

Her Wicked Ceo (Abigail and Liam)

Chapter 251

Every time he said the word “ex-wife,” Leo seemed unhappy.

“You didn’t cherish her before, and it was your loss. But I will! So don’t worry.” Leo wasn’t a pushover.

They looked at each other, but neither of them went soft.

At this moment, Abigail came out. She pretended not to see them.

“Leo, stay here for dinner,” Abigail said.

But Abigail didn’t expect it to be even more chaotic.

“Okay!” Leo agreed.

Seeing this, Liam gritted his teeth, ‘This woman definitely did it on purpose.’”

At this moment, Abigail walked towards the kitchen. Leo said, “Let me help you.”

Hearing Leo’s words, Abigail was surprised. “Can you cook?”

Having known Leo for so long, she never heard that he could cook.

Leo smiled. “I can’t, but I can learn.”

Hearing Leo's words, Abigail smiled. They were chatting, laughing, and cooking in the kitchen. Standing behind them, Liam looked at their backs and felt he shouldn't be here.

Especially when he saw them joking and cooking together, this scene looked so sweet.

Leo could swallow his pride for Abigail.

Thinking of this, Liam was furious.

At this moment, he turned around and walked towards the living room.

The kitchen was located opposite the living room. Liam sat on the sofa.

He would do nothing, waiting for dinner.

He could hitch a free ride.

Thinking of this, he sat down, turned on the TV, crossed his legs, and switched the channel over and over again with the remote control, but his mind was not on the programs at all.

He kept looking at the kitchen.

Seeing them talking and laughing, Liam was annoyed.

He looked around, but when he saw what was on the coffee table, he suddenly thought of something and smiled wickedly.

At this moment, he leaned lazily on the sofa and put his long legs on the coffee table.

However, with a bang, the glass on the coffee table fell and broke.

“Oh, the cup is broken,” Liam said so loudly that Abigail could hear in the kitchen.

Sure enough, the voice was so loud that Abigail and Leo were surprised and turned back. “What happened?” “I accidentally dropped the cup!” Liam said causally.

Abigail glanced at him. “Mr. Jones, please clean it up.”

“I clean up? Abigail, did you actually just say that?”

“Yes,” Abigail said.

Liam’s face twitched. “I can’t!”

“You can’t?” Hearing this, Abigail frowned and wanted to ask “what can you do?”

But for his sake, Abigail didn’t speak it out.

“One person can do the cooking. There’s no need for two people. Abigail, come here to clean it up.” Liam commanded as if he was the owner of this house.

Chapter 252

Abigail was unhappy with Liam's commanding tone. She frowned and said, "Mr. Jones, It's OK if you don't wanna help, but stop making trouble for me." Then, she walked over to clean.

Hearing what she said, Liam started to wonder if Abigail had got tired of him.

He sneered and said, "I can't do it. Besides, cooking is a woman's business. A man's business should be his cause!" His words were definitely targeted at Leo.

How could Leo not understand the sarcasm in his words?

Abigail was cleaning the debris. When she heard this, she walked over and said, "Mr. Jones, who said cooking is a woman's business?"

"Met" Abigail was speechless...

Abigail couldn't agree with what he said and retorted, "Mr. Jones, times have changed. Cooking is not just a woman's business now."

"Do you know how to define a good man now?"

"I'm all ears."

"Someone who can cook, shop, and pay for his girlfriend," Abigail said softly.

Liam's face twitched. Since when?

He had no idea.

Liam looked at Abigail and asked. "Who said that?"

"The netizens."

"Why didn't I know?" Liam asked.

"Time has changed, Mr. Jones. You are still living in your world." Abigail said slowly.

No matter what Liam asked, Abigail answered him very calmly.

That irritated Liam.

He stood there and listened to her without saying anything.

They were totally different kinds of people, so there was no need for her to be too serious with Liam.

Seeing that Abigail was squatting and cleaning up the debris on the ground, Liam leaned over. Abigail was a little startled and said. "What are you doing?"

"Help you pick up the debris." Abigail didn't say anything.

She was wondering why he suddenly became so kind.

"Thanks, but I can do it myself." If she asked him to help, it would only cause more trouble for her.

