

Chapter 1651

Fade was even more curious. He asked worriedly, "Susie, what on earth happened? How could this happen?"

"My father..." Susie was about to speak when Olivia's voice suddenly rose as she said, "Miss Song, this is confidential. Be careful with your words."

Immediately, Susie did not dare to speak.

Fade glared at her. Although Olivia was suppressed by his momentum, her eyes were still determined, and she had no intention of retreating.

Seeing this, he knew that this was not as simple as he thought. Thus, he did not continue to force them. He directly took out his phone and dialed Baldrick's number.

Baldrick was the deputy director of the Stealth Team, who was also subcontracted to the military. He should know what had happened.

They got straight to the point when the line was connected. Fade directly asked, "Baldrick, what happened to Susie and Garvet? Why are there military people here?"

After hearing his words, Baldrick fell silent for a moment and then said in a low voice, "Fade, you're back. What I can tell you is that something big has happened but this is all that I can tell you now."

18:42

"When can you tell me?" Fade was a little anxious.

"Fade, don't worry. I will ask General Xu about this. This mission is led by General Xu himself. I'll let you know the details the moment he grants me the permission."

Hearing this, Fade's heart skipped a beat and he was dumbfounded. The General Xu whom Baldrick mentioned was of course none other than the number one person in the entire military, Jaguar Xu.

The fact that Jaguar was in charge of this matter proved that it was very serious.

At the thought of this, Fade calmed down and replied, "Then thank you, Baldrick."

He hung up the phone and sat quietly for a few minutes. At this time, Olivia's cell phone rang, and she answered the call. She immediately stood up and her expression and tone became particularly solemn when she heard what the person at the other end of the line had to say. "Yes, yes, as you command. Please wait a moment, Chief."

After that, she strode over and handed the phone to Fade. "Chief wants to talk to you, Mr. Chen."

He took the phone and a deep voice echoed from the other end of the line. "Hello, this is Jaguar. Regarding Professor Song, I've already granted them permission to tell you the details. If you are free, feel free to come down to the laboratory and take a look."

"Yes, thank you, Chief!" Fade replied, and then the call ended.

He handed the phone to Olivia and looked at her with keen eyes.

She coughed slightly and glanced at Susie. Then, she turned to Fade and said, "Mr. Chen, we were told to protect Susie and monitor her."

18:42

"The reason why we are doing this is because Susie's father, Garvet, has committed treason, and he is now wanted nationally."

Upon hearing this, Fade could not help but be shocked. "Professor Song is treasonous? That's impossible. Was there a misunderstanding?"

"We hope so too, but this is the truth."

"How could it be? How could Professor Song commit treason? What the hell is going on?"

Olivia shook her head and said, "We were just told to do our job, so we don't know the details."

He looked at the sullen-faced Susie and knew that she was also greatly shocked. The reason why she had been out of sight recently was that she was being monitored.

Thinking of this, Fade couldn't sit still. He stood up and said, "No, I'm going to the laboratory. I want to find out what's going on. It's impossible that Professor Song committed treason."

When he was about to head out, he glanced at Susie. He thought for a moment, then reached out his hand and pulled her up. "Susie, let's go together."

"Mr. Chen, Miss Susie Song is not authorized to leave. You..." Olivia quickly responded.

Fade said in a low voice, "I will personally request for her authorization from General Xu."

The moment he brought up General Xu, Olivia froze in place. She was taken aback for a moment and then said, "We have a car. Let's drive the two of you there."

"Okay!" Fade nodded.

18:42

The four of them went into a car and drove toward the laboratory.

Arriving at the laboratory again, Fade's mood was a bit strange. Jaguar should have known in advance that Susie had come here with him and she had already received the authorization.

After getting the authorization, Susie and Fade went to the laboratory.

The second time he came to the lab, it was still busy and lively. However, compared to his previous time here, everyone seemed a bit more dignified, and the atmosphere was a little more solemn. Especially when Susie entered, many researchers stared at her with strange eyes.

Fade escorted her into Jaguar's office.

"Take a seat." Seeing the two of them enter, Jaguar ordered directly.

Fade and Susie sat down, and then he went straight to the point and asked directly, "Chief, I want to know what on earth happened. Why did Professor Song suddenly commit treason?"

Her face was also filled with confusion and anxiety.

Jaguar's face was serious and there was no change in his expression. After a moment of silence, he glanced at her and asked, "You are the daughter of Professor Song, aren't you?"

