

Her Wicked Ceo (Abigail and Liam)

Chapter 271

She was nice to everyone except him.

He rolled his eyes at Abigail and said, "Grandma, you've spoiled her so much that she's out of control. She's not afraid of me at all now!"

Hearing this, Jenny was surprised and asked, "Really?"

"Yes!"

Jenny became so happy that she said, "Abigail, you did a really good job. I knew you could make it!" Liam was speechless.

"Are you still my grandma?" Liam asked.

"No, I'm Abigail's grandma." Jenny denied it directly.

Liam didn't know what to say.

She smiled. At this moment, Abigail looked at Liam's mother, Taylor, who was standing aside, and greeted with a smile, "Mrs.

Jones, long time no see."

When they heard her calling Liam's mother like that, they all felt sorry.

Taylor was actually very satisfied with Abigail, but she didn't expect Liam to divorce her in the end. Moreover, they had no idea of it at first. When they knew it, Abigail had already left.

Taylor smiled. "I almost didn't recognize you. You look so different from that two years ago."

Abigail smiled. Liam, who was by her side, kept silent and looking at her.

At this moment, Abigail smiled, "By the way, these are gifts for grandma and Mrs. Jones!"

"You don't need to bring us gifts," Jenny said so. Everyone could tell that she liked Abigail sincerely.

Abigail smiled and did not say anything. She was so elegant that the Jones' liked her so much.

They liked her for her family background and her personality two years ago, but now they liked her because of her elegance.

She became more in line with the Jones Family's standards.

At this moment, Robert smiled. "Well, since Liam and Abigail are here, let's have dinner."

"Okay, let's have dinner!"

Then they walked towards the table.

Abigail could not help but be reminiscent. When they got married, they had never had dinner together. Time did fly like an arrow, and life really changed a lot.

The Jones Family was relatively low-key. Although it had a great reputation in City A, it was very harmonious in terms of family.

There were only their families having dinner together.

Jenny sat in the middle because Robert respected her and wanted her to know that she was still the head of the family.

Abigail and Liam sat on the left, and his parents sat on the right.

Jenny was very happy to see Abigail. "Abigail, I heard you're working at Liam's company now?"

Abigail nodded. "Yes, I went straight to his company when I came back from abroad, but I didn't know it was his company when I went there," Abigail said.

"I also heard that he didn't recognize you at first?" Jenny joked.

Liam felt a little embarrassed.

Abigail smiled and nodded. "Yes!"

At this moment, Liam said, "I usually have no impression of anything that is not beautiful." After speaking, he continued to eat.

Abigail did not say anything. She was no longer surprised by Liam's words.

Chapter 272

But Jenny disagreed. She took sides with Abigail. "Don't you think Abigail is beautiful?"

"At least two years ago... she was not."

"Bullshit! Abigail is always the most beautiful girl in my heart."

"Grandma, you will lose your teeth if you tell a lie." Liam looked at Jenny and said.

Hearing this, Jenny smiled and patted Liam. "How dare you be so impolite!"

Liam smiled and continued eating.

"It must be destined that she happened to enter Liam's company after she came back from abroad," Taylor said.

Jenny nodded. "I also think it's because of fate that you two can work in the same company after two years!" They were hinting that she and Liam should be together.

Liam did not speak anything as a way to agree with what they said.

Abigail smiled and said, "I think grandma and I are destined to reunite." "What a glib tongue you have."

Abigail smiled and continued eating.

“If Liam bullies you at the company, you just tell me,” Jenny said.

Hearing this, Abigail was overjoyed. “Grandma, really?”

“Of course!”

When Liam heard this, he felt that Abigail had a conspiracy. He immediately said, “Abigail, do you think you can speak at will with Grandma’s support?”

“Do you dare not listen to grandma?” Abigail asked.

Liam was speechless.

“Has he bullied you?” Jenny asked.

Abigail smiled. “No. Actually, he saved me a few days ago.”

“Really? What happened?” Jenny asked.

“Well, nothing serious,” Abigail said.

Hearing this, everyone paused for a moment. Finally, Jenny smiled and said, “This is what a man of our family should do.” “Liam, you didn’t disappoint me.”

In fact, Liam thought Abigail would complain about him. He didn’t expect her to say that.

