Chapter 381

However, at this moment, Liam flashed his lights at Leo, and then pushed the door open and got out.

Leo was about to leave. When he saw Liam get out of the car, he was surprised since he didn't expect Liam to be here.

Nevertheless, he also stopped the car and got out.

When two equally outstanding men stood against each other, it was indeed an eye-catching and thrilling scene.

Liam looked at Leo with a sneer. "Mr. Harris, long time no see!"

Leo also gazed at Liam and moved up the corner of his mouth slightly. "Indeed, I haven't seen you for a long time!" Although they were smiling, they were actually wearing masks and waiting for each other to attack.

"It seems that Mr. Harris has been working hard these days!" Liam said.

Leo smiled faintly as a gentleman. "What did Mr. Jones mean? Drive Abigail home? I don't think it's hard!" "Really?"

"Of course!"

As Leo was so straightforward, Liam's expression changed, but he tried his best to restrain his anger and gave a fake smile.

"Leo, don't you think your feelings about Abigail are too obvious?" Liam looked at him and said.

What Liam meant was obvious.

Leo was not surprised at all but still smiled, "So what? I like her very much, so what if they're obvious?"

"Enough, Leo. There are limits to everything you do. You're not the right person for Abigail!" Finally, Liam couldn't maintain his demeanor and tore off his mask.

Hearing this, Leo did not continue to pretend to be calm. Instead, he looked at Liam coldly. "You're the one who should stop.

Liam! Will you be the right person for her if I'm not? Don't forget that you were the one who abandoned her. What? Do you fall in love with her now?"

Speaking of this, Liam was in a daze…

'Fall in love with her…"

It was the second time that someone mentioned it today!

At this moment, Liam looked up at Leo with a meaningful look. "It's none of your business whether I fall in love with her or not, but I'm telling you, Leo, Abigail belongs to me. Don't even think about it!"

"Whether she's yours or not is still unknown!" As soon as Liam finished speaking, Leo said quickly.

Leo was determined to win Abigail's heart.

They glared at each other with hostility in their eyes. It was obvious that they both would try their utmost to win Abigail's heart.

At this moment, Liam's phone rang.

The sound interrupted them to glare at each other.

Therefore, Liam picked up his phone and answered it without looking at it.

"Hello…" His tone was filled with dissatisfaction.

The person on the other end of the phone paused for a moment and then said, "Liam…"

Hearing Olive's voice, Liam frowned. "What's up?" Although he was not as angry as before, she could tell that he was very unhappy.

"Are you busy now?"

"No. What's the matter?" Liam asked.

"I want to see you. Can you come to me now?"

"Where are you?"

"I'm at home!"

Liam paused for a while and said, "We'll talk about it later. I'll call you later!" After that, he hung up the phone.

Leo looked at him with a sneer. "Mr. Jones, you'd better deal with your matters first before discussing Abigail with me!" With that, he gave a crooked smile and got into the car to leave.

Chapter 382

Liam stood there and watched Leo leave, frowning unhappily.

After thinking for a while, he got in the car and left.

As he drove, he made a call.

"Hey, where are you now? I'm coming to you now."

Olive, who was in a bad mood for being hung up, felt overjoyed and said, "I'm at home!"

"It's late now. I don't want to go to your place. Come out in ten minutes. I have something to tell you!" Liam said.

Olive froze.

She had a bad feeling, but when she wanted to say something, he hung up again…

Sitting there, she had several melancholy thoughts while hoping that things would turn out as she thought.

Ten minutes later, they satin the car in a strange atmosphere.

After a while, Olive said, "Liam, how's your injury? Are you feeling better?"

Liam nodded. "Much better!"

In fact, she had known that Liam had risked his life for Abigail that day, and it was Frank who had informed her of the situation.

She had drunk a lot that day to drown her sorrows, but she didn't dare to appear in front of him.

She was afraid that she would lose control and that Liam would find something.

Liam nodded and said, "Much better!"

"Liam, I haven't seen you for a long time. I miss you so much!" As she spoke, Olive reached out her hand to hug him.

Liam didn't move. After thinking for a while, he said, "Olive, I came to see you today because I have something to tell you." "Can we drop the subject? I don't want to hear it!" Olive said, as if she had expected what Liam wanted to say.

Liam was surprised and pushed her away." Olive, whether you want to listen or not, I have to tell you."

Olive frowned as if it had taken her a lot of effort not to leave.

