

Dragon Husband 1739 Part 1

Chapter 1739 Breeze

Wiliam was stunned, looking at Su Hongxiu, a little confused.

What the hell is this crazy woman doing?

The expression on the front feet is still so soft, and he talks about confusing topics.

The back foot changed face immediately, as if Wiliam was a stranger in front of her.

“What’s wrong with you?” Wiliam couldn’t help asking.

Su Hongxiu still had a cold expression on her face, and said lightly, “Wiliam, although our friendship is not very deep, I probably know your character.”

“You never do anything meaningful. Everything you do has a purpose.”

“You are going to the Cold Boat Race, which means that you must have a plan. Right?”

Wiliam’s face froze, but he didn’t answer Su Hongxiu’s words.

“No matter what you picture Hanzhouzhe, this is what I don’t want to see. After all, Hanzhouzhe is my first home, and I will never do anything that I’m sorry for Hanzhouzhe, and I will not help Zhou Dynasty. what are you?”

“However, I don’t want to help the Hanzhou people offend you, because you are a person with great potential. In a short period of time, you have been riding on the top of the nine sects, and at some point, you will surpass the five methods and even the Three tops the sky. So, to me, you can only be a friend and not an enemy.”

“Based on these two points, I choose not to help each other, you go, I will treat you as if you haven’t been here today.”

After saying this, Su Hongxiu turned around and ignored Wiliam.

And the loose red clothes on her body also tightened in an instant, as if her whole person had become serious.

William sighed.

I see.

This woman, I really don't know what to say about her.

She is so smart.

Hidden beneath this seductive appearance is a calm and outrageous heart.

William admitted that this woman saw through herself 70% to 80%.

It's just that in normal times, her interests or weaknesses are not touched, so she is happy to be an outsider and watch the show.

William nodded, indicating that he fully understood Su Hongxiu's two unhelpful hearts.

"Well, then I'll go first, and I'll play with you when I have a chance." William cupped his hands towards Su Hongxiu, who had his back turned to him, and turned to leave.

The same losers do not lose the battle, let yourself go down the steps.

After leaving the red and thin high-rise building, William planned to find the old man Qingfeng.

The address of the Qingfeng old man is actually not difficult to find, and he can even find out just by inquiring about it.

William soon came to a somewhat dilapidated thatched cottage under the guidance of a kind person.

He looked up at the thatched hut.

The thatched cottage is generally in the shape of a courtyard, but the door is completely open.

As if this is the way of the old man Qingfeng's hospitality, the door is opened to welcome guests from all over the world.

William coughed, and said loudly, "William came to pay respects to the old man Qingfeng, I beg you to see him!"

As soon as the words fell, someone walked out and cupped his hands to Wiliam: "Brother Wiliam, we meet again, but my master is waiting for you."

Wiliam looked at this person, and with his strong memory, he recognized that this person was the man who brought a lot of things to Xianghualixue to announce that he had won the first place in Burial.

He is the eldest apprentice of the old man Qingfeng.

Wiliam also cupped his hands and said hello to him: "Hello."

"Come in with me." The eldest apprentice brought Wiliam in enthusiastically.

As Wiliam walked, he was pondering in his heart that this old man Qingfeng had some meaning.

was waiting...

He already knew that he was coming to visit him?

He even said that he knew why he came to look for him?

If so, great.

Another wizard? Or proficient in divination?

Everything can only be seen after seeing this old man.

The small thatched hut where the old man Qingfeng lived was also not closed.

As soon as Wiliam entered the door, he saw a small square table with short feet in the middle of the small thatched hut.

The old man Qingfeng was sitting in front of the square table, carefully brewing a pot of tea.

There is also a small and exquisite incense burner on the square table.

The green smoke curls up, and the tea fragrance overflows.

For a while, Wiliam thought that he had come to Xianrenju.

“You’re finally here.” The old man Qingfeng raised his head and looked at Wiliam with a kind expression on his face.

Wiliam bowed to the old man Qingfeng, and said respectfully, “It’s disrespectful to come to harass.”

“Sit down.” The old man Qingfeng motioned for Wiliam to sit opposite him.

Wiliam sat down with his legs crossed, and the old man Qingfeng placed a cup of tea in front of Wiliam.

Then, the two of them were speechless, enjoying their tea in peace.

After about ten minutes, the old talent Qingfeng said again, “The only bloodline inheritor of the ancestor of the ancient unicorn, called the peak of the bloodline, it is not an exaggeration.”

The first sentence that broke the silence, if it was heard by outsiders, it would definitely be earth-shattering.

But the old man Qingfeng had a natural look.

Wiliam also showed a faint smile, “Thank you for your love.”

Wiliam knew in his heart that when he was finally verifying the blood crystals of the bones, if the old man Qingfeng had not concealed something for the three brothers, the three of them might have been targeted by some interested people on the spot.

But Wiliam didn’t know that what the old man Qingfeng was hiding for the three brothers was more than the people at the scene.

Wiliam was so sure that this old man was far more knowledgeable than he thought.

“What do you want to ask me to tell you, I won’t hide it.” The old man Qingfeng said unexpectedly.

Wiliam was surprised for a while, but he felt that he couldn’t ask.

Come to think of it, you can only ask things.

“Old Man Qingfeng, do you know about the colorful embroidery festival of the Hanzhou people?” Wiliam asked.

The old man Qingfeng was stunned for a moment, as if he had not thought that Wiliam would ask this.

He paused before saying, "I do know, what are you asking about?"

Wiliam didn't say anything directly.

Because the purpose behind him is too crazy, it is related to the secrets of ancient times.

He asked again, "Are you invited to participate in this Caixiu Erlang Festival?"

The old man Qingfeng nodded again and said with a smile: "Of course there is. I have a little reputation in the arena, and I have a good relationship with the Hanzhou people. They will invite me to watch the ceremony every year. "

"Then, can you take me to the Caixiu Erlang Festival this time?" Wiliam hurriedly asked.

The old man Qingfeng looked at Wiliam in surprise, but nodded again, "It's okay to take you to participate, but you have to answer me two questions."

"Okay." Wiliam nodded in agreement.

The old man Qingfeng pondered for a while, and then asked the first question, "Your purpose is not the color embroidery Erlang Festival, but the Hanzhou people?"

Wiliam looked at the old man Qingfeng, nodded, and answered.

The eyes of the old man Qingfeng became clearer and clearer, "So, what you are drawing is the prayer seal of the Hanzhou people?"