Abigail also smiled. She knew no one would like to hear complaints about his offspring, even though he had a lot of disadvantages.

Everyone was having a good time at the table. Although Jenny and Taylor said they were on Abigail's side, Abigail knew that they were very satisfied with Liam.

It was a harmonious meal because of Abigail.

"Abigail, come here. I want to give you something." Jenny waved at Abigail and asked her to come over. Abigail smiled and went over directly.

Abigail felt very comfortable getting along with Jenny.

After Abigail sat down, Jenny took out a small box from behind and slowly opened it.

There was a bracelet inside it.

It looked crystal clear and sparkling.

When Robert saw this, he didn't say anything. Taylor looked at him and did not speak anything either.

Seeing this, Liam gave a meaningful smile.

It seemed that Grandma really liked Abigail.

"Abigail, this is what I want to give you." Jenny grabbed Abigail's hand and tried to put the bracelet around her neck.

Chapter 273

When Abigail saw it, she quickly withdrew her hand. "Jenny, I can't!"

Looking at her, Jenny asked, "Why not?"

"This should be expensive. I can't accept it." She and Liam had divorced, thus, how could she accept such a valuable gift? However, Jenny pretended to be angry. "Are you going to reject me?"

"I received so many things from you when you came. Now I only give you a gift, but you don't want it?" She asked.

"But those things are not that valuable, granny..."

"It seems that you don't treat me as your granny."

"Of course not."

"Although you and Liam are divorced and you were not my granddaughter-in-law anymore, in my heart, you are the same as Liam and I like both of you," Jenny said.

Abigail was deeply moved by that.

How lucky she was to get such affection from her!

"Granny, I love you as much as Liam does," Abigail replied.

Although she was not her blood, the old lady did make her feel comfortable.

“Then take it.”

“But...”

“It may be very valuable to you, but I think my intention is also important. Just take it.”

Looking at her, Abigail smiled and finally nodded.

Seeing her nod, Robert and Taylor also smiled. Liam stood there expressionlessly as if nothing had happened.

Abigail’s skin was always delicate. Now wearing such a jade bracelet, her skin became prettier as if it had a particular feature.

“Look, I knew it would look best on you,” Jenny said.

At this moment, Liam’s phone rang. When he saw the number, he walked away.

Everyone could tell what that action meant.

Jenny was a little upset, but it was hard to say anything in front of Abigail.

Abigail also knew that. When she saw Liam’s expression, she knew immediately and smiled. While Liam walked to the other side without saying anything. At this time, Jenny held Abigail’s hands, “Abigail, tell me, is it really impossible for you and Liam to remarry?”

“Granny.”

"I'm just asking!"

"It shouldn't be possible. We get along better after that. This may be the best ending." Abigail said word by word.

Hearing this, Jenny nodded and said, "I see, but if possible, I still want you to be my granddaughter-in-law."

"Granny, even if I can't, we're still close." Abigail smiled and said in a girly tone.

Chapter 274

"Okay, then you must visit me more often in the future!"

"Sure." Abigail nodded with a smile.

Liam came to a corner and picked up his phone.

"Liam, are you available now?" Olive's gentle voice came through the phone.

"Not yet. What's the matter?"

"Nothing important, I just want to see if you've finished your job? I want to see you." Olive said.

Her words did not make him happy at all. He looked back at the figure who was sitting there talking to Jenny. He fixed his eyes on the smile on her lips.

“Liam?” At this moment, Olive called out.

Liam came back to his senses and said, “Maybe tomorrow. I’m busy today.”

“Alright!” Olive then hung up dejectedly.

Just as he turned around and put away his phone, Taylor appeared behind him.

“Mom,” Liam called out.

“Liam, are you busy?” She asked.

“I am alright!” Liam said, “Mom, just say it!”

Liam had been so smart since he was a child. Taylor smiled, then looked back at Jenny and Abigail and said, “You should understand what your granny meant, right?” Taylor looked at him and asked.

Liam looked over there and nodded. “Sure.”

“Then what’s your opinion?” She asked.

Liam walked over and put his hands on her shoulders and asked, “What do you think, mom?” “I like Abigail very much. She knows how to behave and how to please others. However, your opinions are the most important.” Taylor said that she loved her son more than anything.