Liam felt pity for her, but he still said what he wanted to say.

"Let's break up!"

Olive was stupified as if she had been struck by lightning.

She had guessed what he would say and prepared herself.

But she still felt hurt deeply.

She felt dizzy and couldn't hear clearly.

However, Liam's words had hit her hard!

Now, she felt indescribable pain in her heart!

Olive looked at Liam and didn't come to her senses until a few minutes later.

"Liam, are you kidding me? I know I have been bad-tempered lately, but I can work on that. Trust me!" Olive looked at Liam and said with a smile.

Liam felt bad when he saw her smile.

But Leo was right.

Only after everything was settled did he have the right to compete with Leo for Abigail!

So he had to break up with Olive!

Moreover, he no longer loved Olive.

"I'm not joking. It's not about you. It's my fault!" Liam looked at her and said seriously.

Chapter 383

Olive blinked and tears had already welled up in her eyes, but she tried her best to hold back and shook her head. "No, I don't believe you!"

"It's because of Abigail, isn't it?" Olive looked at Liam and asked, failed to withhold her tears.

She had always thought that as long as Liam did not say it, she would still have a chance, but now, she did not know what to do! She loved Liam very much!

Now that he had said that, what should she do in the future?

At this moment, her mind was blank. The only bane she could think of was Abigail!

It must be because of her!

Hearing this, Liam frowned. "It has nothing to do with her!"

"How could that be!" Olive suddenly shouted, "Before she appeared, we were all fine, but everything has changed because of her appearance. It's all because of her!" she screamed.

Liam grabbed her. "Olive, calm down!"

"How can I calm down? Liam, why? Why do you abandon me? Abigail will only bring you endless trouble and disaster. Why did you choose her?" Olive shouted.

"I've made it clear that it is not because of her!" Liam said.

Hearing this, Olive's tears flowed down her cheeks. "Really? Do you dare to swear?"

Liam froze and frowned, staring at Olive.

"Do you dare to swear in the name of Abigail? If you lie, Abigail will die a horrible death!"

"This is my business. It has nothing to do with her." Liam said.

Olive smiled and burst into tears. "Liam, you don't dare!"

In fact, she had already realized that Liam liked Abigail very much. Ever since Abigail appeared, Liam's attention had been focused on her.

What Frank said also shocked her.

From the beginning to the end, Liam was a selfish man, but now he was even willing to sacrifice his life for Abigail! So she was sure that Liam fell in love with Abigail!

She just didn't want to admit this!

But now, she had to!

Originally, she thought he would not treat her seriously, but now she knew that things were not like that…

"Olive, no matter why I want to break up with you, it has nothing to do with Abigail. I am the only one to blame." Liam looked at her and said.

Hearing this, Olive sneered. "Well, are you afraid that I will hurt her?" She raised her eyebrows and asked.

Seeing her sneering, Liam frowned and gazed at her.

"Revenge on me if you want." He said.

Olive laughed.

But then tears came out.

Finally, she looked at Liam. "No, I won't do anything to her, because you like her, and I won't hurt whoever you like!"

"Liam, no matter what, I hope you will remember me forever!" Finishing speaking, Olive leaned over and kissed Liam on the lips…

Liam did not move, but slightly frowned.

After kissing him, Olive said. "Liam, I love you, and I believe you will come back to me again!" After that, she pushed open the door and ran down…

Chapter 384

Liam sat in the car and watched Olive run out. He pinched his thin lips, frowned and had an indescribable feeling.

Although he felt a little sorry, there was more a sense of liberation.

After sitting in the car for a long time, he finally took a deep breath and drove away.

Tonight, he seemed to have made a decision.

[The next day.]

The next morning, Abigail could feel the tense atmosphere as soon as she arrived at the company.

She looked at Jane. "What's wrong today? It is so weird!" Abigail asked.

Normally, when she came to the company, they should be gossiping, but now they were all working in their seats nervously.

Jane looked at Abigail in surprise and said, "Don't you know?"

"What?"

"Mr. Jones has returned to work. I heard he's not in a good mood. Everyone is on alert!" Jane whispered as if she was afraid of being heard by Liam.

Abigail was a little surprised. Liam was discharged so soon? He should be resting for a few more days due to the injuries. Why was he discharged so soon? With that in mind, Abigail did not say anything and returned to her seat to work.

