

Chapter 36

Hearing this, Abigail was a little stunned. In fact, she didn't think that much at the time. She just wanted to sign the contract quickly to make Liam let Tina go and leave.

She didn't consider the consequences at all.

At this moment, Abigail remembered the scene of hiding with Liam while Mr. Green was irritable outside.

Would he?

Abigail didn't know.

"I hear that Mr. Green is always cruel and mean. So since you've done this, will he take revenge on you?" Jane asked.

Abigail shook her head. "I don't know. I didn't think about it."

"This is just what I hear. Abigail, you have to be careful." Jane said.

Abigail nodded and smiled. "Okay, I got it."

Jane then returned to do her job.

She had to admit that what Jane said made sense, but she hoped it would not be true.

'Although Mr. Green looks a little lecherous, he would not be that narrow-minded.'

Forget it. There is always a solution to a problem. So just move on."

Thinking of this, Abigail threw herself into her work.

Abigail received a call just as she was about to get off work.

"Hello..."

"Abigail, it's me."

Hearing the sound of the other side, Abigail was startled while packing her things. "Brother!"
"Exactly," Jacob said.

Abigail was still a little surprised to hear her brother's call.

"Abigail, are you back?" Jacob asked directly.

"How do you know?"

"It seems you are really back. Why don't you go home?" Jacob asked sternly.

"Where are you now? I'll come to you right away!" Jacob said.

"I'm going to get off work now!"

“I’ll pick you up. Where do you work?” Jacob asked.

How could Abigail let him know that she was here?

“No, I’ll see you at the old place,” Abigail said.

“Okay.”

“By the way, don’t tell Dad and Mom!” Abigail said.

Hearing this, Jacob paused for a moment and agreed, “Okay, I got it.” After hanging up the phone, Abigail quickly packed up and left.

They met at the same place.

When Abigail got there, Jacob had already arrived.

He was sitting inside in a suit.

“Brother!” Abigail called out softly when she reached Jacob.

Jacob stared at the person in front of him in disbelief.

Abigail smiled and sat opposite him. “What? Even my brother couldn’t recognize me anymore?” Jacob was sure that he didn’t see the wrong person only after hearing Abigail’s voice.

“Abigail, you’ve changed a lot!”

“How?” Abigail looked at Jacob and said with a smile. The smile, which was a little cute in its playfulness, stunned Jacob.

“You are more beautiful!” Jacob said truthfully.

When hearing his words, Abigail smiled.

Just then, the waiter came over. “Would you like to order something, please?”

“One cup of Mocha and one cup of Blue Mountain!”

Before Abigail could say anything, Jacob had already helped her to order.

Abigail smiled. “You still remember what coffee I like to drink, brother!”

“Of course, I remember everything you like!”

Chapter 37

After hearing Jacob’s words, Abigail smiled and asked, “By the way, are Dad and Mom okay?”

“They are fine,” Jacob said, and then looked at Abigail. “Since you’ve come back, why don’t you go home?” Hearing that he mentioned this, Abigail was silent for a moment.

“Are you still angry about what happened back then?” Jacob looked at her and asked.

Abigail looked up at him and shook her head. “No, I have my reasons. I don’t want to go back yet.”

Abigail was stubborn. And once she had made a decision, one could not persuade her.

How could Jacob not know? They grew up together.

So, he didn’t want to force her.

At this moment, Abigail looked at him. “By the way, how’s the company?”

“Well, everything is fine both at home and in the company.”

“Liam didn’t make things difficult for the company?” Abigail asked.

Jacob nodded. “No.”

Abigail breathed a sigh of relief. She didn’t expect Liam to keep his promise.

“Abigail, come back with me. Mom and Dad will be very happy to know you’re back!” Jacob said.

“Brother, there’s a reason why I’m not going back. It’s not a good time now.” Abigail insisted.

Jacob was afraid of hurting her feelings if he kept talking about this.

“Well then, I won’t force you.”

“Then you have to keep it a secret from Mom and Dad!” Abigail said.

Looking at Abigail, Jacob could only nod. “I see!”

“Brother, believe me, I did this for the good of our family!” Abigail looked at Jacob and said.

Looking at Abigail’s serious face, Jacob could only nod. “Okay, I Know, but you should tell me if something happens to you. You can’t hide it from me.” Jacob said.

Listening to Jacob, Abigail smiled and nodded. “Okay!” Seeing Abigail agree, Jacob relaxed a little.

At this time, two cups of coffee were served. After the waiter left, Abigail stirred the coffee and asked casually, “Where do you work now?”