"Yes."

Jaguar continued, "I believe that you are unaware of your father's job. On the surface, he claims that he is an academician in a university in Capital City, but actually, he is the chief scientist of a project developing a genetic enhancing medicine for the military. This is considered a top-secret task of our country."

Upon hearing this, Susie's face was full of surprise.

She knew that her father was doing scientific research, and he had some achievements in the industry. However, she did not expect her father's research to be so important and confidential, even involving the military.

For a moment, she was too dumbfounded to say anything.

Concurrently, Jaguar continued, "Some time ago, we found Fade and asked him to assist Professor Song in the research on genetic enhancing."

At the mention of this, Susie was even more surprised. She glanced at Fade and said, "You and my father are colleagues. You have known each other for a long time. How..."

He made an apologetic gesture and explained, "Susie, my first time meeting your dad was when I was at your house. Later, I took part in this project and learned that Mr. Song was also involved. However, because of the nature of the work that requires confidentiality, I couldn't..."

She nodded in understanding.

Jaguar's face darkened at this moment, and his expression seemed more serious than before.

Fade and Susie also took a deep breath and their expressions became serious. This was because they knew that they would have to get to the point soon.

Chapter 1652

Sure enough, Jaguar continued in a deep voice, "With Fade's assistance, we received promising results. Professor Song also got a breakthrough with his help."

"About a month ago, Professor Song successfully developed the first batch of gene-strengthening liquid. After experimenting with animals, the results were very promising. After a human trial, the medicine was finally approved and it could be manufactured."

At this point, he paused and said in a deep voice, "But at this crucial moment, Professor Song suddenly fled the laboratory with a sample, went abroad overnight, and rushed to Jopeno."

"What!" Hearing this, Fade and Susie cried out in surprise.

"How is this possible? Why did Professor Song do this? There's no reason for him to do this." Fade's face was full of disbelief.

Jaguar continued, "We didn't know the reason at first, and we also didn't believe that Professor Song would do such a thing. However, then we investigated his background and we found that he had opened an overseas bank account three years ago and every half a year, the people in Jopeno would transfer money over into his account. Based on this data, we inferred that Professor Song took the gene-strengthening liquid and fled there."

"That's impossible. My dad wouldn't do such a thing!" Susie was emotional.

Fade also felt that it was impossible. He couldn't help but ask, "General Xu, I think that there's more to it. Professor Song is not short on cash. I don't think he would commit treason because of money."

"Also, the gene-strengthening liquid is a top-secret of the country. It should have been kept somewhere secretive. How would someone like Professor Song be capable of carrying the samples out of the country?"

Because of Fade's doubts, Jaguar muttered in a low voice, "After the incident, we investigated the forces guarding the specimens and found that there was nothing wrong with them. The bodyguards sent to protect Professor Song were from the Zhao family. They were all Heaven Level martial artists. Ordinary people were no match for them."

"However, according to the bodyguard that was sent to protect him at that time, someone had contacted Professor Song and they worked together. Thus, only then was he able to flee."

"The person in charge of protecting Professor Song is the Zhao family?" Fade could not help but frown.

Jaguar continued, "Fade, I know that you have a feud with the Zhao family, but they are the imperial guard family and have been responsible for guarding the top leaders of the country for decades. The Zhao family's force is quite promising and this is also why we asked them to be in charge of guarding Professor Song. Therefore, we sent people from the Zhao family to protect him, but unexpectedly..."

Fade shook his head and said, "I still don't believe that Professor Song would collude with the Jopeno people and betray the country. I don't believe that he is such a person."

Susie nodded and said, "My father is by no means someone like that."

Jaguar sighed softly and said, "I don't want to believe it either, but all the evidence points to Professor Song committing treason."

18:42

After that, he was silent.

Fade was silent for a moment. Then, he stared at Jaguar and said firmly, "General Xu, is there anything I can do?"

Fade thought that a big shot like Jaguar could personally grant his authorization and even take time out to explain it in detail to him. This was not as simple as it seemed.

Sure enough, when Jaguar heard his words, he said, "This matter is of great importance. It relates to national security and decades of research of the country's gene-strengthening liquid, and it also affects Professor Song's personal reputation."

"Thus, I hope that you will help in investigating this matter."

"How should I investigate?"

"We will certainly still carry out the investigation here but our officials cannot enter Jopeno. Thus, we will send an investigation team there to enter the country as ordinary civilians to secretly investigate Professor Song and bring him back to the country with the gene-strengthening liquid.