But Liam was not an obedient man. The more she told him not to help, the more he wanted to help.

"I told you, I'll help you." "You really don't have to..."

As the two of them were fighting about who should pick up the debris. Liam's hand was suddenly cut by the debris and began to bleed.

Both of them paused for a moment. Then, Liam shouted, "Abigail, are you going to murder your husband?" Abigail rolled her eyes.

"You're the one who insisted on helping me. Besides, it's just a small cut. There is no need to make such a fuss." Abigail said.

"It's not your hand that's cut, Abigail. Do you know how valuable my hand is? I can earn millions of dollars in a minute with this hand." Liam looked at Abigail and said slowly.

"How about I bandage your hand up?" Abigail stood up, threw the debris into the trash can, and then went to find the medicine box.

Liam sat on the sofa and stared at Abigail and, then gave a meaningful smile...

Leo looked at them in the distance, but he did not say anything.

Chapter 253

After a few minutes, Abigail came out with a medical kit in her hand.

Sitting next to Liam, she opened the box, took out alcohol to disinfect the wound for him, and then took out gauze to bandage him.

Seeing her skilled manipulation, Liam looked at her, "You often help bandage wounds?"

"Yes."

Liam was immediately displeased. "For whom? Is it Leo?"

Seeing Liam's agitated face, Abigail retracted her hands that were applying medicine to him.

She looked up, "I studied emergency medicine for two months, so I often helped people with their wounds."

Hearing this, Liam stared at her, "That's all?"

"Of course."

Liam did not move this time. He watched Abigail apply the medicine for him and took a look at Leo, who was standing aside. A smug smile appeared on his face.

Leo stood there, thought for a moment, and walked over, "Abi, I'm not good at cooking, but I've learned how to bandage. Why don't you go to cook? I'll bandage his wound."

Liam was speechless.

Leo must have said it on purpose.

Just as Abigail was about to speak, Liam spoke first, "I refuse."

“Why?” Abigail looked at him and asked.

“He’s a man!”

“Is there any difference between men and women when bandaging?” Abigail asked.

“Besides, we’re rival companies. Who knows if he’s going to hurt me on purpose!” Liam said.

“A knave thinks of others in terms of his own desires.” She could not help but mutter.

Hearing this, Liam immediately looked at her and asked, “Am I a knave in your heart?”

“I just said an old saying,” Abigail explained hurriedly, not wanting to argue with him.

“You made the wound, so you should bandage it.” Liam looked at her and said word by word.

Looking at him, Abigail rolled her eyes and then looked at Leo and said, “Let me do this!”

Hearing what Abigail said, Leo had nothing to say and walked away to sit aside.

Abigail bandaged Liam’s wound, which made him so triumphant.

A few minutes later, it was done.

Seeing his fingers wrapped in a layer of gauze, Liam couldn't help but complain, "So ugly."

"If you don't like it, then take it off!" As Abigail spoke, she reached out and was about to take it off, but Liam dodged over, then looked at his fingers and added, "Ugly but cute!"

Seeing Liam's look, Abigail said nothing more. She packed the medical kit and put it back in her room.

At this moment, in the living room, only Liam and Leo were there.

They looked at each other.

Liam's eyes were full of complacency.

"Mr. Harris, I didn't expect you to know how to cook. You're really going to be a perfect man." Liam looked at Leo and said word by word.

How could Leo not recognize the sarcasm in his words?

Leo also sat there, looked at him, and said, "It is rumored that Mr. Jones is invulnerable. I didn't expect that a small wound could let you make a mountain out of a molehill."

Liam's expression changed, "You said it was just a rumor!" Leo smiled coolly, "I am willing to become that perfect man for Abigail." Leo made it clear.

Liam looked at him, "It seems that you are serious this time."

"I've never been rash!" Leo said it word by word.

Chapter 254

Liam looked very unhappy.

At this moment, Leo looked at him, "Mr. Jones, how about you?"

Leo was provoking him.

Liam looked at him and sneered, "It's none of your business."

"Yes, it is. But I'm just curious. If you're not serious, why do you keep pestering her?" 'Pestering?'

Liam became even unhappier when he heard the word.

