

Dragon Husband

Chapter 1464 Young People Are Still Too Impulsive

Sister Wenren's dizzy eyes are about to go up to the sky.

This sounds like old Versailles.

What is okay?

Do you know how difficult it is to obtain Tianshan Spirit Crystals here?

But when they thought about it carefully, they were a little bit tearful.

It seems that for Wiliam, it is really not difficult.

He harvested wildly before, and there are so many babies.

Although the baby is in their hands now.

Wiliam seemed to think of something, and smiled and said to them: "I'm sorry, I've spent all the money this time, so you can arrange for those babies next, I won't participate."

The two sisters Wenren looked at each other, it seemed like human words.

"But, do you really plan to go to the seventh floor of the library tomorrow?" Wen Ren asked heartily.

Wiliam nodded, "Of course. I was said to be so mysterious, but I became interested."

"But, it's so dangerous inside..." Wen Renqing was a little worried.

Wiliam thought for a while, and suddenly looked at Wenren with affection, "Would you like another pot of wine?"

Wen Renqing's eyes were facing upwards, and she almost wanted to hit him.

What did you say to him last time?

Only this time, not as an example.

He heard it go in the ass?

"Then you have a good rest, you should be prepared, and we will send you in tomorrow." Wen Renqing said helplessly at last.

Wiliam nodded, and the two of them left Wiliam's room.

Early the next morning, Wiliam got up and left for the entrance of the library.

But when I arrived at the entrance, I found that many people had gathered here.

Including those elders and Wenren sisters.

Some came to send Wiliam off, while others came to watch the show.

When Li Nian saw Wiliam coming over, he couldn't help but sneer in his eyes, "Oh, the local tyrant has finally come, but let us wait for a while. But I believe that after you enter, we won't wait for such a long time. Up."

The implication is obvious. Wiliam just went in to make soy sauce, just to show people a joke.

Even when Li Nian saw that the lord was not there, he yelled five and six words: "Come on, I'll open a handicap here, everyone come to place bets. Let's see how long this kid can stay in there. Ha. Double the odds within a day. , Double the odds for two days, triple the odds for three days, and so on. Every additional day will double the odds, and the odds will be 100 times from the eleventh day! Place a bet.

With this shout, many younger generations suddenly got excited, and they squeezed in front of Li Nianyi, "Hahaha, don't make money, don't make money! I have 5 spirit crystals a day, and 10 spirit crystals in 2 days! "

The scene suddenly became uproarious, and for them it was a steady profit.

Wenren's heart is full of fire!

This clown, with the support of two elders, even dared to mock Wiliam in public!

However, with the tacit approval of the two elders, Wen Renxin knew that no matter how much he opposed, it would be useless.

As everyone's bets were over, Li Nian exaggeratedly said, "Oh, you guys are going to pay me to death! It's all for one or two days. Wiliam is an outstanding talent of the younger generation at any rate. Give me something. Face, I believe his strength is good!"

But everyone laughed and said: "What is there to believe in. Before the elders could only stay for a few days in, this kid can go in for more than two days? I will eat this table.

Li Nianyi secretly observed Xia Luye and sister Wenren.

I found out how the three of them reacted.

So Li Nianyi arrogantly walked up to Wiliam, raised his chin and asked, "You three are interested, come to place a bet? Anyway, I'm ready to lose my fortune."

Wiliam said directly: "Not interested."

Li Nianyi is willing to give up.

All it takes is for the three of them to place bets.

No matter how the three of them bet, the outcome is destined to be laughed at.

If they also bet for one or two days, it means that they themselves are not confident.

And if they dare to go higher, then they will swell their faces to fill the fat man, swallow them with tears in their eyes.

“Why? Don’t have confidence in yourself? If you don’t have confidence, you dare to throw 10,000 Lingjing before? Don’t you look down on me?” Li Nian said again.

“When did we look at you?” Wen Renqing said unceremoniously.

Li Nian’s face became stiff and a little angry, “Oh, the tone is so big? Look down on me, then come to bet? I don’t even dare to bet. I don’t think I should go on, I just lose money for everyone.”

Wen Ren’s violent temper came up, “Li Nianyi! You don’t deceive too much! Do you want to place a bet? Okay! I will give out a hundred spirit crystals!”

With that said, she really took out the Lingjing.

Some of it was left by William yesterday, and some were her pocket money.

She strode towards the entrance of the betting hall, but hesitated in front of the note with the time.

As soon as Li Nian saw and heard, he followed him and said with a smile: “Okay, you play. But you don’t go to the next two days, you don’t have a card face! I suggest you go directly to ten days or more, ten Double the odds, one cut is poor, one cut is rich, glory and wealth are at your fingertips.”

Wen Ren Qingxin’s head banged, and he slapped the one hundred spirit crystal fiercely on a time strip!

From eleven days!

The handicap set by Li Nianyi is always available for one to ten days.

From only eleven days, there is only one note.

But everyone knows that this note is just a decoration.

There is no one who is so stupid as to bet until the eleventh day.

After all, the highest record in the history of Xianghuali blood is only fifteen days.

And that’s still an elder-level figure of Tianzong Wizard.

Now that the people who have seen and heard are devoting their minds, Li Nianyi is happy to bloom.

He immediately put the spirit crystal that Wenren’s heart into his bag, for fear that she would regret it.

Wen Ren walked back to William angrily.

My sister sighed, “Sister, you are still too impulsive to commit.”

But Wen Renqing said angrily: “Hmph, don’t fight for the steamed buns! You just watched other people’s slaps and stretched out to your faces! I think this hundred spirit crystals are dangling, and I don’t want to Let this kid scream!”

Wen Renqing shook his head and said nothing.

If you are like this, people will only be even more awkward.

And he has no money and money, silly sister.

Li Nianyi was really going crazy in his heart.

Only the three of William who were present didn't know that this hall was just a cover.

Those who place bets are Li Nianyi's people. They bet just to behave, in order to lure William and the three of them into the bait.

Now, Li Nian doesn't have to pay a penny, and he earns a hundred spirit crystals from his blood!

Really got rich overnight.

And just after Li Nian pretended to announce that the bet took effect, William slowly walked to him.

He patted Li Nianyi on the shoulder, revealing a mysterious smile.

"Young man, it's still too impulsive."

As he said, he strode towards the entrance, leaving others with a meaningful back.