"Also, I hope that you will join this secret investigation team." Jaguar stared at him.

Fade nodded without any hesitation and agreed, "Alright. When will the team depart and what should I prepare?"

"They will depart the day after tomorrow and if you are free tomorrow, why not come and get to know the team and they will brief you on the itinerary."

"I see. I'll be there on time tomorrow."

After chatting for a moment longer, even though Jaguar didn't make a statement saying that Professor Song was innocent, it could be seen that he also didn't believe that he would commit treason. Therefore, he asked Fade to find out the truth as soon as possible and prove Professor Song's innocence.

After exiting the lab, Fade and Susie returned home.

Back at home, sitting on the sofa, she was in a trance. It seemed like she was still puzzled. Everything that had happened that day was completely beyond her expectation. Especially the military secrets, treason case, and big shots like Mr. Xu. She had never come in contact with any of these but out of a sudden, she was told the truth in one sitting, thus it was a little hard for her to believe it.

Fade comforted her and promised her that he would find Garvet and bring him back to the country safely. Fade would prove his innocence.

The next day, he met up with the rest of his team members. After that, he returned home, told his wife about his plans, and spent the night with her.

The next morning, he arrived at the airport with his luggage.

At the airport, Fade found his tour group. They were to take a seven-day trip to Jopeno, the island country. In order to hide their identity, the military claimed that this team of five people were tourists.

Among the tour group, he saw several members of his investigation team. They glanced at each other. After confirming that everyone was here, he didn't have much contact with them.

One of the reasons was to reduce suspicion. Another reason was that he had nothing to talk to them about.

The leader of the investigation team was called Filex. He was a martial artist in the early stage of Heaven Level, and he was from the Zhao family. Because of the previous conflicts, the Zhao family didn't get along with Fade, thus they didn't treat him well. As for the remaining three, one was Filex's confidant, and naturally, he and Fade were not close. The other two came from the military, led by a member of the inspection team named Eilert, who was responsible for easing the situation between Fade and Filex.

They didn't talk much. Each of them took their luggage and waited to board like ordinary tourists.

Chapter 1653

Fade and his team were fortunate that the plane took off on time.

When the plane finally stopped ascending, the cabin started to be lively.

Because most of the people on this plane were tourists and most of them were friends, they started to chat with each other and it was very lively.

Unexpectedly, Fade was assigned a seat next to a member of his inspection team.

The person sitting next to him was Eliert's subordinate, a woman named Cindy Huang. She had short hair and a round face. It made her look extremely cute with those big bright eyes of hers.

If he was not told in advance that she was part of the military, it was hard to assume so based on her appearance.

After all, they were on the same team, thus Fade took the initiative to greet her, "Hi, I am Fade. Let's have each other's back these few days."

Cindy smiled gently and shook hands with him. She nodded and said, "I'm Cindy. I'll have to thank you in advance, Mr. Chen."

"Don't be so polite. Relax," he said with a smile and chatted with her for a while. Then, they couldn't find any more topics to continue the conversation.

Cindy was used to being in the military. In addition, she was more of an introvert, therefore it was harder to start a conversation with her.

In this regard, Fade smiled and stopped the conversation. He shut his eyes and rested.

However, he did not have the chance to rest at all because on the other side, there was a young man who was dressed in fashionable clothes with fluttering long hair.

Opposite the aisle was a young girl sitting in the window seat. She probably had a close relationship with that man. Once the plane stopped ascending, she ran over to the man's side and excitedly flipped out her travelogue.

"Hogward, look, we must go to Deer Park. The deer there are just way too cute. We must go there."

"And this hot spring hotel; I've seen it online. It seems extremely relaxing. We're going there too!"

"This is the actual location from the film, Slam Dunk. This railway is a classic to many people. We have to take pictures, and when we get there, I want to do a livestream."

"And the cherry blossom road, it's too beautiful. I must change into a dress and take more photos. I must livestream at this place too so that I can get more fans."

.....

"Sure Winola, let's do that. I'm a professional photographer, and I'll definitely get some good shots. I promise you that when you return, you'll definitely be famous and become an internet celebrity." Hogward listened to her requests and he agreed to everything she said. Therefore, this made her very pleased.

Hearing this, Fade couldn't help but complain in his heart, "This girl is too naive. The entire trip has been planned by the travel agent. She wants to go everywhere. This doesn't seem really possible."

