

Chapter 106

At this moment, Liam immediately dialed the private doctor's number.

But what came over the phone was a robotic sound. "Sorry, the number you dialed is out of service..."
Liam was anxious.

He looked at Abigail lying in the bed, "I'll take you to the hospital."

Then Liam went to get his clothes.

"Wait," Abigail said.

Liam looked back at her.

"Help me put on my clothes. Do you want me to go out like this?" Abigail said angrily.

Liam was speechless.

However, Liam still helped her wear the dress.

Then Liam put on his shirt and carried her out right away.

May was extremely worried downstairs; completely unaware of what was happening upstairs.

Just then, the door opened and Liam came out with Abigail in his arms.

Seeing this, May was stunned for seconds. "Liam, what happened?" she asked in concern.

“She has a stomachache. I’ll take her to the hospital.”

Then he left.

‘Stomachache?’”

May was confused for a moment.

“Do you want me to go with you?” She asked.

“No. Just stay at home,” Liam answered and carried Abigail straight to the car.

Putting her in the car, Liam got in and sped off.

Abigail sat in the back with her hands covering her stomach. Her face was pale, and a thin layer of sweat formed on her forehead. It was obvious that she was in pain.

Liam looked at her through the rearview mirror and sped up.

It was supposed to take 20 minutes to get to the city, but it only took 10 minutes this time.

Abigail looked out the window and thought about what to do next. Just then, Abigail saw a pharmacy outside.

“It hurts...” Abigail said again.

When Liam heard this, he was anxious. “Hold on, we will get to the hospital soon.”

“No, it hurts. Get me some medicine...” Abigail spoke word by word, enduring the pain.

Hearing this, Liam immediately looked out the window. Then he nodded, “Okay.”

He pulled the car over. Then he looked at Abigail and said, “Wait a minute, I’ll be right back.” With that, he got off.

Abigail looked at Liam’s back and felt guilty...

After he left, she changed back to her healthy state.

Well, self-protection was important.

Besides, if she didn’t do this, she might have been tortured by him. They both needed sanity at present.

Thinking of this, Abigail got out of the car directly.

As she got out of the car, she looked over there, afraid that Liam would suddenly come back.

Then she quietly walked to the side, and a taxi happened to come over. Abigail waved and quickly got into the car without hesitation.

“Just drive, please,” Abigail said anxiously.

She was afraid that Liam would see her.

Chapter 107

On the other side, Liam rushed into the pharmacy. He didn't know which stomach medicine to buy, so he took two bottles of painkillers and a bottle of water. Then he ran out.

When he reached the car, he opened the door in a hurry.

"I've bought the med..." Before he could finish his sentence, he was stunned to find the car was empty.

His face immediately sank.

Now, he seemed to get it.

"Damn it." His eyes were blazing with rage.

Finally, he slammed the bottle onto the ground.

"Abigail, you're a goner this time!" He roared. "I'm not done with you!"

The heroine, Abigail was sitting in the taxi now.

She could imagine what Liam would look like when he found that she was not in his car.

'He'll probably want to kill me.'

Abigail shook her head to expel that thought!

In any case, she was trying to protect herself. Liam was too irrational today.

They had to calm down.

Abigail breathed a sigh of relief and thought about what to do in the future.

She should have expected this, but his reaction was unexpected.

Liam was sitting in the car. "Damn it. She lied to me again."

Thinking of this, he punched the steering wheel hard.

'Abigail, don't let me see you.'

His cell phone rang this moment.

When he saw the number, he frowned and reluctantly answered it.

"Dad..." His tone was a little irritable.

"Brat, I heard Abigail had come back?" On the other side of the phone, it was Liam's father, Robert.

Liam frowned and asked, "How do you know?"

"Don't mind this. How is Abigail? I'm telling you, she's a good woman. Now she's finally back. If you dare to do anything to her, I won't let you go." Robert snapped on the phone.

'A good woman?'

'A good woman would lie to me over and over again?'

Liam frowned.

He kept wondering why his stubborn father thought so highly of that woman.

