

Her Wicked Ceo (Abigail and Liam)

Chapter 461

At this time, the special passage was crowded with people. They had no choice but to leave through the front door.

As soon as they reached there, they were blocked by reporters.

Seeing them show up together, the reporters surged forward and asked questions.

“Mr. Jones, it was not really an accident that happened on Senior Mrs. Jones, was it?”

“When will Senior Mrs. Jones wake up?”

“Is Miss Swift the perpetrator of this accident?”

Hearing this, Liam immediately shot that reporter an angry look.

“What nonsense are you talking about?”

His reaction made the reporters excited.

“I’m not talking nonsense. Someone called us this morning that Miss Swift pushed Senior Mrs. Jones down. Mr. Jones, do you know about this?” The reporter looked at Liam and asked.

The reporters were standing outside the door because the security didn’t allow them in.

Liam and Abigail were stunned when they heard this on the other side.

This allegation confused them.

At this moment, Liam glanced at Abigail, who also looked at him with her clear eyes. She was not in a hurry to explain.

Liam turned to the reporters, “If there’s no evidence, I’ll sue you for slander!”

“It was revealed by a source, who is the nurse in this hospital. She saw Miss Swift push the Senior Mrs. Jones down with her own eyes!”

“Impossible!” Liam denied directly.

Everyone was looking forward to what he would say next.

Liam looked at them and said, “I don’t know who is the rumor monger, but I’m sure there was nothing to connect her with this accident!” He took Abigail’s hand and said, “There is no doubt about this. It is impossible!”

Liam’s words were too absolute, which made everyone confused.

“Mr. Jones, can you tell us the reason?”

“Because she’s my wife. Senior Mrs. Jones and the whole family like her very much. Our family is harmonious. Is it possible for her to do such a thing?” Liam asked.

Hearing this, everyone was in an uproar.

Was this another headlines news? Everyone looked at each other and didn’t know what to do.

“Mr. Jones, can you tell us in detail?”

“Mr. Jones, are you already married to Miss Swift?” “I have nothing to tell you about it. I can only tell you that everything you said is not true!”

“All I know is that when Senior Mrs. Jones was in critical condition, Abigail gave a lot of blood to help her operation successful.

When Senior Mrs. Jones was unwilling to take medicine, only Abigail could coax her to take it. They are in such a good relationship. Why should Abigail do that?” Liam looked at them and asked.

His words made them speechless.

Finally, Liam said, “As for the source you mentioned, I will seek legal means to pursue her responsibility!” Liam said word by word.

Abigail watched from the side. When she heard Liam’s words, a cool smile appeared on her face.

A clean hand wanted no washing. Abigail had nothing to fear.

But she was afraid that Liam might not believe her. She could not even accept the slightest suspicion.

Fortunately, he did not disappoint her.

Holding Liam's hand, she felt at ease.

At this moment, Robert and Mrs. Jones walked over. The eagle-eyed reporters noticed them and immediately asked.

Chapter 462

“Do you have any idea what's going on, Mr. Jones and Mrs. Jones? Is your daughter-in-law a good match for you?” The reporters' attention was drawn to them once more.

Abigail and Liam stood nearby, waiting for them to say something.

Robert glanced at Abigail at this point and said, “Liam is correct. Abigail has nothing to do with this. We have the best idea of Abigail's current relationship with Senior Mrs. Jones. This daughter-in-law has exceeded our expectations!”

Abigail's innocence was undoubtedly proved by Robert's words.

Throughout, Abigail remained silent, calmly accepting their gaze.

However, the media would not ignore her just because she remained silent.

The reporters were looking at Abigail at this point. "Do you want to say something, Miss Swift?"

Abigail smiled as she stood there. "Those who are crystal clear should stay that way. Please, friends of the media, keep an eye on me. I'm willing to confront that insider face-to-face if she wants to come forward. Thank you so much!"

No one could keep questioning her because Abigail's words were simple, neither servile nor overbearing.

"Please, friends of the media, keep an eye on me," It was a show of respect for their profession.

She left a good impression on the media.

Liam wrapped his arms around Abigail's waist at this point. "I hope that everyone will pitch in to help us find that person!" The corners of Liam's mouth curled up as he spoke. "We're rushing to hear everyone's good news!" Liam took a step forward after that.

No reporters dared to approach them this time. Instead, they paved the way for Liam to take Abigail out...