Speaking of this, Abigail froze, knowing that it could not be hidden for long. She thought about it and said, “At the Powerline Group!”

Hearing this, Jacob suddenly looked up at her. “Isn’t that Liam’s company?”

“Yes!” Abigail nodded.

“Are you with him again!” Jacob asked unhappily.

Abigail shook her head and said, “No, he didn’t recognize me. He didn’t know it was me.”

“What do you mean?” Jacob asked.

“In his memory, there was no me. He didn’t care about me, his ex-wife, at all. So, brother, you don’t have to worry.” Abigail said.

Hearing this, Jacob was stunned and looked at Abigail in disbelief. That was right, the current Abigail was totally different from the Abigail who married Liam before.

However, since Liam even did not recognize her, he could imagine how difficult Abigail had been in the Jones Family before.

“He really doesn’t remember you at all!” Jacob asked worriedly.

Abigail nodded. “I just accidentally came to his company. He really doesn’t remember me. Don’t worry!” Abigail said.

Hearing this, Jacob nodded and slightly frowned, thinking about something else...

Chapter 38

‘Did Liam not recognize her at all?’

‘Why do I feel so uneasy?’

They divorced two years ago, which was a good start. Now, he would never let Abigail be with Liam again.

Absolutely not!

Even if he went bankrupt, he would not hesitate to do so!

Looking at Jacob who kept silent, Abigail looked at him. "Brother, what are you thinking?"

Jacob returned to his senses and looked at Abigail with a smile. "It's all right. I was thinking of what I should treat you to. What do you want to eat? My treat." Jacob said gently.

Speaking of this, Abigail was not polite. After thinking about it, she said, "I heard that a new sushi restaurant is opened recently.

The food is said to be delicious. I want to try it."

"Okay, let's go!" With that, Jacob didn't hesitate to pick up his coat and was about to leave.

Abigail also got up. They two walked out.

They hadn't seen each other for along time, but they didn't feel distant. Instead, they had some inexplicable intimacy.

However, there was a kind of fate in the world, called "there is no story without coincidences."

Liam had just brought Olive here when he saw Abigail and Jacob coming out of the cafe. The way they talked and laughed made people envious.

Olive was talking to Liam when she saw them.

Most importantly, Olive saw Abigail who was a thorn in her heart.

Olive looked at the man next to Abigail. "That's Jacob, the president of the Swift Group. How did they get together? Are they couples?" Olive said that on purpose, to Liam.

Because she always felt that the way Liam looked at Abigail was very different.

It made her inexplicably uneasy.

How could she not give a good "reminder" to him when such a scene happened?

In fact, Liam could see it clearly without her saying.

'Didn't Abigail just come back? She got a boyfriend so soon?'

'And it is Jacob!

Thinking about it, Liam smiled coldly in his heart, his eyes fixed on the two people outside.

Abigail, outside the cafe, was smiling like a flower, and her tiny body was walking side by side with Jacob. They looked so compatible.

"Why do you suddenly want to eat sushi?" Jacob asked.

"I heard from my colleagues that it is delicious, so I want to have a try!"

"Okay."

With that, Jacob picked up his phone and said, “Hey, is that the sushi restaurant? Please make a reservation for me. I’ll be right there...”

With that, Jacob opened the door for Abigail thoughtfully. Abigail smiled and got into the car.

Jacob also hung up his phone, went around, opened the door and got in, then drove the car away.

Liam and Olive were sitting in the car, watching the scene. After watching it, Olive smiled. “It seems that their relationship is not ordinary!”

“I didn’t expect Abigail to be quite capable. She just came back and date with the president of the Swift Group.” Just in several sentences, she belittled Abigail.

Liam sat there with his hand on the steering wheel and a sneer on his lips. “Dating with Jacob isn’t her ability, but dating with me is.”

Chapter 39

Hearing this, Olive froze and turned to look at Liam. “Liam, you...”

Looking at Olive’s nervous face, Liam smiled evilly. “What’s wrong? Are you nervous?”

“You’re joking, aren’t you?” Olive looked at him. Yes, she was nervous, very nervous.

Originally, Abigail's appearance made her feel very uncomfortable. Now, Liam's words rang a bell in her heart, making her afraid.

Looking at Olive's expression, Liam smiled. "Of course, of course, it's a joke!"

Although Liam said so, Olive didn't feel that he was not joking...

When Olive wanted to say something else, Liam interrupted, "How about it? Let's try the sushi too. It's a new restaurant. I heard it's good..."

Olive sat in the passenger seat and looked at Liam. A fear arose in her heart. She was about to lose Liam...