When his father found out about the divorce two years ago, he hailed curses on Liam.

In the beginning, it was Robert who insisted that he married Abigail, so he had to agree.

Others might think Abigail had spelled Robert.

"Got it," Liam replied impatiently.

"Bring her back another day," Robert said seriously.

"Let's talk about it later," Liam replied impatiently. "I have something else to do. I'll hang up." Sitting there, Liam became angrier and more agitated as he thought about Abigail's trick.

Her face kept flashing in his mind.

'Abigail, I won't let you leave me this time.'

Chapter 108

At Liam's house.

May was too worried to fall asleep. She was waiting in the living room and saw Liam come back.

"Liam, how's Miss Swift?" She asked anxiously.

'Miss Swift?'

Hearing this, he knew that Abigail must have told May something.

He thought of the day when he met Abigail at the company and she was so flustered. That explained everything.

He should have noticed it.

Abigail was really good at disguising herself.

He didn't even know that she had been lurking around him for so long.

May stood there, looking at his angry face, and couldn't help but speak for Abigail.

"Liam, don't be angry. Although Miss Swift lied to you two years ago, she has never done anything harmful to you." May soothed.

Hearing this, Liam was stunned.

'Abigail lied to me two years ago?'

'What does that mean?'

Liam frowned. "Damn it. How many things has Abigail lied to me?"

At this moment, he turned to look at May and asked, "Two years ago? What happened two years ago?"

"Miss Swift married you while making herself an ugly girl with make-up," May said subconsciously.

Hearing this, he thought of the first time he saw Abigail. She was wearing a grey-blue suit, black high heels, her hair tied behind her head, and a pair of glasses.

When she saw him, she was expressionless and lifeless. She even did whatever he asked.

Even when he told her to f*ck off, she left obediently.

So, he had many quarrels with Robert for ten days because he didn't like Abigail. But he finally gave in and married her.

But they didn't have a wedding and just registered their marriage, so others didn't know that he was married.

There were some rumors that he was married, but no one could be sure of it.

Liam would never mention that he married an ugly and boring woman.

And no one saw what his wife looked like.

Therefore, rumors were just rumors. None knew the truth.

The truth was that he never went back after they married, and he never saw Abigail again.

So, after a year of marriage, he couldn't even remember what his wife looked like at all.

He even forgot her name.

Thinking of this, he came back to his senses.

'So all of this was what Abigail wanted? She did that on purpose?'

"May, what exactly happened?" At this moment, Liam looked at May and asked slowly.

"I, I don't know anything..." She replied immediately.

"May!" At this moment, Liam roared. She stood there and looked at him awkwardly, not knowing what to say.

"May, you've been taking care of me since I was ten years old. Can I still trust you now?" He looked at May and asked slowly.

He acted tough and talked softly. How could someone softhearted like May not compromise?

In the end, she thought it over. "Well, I'll tell you everything, look..."

So she told him about Abigail's leaving two years ago.

Chapter 109

Liam's face darkened after he heard that.

'This woman is really smart.'

'No wonder I didn't remember her at all.'

'No wonder she is so different from her used to be...'

It turned out that everything was her disguise!

She disguised herself that way on purpose because she didn't want to marry him.

Thinking of this, Liam really wanted to rush out, find the woman, and punish her.

"I only saw Miss Swift like that when she left, so I figured it out." May looked at Liam and said.

Liam stood there, fuming at Abigail.

Looking at Liam's angry face, May hurriedly said, "Liam, actually, Miss Swift is also a poor person. Every night, she sits in front of the TV and watches your affair with another woman. I have never seen her smile. That night, she even made many dishes and waited for you to come back... But I didn't expect this to happen."

Hearing May's words, Liam turned to look at her with deep eyes.

May stood there, not afraid of Liam blaming her. After all, Abigail was not the only one to blame for this, and Liam had done wrong.

Even if she was only a nanny, she should treat them equally.

What's more, it was Abigail that accompanied her when she was here. They were very close. She really liked Abigail.

After looking at May for a long time, Liam replied, "I see. You can go back to your room."

