heng sighed. "That's true."

"I will talk to grandfather about this," Long Fei said. "This matter is concerning our family. The elders have been sitting around not doing anything and enjoying their life. We should give them some work and let them come up with something."

From a distance, Ma Yu Xi's pickup truck could be seen parked nearby the jetty.

Long Fei turned to look in the direction. The corner of his lips curled up into a smile the moment he saw Su Ruan. The girl would often keep her guards against him and Long Fei did not expect that she would agree to come to this fishing trip.

His thought went back to the night he had sneaked into her room just so he could stay closer to her.. Then, his expression turned slightly darker as he remember that Su Ruan seemed to like him more as that tiny dragon.

Chapter: 75

First timer

Su Ruan walked around the pickup truck and helped Ma Yu Xi to pick up some equipment in the cargo space. She looked around the lake and finally, her gaze fell on the cabin cruiser not too far away from them.

From the distance, she could see Long Fei, standing on the boat, looking in her direction.

"Miss Su, Miss Ma, you're here."

Hearing the voice, Su Ruan retracted her gaze and saw Long Yu Heng walking over towards them. "Mr. Long, hello." Su Ruan greeted him politely.

Long Yu Heng exchanged a brief greeting with her. Then, he looked at Ma Yu Xi. "Do you need any help?"

Ma Yu Xi did not reject his offer. Long Yu Heng helped the girls to carry their belongings and led them towards their boat.

As they approached the boat, Su Ruan realized that there was no one else other than the four of them. "It's just us?" Su Ruan whispered to Ma Yu Xi.

"Sister Ruan, we are going to head to a secret fishing spot. Of course, it would be better if there are not many people coming with us."

Su Ruan glanced at her cousin and began to worry that the girl was going to fall for some bad guy's trick. Despite saying that she had never had any interaction with the Long family members before, the girl was too trusting.

"Miss Su, Miss Ma, good morning."

Long Fei's voice snapped her out of her thought. Su Ruan looked up and saw that Long Fei was extending his hand towards her. She shot him a puzzled look, wondering what he was up to.

"Let me help you with your belongings."

Su Ruan followed his gaze and finally realized that she was holding a few stuff in her hand. It would be a little troublesome for her to climb aboard with her hands full.

She passed her stuff at him and was about to step on the boat when she noticed that Long Fei was holding her hand, pulling her up onto the boat. Before she could raise her head to look at him, the man had already pulled his hand away.

At the side, Long Yu Heng began to show them around the boat.

It was the first time that both Su Ruan and Ma Yu Xi had been on a cruise cabin and they could not help but look around. The cabin cruise was spacious enough for the four of them and was quite comfortable.

"Here, put this on."

Su Ruan turned to the voice and saw Long Fei handed her over a life jacket. She put the jacket on her body and adjusted her hair. "Thank you."

"Miss Su, is this your first time on a boat?"

"Uh-huh."

"Do you know how to swim?"

Su Ruan thought of the day she had fallen into the lake and was almost drowned. "I'm not a very good swimmer."

Long Fei's lips curled into a faint smile. "Then, you should stick closer to me. The ride might not be that smooth for a first-timer."

Seeing that her cousin had followed Long Yu Heng to the other side of the boat, Su Ruan decided to follow Long Fei and sat in the cabin.

The engine started and soon, the boat began to move on the water.

Su Ruan watched the scenery around the lake in awe. In just a few minutes, she began to lower her guards as she became too fascinated with the view. She wanted to go out and look around but was too scared of falling in the water while the boat was still moving.

This trip also made her realize that the lake was bigger than she had thought. With its size, it was not a strange thing for the dragon to live in the water and had never been found by anyone before.

Half an hour later, the boat finally slowed down. Su Ruan turned to Long Fei and saw that the man was looking at her.

"Miss Su, if you are feeling uncomfortable, you can tell me. I'm sure that we have some medicine in this place."

"Thank you, President Long. But I think I'm good now."

His lips curled into a helpless smile. "Just call me Long Fei. President Long made me feel as if I am still in my office."

Seeing the way Long Fei was staring at her, Su Ruan began to hesitate before she called, "Long Fei."

The corner of his lips stretched up and Long Fei began to look away.

The boat finally came to a stop.

Once her ground was no longer moving, Su Ruan finally stood up and tried to walk around slowly. However, she soon realized that the buoyancy made her legs feel a little shaky. Su Ruan could only hold the wall to stabilize herself.

"Hold on to me first."

Su Ruan turned and saw Long Fei's strong arm. She looked up again and saw the man smiling at her.

"This is the first time you're on a boat. It will probably take time before you can get used to it," Long Fei said. "Don't be afraid. I will help you."

Su Ruan wanted to decline but thought that it would be better to have someone to help her rather than walking around, looking pathetic.

After a brief hesitation, Su Ruan finally held on to his arm. A strange feeling traveled through her body as her hand touched his skin. However, before she could pull her hand away, Long Fei had already walked and she had no choice but to follow him.

The two of them finally arrived at the side of the boat and Su Ruan released her grip around Long Fei's arm and hold the railing instead.

A breath of relief escaped her. Su Ruan looked at the water and was surprised at how clear the water was. She could almost see the fish swimming around the boat.

Her eyes lit up and Su Ruan began to wonder if she would be able to see her little friend.

"You seemed fascinated by the water."

Su Ruan looked at the man beside her and smiled to hide her thoughts. "I have never seen the water so clear. The lake is beautiful."

Long Fei was about to say something when Ma Yu Xi's voice could be heard from upstairs.

"Sister Ruan, come up here. The view over here is prettier." Ma Yu Xi's head popped out briefly before she disappeared again.

Su Ruan looked up and wondered if it would be safe to sit upstairs. She was still trying to get used to walking around the boat.

"Your cousin is a lively person," Long Fei said.

Su Ran chuckled at his words. "Mhm.. you are right."

"Since this is your first time on the boat, I take it that you have never gone fishing before," Long Fei raised a brow.

"Yes."

Long Fei stared at her face for a few seconds longer before he spoke again, "Come on.. I'll teach you."