Almost no one in the company talked nonsense and everyone worked diligently the whole morning. When Abigail occasionally looked up, she could see them going about their business, and then lowered her head to continue working.

Near noon, to get off work, Liam came out of the elevator.

The assistant and secretary followed behind and reported the work. After reporting, the assistant asked.

"Mr. Jones, do you need to eat at the company?" Dan asked behind him.

Liam walked in and glanced at Abigail's seat, where there was no one. He frowned slightly.

At this moment, Abigail came over from the pantry with a glass of water, and they happened to meet each other.

Liam met her eyes.

Bath of them were surprised.

It had been a few days since they met last time. Now they were a little embarrassed and didn't know what to do.

In the end, Abigail came back to her thoughts first. She looked at Liam, nodded, and greeted him politely, "Hello, Mr. Jones!"

Then she walked straight over.

Liam stood there and slightly frowned. Watching her leave, he paused for a few seconds and also went back to the office.

When they met, it seemed that they were strangers to each other.

Many people in the office had seen them. But no one would say that there was any special relationship between them, because they were more like strangers.

Abigail walked over, put the cup on the table, sat down, and began to work.

Then Jane came over and looked at Abigail. "Abigail, did you quarrel with Mr. Jones?" "No!" Abigail said indifferently and turned to Jane.

"But I think you two are so strange… as if you had a quarrel!" Jane said.

Hearing this, Abigail smiled, "Then what do you think we should be like?"

"Well…" Jane could not tell, but she still felt that the Abigail and Liam were so weird, which was hard to describe.

Chapter 385

Before Jane continued, Abigail interrupted, "Okay, enough of all this chit-chat. Let's get back to work now. Didn't you say everyone was on the alert? Hurry up and work!" Abigail urged.

Jane nodded and acted accordingly without asking more questions.

Abigail went back as well. However, as soon as she opened the design drawing, Liam's expression just now popped up in her mind…

He did look like a stranger to her.

Abigail found it difficult to describe her feeling at the moment.

She didn't know how to get along with Liam every time she thought of what he had said last time. Maybe she was supposed to let it be.

They should keep a distance.

That was the best way for both of them.

Thinking of this, Abigail forced herself to concentrate on the work.

When Abigail and Jane had lunch in the restaurant, Jane gossiped about Liam again.

"This is weird. Why didn't Mr. Jones lose his temper when he came back?" Jane said.

Abigail was eating when she heard these words. She asked smilingly, "Why should he?"

"Well, in the past, Mr. Jones would become extremely irritable if you were now around. But this time he didn't!" Jane replied.

She specifically emphasized that Liam used to change because of Abigail.

Abigail paused for a moment and then continued eating. "Aren't you relieved that he could control himself this time?"

"Yes, but I still think it's weird!" Jane said.

Abigail ate and didn't say anything.

Something occurred to Jane suddenly. She leaned over to Abigail, gossiping. "Abigail, Olive didn't come to work today. Did you notice that?"

Abigail nodded.

How could she not notice the sharp gaze in the office that had always been fixed on her disappear today?

"This is another weird thing. Normally, Olive wouldn't take a day off when Mr. Jones came to the company. There must be a reason why she didn't show up today!" Jane deduced like a detective.

Abigail was amused by the words.

Unsatisfied with her smile, Jane turned to Abigail. "What's so funny?"

"You've reached a higher level!"

"What?"

"You're way beyond gossiping now. Maybe I should call you Miss Love Detective."

Jane realized Abigail was making fun of her. "I'm serious, okay?"

"I know you're serious, but there's no point in wasting our time on those things. Hurry up. We have to work later!" Abigail said.

Jane blinked at Abigail and leaned closer out of the blue. "Abigail, do you know any inside story?"

"What?"

"The atmosphere is strange between you, Mr. Jones, and Olive. Did something happen?" Jane asked curiously.

Abigail raised her eyebrows. "What do you think?"

"I don't know. That's why I'm asking you!"

"If there was anything, do you think I could keep my job?" Abigail asked.

Jane didn't know what to say.

"So, nothing has happened. Now finish your lunch quickly!" Abigail said.

Jane didn't pester Abigail since she obviously didn't want to talk about it. However, Jane had developed a hobby of gossiping for years, so she could feel there must have been something between the three of them.

Take the moment when Abigail met Liam today as an example. They might seem to be avoiding suspicions in other people's eyes. But Jane, a voracious reader of love novels, concluded immediately that the two of them had got into a fight as a couple.