Liam smiled. "I think mom's opinion is more important than anything else."

Without a doubt, it made Taylor very happy.

"Liar."

"Mom, don't worry, I know what I am saying," Liam said.

Taylor nodded. "Anyway, you have to take granny's opinions into consideration."

"I know," Liam said.

Then they walked back to the table.

Abigail and Jenny were still sitting there chatting, while Robert was reading and studying chess.

This scene was so loving that even Liam smiled subconsciously.

After a long time, Taylor walked over and looked at Jenny, "Mom, you should take your medicine. It's time to rest."

"Oh, but Abigail is still here. I'll chat with her for a little longer. I will take the medicine later and I'm not sleepy at all." Jenny said.

Obviously, she was having a good chat with Abigail.

"But mom, the doctor told you to sleep and take your medicine on time." "The doctor was making a fuss. Don't take all he said too seriously." Jenny said.

Abigail listened to their conversation and frowned at Jenny. "Anything wrong?"

“Oh, nothing to worry about. I’m just being old, and some parts of my body didn’t work very well! But I would be fine with some medicine.”

Hearing this, Liam immediately walked up. “Granny, I’ll take you for a check-up tomorrow!” “There is no need. Your mother has taken me for a checkup abroad. There is nothing serious!” Jenny said.

“Then you should not stay up,” Liam said.

Chapter 275

“I have more to talk with Abigail.” Jenny was a stubborn person and refused to go to sleep.

Abigail looked at Jenny. “Please take the medicine and go to sleep, or they will blame me, and I dare not come to visit you next time.”

Jenny teased her. “I can’t believe you know how to threaten me.”

She smiled. “I don’t. We just care about you and fervently hope that you can recover soon.” “Okay, then I’ll do what you said,” Jenny took her medicine.

Abigail and Liam watched aside and smiled.

Taylor looked at Abigail. "When we were abroad, you walked around the room to avoid taking your medicine. From now on, let Abigail be your supervisor."

They all burst into laughter.

Jenny finished her medicine and argued, "Nonsense."

It made them laugh again. Abigail looked at her and said, "Please go upstairs to sleep now." "Can't we talk for another while?"

"Let's leave it to another day."

"Okay." Jenny sighed helplessly and then went upstairs.

"Watch your steps," Liam warned. He didn't follow her upstairs. He talked with his parents in the living room. The sight of Abigail's back delighted him much.

"Liam, how's everything going with the company?" Mrs. Jones asked him.

"Well, everything is fine. No need to worry about it." "Sure. What we care about now is your marriage!"

"Mom, stop nagging!"

"If you are tired of it, go and find your love."

"Sure, I will try my best!" He promised.

Hearing this, Taylor smiled. So did Liam. Then he played a game of chess with Robert.

Abigail came down the stairs when they finished the game.

“She is asleep!” She said.

“Thank you so much!” Taylor said.

She smiled. “That is what I should do. It’s getting late. I’m going back!”

Taylor looked out the window. “Why don’t you stay here tonight? We have many vacant rooms.” “Thank you. I’d better go back.” She refused the invitation.

Taylor nodded and looked at Liam. “Liam, go and drive Abigail back.”

“No, thank you. I’ll take a taxi.” She didn’t want to trouble them.

“It’s too late now. What if you come across some danger?” Liam said leisurely.

She considered his words seriously.

It did make some sense.

Liam led her out of the house.

In the car, she looked at him. “Did you scare me?”

“No,” He turned to look at her. “Didn’t you read the news a few days ago? In the middle of the night, a woman went home from work by taxi and was raped.”

Chapter 276

Abigail frowned at his words.

“Besides, that woman is not very good-looking. Miss Swift, according to your current...”

“Liam!”

Abigail interrupted him directly. Looking at her, Liam smiled and started the car.

Abigail rolled her eyes.

As they were driving, Abigail looked at Liam and said, “I didn’t expect your grandma to be so much livelier than before.” “She’s always been very lively, and she just treats different people differently.”

“You must be very happy to have such a grandma and such a family,” Abigail said word by word.

Hearing this, Liam turned to look at her. “It sounds like you don’t have a family.”

Abigail paused for a moment then she said with a smile, “Your family is much more interesting.”