News bombs had detonated one after another in the following days.

Liam and Abigail have risen to the top of A City's popularity rankings.

Initially, they were just a boss and an employee of a company, but they had now become a couple. Even after marrying into a wealthy family, Abigail maintained a low profile and was envious of many people.

But there were even more astute people who discovered that information about Liam's marriage had been leaked a few years ago and that the other party was the lady of the Swift Group.

However, the information was quickly suppressed after it was widely disseminated.

The news of Liam's marriage had now surfaced. Someone discovered that Abigail was from the Swift Group because her surname was Swift.

So that was a pleasant surprise! They had been married for a long time! Moreover, Abigail held the Joneses's heirloom jade in her hands.

They should have figured it out a long time ago at this point!

The people from the Powerline Group were the ones who were most surprised when the news was released one by one.

Liam and Abigail had already married, but the fact had been well hidden!

But why would Mr. Jones still be with Olive if he was truly married to Abigail?

These were perplexing questions, but they were no longer relevant. The fact that Liam had admitted the marriage was crucial! Everyone was going over that if they had offended Abigail in their daily lives before...

The Powerline Group as a whole was in an indescribable mood.

The news reached Jane as well. All she could say was that she'd wait until things calmed down!

After taking a look at the news, Abigail didn't want to say anything at this time.

Everything had been revealed up. Nothing was worth concealing!

Chapter 463

However, this news also made many people sad.

When Abigail's parents saw the news, they immediately called Abigail.

"Abigail, have you... remarried Liam?" Laura asked over the phone.

If it was true, she couldn't stop Abigail who was a very independent person. But as a mother, she had to know the truth.

Hearing this, Abigail said, "Mom, I'll explain this to you when I get back in a few days. I haven't remarried him yet. We said so to silence the media!"

At this point, Laura didn't know what to say. "Well, when are you coming back?" "I'll be back in two days!" Abigail replied.

"Well, we'll talk about it when you come back!" Laura said.

"Mm!" Abigail hung up.

Jacob was also at home. When he saw Laura hang up the phone, he immediately walked over and asked, "Mom, how is it?" "She said she would talk to us about it when she came back!" Laura said flatly.

Laura was very impressed with Leo and even arranged for them to meet that day. But she did not expect Liam to take Abigail away, and she didn't know how to explain to Leo.

She didn't expect this to happen now.

Laura didn't know what to say.

Stephen was reading the newspaper. "Let's wait until Abigail comes back. What those gossip reporters said is dubious!"

"Dad, it's not about the reporters anymore. Liam has already admitted to the reporters that they are married!" Jacob said anxiously.

If Abigail were married to Leo, Jacob would be more relieved.

But now she was married to Liam.

Abigail had already made sacrifices once in order to help her family. Jacob didn't want her to be hurt again! Seeing Jacob in such a hurry, Stephen looked up, and a trace of doubt flashed in his eyes. "What's wrong?" "That bastard will hurt Abigail. Dad, have you forgotten what he did to Abigail?" Jacob said angrily.

Back then, there was a lot of gossip about Liam. The company of the Swifts was still in its infancy, and there was no progress.

the Swifts had to rely on the Joneses. Every time Jacob saw Liam's scandal, he could feel Abigail's sadness. He wanted to rush over and pick Abigail up from that house.

It was not easy for Abigail to divorce Liam. Abigail was now free, but she was with Liam again. Jacob was inexplicably angry and sad.

Looking at Jacob, Stephen frowned. "Then what do you want to do?"

"It must be Liam who threatened Abigail!"

"Anyway, it's all Abigail's business now. What if they really want to get back together? Jacob, you'd better calm down before knowing the truth. After all, this is your sister's business. Let's wait until she comes back!" Stephen said in a low and serious voice.

Hearing this, Jacob paused.

He knew that he was emotionally overwhelmed. After a while, he nodded. "I see!" Jacob picked up the key on the table and left.

Laura looked at him and asked quickly, "Where are you going?"

"I'm going out for a walk..." With that, Jacob opened the door and left.

Stephen was still sitting there, looking pensive.

Chapter 464

With rumors flying around and Senior Mrs. Jones still in a coma, Abigail had no choice but to return to the Swifts.

Naturally, they were happy to see Abigail come back.

However, they wanted to know what was happening because of those overwhelming rumors.