"Pestering? How ridiculous! When did I pester her? Even if I really do that, it is none of your business. I'm afraid you can't stop me from getting back together with my ex-wife, right?" Liam looked at Leo and said word by word.

"There's nothing to show off about a couple in name only." At that moment, Liam had the urge to lift the table.

In name only.

That was what Liam regretted the most now!

He really wanted to get Abigail, physically and mentally.

But...

He was even angrier at Leo's words.

How could Leo know this!

Just as Liam was about to say something, Abigail came out.

By this time, she had changed her clothes.

And Liam and Leo stopped talking.

Abigail looked at them, "What are you talking about?" "Nothing," Leo said coldly.

Abigail raised her eyebrows. "I've decided to go out to eat. I don't want to cook at home!"

"Why?" Hearing this, Liam immediately asked.

"It's troublesome. Why don't we go out?" Abigail said.

Liam offer no helping hand and even kept causing trouble. So it was better to go out for dinner.

Leo nodded, "Well, that's good."

Seeing that Leo agreed, Abigail looked at Liam and asked, "Are you going with us, Mr. Jones?" "Of course. You haven't thanked me for saving your life." Liam said word by word.

How could he let Abigail and Leo eat alone?

When they got downstairs, it was another question of whose car to take.

Abigail decisively said, "Mr. Jones, since your hand is injured, let me drive!" Abigail said.

"No problem." Liam threw the key directly to Abigail.

In fact, Abigail meant to let Leo and Liam go together, but Leo said, "Well, I'll go by myself." He didn't want to make things difficult for Abigail.

Anyway, with a reasonable excuse, Abigail nodded and told Leo the address, then the three of them set off.

Liam sat in the passenger seat and watched Abigail drive. He didn't expect her to drive well.

He took the opportunity to keep looking at Abigail.

Abigail had changed both in character and appearance.

No, she didn't change.

She used to hide too deeply.

Every time he thought of this, Liam felt inexplicable anger.

He didn't expect to be fooled by a woman for so long.

Just as he was thinking about it, Abigail said, “Mr. Jones, how can I concentrate on driving if you keep looking at me?”

Chapter 255

Liam replied with a smile, “I’m afraid you’ve been distracted, or you wouldn’t know I’m looking at you. Abigail, you always have your eyes on me.”

Abigail scoffed, “You are so confident.”

“I deem it a virtue.”

“I mean you’re narcissistic.”

Liam was speechless.

Only then did Liam realize that Abigail was sniping at him.

He turned to glare at Abigail and retorted, “I am not.”

Abigail didn’t refute him.

This conversation would come to nothing, so Abigail just smiled and said nothing more.

Liam rolled his eyes at her and asked, "When are you going back to work?"

"Tomorrow."

"Good," Liam replied. He'd rather Abigail go to work than stay at home. At least he could see her in the company.

They spent the rest of the drive in companionable silence.

Leo arrived a little earlier than Abigail and Liam.

When they got out of the car, Leo said, "I've made a reservation!"

Abigail nodded and smiled at Leo. He was really sweet and considerate.

Watching Abigail smile at Leo, Liam was itching to seal her mouth with a tape. She had never smiled at him like that before. He reminded himself that he was a gentleman and couldn't lose his temper.

So he forced a smile. "Thank you, Mr. Harris." Then he walked into the restaurant with Abigail.

Leo stared after them with unreadable eyes and then caught up with them.

During dinner, Liam was arrogant as usual while Leo was still gentle and considerate.

The air between them was tense but Abigail turned a blind eye to it.

Before they finished eating, an unexpected woman showed up.

She was no one else.

She was Liam's current girlfriend, the daughter of the Miller Family, Olive.

Her eyes darkened as she walked out with her friends and saw the three of them.

She wondered what feature of Abigail could win Leo's and Liam's hearts.

She was really jealous, but she couldn't show it. She said something to her friend and then walked their way.

"Liam!"

Her voice was heard when Liam was talking with Abigail.

The three of them turned to look at Olive.

Abigail felt so lucky that Leo was there too. If she and Liam were dining alone, Olive would definitely misunderstand them.

Abigail didn't say anything. Anyway, everyone knew that she and Olive didn't get along. She didn't have to talk to her with a fake smile.