As a result, Hogward obliged her. He was either full of lies or he was just being perfunctory. Regardless of what it was, Fade didn't have a great impression of him.

However, he was not a busybody. Besides, Winola must be an online celebrity trying to do her livestreams and it was assumed that both of them were willing. Thus, he minded his own business.

After a lively moment, Cindy seemed a little exhausted. She packed up and went back to her seat to have a rest.

Meanwhile, Hogward turned his gaze and kept staring at Fade.

Although Fade shut his eyes, he could still feel the man's gaze. Of course, he knew that the man was not looking at him, but at Cindy, who was beside him.

Sure enough, the long-haired man gently patted Fade's shoulder and said, "Bro, let's change seats!"

Fade widened his eyes, glanced at Hogward, and said faintly, "No."

"Bro, everyone is here for fun. Please do me a favor!"

Fade's eyes turned angry. "I said, I won't change seats. If you continue to pester me, I'll call the stewardess."

"You..." This time, Hogward did not insist.

However, he did not give up, but started talking to Cindy across Fade. "Beauty, hello, my name is Hogward. Did you come to Jopeno alone?"

Cindy was not interested in conversing, but she thought of the task her superior gave her, that she should pretend to be an ordinary person as much as possible so as not to reveal her identity as part of the military.

She had no choice but to squeeze out a fake smile and said faintly, "Yes!"

Seeing this, Hogward was even more excited, and there was a flash of excitement in his eyes. He stared at Cindy as if his eyes were about to shoot lightning.

"Beauty, what's your name? Do you like Jopeno cartoons? Your dress has a touch of Jopeno culture in it!" He continued.

Hearing this, the smile on her face couldn't help but stiffen. She was not the slightest bit interested in cartoons. It was her superiors who prepared this outfit for her.

However, from other people's point of view, Cindy was dressed in a gorgeous Jopeno dress, and she had a lovely and young baby-face. It was natural that people assumed that she was a fanatical Jopeno cartoon fan.

She didn't know any of this. Hence, she just forced out a smile and remained silent.

To Hogword, this was a shy smile. Therefore, he became more excited. "Beauty, in fact, I am also considered one of you people."

"I am a photographer, and I am kind of famous. I have taken pictures for many people. They are all online celebrities with at least one million online fans, and they are all doing very well."

"Gorgeous, if you are interested, I can take a few photos for you. With that gorgeous appearance of yours, you will be an Internet celebrity in the blink of an eye. Then you will have tons of online fans."

Cindy knew that if she did not refuse, this guy would not stop. She could not help but say, "Thank you! But there's no need. I don't want to be an online celebrity."

18:42

"Gorgeous, it's fine if you don't want to be an internet celebrity but may I take a few photos? I'm a professional photographer. I'll take photos for you and you can consider it a souvenir. After all, we don't go on vacations very often, so why not grab this opportunity when you can?" Hogward was still trying to persuade her.

Cindy replied, "Well, thank you, but no, I don't want to take pictures."

"Gorgeous, don't worry. I'll take pictures of you for free. It's free," he continued.

She was a little frustrated. If she was back in the military, she would have hit this man, but obviously, she couldn't do that at the moment.

Chapter 1654

Seeing that Cindy couldn't bear it anymore, Fade opened his eyes, glared at Hogward, and uttered lividly, "Are you done? I'm trying to sleep. You're chattering. Shut up right now."

After being scolded by Fade, Hogward's face darkened and he said unhappily, "This is a public place. I have freedom of speech. You don't have the right to shut me up."

"I don't have the right to shut you up?" Fade didn't waste time arguing with him. He directly grabbed Hogward's wrist and slightly squeezed it.

Suddenly, the powerful force made him feel an irresistible pain. Fade almost pinched off his wrist. Suddenly, his face turned red and he quickly said, "Ouch, it hurts. Let go of me. Let go of me, quickly..."

Fade snorted and finally let go of his hand. Hogward suddenly covered his wrist and grimaced. He couldn't wait to curse at him, but when he saw Fade's livid eyes, he was suddenly scared out of his wits and did not dare to say anything.

Hogward was silent for the rest of the trip. Even when the plane landed, he dared not make a huge fuss.

They got off the plane and exited the airport. It was almost noon. The tour team went straight back to the hotel that had been booked long ago. They had lunch together in the hotel and took a break for two hours. In the afternoon, they went to the first tourist spot.