“Abigail, tell me what’s going on!” Laura asked, her eyes fixed on Abigail.

Looking at Laura, Abigail thought a while before explaining everything.

After listening to Abigail’s explanation, Laura and Stephen looked at each other and frowned. “So, you two haven’t remarried yet?”

Abigail shook her head. “No, he said that to protect me!” According to Abigail’s words, they also knew she wanted to protect Liam.

Jacob sat aside, listening to Abigail’s current words and staring at her expression. He felt something was wrong.

“Is that all?” Jacob asked in an indifferent tone.

Hearing this, Abigail fell her gaze on him. “Yes!”

“Are you two together now?” Jacob asked directly.

Abigail thought about it before answering him, "I don't know if we're together, but now I want to fight with him!" At this time, she would not abandon him!

This sentence shocked Stephen and Laura while Jacob showed displeasure.

"Abigail, have you forgotten what that bastard did to you before? Why do you still want to be with him now?" Before Stephen and Xu Wei Yin could say anything, Jacob involuntarily spoke first.

Disapproval showed up in Jacob's mind when he heard Abigail say it herself!

No, it was anger!

Abigail sat there calmly and looked at Jacob's angry face, and she knew that he was worried about her. Only after Jacob finished her words did she speak.

"Two years ago, we just had a political marriage, and I had no feelings for him. He is free to do whatever he wants. Besides, it was me who lied to him first two years ago. I didn't owe anything to him, so neither did he!" Abigail said calmly.

Jacob became even more dissatisfied when he heard that Abigail was biased in Liam. "Abigail, did you lose your mind?" "No, I didn't. Jacob, I know better than you about this matter!" Abigail said affirmatively.

"Every time I was in trouble, he saved me even though he could sacrifice his life. I can feel that!" Abigail said while fixing her eyes on them. She didn't want to make her family unhappy because of her relationship with Liam, but this was the truth. She had to let them know it."

These words shocked them and made them in a daze.

It was indeed the truth.

Liam risked his life to save Abigail time and time again. It was really not something that ordinary people could do!

Laura looked at Abigail, then turned her eyes on Jacob. “Jacob, this is your sister’s business. Let her handle it herself!” “Mom, you must know what kind of person Liam is. Sooner or later, Abigail will be hurt if she is still with him!” Jacob shouted.

Jacob’s shouting startled Stephen and Laura.

Jacob’s reaction was a little unusual.

At this moment, Abigail stood up and stared at Jacob. “Jacob, if you are right, I’m willing to suffer any consequence!”

Abigail said this as if she didn’t want anyone to say anything wrong about Liam.

Chapter 465

Abigail did not want to hear anyone speak ill of Liam, even if it was her brother, Jacob.

Staring at Abigail’s determined look, Jacob was so angry that he didn’t know what to say. He looked straight into the clear eyes of Abigail, who was also looking at him. Their eyes met for a while.

In the end, Jacob gave in.

He glanced at Abigail, then picked up the key from the table, and rushed out.

Abigail stood there and breathed a sigh of relief.

At this moment, Laura's sight shuttled from Abigail to Jacob who rushed out. She sighed and didn't know what to say.

Stephen gazed at Abigail and patted the sofa. "Abigail, take the seat!"

Abigail sat down obediently.

Laura sat opposite them.

"Abigail, are you serious about what you just said?" Stephen looked at Abigail and asked.

Abigail nodded seriously after pondering the question.

Stephen thought for a moment and then nodded. "Well, if you're serious, then I will respect your choice on only one condition. No matter what happens, you have to tell your family because we're always behind you!" Stephen said.

Hearing this, Abigail was astonished, for his words were completely beyond her anticipation.

After thinking for a while, she reached out and hugged Stephen. "Thank you, dad!"

Touched by Abigail's actions, Stephen sighed with emotion. "Don't blame your brother. He is just afraid that you would get hurt!" Abigail shook her head. "I won't blame him. He is doing it for my own good. I understand that!"

"That's good if you understand it!" Stephen reached out and patted her.

Abigail returned with a smile. At this moment, Laura was watching them silently by the side, at a loss for words.

Although Liam was not her ideal son-in-law, none of them could change Abigail's choice of fiancé.

Abigail walked towards Laura. "Mom, I'm sorry to make you worried!"

