

Her Wicked Ceo (Abigail and Liam)

Chapter 371

Jacob smiled after hearing those words. He immediately sped up to drive home. He was afraid that Abigail would change her mind.

“Jacob, I have a condition!” Abigail suddenly said with a smile.

“What condition?”

“I want to eat the famous roasted goose sold in the north of the city. I know you will buy it for me, right?” Abigail said with a smile.

Hearing this, Jacob smiled and said, “You’re still as greedy for food as when you were a child!”

“Then, do you agree or not?”

“Of course, as long as it’s something you want to eat, I will buy it for you!”

“Thank you so much!” Abigail said with a smile.

As Abigail eased the atmosphere, the two of them drove towards the Swifts in laughter.

An hour later, they arrived at the Swifts.

Stephen and Laura were overjoyed to hear that Abigail was coming back.

After Abigail divorced Liam two years ago, she went abroad directly. Over the last two years, she had never connected with them. Now that Abigail came back and refused to live at home, Stephen and Laura was very worried.

That was why they were so happy to hear that Abigail was coming back home.

Stephen and Laura were chatting in the living room.

“Dad, mom, I’m back!” Abigail’s voice suddenly came from the outside.

Hearing this, Laura immediately stood up and walked towards the door.

Abigail walked in slowly, followed by Jacob who was carrying her luggage.

“Abigail, slow down!” Laura quickly came to hold her.

Abigail smiled and said, “Mom, I just had some bruises, but I’m fine now!” “You need to be careful,” Laura said lovingly.

Abigail nodded and sat on the sofa with Jacob. “Your mother and I wanted to pick you up at the hospital, but your brother insisted that we wait at home!” Stephen said.

“It’s not a big deal. It’s OK that Jacob picked me up!” Abigail said with a smile.

No matter what happened, Abigail was always the smiley and thoughtful girl in front of her parents.

“You are always important to us. Your mother almost went crazy after hearing what happened to you!” Stephen said.

Hearing this, Abigail turned to Laura and said, “Mom, I’m sorry to let you worry about me!”

“It’s natural for a mom to worry about her daughter. As long as you’re fine, everything is worth it!” Laura said.

Abigail smiled and nodded.

“Okay, let’s get this topic over now. Abigail, your brother said that you wanted to stay at home for a few days?” Stephen asked.

Abigail nodded. “Yes, I don’t have to go to work these days so I decided to stay at home to spend some time with you guys!” Abigail said with a smile.

Laura was very happy to hear this. “You should have come back long ago!”

Abigail smiled and said, “Well, I guess I can only stick with you for the next few days until you annoy me!” “You naughty girl...” Laura smiled and said.

Stephen looked at them with great relief.

“Abigail, Are you tired? If you are, go upstairs and have a rest now. I’ll call you when we are ready to have dinner!” Stephen said with concern.

Abigail nodded. “I’m not tired now, but I want to go up and take a shower!” After staying in the hospital these days, all Abigail wanted to do was taking a shower.

Chapter 372

“Well, go upstairs and take a shower, change your clothes, and I will call you when it’s time for a meal!”
Laura said.

Abigail nodded and went upstairs.

At this moment, Stephen and Laura were sitting in the living room. Seeing Abigail come back, they were overjoyed.

“You’re overjoyed that Abigail stays back for a few days!” Stephen said with a smile.

Laura also smiled, “Aren’t you excited as well?”

Seeing them so delighted, Jacob rejoiced as well.

Upstairs, Abigail was soaking in the bathtub with her hair tied up and a towel under her neck. She closed her eyes, enjoying the comfort of a hot bath.

Abigail was recalling what had happened in the past two days, with scenes flashing through her mind.

Then, she found that everything had something to do with Olive.

Having made the conclusion, Abigail opened her eyes.

Abigail wouldn’t attack others unless she was attacked. It was obvious that Olive wanted to end Abigail’s life!

Abigail could endure it once, but she could never endure a second murder!

With the idea, Abigail came out of the bathtub and simply rinsed it before putting on her clothes and going out of the bathroom.

After her hair was half-dry, she went downstairs.

By this time, the meal was almost ready.

“It smells good!” Abigail exclaimed and went downstairs.

Seeing his daughter come down, Stephen, who was sitting on the sofa playing chess with Jacob, looked up. “Your mother got your favorite food ready after hearing that you would come back. It’s all your favorite food!”

Jacob also raised his head, with a glimmer of light flashing in his eyes.