This was the usual travel itinerary of a travel group. Fade and his inspection team were not going to follow them throughout the trip. Thus, they went and told the tour guide and left the hotel by themselves.

Later, the five people regrouped in a hotel on the other side of the city. Without any rest, Filex, the group leader, immediately called for a meeting.

The city that they were in was Osko City. This city was among the top three most advanced cities in Jopeno and the reason why they were here was because Garvet took a plane from Capital City and landed here.

Their next mission was of course to figure out his current whereabouts.

The crucial thing was that Fade and his team had very limited information. The most useful information they got was that a Jopeno man escorted Garvet to the country.

Fade and his team had to bring that man back with just a photograph of him.

At the meeting, Filex divided them into two groups. The first group was to secretly contact the intelligence agents of their county that were planted here, to see if they knew anything about this. The second group was to investigate every inch of Osko City.

Without asking for any opinions or votes, Filex directly arranged for Eiler and himself to be in the first group, and thus, Fade and Cindy would be in the second group.

Filex was the captain of the team this time, and Fade was under his command. He was able to endure this kind of job and he didn't complain about it.

After all, no matter what job he was given, it was to investigate Garvet and the genetic-enhancing liquid.

18:42

Compared to the first task of meeting intelligence agents, the second task was obviously more complicated and tedious; it was also harder.

Osko City was massive. Just depending on a two-person team to find the whereabouts of Garvet and that man was hard. It could be said that they were looking for a needle in a haystack.

Fortunately, Cindy was very professional. After accepting the task, she quickly came up with a plan.

Because this was serious, after Garvet and the man landed on Jopeno, it was quite impossible for them to contact the government. Therefore, they started investigating the underground organizations first.

On the other hand, judging by that man's appearance, regardless of whether Garvet had really committed treason, he was in this unfamiliar place, so the best course of action was for him to follow that man in Jopeno.

Based on these two points, Fade and Cindy had a clear idea of what they had to do. They began to investigate that man and the organization he was working for.

There were only a few locals who could survive in a foreign underground organization. Fade and Cindy quickly marked out the places they wanted to investigate and they immediately sprinted into action.

The duo's investigation was very simple. They used their strength and marched into the organizations. Then, they asked if they knew anything about Garvet and that man.

In the afternoon, they scanned three areas in succession. Fade and Cindy were not able to find any relevant clues. They also saved some of the people from their home country that were trapped there.

Fade did not go easy on the people who trapped his fellow countrymen. He left them with scars.

By evening, Fade and Cindy arrived at the fourth venue.

This was the last venue that they were going to investigate. It was an entertainment house on a bustling street.

In Jopeno, entertainment houses were legal, but it was not a business ordinary people could start. Without the help of the locals, it was near to impossible to start an entertainment house, let alone a foreigner.

However, seeing that he was able to do this, it could be seen that the man behind this store was quite powerful. The boss of this entertainment house was called Malachi Leu.

However, in Fade's eyes, no matter how powerful he was, he was still no match for Fade.

Fade and Cindy sneaked into the entertainment house and found the boss, Malachi's office, but unfortunately, he was not there.

They had no choice but to leave.

Just as they exited the entertainment house, Fade suddenly stopped.

Upon seeing this, Cindy could not help but ask, "Mr. Chen, what's wrong? Did you find anything?"

Fade shook his head, pointed at a sofa in the store, and said, "Those two people were on the plane."

When Cindy heard this, she glanced over and saw that the two people sitting on the sofa were Hogward, the long-haired photographer who had hit on her on the plane, and Winola, who was very close to him.

However, the two of them, who were very close to each other before, didn't seem very close at this moment.

Winola had an anxious look on her face. Next to her were two buff men in sunglasses. In front of them was a fat man in his fifties who was smoking a cigar. His name was Renold and he puffed the smoke onto Winola's face and said with his eyes wide open, "Take the money!"

Hearing this, she was so scared that she shivered and almost cried. "Th-This is too expensive. I drank only a few glasses of wine. How can you ask for so much?"

When Renold heard this, he slammed his palm on the table and shouted, "What do you mean by it's too expensive? The goods in our store have price tags on them. Look at the menu. White liquor, 100,000 per cup. You drink five cups and you have to pay 500,000. Pay up now!"

Chapter 1655

500,000 of the local currency was equivalent to 300,000 yuan. Obviously, Winola couldn't afford to pay so much money in such a short time. She glanced at Hogward with an anxious look and said, "Hogward, help me, I..."