This was also what Liam was the most satisfied with and proud of now.

His family was very harmonious.

After hearing Abigail's words, Liam suddenly turned his head. "Really? Then do you want to join my family?" "Excuse me?" Abigail looked at him in shock.

"Since Grandma likes you so much, I can marry you, though I'm unwilling," Liam said with a smile.

Abigail rolled her eyes. "Mr. Jones, thank you for your 'kindness', but I don't need it,"

She had been waiting for her true love, although she said that she didn't believe it.

After hearing Abigail's words, Liam said, "You are so ungrateful."

Abigail pretended not to hear it. She always turned a deaf ear to Liam's words.

Soon, they arrived at Abigail's apartment.

Abigail got out of the car and looked at Liam. "Thank you for driving me back. Good night." She had no intention of inviting him to her home at all.

"You don't want to invite me to your house for some water?" Liam asked.

The last time he asked her for tea, she said she didn't have any. Thus, this time, Liam directly asked for water. Liam felt that there was no way for her to refuse again.

Abigail was surprised and said, "For someone as noble as you, drinking water is too demeaning. When I buy some good tea another day, I will invite you."

Anyway, Abigail didn't want to invite him at all.

Liam glared at her. "Abigail, you're not sincere at all."

Abigail smiled. "Mr. Jones, good night." "I'll see what excuse you can make next time." As he spoke, he turned around and drove away.

Abigail stood there and watched him leave. Then she breathed a sigh of relief and turned to go upstairs.

After taking a shower, Abigail lay on the bed. She wanted to call him, but it was late, so she didn't. She lay on the bed and fell asleep soundly.

The next day.

A set of photos hit the headline today.

The photos showed Abigail and Liam entering the Jones' together, having dinner with the Jones Family, and Liam driving Abigail back.

Gossips about wealthy families had always been the focus of attention.

They were far more eye-catching than a celebrity's scandal.

Especially the news of the Jones Family.

Abigail was woken up by phone calls.

Chapter 277

After seeing the number, Abigail answered the phone directly, "Mom." "Abigail... Are you still sleeping?"

"Yep. What's wrong, mom?" Abigail asked.

"Did you go to the Jones' yesterday?" Laura asked on the phone.

Abigail became a little sober, "Yes. How did you know?"

"So you don't know what happened yet," Laura said firmly.

Abigail really didn't know what had happened.

"Abigail, I just want to ask you if you have got back with Liam?" Laura said.

"No," Abigail responded, feeling a little confused about Laura's question.

Laura didn't know how to react to Abigail's words.

"Come back home today. I'll wait for you at home with your father."

"But I still have to work." Abigail refused.

"You cannot get into the company now!"

"What do you mean?"

“Get up and watch the news,” Laura said and hung up the phone.

Abigail frowned. She stood up and walked out to get the newspaper.

When she saw the photos and words in the newspaper, she was stupefied.

[The Daughter-in-Law of the Jones Family Is the Chief Designer of the Powerline Group.] Then, Abigail saw the photo, in which she was handing something over to Liam at the door.

There was also a photo of them eating together, which was taken through the window, and the photo of them talking as they walked out of the villa together. There was even a picture of her holding Liam’s arm.

‘What the hell!’ ‘When did I hold Liam’s arm?’

She didn’t do it at all. It was because of the shooting angle.

Abigail scanned the whole news.

Then she realized she was on the headlines again.

Obviously, this news caught more eyes than last time.

However, Abigail was no longer as nervous and agitated as before. After experiencing a lot, she felt tired. Besides, she knew it was not the truth.

No matter what, it was of no benefit for her to become the headlines.

Abigail picked up the phone and called Liam, but the line was being occupied, so Abigail could only give up.

Now she understood what Laura meant. The entrance of the company must be blocked by reporters.

Thinking of this, Abigail went to change her clothes and wash up. She planned to call Liam later.

Now she was not in the mood to have breakfast.

It took Abigail half an hour to change clothes and wash up.

After she finished, she called Liam again. It was connected, but no one answered.

Abigail frowned.

'What is going on?'

'Liam rarely does this!'

Abigail anxiously left the house.

Fortunately, the photo didn't reveal where she lived. Abigail looked downstairs, confirming there were no reporters. Only then, did she feel relieved?