Leo ignored Olive too.

Only Liam replied.

He was also a little surprised when he saw Olive.

“Why are you here?”

“I’m here to meet a friend of mine. I didn’t expect to meet you.”

Chapter 256

As she spoke, she looked at Abigail and Leo. “I didn’t expect to see Miss Swift and Mr. Harris here!”

Abigail smiled. “Olive, do you want to sit down and eat together?”

“Can I? Then thank you.” As she spoke, she was about to sit down.

It seemed that she didn’t realize that Abigail was only trying to be polite by inviting her.

Abigail didn’t give her the cold shoulder since she had invited her to sit down. Abigail said, “Olive, order whatever you want.” “I’ve already eaten.”

“Don’t you want to be with your friend?” Liam looked at Olive and asked.

To be honest, he was the one who felt the most uncomfortable when the four of them ate together.

“It doesn’t matter.” As she spoke, she sat next to Liam. “Am I interrupting your conversation?”

Looking at Olive blinking at him and asking, Liam was stunned for a moment and had to say, “No.”

“I’ll watch you eat!” Olive said, then put her hand on Liam’s shoulder and gazed at him.

Abigail continued eating as if she hadn’t seen anything.

Leo pretended not to see it and ate.

Liam was also eating. At this moment, Olive saw Liam’s hand and was suddenly shocked. “Liam, what happened to your hand?” Abigail and Leo turned to look at her.

Liam looked at her and said, “Nothing, just a cut.”

“Why are you so careless? Does it hurt?” Olive asked on a worrying note.

But in Abigail’s eyes, she felt it was too campy.

However, it had nothing to do with her, so she ignored it and continued to eat.

Liam glanced at Abigail inadvertently and said, “Nothing.”

Abigail said something to Leo.

Olive looked at Abigail. "Miss Swift, I haven't seen you for the past few days. I thought you were gone." Abigail was stupefied.

Finally, she turned this around on her.

"Where I should go? I grew up here. My home is here. Where else can I go?" Abigail asked.

"Of course, I thought you went abroad."

"I just came back. Why should I go abroad?" As she spoke, Abigail's brain came the thought. Then she looked at Olive and asked, "Olive, I found that you are really concerned about me. You know I've been missing for the past few days." Abigail said.

She didn't mind if Leo and Liam would dwell on it.

Sure enough, Olive's look changed slightly. Although there was not much, Abigail still noticed it.

Liam and Leo were also stunned. What she said meant something else. How could they not know? However, neither of them spoke and looked at Abigail and Olive.

Liam, in particular, looked at Olive, waiting for her reply.

Olive was stunned and then smiled. "Of course. I wanted to have a cup of coffee with you when I went to the company to look for Liam that day. I heard from your colleague that you haven't been there for a few days."

Chapter 257

“Oh, really?” Abigail raised her eyebrows inadvertently.

“Of course. What do you mean?”

“Nothing. I just feel that Miss Miller is paying special attention to me.” Abigail said with a smile.

Looking at Abigail’s face, Olive secretly gritted her teeth. She was more sure now that this woman could not stay here.

“What have you done these days?” At this moment, Liam suddenly asked.

Hearing Liam’s words, Olive turned to look at him. “I’ve been at home. What’s wrong?”

“Nothing. I have something to talk to you about later. I’ll drive you back.” Liam said.

“Okay!” Olive smiled. Even though she knew that Liam had something to say, at this moment, she had to pretend to be very happy.

Abigail said nothing more and just watched them.

She didn’t even know how she got through this meal.

After dinner, when Abigail was about to pay, she knew that Leo had already paid.

Standing at the door, Abigail looked at Leo, “I promised I would pay. I’m really sorry to let you foot the bill.” Leo stood there, “It doesn’t matter. Your treat next time.”

Abigail smiled and nodded, "Okay."

At this moment, Liam and Olive walked over. When Olive heard their conversation, she said in a strange tone, "Mr. Harris earns so much money a day. It's just a piece of cake. Well, Mr. Harris, thanks so much for treating us."

Leo smiled, "It's my honor to share it with Abigail!" Liam's look changed, "Well, next time, it should be your treat again."

"Why not?"