Hearing this, he spread out his hands and said, "Winola, I have no money either. This..."

Hearing this, she almost burst into tears. She stared at him and said, "But you ordered the wine and you drank it too. You must pay as well."

Hearing this, Hogward's expression suddenly turned livid. "Winola, you can't say that. When we arrived, you said that you would be the one paying. Now, how can you ask me to pay?"

"That's because I didn't expect it to be so expensive. I didn't..." She finally burst into tears.

Renold shouted furiously again, "Stop crying! Crying won't help you get out of this. Quick, pay up."

This time, she was so frightened that she teared up again.

At the same time, Hogward and Renold exchanged a look. Hogward then came over and said to Winola in a gentle manner, "Winola, there's another option for you."

When she heard this, she quickly tugged at his sleeve and asked, "Hogward, what is it?"

He said, "My friend runs a television company. He usually has a ton of movies he wants to shoot, but he is in need of actresses."

18:43

If you are on board then this wine can be considered paid and you might even get some salary out of this."

"This, make a movie. This..." In a trance, Winola noticed that something was wrong.

Hogward continued, "Winola, don't worry. The company is licensed and is a legitimate company. There's nothing for you to worry about. Besides, I'll be with you."

"But..." She was still in a dilemma.

Meanwhile, Renold shouted angrily, "Hogward, I've been patient enough and let you give her an opportunity! If she doesn't agree immediately then forget it. She has to pay for the wine!"

"Well, I don't have money, I..." Hearing the bill, Winola's face suddenly darkened.

Hogward hurriedly urged, "Winola, how about you take a look at the contract first. It's a good deal for you. You can decide after taking a look."

"Well, let me have a look!" She was now persuaded by him.

Then someone brought the contract and put it in front of her.

Hogward turned to the page stating the salary and pointed at the amount to her. He urged, "Look, they are paying a million per movie. For a rookie like you, this salary is considered very good. You just spend a day or two shooting the movie and you can pay the bill and even make some profit out of it. Of course, if you want to continue, you are most welcome to."

She was puzzled the moment she saw the million. Unconsciously, he handed over a pen and urged, "Winola, sign it quickly. If you miss this opportunity, there will be no chance in the future. Hurry up..."

In a daze, she almost signed it. However, at this time, she saw a few lines on the front pages of the contract, and the words "adult movie" were particularly eye-catching.

In an instant, she came back to her senses. Even if she was dumb, she understood now. This so-called television company and this so-called movie was a famous adult film establishment in Jopeno.

If it wasn't an adult film, how could Winola, a foreigner and nobody, be accepted by a local company and even star in a film?

Even she had some pride and she knew that she couldn't afford to star in such a movie or else her entire life would be ruined.

As if she had gone mad, she threw away the pen and shouted, "I won't sign it! I won't take part in this movie. I won't take part in it!"

Seeing this, Hogward quickly persuaded, "Winola, are you serious? It's a great opportunity. If you miss it, it won't happen again. You..."

"Hogward, you are still lying to me. You think I don't know that it is an adult film? You liar, you are all working together and scamming me." She stood up and wanted to leave.

Hogward wanted to persuade her to sign the contract when she was scared and timid, but he didn't expect her to see through their plan at the last second.

Suddenly, he was straightforward. His eyes sank and he said coldly, "Winola, you have to understand the position you are in. If you don't want to take part in the film then you would have to be a waitress and pay off your debts."

When she heard this, she suddenly panicked. The moment she stepped into this establishment, she could see that all the waitresses here were no better than adult film actresses. Therefore, she couldn't accept it.

18:43

"Let me go. Let me go. Otherwise, I'll call the police," she struggled.

Hogward shook his head and glanced at Renold. He stood up and looked at Winola, and said in a low voice, "If you can't pay the bill then you will have to work here and pay off your debts."

"Men, bring her down and make her put on the uniform. Then, send her to room 3 to serve the guests there."

"Yes!" Soon, two burly bodyguards in black came out and were going to take Winola away.

"No, don't, let me go, let me go!" She was so frightened that she cried out, but next to the two strong men, her struggle was obviously useless.

"Stop it!"

Meanwhile, a loud shout suddenly echoed. The rumbling was like thunder, shaking everyone in the room. They were a little taken back and they were frozen in place for a moment.