She went downstairs, got into the car, and drove to the Swift's.

After getting in the car, Abigail called Liam again, and this time she really got through to him.

"Hello, Mr. Jones... This is Abigail!" Abigail said directly, "You should know why I'm calling you!" Liam was reading the newspaper in his office, and then replied, "Yes!"

“What are you going to do?” Abigail asked. She never thought that she would be photographed when she just went to Liam’s home for dinner.

Chapter 278

She didn’t notice it at all.

“Let it go!”

“What?” Abigail was shocked and confused.

“It has been widely spread and we cannot stop it now,” Liam said relaxedly.

“Do we just let it go?” Abigail asked.

“What else?”

“In this way, people will believe in the rumors.”

“What are you afraid of? Besides, the more you suppress it, the more others will care about it.” Liam persuaded.

Abigail rebutted, “Mr. Jones, you’re always on the news. I don’t want to be connected with you, or I will be miserable one day.” Abigail’s words were a little exaggerated, and Liam was amused and laughed.

“Are you so coward?”

“Of course. I’m so young. I don’t want to die now.” Abigail complained in a bad mood. However, Liam seemed to be pleased.

The man chuckled. “Don’t worry, I’ll protect you.”

“In this way, I will suffer more!” Abigail said.

Liam was speechless.

“Then, what should we do?” Liam asked.

“We’d better hold a press conference.”

“Are you kidding me?” Liam asked unhappily.

‘Is Abigail in such a hurry to get rid of me?

“I believe the reporters are glad to interview us,” Abigail said.

Liam didn’t know how to answer again.

“Where are you now?” The man asked.

“Get ready to go to my parents.”

“Abigail, how dare you talk to me so righteously since you’re absent from work?” “I’ve already asked the personnel department for leave.”

Liam replied after a while, “Then wait until you return to the company.”

“Okay,” Abigail replied.

Just before Abigail hung up, Liam suddenly asked. “Why do you go back?”

“Maybe because of today’s news, my parents asked me to meet them,” Abigail said.

“Do you need me to explain it?”

“Thank you, Mr. Jones. I’m afraid your arrival is more misunderstanding.” Abigail rejected.

If Abigail had been talking with him face to face, Liam would have glared at her

Then, Liam hung up.

Abigail frowned, looking at her phone silently. In a minute, the driver drove Abigail back to the Swift’s.

The driver frequently looked at Abigail through the rear view mirror. The call just now made the driver even more sure that the passenger was exactly the woman on the headline who seemed to be going to marry into a rich family.

Seeing the driver’s curious examination, Abigail urged, “Sir, please drive faster.” “Oh, okay!” The driver answered as he looked at her.

Abigail had no choice but to look out the window...

Fortunately, instead of acting rudely, the driver just asked Abigail before she was about to get off. "Are you going to marry Liam Jones?"

Abigail was surprised by the question, paid the bill, and then looked at the driver with a smile. "I'm sorry, you've mistaken me for someone else." Then, Abigail left directly.

The driver was stunned, looking at Abigail's back and thinking about something...

Chapter 279

[At the Swift's] When Abigail went back, every member of the Swift Family was there.

Jacob was certainly there too.

"Brother, you didn't go to work?" Abigail looked at Jacob and asked.

"Since he heard that you would come back today, your brother decided to go to work later," Laura said.

Abigail nodded. At this point, Stephen said, "Abigail, what the hell is going on?" Stephen took out the magazine and asked.

When Abigail saw the news, she had a feeling that she didn't know how to explain.

“Why did you get involved with Liam again?” Laura also asked.

Jacob did not speak. He just sat there and looked straight at Abigail, and it was obvious that he was also waiting for her explanation.

Abigail looked at the magazine and said, “The news is not the truth!”

“So what’s the case?” Laura asked immediately.

In fact, two years ago, after Abigail joined the Jones Family, Jacob had told them that Abigail did not do it of her own accord, but she did so for their company and for the Swift Family. Therefore, they were a little surprised to hear the news of her divorce. But when they saw that the Jones Family did not take any action, they were also relieved.

And they finally felt a little at ease.