Whether Abigail was in makeup or not, she looked attractive.

Abigail slowly went downstairs. “Then I can have a big meal today!” She exclaimed with a wide smile.

Stephen also smiled and continued to play chess with Jacob. At this moment, Abigail walked over and sat next to Stephen. “Dad, how are you?”

Meeting Abigail’s gaze, Stephen raised his eyebrows and said, “What? Why do you suddenly care about me?”

“I’ve always been caring about you. But I don’t ask until now!” Abigail said.

Jacob sat opposite and listened to Abigail. With the corners of his mouth turned up, he continued playing chess.

"I'm fine. Your brother is in charge of the company now. It saves me a lot of trouble and worries, and I'm in good health!" Stephen said happily.

"That's good. Anyway, health matters the most. You must take care of yourself!" Abigail instructed.

"Knowing your care and instructions, I will surely take good care of myself!"

Abigail smiled, "You should be relieved to have Jacob to look after the company for you!"

Speaking of this, Stephen came up with something and turned to look at her. "When will you go back to help Jacob? Then I'm more at ease!"

Abigail was surprised. "Dad, my major is jewelry design. How can I help Jacob? I know nothing about business management!"

"At least you've studied business administration for a few years. Why do you know nothing? Even if you know little about it, your brother will teach you!" Stephen said.

Jacob looked up and echoed, "Yes!" Abigail was speechless.

"I am still confused why you changed your major back then!" Stephen said.

Chapter 373

Speaking of this, Abigail was temporarily distracted, and then the corners of her mouth were moved up again, "Because it's too difficult. I prefer jewelry design!"

Stephen looked at her sideways, "But when you were at school, the teacher gave you good grades!" Jacob also nodded.

Her family felt strange when she had suddenly given up studying business administration, but since she had always been independent, no one could change her mind.

"I forced myself to learn. Dad, Jacob, are you going to blame me now?" Abigail looked at Stephen and said in a coquettish tone, unwilling to talk about this topic.

"I don't mean to blame you. I will support you whatever you like, but you'd better go back to the company to help your brother in the end!" Stephen said.

"Okay, dad, let's talk about it later, okay?" Abigail interrupted.

Stephen smiled helplessly, "Okay, whatever you say!"

Abigail smiled.

Jacob looked at Abigail. A few years ago, he had felt something wrong. Now, something was felt to be worse, but he couldn't tell! With his eyes fixed on Abigail's smile, he thought about it carefully.

At this moment, Laura called out in the dining room, "Okay, let's eat!"

Hearing this, Abigail said, "Dad, Jacob, it's time to eat!"

As she spoke, she walked that way.

Stephen and Jacob also stopped playing chess and walked over there.

The family sat at the table together.

It had been a long time since it had been so lively. For some reason, Abigail was in a much better mood this time than last time.

After the meal, Abigail went straight upstairs to rest.

Jacob went out for some social engagements.

Laura and Stephen were drinking tea and talking in the living room.

“I can tell that you’re in a different mood after your daughter comes back. You’re in higher spirits!”
Laura looked at Stephen and said.

Speaking of this, Stephen sighed, “No matter what happens, she is our daughter. We raised her step by step!”

Laura sat across from him. Hearing it, she said, “Yes, I remember the first time I saw her, she was only a little baby. Now she has grown up. Time flies!”

Stephen also sighed, suddenly remembering something, “By the way, when I was chatting with Abigail today, she rejected to go back to the company to help Jacob!”

Laura frowned, "Did she really reject it?"

Stephen nodded.

Laura frowned and felt something wrong, "Honey, I heard you chatting here today. What were you talking about?"

"That's what we were talking about. Oh, and the thing that she suddenly gave up business administration a few years ago and changed to study design." In fact, it confused them for a long time.

Hearing Stephen's words, Laura came up with something, "Honey, did Abigail know something?" Speaking of this, Stephen looked at Laura, shocked.

"I don't think so. We've never talked about this!" Stephen said.

The more Laura thought about it, the more she felt something went wrong. "When she was 19 years old, she suddenly change her major from business administration to design. Besides, before that, she had been coquettish to us. However, since then, she has been standing on ceremony... Don't you think it's strange?" Laura said.

Stephen looked at Laura with astonishment.

It seemed to be true.

Abigail had been close to them before but she suddenly became sensible, polite, and never lost her temper after changing her major to design.

'Can it be...'

They looked at each other.