The two men were fighting in a direct way.

Olive walked over, took Liam's arm, and then said with a smile, "Mr. Harris is really nice to Miss Swift." Leo smiled. Although he knew that Olive said that on purpose, he still smiled very gentlemanly.

Abigail didn't say anything. The reason why Olive said that was to prove her existence and tell Abigail that Olive and Liam were a couple.

But Abigail didn't care about it.

"Liam, let's go." At this moment, Olive held Liam's arm and spoke softly.

Liam nodded and left with Olive.

When Liam was driving, Olive sat aside, trying to keep a smile.

Liam silently pulled a sullen face.

"Liam, why did you have dinner with them today?" Olive asked.

Hearing this, Liam slammed on the brakes. Olive was bemused and looked at Liam, "Liam, what's wrong with you? Are you in a bad mood?"

"Olive, I have something to ask you," Liam said.

Looking at his serious face, Olive seemed to have expected what he was going to ask, but she still pretended not to know anything and nodded, "Okay, go ahead."

"Do you know that Abigail was kidnapped?" Liam didn't beat around the bush. He stared at Olive and asked.

Hearing this, Olive was surprised for a moment and then said, "Kidnapped? How is that possible? Wasn't she fine there just now?"

Her expression told Liam that she didn't know about this.

Chapter 258

"Really?" Liam looked at her and asked.

Olive nodded. "Of course, I don't know..." In the middle of her speech, she stopped and turned to look at him. "What do you mean? Do you think I did that?"

“No, I’m just asking you.” “Then I have to say it’s not me.” She was hurt by his question.

“Yes, I’m jealous of her because she is always attracting your attention. But I am not stupid enough to cross the border of law and kidnap her.” She stared at him and accentuated each word.

Her words did make much sense.

And she acknowledged her jealousy of Abigail.

However, her honesty made it harder to tell which part of her speech was true and which was not.

His suspicion of her remained.

Olive sneered. “You don’t believe me. Okay, I am a wicked woman as you think.” A derisive smile lifted the corner of her mouth.

She looked sorrowful. A frown appeared on Liam’s brow.

“I believe you.” After a while, he said.

She turned her head and looked at him. “Really?”

He nodded. “Yes, I believe you didn’t lie to me.”

His words had double meanings.

Apart from the trust, he was also warning her that lying to him was intolerable.

She would be in trouble.

Olive smiled and hugged him. "How could I lie to you! I love you the most." Then she leaned her head on his shoulder and spoke slowly.

"Liam, I believe I will win your heart in the end, even if not now."

He was annoyed but didn't push her away. He felt that she was different from before.

Leo and Abigail were in the car, and Abigail looked out the window with a slight smile on her face.

Looking at her profile, he asked, "What are you thinking?"

She looked inside and said calmly, "It suddenly occurs to me that I like my present life. No worry of bread and butter and a free mind to enjoy the night."

Her contagious smile made him smile, too. He had known her for a long time, and she could always find the beauty of life and hold a positive attitude towards life.

"Glad to hear that." He said.

Suddenly, another thing came into her mind. "By the way, thanks for your treat today. Next time, my turn."

"There is no need. You are so distant from me now." Leo said. They had lived like a family abroad. Her politeness made him uncomfortable.

Abigail was amused. "At least, I have to take on a polite look."

He smiled with some inexplicable emotions in his eyes.

She smiled back at him but did not say anything more, facing the front.

He threw a glance at her. Some words were on the tip of his tongue.

Finally, he said, "Abi, will you restore your relationship with Liam?"

Chapter 259

Hearing this, Abigail was surprised and turned to look at Leo. "What?" "I can tell that he's very interested in you now!" Leo added.

How could Abigail not understand? She thought for a moment and said, "I don't think so. A proud man like him finally found a way to divorce me. How could he like me?" Abigail said.

"The person he wants to divorce is the one who knew nothing before, instead of the one who knows everything now!" Hearing this, Abigail was silent for a while. To be honest, she had no clues what Liam was thinking nor did she want to know.

At least, she felt quite good now.

Seeing Abigail go silent, Leo looked at her and asked, "If he wants to get back with you, will you agree?"

"Of course not!" Abigail said subconsciously.