Two years later, the Swift Group was no longer what it used to be. Thus, when Abigail came back, they were very happy and wanted to do something to make it up to her. But they didn’t expect that she would get involved with Liam again...

“Actually, it was because Jenny and Taylor had come back from abroad, so they asked me to go over for dinner. But I didn’t expect that it was photographed by the reporters.” Abigail said.

Hearing this, Stephen and Laura glanced at each other. They knew that reporters liked to talk nonsense, but they didn’t expect the fact to be like this.

At this moment, Jacob stood up and walked towards them. He looked straight at Abigail and said, “I believe Abigail.”

He believed that the news was not true.

He believed that Abigail would not get involved with Liam anymore.

“I knew these reporters were gossiping and making up stories based on the photos.” Stephen also said at this moment.

Laura walked towards Abigail and said, “I’m just worried that you will get involved with Liam again. What happened two years ago had wronged you. Now, I don’t want you to be involved with the Jones Family anymore. Do you understand?” Laura looked at Abigail and asked.

Although the marriage between Abigail and Liam would only make the Swift Family better, Laura was a contented person, and now she valued the happiness of her children more.

Looking at Laura, Abigail was in a daze for a moment. Laura’s words made her feel a little incredulous.

“You are always my daughter.” Laura reached out and grabbed Abigail’s hand at this moment.

Looking at Laura’s hand and feeling her temperature, Abigail came back to her senses and smiled, “Thank you, mom.”

Laura smiled and nodded.

“Actually, I went there yesterday mainly to visit Jenny. She is a very nice person and had taken good care of me. I feel like I should express my gratitude to her.” Abigail said.

Laura nodded, "Well, Jenny is indeed a good person, but there are not many people she likes. Yet Jenny likes you so much, and I feel happy for you." Laura said.

Abigail smiled and nodded.

"Since it has nothing to do with Liam, Abigail, you should keep a distance from him. Everyone outside knows that Liam has a girlfriend. If such news spreads out, it's inevitable that you will be regarded as a mistress, so you should take it more seriously."

Chapter 280

"I see, dad!" Abigail nodded in response.

Stephen knew that his daughter was always sensible, so he didn't continue.

"Then how is Liam going to deal with it?" Laura asked.

Abigail was confused as well. "I have no idea yet, but I guess the entrance of the company has been blocked by reporters. He said he would have a discussion with me when I went back."

"Then what do you think?"

"To hold a press conference like before," Abigail said.

Laura let out a sigh of relief.

“Well, this is a good idea, simple and clear,” Stephen said.

Abigail nodded. “I’ll talk to him.”

Only then did they settle it down.

Laura added, “Well, since it happened, just solve it after going back to the company. You can have a meal here before going to the company.” Laura said.

“Okay.” Abigail nodded, warm and touched.

“I asked them to make your favorite food.”

“Thank you, mom!” Abigail smiled.

So, this matter was settled.

The family of four sat in the living room chatting. Just then, Abigail’s phone rang. Seeing the number, Abigail answered the call.

“Hello, Leo,” Abigail said. After Leo’s emphasis so many times, Abigail was used to calling his name instead of his title.

Hearing Abigail’s words, people at the table looked at Abigail in unison.

“Abigail, where are you?” Leo asked.

“I’m at home now.”

“Home?”

“Yes, talking to my parents.”

Leo was in a daze for a while and then said, “Okay.”

“What’s the matter?”

“I want to talk to you. May I come over?” The man asked.

“Well...”

“I’ve been here for so long and haven’t visited your parents yet. May I meet them?” Leo added.

Abigail glanced at her parents and agreed. “OK.”

Then, Abigail told him the address and hung up.

Hearing the conversation, Laura looked at her daughter expectantly.

Abigail thought for a moment and explained, “Dad, mom, one of my friends is coming over...” “Leo, is that your mentor Leo?” Laura asked.

Abigail nodded. “Yes, it’s him. Actually, he helped me a lot when I was abroad.”

“Then we should invite him to our home.” Laura had spoken before Abigail finished her words.

Laura had seen Leo in a magazine and wondered how the man was.

Noticing Laura’s expectation, Abigail nodded.

Stephen remained silent, and Jacob sat aside, his face filled with mixed emotions...

About thirty minutes later, Leo arrived.

Abigail opened the door for him.
