

Dragon Husband

Chapter 1484: Humanity King, King Taoxian!

What kind of mess was completely beyond Wiliam's expectation.

However, Wiliam had to bite the bullet and think about this issue seriously.

This question is about the choice between the love of common people and the love of mortals.

Wiliam couldn't help thinking about the same problem he had encountered before.

When the Xiangdeng Village was in the midst of the disaster, Liu Chenghu asked Wiliam this question.

"There are many ways to live in life, but after all, it is vulgar. People have many choices, but after all, they can only embrace the ordinary. There are great immortality and small immortality in the human world. The great immortality is praised by the world. And the small immortality is just to protect your lover, even if you fail, which one would you choose?"

Wiliam's answer at the time was–

"If I, Wiliam, have the world in mind."

"Then you, Liu Chenghu, is my world's son, this Xiangdeng Village is my world's next village, does it have nothing to do with me?"

"I want future generations, and bravery must have me!"

"I want future generations, saying that I must be a male!"

"I choose–"

"Great immortality!"

Well, great immortality and small immortality.

Wiliam chose Great Immortality.

To replace this question, it is to choose the love of common people.

However, today's question is very fundamentally different from Liu Chenghu's question.

At that time, there was no white wind and snow in the problem.

In other words, at that time, Bai Fengxue was not involved.

There is no such precondition that it will be difficult to live alone.

So, the answer to this question is –

Wiliamgang wanted to answer, but suddenly his head shook.

He thought of the three sentences his grandfather had just left.

Then the sentence corresponding to this question should be-

“Humanity King, Wang Daoxian!”

This sentence is very easy to understand with the question just now.

Choosing to stay with the person you love for a lifetime without fighting against the world is to choose humanity.

When humanity comes to an end, it is probably to call the king the emperor, a hero.

But if you choose to save the common people and leave love, then you have chosen the kingly way of common people.

Kingly way, it is possible to seek immortality and deity

And since Wiliam came here, he must be seeking immortality.

So this question, according to the prompt given by the grandfather, should be to choose to save the common people.

This is the correct answer.

However, the answer was in Wiliam’s mouth and throat, but he couldn’t say it.

In his mind, the desolate and beautiful figure of Fengxue emerged.

The love of this life, which is more important than the catastrophe of the turbid world...

Wiliam was really at a loss for a while.

But he knows one thing.

Choosing the common people to abandon the wind and snow is definitely a choice against their will.

Therefore, based on this support of conscience, Wiliam knew how to choose.

He showed a bitter smile, and he wanted to say, Grandpa, you gave me a big problem.

If I don’t know the clues you left, I wouldn’t be so entangled.

Now I know, but I can’t go against my own will.

Fengxue, in my heart should be equal to the common people.

Wiliam raised his head, looked at these four blushes, and said with a wry smile: “My answer is that if you choose to stay with your lover, even if the world is destroyed, you can live and die together.