"Silly girl, it's common for a mom to worry about her child. No matter what your decision is, your dad and I will respect your choice, but I don't want to see that you end up in disappointment. I hope that your choice is right!"

"Thank you, mom!" Abigail said as she reached out and hugged Laura.

Laura cried with happiness. "Silly child, why is it that I feel like you're going to get married?"

Hearing these words, Abigail smiled.

Standing beside, Stephen also smiled.

"By the way, Senior Mrs. Jones is injured. Shall we pay a visit to her?" Laura turned to Stephen and asked.

Stephen thought for a moment and nodded. "What about tomorrow?"

"Okay, I'll ask May to prepare something for us!"

Stephen nodded in agreement.

Gazing at her dad and mom, Abigail gave a slight smile. She knew that they were doing this for her good.

Despite the difficulty in the process, she felt much better deep down inside.

While she was in the car, she received a call from Liam, "How is it? Have you got back?" "Yes, I'm on the way," Abigail said emotionlessly.

Hearing Abigail's uninterested voice, Liam asked, "Are you unhappy?" "No."

"Is it because of me?" Liam asked directly.

"No." Abigail denied.

However, as she repeated the word, Liam had some growing concern.

"Where are you now?" Before Liam could speak, Abigail asked directly.

"I'm at the company."

"Okay, I see."

“What’s the matter?”

“I’ll go and see you!” Abigail said.

The Novel will be updated daily. Come back and continue reading tomorrow, everyone!

Chapter 466

She hung up the phone.

Liam frowned, looking at his phone in confusion.

He felt a little strange.

After hanging up the phone, she told the driver. “Sir, please go to the Powerline Group. Can you drive faster?”

When she arrived at the company, Liam had finished his meeting. Since he couldn’t get through to her, he went downstairs to wait for her.

She saw Liam after she got out of the car.

And her heart was warmed by Liam's action. An indescribable feeling rushed in her heart.

When he saw her get out of the car, he walked straight towards her and asked worriedly, "What's wrong?" Seeing his worried look, she looked straight at him.

He touched her face gently and frowned, his deep eyes filled with worry. "Unhappy?"

She hugged him in no time.

Liam was befuddled and didn't know where he could put his hand.

"What's wrong?" He asked in a low voice, his hand landing on her.

"Nothing. I want to hug you!" She said earnestly. Coming out of her house, she especially wanted to see him.

Hearing this, he curled his mouth. It was the only comfort he felt today.

He smiled and looked at her. "You came all the way to hug me?"

She did not say anything. It was tacit consent.

He slowly pushed her away, his fingers lifting her chin up and looking at her affectionately. "You know what? Your words moved me a lot."

Without giving Abigail a chance to speak, he hooked her lips and kissed her.

She did not push him away. Even though they were at the entrance of the company, she did not want to miss this moment.

She hugged him and held his clothes tightly.

He slowly let go of her after a long time and his thin lips pursed into a smile. "Do you know what I'm thinking now?" "I don't know."

"I want you!"

She suddenly became dumbfounded.

It was a rogue sentence, but he said it seriously as if he wanted to eat.

"Mr. Jones, can you not take this for granted?" She looked at him, her heart blossoming.

She felt relaxed to be with him.

He smiled. "Why not? This is my natural right!"

She rolled her eyes at him.

At this moment, he reached out his hands and hugged her.

"What the hell happened? Did you get scolded?" He asked.

Her eye beads turned a circle playfully and nodded. "Yes, my family is not satisfied with you, alas."

She deliberately sighed.

That expression was pretty cute.

Hearing this, Liam frowned. "Dissatisfied? Which aspect are they dissatisfied with?"

"What do you think? You abandoned their daughter before. How could they be satisfied with you!" She looked at him and said.

Liam frowned while she was talking. 'How could someone not be satisfied with a great guy like me?'

Chapter 467

"Why didn't you explain for me?" Liam asked.

Abigail shook her head.

"After the thing works out, I'll go there and explain myself" Liam said seriously.

Liam's expression amused Abigail.

"Are you kidding me?"

“No, I’m not!”

Liam pondered deeply and said, “To be honest, that makes sense. After all, many unpleasant things have happened before. No wonder they have a problem with me.”

Abigail looked at him and said nothing.

“But I’m sure they will be satisfied with me!” Liam said, staring at Abigail with a glimmer of confidence in his eyes.