The Novel will be updated daily. Come back and continue reading tomorrow, everyone!

Chapter 386

However, she did not continue to ask, because the fun was coming.

Therefore, they went on eating. After dinner, they chatted and went upstairs.

As they entered the elevator, Dan also walked in.

Seeing Abigail, he nodded and smiled.

Thinking that Dan had always sent dinner to the hospital for them, Abigail nodded in return, silently.

Dan was not a blabber.

Jane looked at Dan with a smile. "Dan, where's Mr. Jones?"

"In the office!"

Jane frowned. "Isn't Mr. Jones going to eat?"

Dan glanced at Abigail and said, "Mr. Jones said he had no appetite and didn't want to eat. He was discharged before recovering. It's inevitable!"

He was saying these words to Abigail.

Abigail's eyes flickered but she stood there without replying.

Curious, Jane immediately asked, "By the way, Dan, why was Mr. Jones hospitalized? I clearly remember that Abigail was hospitalized. Was Mr. Jones injured too?" Jane asked in confusion.

"Well…" Dan didn't know what to say. He looked at Abigail and found that she was motionless without looking at them. It seemed that what they were talking about had nothing to do with her.

"Say it!" Jane said curiously.

.." Dan hesitated.

Jane was a little puzzled. Looking at Dan's hesitation, she turned to look at Abigail. "By the way, Abigail, do you know?" Surprised, Abigail looked at Jane and shook her head. "Well… I don't know!"

"But didn't Mr. Jones take you to the hospital?" Jane asked with a frown.

.." As Abigail hesitated, the elevator door opened.

"All right, let's get out of here!" Abigail said and then walked out first.

Bewildered, Jane followed Abigail and hurried out.

Dan stood in the elevator, watching Abigail walk out, and then he thought about Liam's changes in the past two days.

He nodded affirmatively, thinking in his mind that Mr. Jones and Abigail must have had a quarrel.

Liam was in the office.

He sat there and looked out the French window.

It was unknown what he was thinking.

Dan knocked on the door and walked in.

"Boss!"

Hearing Dan's voice, Liam turned to look at him.

Dan placed a stack of documents in front of him. "This is the summary of all the documents these days!"
"Okay!" Liam replied without looking at the documents.

Dan was about to leave, but he blurted, "Boss, did you quarrel with Miss Swift?"

Hearing it, Liam frowned and looked at him coldly.

His ice-cold gaze made the temperature drop several degrees in the office.

Dan tried his best to brace himself and said with a smile, "Well, I met Miss Swift outside just now. I can tell that she's not happy…"

Hearing it, Liam looked unpleased.

Was she unhappy? He didn't notice it at all.

Noticing Liam's silence, Dan said, "Boss, if you quarrel with a woman, it's easy to coax her. If you buy a bouquet and speak sugared words, she'll be happy soon

Chapter 387

"As long as you buy some flowers for her and say something nice, she'll be fine soon…

After saying this, Dan felt that the temperature in the room dropped abruptly.

Liam looked straight at him with flinty eyes.

Dan stood there awkwardly.

"Boss, I… I'll go out first…" Dan regretted what he had blurted out!

He was too worried about his boss, wasn't he?

Seeing that Liam did not speak, Dan edged closer to the door.

Just as he was about to go out, Liam's voice came behind.

"Wait a minute!"

Dan's footsteps suddenly stopped.

"How to coax her…"

Dan was shocked.

He didn't expect Liam to consult him on coaxing the girl instead of scolding him.

Dan turned around and decided to share his experience.

The day passed peacefully.

When Abigail was about to go off duty, her phone rang.

When she saw the number, Abigail smiled and answered it.

"Hey!"

"It's almost time to get off work. I'll wait for you downstairs!" Leo said.

Hearing this, Abigail felt embarrassed, "You're so busy but pick me up from work every day. I'm really sorry!"

"Abigail, you shouldn't have said that!" Leo said on the phone, "I had promised your parents that I would protect you. Besides, I'm very happy to pick you up!"

Hearing this, Abigail nodded. "Well, I'll go down later!"

"Okay!" Leo hung up.

A few minutes later, it was time to leave.

Abigail went straight outside.

Leo's car was right at the door.

He was the Powerline Group's biggest competitor, and his handsome and gentlemanly appearance had attracted countless girls.

However, that was not important.