"Does she know that she's not our biological child? That's why..."

"Don't talk nonsense!" Laura was interrupted by Stephen.

"Don't say this again!" Stephen said.

Laura understood what Stephen meant. "I know what you mean but I'm just guessing. Do you think it might be the reason?" Stephen also frowned. "I have no idea, but how would she know as neither of us mentioned it?"

"Could it be Jacob?" Laura guessed.

Stephen shook his head. "I can see that Jacob is nice to Abigail. It shouldn't be him..." "However, if not, there's no way to explain why Abigail suddenly changed!" Laura was confused.

Stephen frowned but failed to come up with an answer after thinking for a long time.

"No matter what happens, Abigail is our daughter. Let's not talk about this anymore. There's always a space of the Swifts for Abigail!" Stephen said.

Laura nodded in agreement.

Then, Laura leaned over and sat next to Stephen. "Honey, I still don't regret my decision then!"

She didn't care much about money so she had already been prepared when deciding to adopt Abigail.

Stephen nodded. "Well, I don't regret it either. Abigail is not the kind of person who has no conscience. She will still be your sweetheart!"

Laura smiled.

At this moment, Abigail was standing upstairs listening to their conversation. She leaned against the wall silently. Finally, she walked back to her room.

Indeed, they were right.

She had already known the truth.

She had known this at the age of nineteen.

At that time, she left for school from home but she suddenly found she left something at home on the way so she returned home to get it.

That was when she heard Laura's conversation with Stephen on the phone.

It was only then that she realized that she was not their biological daughter but a child sent to the door.

However, Stephen and Laura had given her the best living conditions including her educational one since she had memories.

From then on, she had realized that she would manage the company with Jacob and she had made up her mind to help Stephen deal with those official businesses.

However, after knowing the truth, she realized that she was too naive.

Although Stephen and Laura treated her nicely, she still couldn't accept the truth and she then left without taking the things she wanted.

She didn't want anything that didn't belong to her. Those were all Jacob's. She wouldn't ask for them even if she liked them very much. At that time, she could no longer act coquettishly and throw a tantrum in front of them unscrupulously after knowing the truth.

After a week of struggle, she resolutely gave up studying business administration and chose to study design.

Design had always been her dream.

She had chosen this major out of Stephen's expectations and because she had planned to share Stephen's burden. However, she then resolutely gave up after knowing the truth.

Chapter 375

That was why, when the Swifts had to deal with the crisis, she had chosen to marry and join the Joneses.

One reason was that she could only repay them in this way for their bringing her up. The other reason was that she couldn't leave the Swifts in crisis.

After all, they treated her well.

But back then when she had been aware that she was not their own child, she had felt too helpless to face it.

Thinking of this, Abigail smiled bitterly.

At that time, she had been stubbornly clinging to her own ideas.

She knew that they treated her well with all their heart, but she still couldn't accept it.

Thinking of this, she slowly walked back to her room.

Suddenly, she was relieved.

In fact, whether Stephen and his wife were her biological parents, they raised her. In her childhood and youth, she had lived a happy life thanks to the couple.

After all, they were her parents.

Their relationship was far beyond a biological bond.

She went straight back to her room.

After lying in bed and thinking for a long time, she felt relieved. Nothing was more relaxing than figuring her confusion out.

Since she was resting now, it was better to have a good rest here for a few days and accompany them.

Getting thoughts clear, Abigail relaxed a lot and soon fell asleep.

After resting for a few days, Leo was in a daze when hearing the news of Abigail after he came back.

Why did something happen to Abigail every time during his business trip?

Knowing that Abigail had gone home, he visited her from time to time.

Laura and Stephen were welcome and glad to see Leo's arrival.

Such a considerate man to take care of Abigail was rare and precious.

As her parents, they were relieved.

They were also happy for Abigail.

From their point of view, Leo was a much more reliable man than Liam, suitable to be a husband! As for Liam...

They didn't want Abigail to feel aggrieved!

Therefore, they welcomed Leo's arrival.

On the sofa, she smiled when seeing Leo and asked, "You're back?"

Leo nodded and walked over. "I'm sorry I come back late!"

"Why do you apologize?"

"I find that every time I go on a business trip, something will happen to you. It seems that I should go out less!" Leo said.

Abigail smiled. "Then how about dissolving the company and staying with me the whole day?"

"If you want, I'm willing to do it!" Abigail was joking, but Leo was serious.

Leo was waiting for Abigail's request.