Abigail chuckled, looking at him, “Mr. Jones, why are you so confident?”

“I’m born to be confident!” “Narcissistic!” Abigail was amused.

At this moment, Liam suddenly held her in his arms and said, “Tell me, why do you come here? Why did you want to hug me?” Liam looked into her eyes, asking. Liam put his hands around Abigail’s waist, fixing his eyes on her long and thick eyelashes.

Abigail froze. After a while, she answered shyly, “No reason.”

“If there’s no reason, why did you hug me? You come to see me, why? Miss Swift, I want to know the truth!” Liam looked into her eyes.

Abigail didn’t know how to answer. Instantly, she looked up at Liam and blurted, “I wanted to do that!” “Abigail, are you in love with me?” Liam asked.

Abigail pressed her lips together, remaining silent. She didn’t know if she had fallen in love with Liam. Abigail wanted to see him at that moment, so she came here.

At the thought of that, Abigail felt embarrassed.

Seeing that Abigail didn't make any response, Liam took the opportunity and asked, "Your silence means yes, right?"

Abigail didn't make any response.

"Well, in this case, I'm officially announcing that I'm your boyfriend from now on!"

Liam was afraid that Abigail would refuse him, so he continued after finishing his last sentence.

Abigail looked at him in surprise. For some reason, she burst into laughter and reached out her hands to hug Liam.

Liam also held Abigail in his arms. At this moment, he was satisfied.

He was also grateful.

Although they had wasted a few years, Liam was grateful that they had fallen in love with each other at the right time.

It would all be worth it.

They held the same position for a while. Suddenly, Liam got off Abigail and looked at her. "I'll send you back." "But you're going to have a video conference."

"I'll do it another time!" Liam answered. Staying together with Abigail was the most important thing.

“No!” Abigail stopped him.

“I’ll go back myself. You can go in and go back to your work!”

“I’m worried about you. Let me send you back, please,” Liam insisted.

Abigail looked at him and said smilingly, “Mr. Jones, I used to be alone before I met you. Don’t underestimate me!”

“It’s different now. You didn’t meet me at that time. Now that I’m your boyfriend now, I won’t leave you alone!” Liam looked at her and said word by word.

His words warmed Abigail’s heart.

The next second, Liam pulled her away.

Abigail didn’t stop him this time. As Liam held her hand, he took out his cell phone and made a call.

Chapter 468

“Dan, cancel the video conference tonight.” Arriving at the garage, they got in the car. As soon as they got in, Liam gave Abigail a deep kiss on the lips.

Seeing that Abigail did not refuse, he let out a satisfied smile and started the car.

Sometimes, happiness was by your side. It depended on whether you would choose or not and whether you had the courage to pursue it.

It was night.

It was a dark night, as if endless thick ink was heavily smeared on the sky, even without little faint light of the stars.

The street was like a calm river, winding in the shadow of dense trees. Only the leaves rustling in the wind and rain seemed to recall the bustle of the day.

At this moment, a car sped along the broad road to a dilapidated house and suddenly made a harsh sound of parking.

David sat in the car while Olive sat in the passenger seat. She turned to look at him. "Wait here. I'll go in first!" As she spoke, she was about to get out of the car.

However, he reached out and grabbed her wrist. "I'll be with you!"

"No, I just want to settle it peacefully with him. If I can't, I'll call you!" Olive looked at David and said seriously.

Hearing this, he only nodded helplessly. "Call me if you need anything!"

"Okay!" Olive answered, pushed the door open and got out of the car.

He sat in the car and watched her walk in, feeling uneasy.

As soon as Olive walked in, her expression immediately became much colder.

She stood there waiting after a knock on the door.

She had given him the key to hide in her apartment, so now it was much more convenient to come here.

Frank was inside. When he heard someone knocking on the door, he immediately leaned over.

“Who is it?”

“It’s me!” Olive stood at the door and answered lazily, without any fear.

Hearing Olive’s voice, Frank slowly opened the door. First, he opened it a crack. When he saw that she was alone outside, he opened the door and let her in.

“You’re finally here!” When he saw her, he said impatiently, “I thought you were hiding again!”

“I can’t always hide!” Olive said calmly, her beautiful face full of indifference.

“It’s good that you know!” Then, he looked at her and said, “How’s it going?”