Renold was the first one to come back to his senses. He turned and saw a man and woman were marching in. "Who are you people?"

Just as he asked this question, Hogward turned his head and was shocked. "It's you!"

"Hogward, do you know them?" Renold asked.

"They were on the same flight that I was on."

Upon hearing this, Renold was relieved and did not think that the two people were any threat. He said, "This is not a place for you to meddle in other people's business. Leave now. I can pretend that nothing has happened."

18:43

However, as soon as he finished speaking, Hogward quickly tugged his clothes, pointed at Cindy who was next to Fade, and blinked his eyes, saying, "Look at that girl. If we can get her into our company then it is going to be a hit."

As soon as the man saw her, his eyes lit up and his face was full of excitement. He rubbed his hands and said, "Yes, such a good find. Top-notch product! This kind of round-faced cutie is very popular in Jopeno. I want her to film a cosplay, adult version, of a famous Jopeno cartoon. It's going to be a hit."

Chapter 1656

At the thought of this, Renold's expression changed. He stared at Cindy with a smile and said, "Gorgeous, I'm running a television company. I don't know if you're interested in starring in one of our films. Our company..."

Although they were not loud, Cindy was an Earth Level martial artist. How could she not hear them?

Hearing that they wanted to trick her into filming an adult movie, she immediately burned with rage. Without any hesitation, she sprinted into action.

In an instant, a punch smashed into Renold's face. He had his face disfigured and he was bleeding profusely.

Hogward was dumbfounded when he saw this. He didn't expect his little cutie on the plane to be a fierce female dinosaur.

As he retreated, he shouted for the bodyguards. "Quick, stop her. Hurry up!"

However, all of these bodyguards were no match for her. After the fight broke out, in an instant, a dozen bodyguards were thrown across the room and all of them lay motionlessly on the ground.

On the other end, Hogward and Renold, who wanted to take advantage of the chaos to escape, were stopped by Fade and they could not move.

"Find a quiet room." Fade was worried that the commotion would be troublesome, thus he ordered Renold.

He quickly took the initiative to show the way to a quiet private room.

18:43

After closing the door, Fade threw Renold and Hogward on the ground. He sat on the sofa, glared at them indifferently, and uttered, "Tell me, what's going on?"

As he spoke, he glanced at Winola, who had followed him in.

Her face was full of anger at the moment, and she glared at Hogward.

Hogward glanced at Fade and said, "Sir, I don't think you're an ordinary tourist. Everyone has their own business. We have our own business to attend to. Why don't I give you some money and you can leave and mind your own business."

A slap rang out.

With a crisp sound, Fade slapped Hogward across the face, which directly turned his cheek red and swollen. He was thrown back by the force and finally, he fell hard to the ground.

"I asked you to tell me the truth. I didn't ask you to talk nonsense with me! If you don't tell me, I'll kill you!"

Feeling the terrifying aura from Fade, Hogward suddenly stopped talking nonsense and quickly told him the entire story.

It turned out that he and Renold were both subordinates of Malachi, the local tyrant of Osko City. On the surface, this was Malachi's biggest business, but in reality, his business was far bigger than that. It also involved the adult movie industry, adult entertainment tourism, high-end escorts, and other underground industries.

Of course, Malachi had business dealings with people in Fade's home country too. At first, he took the opportunity to attract tons of university students with working opportunities, and then he deceived and threatened them. They either stayed in the shop and worked as waitresses to accompany the guests, or shot all kinds of adult movies.

In recent years, as more and more people from Fade's home country went to study abroad in Jopeno, Malachi's business grew exponentially to the point where he was short on staff. The students were wary of him and it was not that easy for him to deceive them anymore.

Therefore, he started coming up with new schemes. They offered free tourist trips and free photo-taking services to lure them over to Jopeno and trick them into working for them.

Hogward was the one responsible for attracting online celebrities that were not very famous over to Jopeno. He tricked them by offering free photo-taking services.

It should be known that many of the girls on the Internet wanted to be online celebrities. Following Hogward's deception, and some cases where online celebrities instantly gained a ton of popularity with a few photographs in Jopeno, Winola was easily deceived.

The moment the women stepped into Jopeno, they were at Hogward's mercy. After all, a timid small woman from a foreign country had no ability to resist at all.

As long as they entered the industry, there was no way out anymore. Some had directly become adult actresses in Jopeno and some had become waitresses and escorts for Malachi's shops.