Abigail smiled. "I was joking with you. No matter what, work is the most important thing. I'm fine!"

Leo moved up the corner of his lips silently.

But Laura and Stephen had noticed Leo's seriousness. They looked at each other. It could be seen that both of them were satisfied with Leo.

"Leo, stay here for dinner today!" Laura said.

Leo looked back at Laura, and nodded elegantly. "Okay, then I will enjoy it!" "I had said you can feel at home. We are just like family!"

"Okay!" Leo nodded in a polite manner.

Chapter 376

In that way, she could get praise from Laura and Stephen.

Abigail smiled silently.

Therefore, Leo came to visit Abigail every day while she was staying in the Swifts.

Leo would come over and leave after having dinner. Besides, it seemed that he was familiar with everyone in the Swifts, retaining a sense of western gentility and politeness.

Abigail rested at home for several days. After recovering, she went to work as usual.

The news about Abigail and Liam had already spread like wildfire. Abigail had been besieged by reporters and Liam had appeared like a prince to save her. Moreover, she had been hospitalized after the accident. The company staff was now speculating about Liam's relationship with Abigail, without an answer.

In particular, Abigail and Liam didn't show up, without traces.

As Liam's girlfriend, Olive occasionally appeared at the company.

Her relationship with Liam wasn't a secret, so no one dared to gossip.

Especially no one knew that Liam was more in favor of Olive or Abigail, so they could only remain neutral and keep silent.

On this day, Abigail showed up in the company, heating up the discussion.

However, only a few close friends dared to ask Abigail about it. The others were either following Olive or afraid to say anything.

After all, no one knew the exact answer.

“Abigail, you’re finally back to work!” Jane blurted when seeing Abigail.

When Abigail was not at the company, there were fewer funny and exciting things.

Abigail looked at Jane with a smile. “What? Do you miss me?”

“Yes, yes, I miss you so much!” Jane said, “Do you know how boring without you these days? We want to visit you in the hospital, but Mr. Jones ordered that no one should go over!”

Abigail was shocked that Liam had made such an order.

However, it seemed that the order was binding on these people rather than Olive.

Abigail chuckled. “It’s not a big deal. I’m fine!”

“How are you? Are you feeling better?” Jane asked.

Abigail nodded and smiled. “As you see, I’m fine now!”

“You look good!” Jane replied, nodding.

Abigail chuckled again.

Jane raised her eyebrows and asked, "Abigail, do you have any stories to tell us?"

Abigail was in a daze. She was aware of what they wanted to hear. Then, she replied with a faint smile.
"I'm not good at telling stories!"

"It's okay. We only need to know what was going on!"

"Girl, it's not good to be intrusive!"

"You should have got used to it!" Jane laughed out.

Abigail was speechless.

Abigail knew that she still couldn't get rid of this when some staff came over.

"I heard that you had an accident when you lived far away. Did Mr. Jones risk his life to save you?" Jane stared at Abigail and asked.

If the answer was yes, it was a sign of a special relationship between Abigail and Liam.

Looking at their expectant eyes, Abigail wondered how to make it clear.

Chapter 377

“My girl, leniency to those who confess, severity to those who resist. You’d better confess honestly!”

“You’re so well-informed. How do you get it?” Abigail asked.

“It doesn’t matter. All you have to do is to say if it’s true.”

Finally, Abigail nodded and said, “It’s true... But it is definitely not what you think!”

After Abigail spoke, there was an uproar.

“Wow, it’s true!”

Judging from their look and tone, Abigail knew that they had misunderstood.

“Anyway, it’s difficult to make it clear, and I can’t explain it to you. In short, it is not what you think!”

Abigail looked at them and said word by word.

“What else? Mr. Jones risked his life to save you. How can you have nothing to do with each other?”

Abigail was speechless.

She had known that it would be in this situation.

After thinking for a while, Abigail stopped explaining. “Whatever you think. The innocent needn’t be cleared up!”

“Don’t be so stingy. Tell us more about what happened!” At this moment, a few people surrounded Abigail and asked her to explain the process.

Abigail didn't want to say it, because no matter what she said, they would definitely misunderstand! At this moment, they heard a cough, and then their gossiping stopped.

They looked up and saw Olive standing there. Olive had an displeased expression as she saw Abigail.

"Miss Swift, this is a place to work, not to gossip. Even if you don't work, don't bother others!" Olive looked at Abigail arrogantly.

Jane frowned.