Leo was satisfied, but looking at Abigail's reaction, he was still a little uncertain. "Really?"

"I've made a mistake two years ago. I won't do it again. He doesn't love me, and he's always restless. How can I be with him again?" Abigail said with certainty.

Two years ago, she just had no choice.

Now she had a choice, and she wanted to lead her life.

Find a man she could trust, respect and love.

That one couldn't be Liam.

Hearing Abigail's words, Leo frowned. "What if he loves you?"

He was extremely worried...

Abigail was shocked by this assumption. Looking at Leo, she said with a smile, "How could someone like him fall in love with me?"

"It's just an assumption!"

"That's impossible. Even if it comes true, it depends on whether I love him." Abigail said word by word.

Hearing this, Leo looked at her, "You mean, you haven't fallen in love with him yet?" "Of course not!" Abigail said.

Hearing this, Leo smiled. "So, I still have a great chance?"

"What?" Hearing what he said, Abigail looked at him and blinked.

Leo smiled. "Never mind!"

For him, that was enough.

He had known her for two years, not long, but enough to know her.

She never disdained to lie. Since she said so, he would definitely believe it.

At least, he still had a chance.

Seeing Leo driving the car while his lips curl up slightly, Abigail felt a little surprised in private.

After they arrived, Abigail got out of the car.

"I'm going up. Be careful back." Abigail said with a smile.

Leo nodded. "Well, have a good night!"

"Sure, you too!"

"Good night."

After saying that, Abigail went upstairs.

Leo drove away until seeing her walking in.

However, as soon as Abigail entered the door, her phone rang. She had a look at the caller and accepted.

Chapter 260

“Hello?”

“Are you home?” It was from Liam.

“Yes, I just arrived home,” Abigail replied.

“Where’s Leo? Is he back?” Liam asked.

“Yes, he is.”

Hearing this, Liam was relieved.

“Well, then go to sleep early!”

“Good night,”

After that, they hung up the phone.

Abigail looked at her phone and felt a little confused.

But she didn't think much about it. She was already used to his call these days.

Abigail removed her makeup, took a shower, and lay on the bed.

The next day.

Abigail got up, had breakfast, and went to work as usual.

Since she didn't go to work for a few days, she felt at ease when she arrived at the company.

Jane looked at her and said, “Abigail, where have you been these days?”

Abigail thought for a moment and then smiled. “I have something to deal with back home, so I took a few days off.” “You're so lucky.” Jane couldn't help but say.

“Lucky?” Hearing this, Abigail looked at Jane in confusion. “What do you mean by that?”

“When you weren't here, Mr. Jones got so petulant that he bickered with literally everyone,” Jane said exaggeratedly.

Hearing this, Abigail was shocked and looked at her. "Is it true?"

"Of course!" Jane said, "Mr. Jones found fault with every department. I wasn't exaggerating at all."

Looking at Jane, Abigail suddenly didn't know what to say.

She wondered if it was because of herself.

Jane reached out and shook her hand in front of Abigail. "Hey, what are you thinking about?"

"What?" Abigail came back to her senses, looked at Jane, and smiled. "Nothing, then I'm lucky indeed."

Jane nodded.

"But I don't know how Mr. Jones is feeling today," Jane said.

As she spoke, the elevator door opened and Liam came out. He was dressed in a black suit charmingly, with his handsome face expressionless. As soon as he appeared, everyone immediately became silent.

When she saw Liam, Jane ran away immediately. "I'm going to do my work."

Before Abigail could speak, she ran back to her seat.

Abigail was shocked and wondered whether he was that scary.

Then she looked up and saw that Liam had already walked up to her, or perhaps it was just that he must pass through her.

Abigail looked down and began to work.

But Liam walked up to her, stopped, and looked at her. "How is it? Are you okay?"

Hearing his voice, Abigail looked up. When Liam asked her, she immediately felt the gaze from around her.

She immediately stood up and said with respect and alienation, "Thank you, Mr. Jones. I'm totally fine now."

Liam knew what she was thinking about, so he rolled his eyes at her and said, "That's good. Go to work."

"OK!"

After that, Liam glared at her fiercely and was about to walk back to his office.