Before she could answer, Liam had already driven away...

After arriving at the sushi restaurant, Abigail and Jacob walked in. Because they had already made a reservation in advance, they directly walked inside.

"By the way, brother, how did you know I was back?" Abigail asked.

Jacob was stunned. "Why did you suddenly ask this? Don't you want me to know?"

"No, I am just curious. How did you know..." As she spoke, she suddenly looked at Jacob. "Tina said that!"

The three of them grew up together, and Tina was the only one who knew about her return, and she knew that Tina also had a good relationship with Jacob.

After Abigail finished speaking, Jacob did not say anything more, which meant he admitted it.

In fact, Jacob could have totally denied it.

He could have fooled her with any excuse, but he didn't want to lie to Abigail.

In this world, the only person he didn't want to lie to was Abigail.

"I knew that," Abigail said.

"Don't blame her. It was me who called her, and she let it slip." Jacob said.

Abigail smiled. "Come on, I won't. Why are you so worried?" "I'm not!"

"Obviously." Abigail smiled and looked at Jacob. "Brother, to be honest, Tina is very nice. If she becomes my sister-in-law, I will be very happy."

Seeing that bright face in front of him, Jacob was in a daze for a moment and then he looked away.

"I treat you the same way I treat Tina. She is just like my sister."

"Fine." Abigail did not force it. When it came to love, no one could stop it.

At this point, Abigail thought out well.

However, in her opinion, Tina and her brother really matched each other.

However, the matters of love should be slowly nurtured by themselves.

"Well, don't think too much," Jacob said.

Abigail smiled. "Got it!"

"Mr. Swift!"

While they were chatting and laughing, a cold and magnetic voice sounded behind.

Abigail could not help feeling a chill behind her when she heard this voice.

She looked up and it turned out to be Liam.

Jacob was sitting directly opposite Liam and was also stunned when he saw Liam.

Chapter 40

'Why is he here?'

At this time, he inadvertently glanced at Abigail, and after thinking of her words, he also stood up pretending to be calm.

"Mr. Jones, why are you here?"

"I'm here to have a meal, of course!" Liam looked into Abigail's eyes. "Miss Swift is here too. What a coincidence!" 'Coincidence?'

'Is it really a coincidence?'

Olive looked at Liam from behind and was stunned when she heard him.

'He had changed!'

'Ever since this Abigail appeared, he had changed!'

After hearing Liam's words, Abigail also stood up. When she saw him, she forced out a smile on her face.
"Mr. Jones, what a coincidence."

'He is everywhere.' Abigail sighed in her heart.

'Does Liam like sushi too? Or does Olive like it?'

Abigail just smiled lightly and didn't say much, just keeping her thoughts to herself.

At this moment, Liam looked at Jacob. "I didn't expect you two to know each other!"

Jacob smiled. "I didn't expect to meet Mr. Jones here either!"

Seeing them chatting with each other, Olive couldn't help but say, "President Swift, are you and Miss Swift dating? You look very compatible."

When Olive said this, all of them were stunned.

Liam didn't mean to stop her, because he was also curious about their relationship.

Abigail looked at Olive and thought that there was always hostility in her eyes every time Olive saw her.

Just as she was about to say something, Jacob reached out and grabbed Abigail, pulled her to his side, and smiled. "Really? Thanks to Miss Miller's words!"

Abigail stood there, not knowing what Jacob was thinking, but Jacob's words clearly made Olive and Liam mistake them for being a couple.

In that case, she did not tell the truth and just stood there and smiled.

Hearing Jacob's words, Olive breathed a sigh of relief.

However, Liam's expression was not very good.

Olive put her hand on Liam's arm. "Okay, let's not disturb them. I'm so hungry. Let's eat something." Olive said coquettishly.

At this moment, Liam looked at Olive by the side and finally had to agree. "Okay."

"Then we won't disturb you." With that, Olive looked at Abigail, with a provocative meaning fleeting in her eyes, and then she held Liam's arm to leave.

At this moment, Liam suddenly remembered something and looked back at Jacob. "By the way, President Swift, I don't know how your sister is."

No one expected that Liam would suddenly ask such a question.

Abigail stood there, stunned.

What was the trick Liam going to play?

But she didn't dare to show her nervousness so she just looked at Liam. Liam's eyes swept over her as if nothing had happened.

Jacob was calm, standing there, with his lips curling up. "Thank you for asking. She's doing well now."

Looking at Jacob's nervous face, Liam raised his eyebrows lazily. "That's good. I won't disturb you, brother-in-law..." With that, Liam turned to leave.