She felt aggrieved for Abigail.

"We gossiped with Abigail but she didn't actively talk. Miss Miller, you don't have to only criticize Abigail!" Jane looked at Olive and said.

It was the first time that Jane had challenged Olive.

Although she disliked Olive, she had never been so straightforward.

But today, looking at Olive's arrogance, Jane couldn't help but say it.

Olive frowned and looked at her. "I'm sorry?"

"What's wrong? It was few of us who pestered Abigail to chat, but you only scold Abigail. Is your criticism targeted at Abigail? It is too obvious!"

"You..." Olive looked at Jane and couldn't believe that Jane dared to talk to her so irreverently! "Miss Miller, I'm doing it for your own good!" Before Olive continued, Jane interrupted her again.

“We all know your relationship with Mr. Jones, but now there is gossip about Abigail and Mr. Jones. If you say so, it will be believed that you are deliberately making trouble for Abigail. I don’t think it’s a good idea.”

Although Jane’s voice was not loud, her censure plus advice made Olive speechless but look straight at them.

Abigail sat there, ready to quarrel with Olive. She was definitely not a pushover, but she disdained to argue. However, before she could open her mouth, Jane stopped her from saying anything.

It seemed that she had overestimated Olive!

She was defeated in a few words, giving Abigail a sense of accomplishment!

Chapter 378

Olive did not say anything more. She glared at them and returned to her seat.

For the first time, Jane felt that it was so good to say this out loud!

Jane looked at Abigail smugly, and Abigail smiled.

After that, no one said anything. They dispersed and went back to work.

Abigail glanced at Olive from the corner of her eye and frowned.

Now that Frank was still at large, she was still in danger.

She could escape once or twice, but that didn't mean she could escape every time.

What Frank had said when she fell down kept sounding in her mind.

"If you want to avenge yourself, go to Olive..."

If Olive had instigated Frank, then he would definitely get in touch with Olive again!

Or Olive would call or go to Frank again!

No matter what was going on, Abigail knew she had to find him as soon as possible!

She had let the person go when she was in trouble for the first time, but there had been a second time. Maybe there would be a third time!

She had to root out the potential danger.

Thinking of this, she became more determined.

Then she took a deep breath, retracted her gaze, and started working.

Abigail had recuperated at the Swift family's residence for a few days, and Liam stayed in the hospital.

Several times, Liam had taken out his phone to call her, but he held back the urge.

Abigail!

What a heartless woman!

She didn't visit him even once!

She had promised to take care of him, but after she was fine and even went back to work, she didn't come to see him! Liam was holding grudges against her.

Just then, his phone rang again.

Seeing the number, Liam answered, "Hello!"

"Mr. Jones, Miss Swift has returned to work and looks in a good mood. At noon, she didn't eat at the company cafeteria but went out with Leo. In the afternoon, Leo came to pick her up. They talked and laughed, looking very close..." Dan reported every detail like a robot.

Liam's face darkened! He couldn't believe that she was in the mood to eat with others!

It seemed that she had been living a very comfortable life without him!

"Don't mention anything to me about her again!" As he spoke, he hung up the phone angrily.

Dan was confused, wondering if he had said something wrong.

But Mr. Jones had asked him to tell the truth!

Dan hesitated for a while but decided to keep an eye on Abigail although Mr. Jones had said that...

Liam, when thinking about what Dan had just said, looked angry and gloomy.

It seemed that without him, she was still happy!

He changed his clothes and left the hospital.

[In a luxurious private room.]

Nate, Elon, and Ted all sat there sluggishly and elegantly, watching Liam drink one glass after another.

He looked like he was drowning his sorrows after being dumped.

It was rare to see him like this!

Nate looked at him and asked, "Liam, you asked us to come here just to watch you drink!"

Chapter 379

Liam looked up. "I asked you to drink with me!"

They all looked at him intently.

They were sure Liam behaved in this way due to Abigail!

Although Liam was silent, it was obvious that he was in a bad mood.

There would be three reasons for making a man so upset.

First, it was scarce money and power.

Second, it was his upsetting family.

Three, it was an annoying woman.

Liam had power, money, and a happy family, so it must be the third one.

“Liam, do you know what you look like now?” Ted picked up a glass of wine and asked leisurely.

Liam paused and glanced at him. Knowing that Ted would only mock him, he asked in confusion, “What?”

“Like a man dumped by a woman!”

Liam was speechless.

