

Dragon Husband

Chapter 1490

“What! You hypnotized yourself first!” Rao did not know how many years old Lady Peach had lived, and was shocked at this moment!

With a smile on Wiliam’s face, he said, “Well, I will hypnotize myself first.”

“This is impossible! How could you!” Peach Lady still couldn’t believe it.

“When entering a dream state, the biggest difficulty lies in how to detect that it is a dream state. If you can detect it casually, how can you be worthy of the power of your heart?” Wiliam explained lightly.

“So, I need an opportunity, or a cue point that must be experienced! As long as I reach this cue point, I will get a piece of information from self-hypnosis.”

“I hypnotized myself and gave a hint before entering the Three Questions.”

“As long as I admit defeat, I can get the message that this is a dream.”

“You! You! What an extremely clever boy! I’m regarded as serving you!” The Tao Hua Lady believed Wiliam’s words.

It’s terrible this kid.

Ask your heart three times, and you will answer whenever you ask.

And if you answer, you will win or lose.

If the kid answers correctly and wins, he will naturally be free from the dream.

But if this kid answers wrong, he will be obliterated by himself.

Therefore, the answer was wrong, but he wanted to get rid of his dreams. This was Wiliam’s greatest focus.

Before he entered the Three Questions of the Mind and Fingers, he had already preset the outcome of admitting defeat when he answered wrongly.

Then set up a hint point on this necessary road.

Once he admits defeat, his previous self-hypnosis will immediately take effect, and he will get the answer and message that he has entered the dream state.

This kid is actually holding success or failure in his own hands, his thoughts are so suffocating!

There is such a smart person in the world!

How could Lady Peach not know the words left by the person who came in before under the peach tree.

But why is the Peach Lady afraid?

She regarded this as a more interesting game.

It's just that Lady Tao Hua didn't think that the person who left those words outside was far smarter than she thought.

Mind and ask three times, one thought of life and death.

It turned out that Lady Peach thought that the thought of death and life was just an exaggerated description.

Unexpectedly, the hidden mystery just hints that this is information about dreams.

These four words deceived her!

If Lady Peach had guessed that these four words would make William aware of the dream, she would definitely erase these four words in advance.

However, this also happened to show that William's cleverness was definitely not inferior to that person before!

One old and one young, echoing across time and space.

Deceived her completely.

As for the three answer clues left by the old man, Lady Peach is ridiculous to think about it.

Although they are all correct answers, if you follow the clues to answer, you can still dream.

But it violated the word "Zhixin".

After leaving the dream, he will die forever.

That old man, didn't he get out with only one breath left?

Not right, Miss Peach suddenly thought of a terrible guess!

Could it be that the clues to the three questions outside are that the old man deliberately stayed behind to confuse himself?

The real intention of the old man is hidden in the thought of death and life.

For a time, Lady Peach didn't know how to guess that old man.

"You lost, but you also won." Peach Lady finally said.

How many years he lived, he was deceived by two people.

This in itself is a failure.

"The answers to those questions..." Lady Peach couldn't help asking again.

William's eyes changed at this time, becoming extremely soft.

"The answer, or my choice, is true." William said lightly.

He upholds the sincerity in his heart, and he has a clear conscience in the choices he made.

If you have to jump out of a little guilt, that is the life and death decision Wen Renqinxin made for him.

He is sorry to hear people love.

His choice has nothing to do with dreams.

"Is that so..." Miss Peach murmured, she was crazy.

"Then you have never thought about a realistic problem. You are planning for the operation step by step, even if you win the name before you are alive, but the person in front of you..." Lady Taohua really caught this point and confronted William.

William's heart trembled slightly.

Lady Peach is wrong.

William used himself as the starting point, and set up hint points when entering the Mind-to-Heart Three Questions.

Before the hint was confirmed, the injuries William suffered were all real.

But Wenren didn't know it was a dream from beginning to end.

Therefore, her heart was broken in order to complete William, and this injury was also real.

Even if William can escape from his dream now, Wen Renqing's heart is still broken irretrievably.

It can be said that Wen Renqing's death was the biggest unexpected thing William had this time.

However, William's eyes became fierce again.

"No, Qingxin will not die." William said suddenly.

"Huh?" Lady Peach asked unexpectedly.

"Get my grandmother's roots and escape the cycle of life and death." William slowly said this sentence.

silence.

Lady Peach fell silent.

She didn't know what to say about this kid.

Suddenly thought of the method to solve the problem.

"But, why do you think that I will give you the roots of your grandmother, you have already lost this qualification in the second round of questioning." Lady Peach Blossom said slowly.

William smiled at this moment.

"So, there are two things in your sentence. One, Wenrenqinxin is not inevitable. Second, it is still possible to get the roots of grandmother."

This side of heaven and earth trembled slightly, as if with the anger of Lady Peach.

Lady Peach is indeed angry.

For the first time, she felt that there was a small human being calculating her everywhere.

With a casual remark, he was able to analyze it all the way.

"Huh, then you are going to talk about it, where is the possibility of getting the roots of the grandmother?" Peach Lady's tone became unkind.

"It's still in what you said." William said calmly, "Whether it was intentional or unintentional, you just said that you want Wenren to compensate."

"You!" Yifang Tiandi trembled again.

Peach Lady has lived for so many years, she thinks she is peaceful and calm.

But today I met this stinky boy, and every sentence set a stumbling block for myself!

It's really annoying!

"What if I break my promise?" Lady Peach said suddenly.

"Then I didn't say it." William said immediately.

However, William also sighed and said, "Peach Blossom Lady, I know you hate me, and I hate myself who is so calculating. However, I have no way. Love is innocent. Let go of the grievances between us. , Are we only for one common purpose? In order to make a woman who truly loves peach blossoms open her eyes to see peach blossoms again, in order to make a silly woman in love worthy of being loved by this world again..."