Olive lazily took something out of her bag and put it directly on the table. “The ticket to Hong Kong at three o’clock in the morning, at the Lee’an Pier!”

Hearing this, Frank immediately walked over and smiled when he saw the ticket.

“I hope you won’t come back after you get there!” Olive said.

“You can rest assured that I don’t want to go back to this damn place!” As he spoke, he looked at her. “What about the ten million!”

Speaking of this, after a pause, Olive took out a check from her bag and handed it to him.

When he saw the check, Frank frowned. "Olive, are you kidding me? You knew I was leaving at three in the morning, but now you give me a check. Where can I cash it?"

Chapter 469

"That's your own business. Do you expect me to bring ten million dollars in cash here?" Olive said.

"You..." Frank glared at her.

"Ten million dollars is a big sum. If I get the cash myself, the police must notice that. Do you think I can get away then?" He asked with a cold voice.

"Still your business. I keep my promise and give you ten million dollars. Then I am even with you. Give me the voice recording!"

Hearing this, he realized that it was her trick.

A sneer appeared on her face.

"Olive, it is your trick, right?" He asked, his piercing eyes on her face.

"If so, I would have sent someone to kill you. Why do I bother so much?" She replied.

What a big joke of the talk! He burst into laughter. "Kill me?"

Then he put on a grim expression. "You dare not to do that because you're afraid that the voice recording will leak. Olive, if there is no ten million in cash, you won't have it. If you push me too hard, then I can't ensure where it will end!" A sarcastic smile showed on his face slowly.

Hearing it, she frowned and said, "Are you threatening me?"

"You broke your promise first, and I have prepared myself for such an occasion since I know you well!"

"You..."

She kept her eyes fixed on him, thinking he would not compromise so easily.

Chapter 470

If anyone found this out, everything Olive did would be in vain...

Looking at her determined look, David did not change her mind. After thinking for a while, he said to her, "Okay, stop talking now.

Conserve your strength..."

"Okay!" Olive nodded and began to rest on the back of the car.

Who would have thought that she would fall into a deep slumber...

When she woke up again, it was more than two hours later.

She lay on the bed and slowly opened her eyes.

David was standing right beside her. Seeing her wake up, he immediately said, "You're finally awake."

Olive rolled her eyes and looked around. Then she reached out tentatively and felt the wound on her abdomen. She frowned, "Did you bandage it for me?"

"I have a friend. She's an unregistered doctor and she bandaged you!" After hearing this, Olive frowned again, "Is she reliable?"

After all, it was a big deal this time. If anyone knew about this, they would go to jail or even be sentenced.

Looking at her worried look, David said, "She's reliable, so don't worry. Nothing will happen!" It wasn't long since Olive met David, but she trusted him and his ability to handle things.

Only then did Olive nod in relief. If that man was an unregistered doctor, then she did not dare to tell others, or else she would lose her job.

Thinking of this, Olive suddenly remembered something, "Oh, where's my phone?"

As she spoke, she looked around for her phone.

Seeing her so anxious that she almost damaged the wound, David took out her phone from behind and gave it to her.

Not until Olive saw the phone did she smile in relief.

All this was worth it.

Then, she turned on her phone and looked for the recording, but she couldn't find it anywhere!

She frowned and her expression began to turn unhappy.

She searched all the documents on her phone, but she just couldn't find it.

She grew impatient.

"How could this happen?"

Looking at Olive, David frowned slightly, "What are you looking for?" Olive was paused and said, "Recording!"

"What recording?" David continued to ask.

"I told you before, it was the recording he had been threatening me with, but I can't find it now!" Olive said anxiously. She searched through all the apps, but there was no such recording.

Hearing this, David was bemused. Then he reached out and took the phone from her hand to help her.

A minute later, he said, "There's no recording on this phone at all!"

“What?” Olive asked in disbelief.

“There’s no recording on this phone at all!” David repeated.

Olive was bewildered.

Was Frank lying to her?

Did he say that on purpose to threaten her?

Or was it just deleted?

No, that was impossible!

Frank wouldn’t delete it. It was the only evidence that could guarantee his safety. He couldn’t delete it!
Then why was the recording gone?

While Olive was still wondering, David watched her and said, “Maybe he just said that to scare you!”
Hearing what David said, Olive looked up at him. With things as such, she just couldn’t find it!

It was useless to talk more.