He glared at Ted and then sneered, “I was dumped? Do you think it’s possible?” Liam asked.

He had always been the one who abandoned others. When did anyone dare to dump him?

He sounded arrogant.

But it was the truth.

Liam was many girls' dream lover, rich and single. Girls would throw themselves at him. When would he be dumped? With the corners of his mouth moved up, Ted said, not afraid of angering Liam, "Probably!"

Liam rolled his eyes at him.

"And that woman is your ex-wife, Abigail!" Ted said confidently with a faint smile.

When Liam heard Abigail's name, his eyebrows furrowed, and his expression changed. "Her? Don't you think it's a little ridiculous? I was the one who asked for a divorce!"

"It was the past. Don't forget, you are willing to risk your life for her now!" Ted continued.

A man was willing to give up his life for either his mother, sister, or his beloved woman.

There were only three possibilities!

But obviously, Abigail was the last.

Therefore, Ted concluded that Liam had fallen in love with Abigail.

They were all selfish, not knowing how to love a person. They would even fail to recognize their love for a certain woman. This was the case with Liam.

However, once they loved someone, they would be fully devoted...

Liam's face darkened. "If it were anyone else, I would have done that!" Liam said. He was reluctant to admit that he was upset because of Abigail.

Ted was not in a hurry. He smiled and leaned sluggishly on the sofa, his legs crossed.

"Really? Liam, take Olive for example. Will you risk your life for her?" Ted asked.

They all went silent.

Even Liam was stunned.

Obviously, the answer was no!

Elon and Nate were sitting there, watching Ted eliciting Liam's true thoughts. They had all found out that Liam had changed.

The four of them were the same kind of people.

They didn't dare to love or know how to love, so they never brought themselves to love.

However, Liam had become different from them!

If this was a good thing, they would be willing to let Liam go for it and then learn from him.

As Liam did not speak, Ted was more certain of his guess.

Chapter 380

“Liam, you won’t do that for Olive!”

“So the answer is clear. You’re in love with Abigail!”

This was far more shocking to Liam than the previous issue.

“Have I fallen for Abigail?”

He had never thought about this question, nor had he the courage to think about it.

He might directly deny the judgment if it was said by someone else. However, it was made by Ted.

“It doesn’t matter if you admit it or not. Just tell me, how do you feel when you see her with another guy? For example, Leo. How do you feel about Abigail’s relationships with him?”

Liam found that name maddening.

He wished he could strangle Leo and Abigail at the thought of what Dan had reported to him.

“Liam, sometimes the intuition is the best proof. Go with your gut and you will realize what you really want.” Ted said.

Liam only looked up at him, and then he glanced at Elon and Nate. Although they rarely spoke, Liam could tell from their expressions that they agreed with Ted.

Liam was astonished. He took a drink to settle his nerves.

“When did you become an expert in love? None of you buzzkillers want to drink. I am leaving now.” With that, he stood up and detached himself.

His best friends were left behind.

No one tried to stop him because they all knew that Liam needed time and space to ponder.

Having watched him leave, Ted raised his eyebrows. “My speculation proved right!”

“Yes!” Nate said.

Then, the three chinked their glasses.

“Cheers!”

Liam was driving his car at that moment.

He had drunk a lot, but he was extremely sober.

What Ted had said echoed in his ears.

'He has fallen in love with Abigail!'

'He loves Abigail!' He hated to admit it, but he had no objection to that.

He didn't notice where he was driving or how long he had been driving. The next he knew, he was outside Abigail's apartment building.

A smile reached the corners of Liam's lips.

"Liam, are you serious?"

"Are you really going to become infatuated with a woman who you once abandoned?" "Is that the so-called retribution for sin?" Liam thought.

If that was the case, then he was willing to take this...

Just then, a car slowly drove past him.

It stopped not far ahead of him.

Liam recognized that car.

It was Leo's.

Abigail was sitting in the car at that time. She looked at Leo with a smile, "It's so nice of you to not only drive me to and from work but also to treat me to dinner."

“Not at all.” Leo also smiled, “I promised your parents that I would protect you before Frank was caught.” Hearing what Leo said, Abigail nodded smilingly. “Anyway, thanks for all of your help!”

“Okay, it’s late now. Go in and have a good rest.”

“OK!”

“Call me if you need anything,” Leo said.

Abigail nodded again, then she opened the door and got out of the car.

“Get home safe.”

Leo nodded.

Leo finally drove away after he watched Abigail go upstairs.