The most important was that he came here every day to pick up Abigail from work.

She inevitably raised eyebrows.

Abigail had affair with Liam first, and now she tangled with Leo. The outsiders would gossip about it.

Abigail had just reached the entrance when Liam and Dan came across.

Dan greeted with a smile, "Hello, Miss Swift…"

Abigail nodded and smiled back, then she greeted Liam, "Hi, Mr. Jones."

Liam looked at her with a slight frown.

"Where are you going? Do you need me to give you a ride?" Dan asked.

Obviously, he asked on behalf of Liam.

Abigail smiled and shook her head, "No need. Someone will pick me up. I'll go first!" Then she walked towards the entrance.

Liam stood there without saying a word, but his eyes were fixed on her.

Dan was a little anxious, but he had no way since his boss hadn't said anything yet.

Leo was standing at the entrance. He looked gentle in a formal suit and had a faint smile on his handsome face. Even if he stood still, it would attract countless people to look back and whisper.

Chapter 388

At this moment, Abigail leaned over. When Leo saw Abigail coming out, he took out a bunch of flowers.

"Off work?"

"Yes!" Abigail nodded with a smile.

At this moment, Leo handed the flowers to Abigail, "A present!" Leo said with a smile.

When Abigail saw the bunch of platy codon grandifloras and roses, she was shocked, but she reached out and accepted them.

"Thank you, but why did you think of giving me flowers?" Abigail asked with a smile.

"I saw beautiful platy codon grandifloras on the way coming here. I knew you would like it, so I bought it for you!" Every sentence Leo said all seemed to indicate that he knew Abigail well, which made him feel very accomplished.

"Thank you!" Abigail smiled, but she always felt a sharp gaze staring at her from behind. She tried to ignore it.

"Okay, let's get in the car!" Leo said. He then opened the door for Abigail gentlemanly.

Abigail nodded and sat in with the flowers in her arms.

After closing the door, Leo went around, opened the door, and drove away.

Liam saw this scene clearly from behind.

He wore a gloomy look.

"It's just a bunch of flowers. Why are you so happy?" Liam said to himself coldly.

At this moment, Dan, who was behind him, said, "Of course, all women like flowers…" Halfway through Dan's words, he noticed Liam's eyes and then quickly shut up.

He didn't say anything…

He didn't say anything!

Liam stood there and looked at the place where they had disappeared. His face was so gloomy that no one dared to say anything more.

On the other hand, Abigail was in the car.

Leo was driving the car, "Where shall we go? Do you want to eat first?"

Abigail nodded, "Okay!"

Hearing this, Leo smiled, "What do you want to eat?"

"Well… Anything will do!" Abigail nodded. She was careful about what she ate, but she was not picky about food.

"Well, then I'll make the decision!" Leo said quickly.

Abigail nodded, so Leo drove straight to a restaurant.

Abigail had never been here before. Although it was not so luxurious, it looked very comfortable and clean.

"I have heard that cuisines here are very delicious, so I bring you here to try them. How about it?" Leo asked.

Abigail nodded, "Okay. I thought you were taking me to some western restaurant!"

Hearing this, Leo smiled, "If you want to eat, I'll take you there another day!"

"No, I think it's good here!" Abigail said.

Looking at Abigail, Leo smiled, and both walked in.

The food here was indeed delicious, just like Leo had said.

The ingredients of the dishes were common, but they tasted delicious. Abigail finally understood why many people like to have private home cuisine.

"How is it? How does it taste?" Leo asked.

Abigail nodded, "Good. I didn't know there was such a restaurant here before!" "I heard about it from other people too!" Leo said.

Abigail smiled and continued eating.

Chapter 389

At this moment, Leo looked at Abigail and asked, "No news from Frank?" Abigail nodded, "No."

Leo did not tell Abigail that his men were also looking for Frank and found that there was also a group of people looking for Frank. Leo felt that they were from Liam.

But Leo didn't tell Abigail about all this.

She nodded and said, "Anyway, be careful these days!"

Abigail nodded, "I know. I'll be careful!"

"OK!"

They continued eating. After the meal, Leo sent Abigail back home.

Like yesterday, when they arrived, Liam sat at the door of Abigail's neighborhood and watched Abigail get out of the car with a bunch of jarring flowers in her arms. He was unhappy.

But he held back.

Abigail looked at Leo, "It's late, so I won't invite you in!" Abigail stood outside the window and said to him.