"What about Miss Swift?" May was still worried.

"She had run away," Liam said.

Hearing this, May was stunned.

But she just knew that Abigail was fine.

"Fine, then I'll go rest first." At this moment, Liam suddenly remembered something. "May, what stomach medicine does Abigail often take?"

"Stomach medicine?" Hearing this, May frowned. "I don't know. Miss Swift has a good stomach. I haven't seen her take any medicine."

"Fair," Liam said.

Mary nodded and turned to go upstairs.

Liam stood there, thinking of Abigail. His eyes were deep, and a wicked smile appeared...

While Abigail went straight back after getting into a taxi.

When the taxi arrived, she realized that she had no money on her.

Her purse was also left in Liam's house.

'Damn it!'

"Sir, I'm sorry. Can you wait for me here for a while? I'll go up and get you the money." Abigail looked at the driver and said awkwardly.

Seeing Abigail dressed so beautifully, the driver didn't think Abigail did it on purpose. He nodded.

"Okay!" "Thank you. Wait here." Saying that, Abigail opened the door and got out of the car.

Jacob sat in his car. Seeing Abigail get out of the car, he immediately opened the door and got out of his car.

"Abigail," Jacob called her.

Hearing the voice, Abigail turned around and frowned when she saw Jacob. "Brother?"

"Why are you here?"

"I'm worried about you, but I can't find you. I can only wait for you here." Jacob said.

Chapter 110

“How are you? Are you all right?” Jacob looked at Abigail worriedly and said.

“I’m fine,”

“Really?”

Abigail pointed at the taxi. “I lost my handbag.”

Jacob glanced at the taxi behind her, understood, and nodded. He walked over, took out the money from his wallet, and gave it to the driver.

“No need for change.” He said.

The driver nodded and drove away.

Jacob walked up to Abigail and asked, “Are you sure you’re okay?” “Yes.” She nodded.

He looked at her clothes. “Do you want to go upstairs and have a talk?”

Abigail nodded, heading to her house.

As soon as they entered the room, she said, “Brother, take a seat.”

“Okay.”

Jacob came here for the first time. The layout was still neat, elegant, and comfortable.

He walked to the sofa and sat there.

Abigail went to her room, changed her clothes quickly, and came out.

“Jacob, what would you like to drink?” Abigail asked.

“I’m good.”

She stopped asking and brought two cups of coffee.

“Jacob, Liam knows who I am.” She looked at him and said.

He was not surprised to hear that. “I know. He pulled you away. Did he do anything to you?” He asked.

As she and Liam went away, he kept chasing after them, but there was no trace of Liam.

Liam had so many houses that he couldn’t seek them one by one, so he went back to Abigail’s and waited.

Abigail shook her head. “I’m fine. He didn’t do anything to me. But how did he know?”

Until now, she had no idea how Liam had found out.

Jacob thought for a moment. “I think it might be because Dad and Mom went over today to see you, and Liam happened to overhear their conversation.”

Abigail was stunned.

No wonder he was fine when he went out with Olive and came back like that.

“Dad and mom went there too?” Abigail asked.

Jacob nodded. “In the past two years, whenever the Jones Group and the Powerline Group hold activities, they would invite the Swift Group. Usually, it’s me on behalf of the Swifts. But I didn’t expect them to be present today.” Jacob said.

Hearing this, Abigail was lost in thought.

Since things had already happened, there was no way to change and no use to blame anyone.

Besides, when she saw Liam, she knew that one day he would know. But she didn’t expect it to come so soon.

Abigail sighed.

“It’s my fault!” Jacob said in guilt.

Abigail looked at him. “Brother, it’s not your fault. You don’t have to blame yourself. Besides, since I’ve come back, I have to face Liam sooner or later. Now that he knows, it saves me from worry.”

“But...”

The only thing she worried about was the Swift Group.

She didn't want to implicate the Swift Group.

Looking at her worried face, Jacob asked, "Are you worried about the Swift Group?"

Looking up at him, she nodded. "I don't know if it will be implicated!"