Leo nodded, "Call me if you need!"

Abigail nodded, and Leo drove away.

Abigail turned around and went back.

Only Liam was sitting in the car, thinking about Abigail's smile and that bunch of flowers.

What was going on now? Were they together now?

The thought of this irritated him.

He pushed the door open and got out.

"Abigail!" He shouted.

Abigail was shocked and looked back, but when she saw Liam, she was a little surprised.

"Why are you here?"

"I can't be here?" Liam looked at her and asked. When he saw the flowers in her arms, a trace of darkness flashed in his eyes.

He wanted to throw them into the trash can.

Looking at his angry look, Abigail asked with a frown, "What's the matter?" "What do you mean?"

"I stayed in the hospital for you. You were discharged and never went to the hospital to see me again. Abigail, is that how you thank me?" Liam looked at her and questioned.

He didn't want to say that, but somehow, he said that.

Hearing this, Abigail said unhappily, "So you're here to punish me?"

Looking at Abigail, Liam frowned and seemed to realize that he had said the wrong thing, but now he could not retract it.

He looked straight at Abigail, with complex feelings.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Jones. I didn't realize that. I apologize to you!" Abigail said.

Liam frowned.

"Do you need me to make if up to you now?" Abigail continued.

"Yes!" Liam blurted out.

"How?" Abigail asked.

At this moment, Liam slowly walked towards her and looked straight at her. He reached out to hold her hand, asking, "Are you with Leo now?"

The voice was not loud, but it was loud enough for them to hear it clearly.

This question startled Abigail for a moment, then she looked at Liam and asked, "Mr. Jones, what do you mean?" "I just want to know whether you're together or not!" Liam looked at her and spoke.

"This is my personal business. I don't think I need to tell you!" Abigail did not understand his intention.

Chapter 390

"Abigail!" Liam said out loud.

"Mr. Jones, what's the point of this question?" Abigail looked into his eyes.

Liam was speechless.

His gaze settled on her face, while he couldn't give a coherent answer.

Abigail smiled, "Mr. Jones, it's too late. If there's nothing else, I'll go in first!" After that, Abigail turned and left.

Liam stood there, looking at her back, unable to utter a word.

However, from the bottom of his heart, she was unspeakably upset.

For the next few days, Leo took Abigail to go and off work every day.

They were always enjoying their chats.

There were some rumors in the company that Abigail and Leo were a couple. But Abigail never gave an explanation but only replied with a smile.

For her, there was no need for any explanation.

Meanwhile, Dan was anxious for Liam, because the latter didn't take any action.

Liam sat in his office, looked out the window, sunk in thought.

At this moment, Dan walked in. He used to think that Mr. Jones was "devious", but he could almost smell the sorrow from Liam's back.

"Mr. Jones!" Dan handed over a document. "Here are all the lists for this month!" As she spoke, he placed it in front of Liam.

"Okay." Liam just gave him a short reply.

Dan didn't know how to react.

It was obvious that Mr. Jones felt upset far Abigail. But since Liam did not take any action, Dan could not offer any assistance.

In the end, he had no choice but to go out.

Liam did not leave until the night.

Just then, his phone rang.

Seeing the number, he immediately answered the call.

"Grandma."

"Liam, where are you now?" Senior Mrs. Jones asked.

"I'm at the company."

"Do you work overtime?" Senior Mrs. Jones pursued.

Liam paused for a second and replied, "There are some things to be finished."

"Your parents and I are eating in the Hong's Restaurant. Come here quickly!" Senior Mrs. Jones said.

"Grandma, you may eat first!"

Hearing this, she frowned. "Hurry up! Come here with Abigail. I haven't seen her for a long time!"

Just as he was about to refuse, he suddenly remembered something. "Okay, I'll call her!"

"Okay, waiting for your call!" After that, she hung up the phone.

Sitting in the office all day long, Liam recouped some energy at this moment.

After a long hesitation, he picked up his phone to call Abigail.

She answered the phone after a long while.

"Hello, it's Abigail!"

Hearing this, Liam felt a little excited and nervous.

'Damn it!"

"Abigail, where are you now?" Liam asked bluntly.

When she heard his voice, Abigail paused slightly and said, "I'm having dinner. What's the matter?"
"Dinner? With whom? Leo?" Liam asked a series of questions.

"What's the matter?"

"Grandma wants to see you!" Liam explained.