Most of their hard earned money would fall into his hands. In the end, when they finally turned old and lost their value, they were kicked out. They were banished to the worst places in Jopeno and had no one to care for them anymore.

If Winola had not met Fade and Cindy, she was most likely going to end up like this in the future.

Thinking of these terrible outcomes, she couldn't help but feel a chill run down her spine. She was so frightened that she almost lost her balance.

Meanwhile, she glared at Hogward with hatred. She gritted her teeth as if she wanted to devour him alive.

After hearing that, Fade's eyes turned livid, with killing intent evident in them.

He had expected Malachi and his subordinates to be from the underground organizations. After all, they were doing shady business; they were ruthless and would do anything to make money.

However, Malachi took advantage of his own country's citizens and even trapped them in Jopeno. The hatred in Fade's heart rose the moment he thought of this.

Holding back the killing intent in his heart, he gave Winola some money and asked her to leave.

She was very grateful. She took the money and went straight to the airport. She bought a flight ticket and headed straight home.

In the private lounge, Fade and Cindy stared at Renold and Hogward, ready to get to the point. "Where is your boss, Malachi?"

"This..." Hogward paused and said, "I don't know either. Mr. Leu is usually not here."

"Then contact him and ask him to come over."

"That is beyond my pay grade. I don't have Mr. Leu's phone number," Hogward said.

Fade frowned and uttered angrily, "If you don't have his private phone number, you should have his work number. Make a call and say that if he doesn't arrive within an hour, someone is going to burn down his shop."

"Th-This..." Hogward's face was full of fear.

18:43

Seeing this, Fade directly surged out his energy and amputated Hogward's left arm. He screamed in pain. Fade shouted, "If you don't call, then you're useless. Go to hell!"

Seeing this, Hogward was really frightened. He ignored the pain and quickly said, "I'll call him. I'll call him right now."

The phone call was connected. Hogward conveyed Fade's message and then said to Fade, "I've called him. Mr. Leu will come soon."

"That's good!" Fade nodded and then uttered to Renold, "Ask the customers in the store to leave and close the store!"

Renold did not dare to oppose Fade and directly went to do as he was told.

After the guests left, the huge entertainment house was left empty.

Fade went straight to the hall and sat on a sofa right in the middle of the store. Cindy stood next to him, tall and upright, with an imposing manner.

Renold and Hogward were kneeling on both sides of the sofa, keeping their heads down and not saying a word.

Meanwhile, with a creaking sound, the closed door of the entertainment house was pushed open.

A group of people marched in mightily.

Fade squinted slightly and saw the group of people clearly. The one in the front was a middle-aged man in his late forties, and he was half bald. Beside this man stood a man with a long sword in his hand. Judging from his dressing, he was a Jopeno local.

Behind the two of them was a large group of big, buff men. There were quite a number of them and it had intrigued Fade.

After this group of people marched in, Hogward and Renold, who were kneeling, were about to get up right away.

Seeing this, Fade shouted, "Kneel down! Did I allow you to stand up?"

The two were so scared that they shivered and immediately knelt down again. They did not dare to move a single inch at all.

When the bald middle-aged man saw this, he couldn't help but squint his eyes and went directly to stand opposite Fade. He glanced at him and muttered in a low voice, "It's you who threatened to burn down my store?"

Fade sat on the sofa, glanced up at the man and answered lazily, "Yes, it was me. Are you Malachi?"

"Yes, I am." He then glanced around the shop and finally stared at Fade. He said lividly, "Don't you want to give me an explanation for what happened here?"

"An explanation?" Fade sneered. "Do you need me to explain your ruthless actions, such as cheating and deceiving people from our country?"

Hearing what he said, Malachi squinted his eyes and answered in a low voice, "I don't understand what you mean, sir. I'm a decent businessman, and I have no idea what you are talking about."

"Really? Then what about my sister?" Fade directly took out a picture of a young woman and questioned him.

The lady in the photo was a waitress working in the store. She and Winola had had a similar experience. She had signed the contract and shot two adult movies, and later the movies were not hits and thus, she was forced to work in the store as a waitress.

Fade had dismissed the waitresses who wanted to leave. He also asked for a photo from one of them, and claimed that she was his sister. Then, he made up a story of him coming to Jopeno to look for his sister but later he realized that his sister was deceived to work in the entertainment house and that was why he was there.

Originally, he did not want it to be so troublesome. However, Cindy said that Garvet's matter was confidential and they couldn't just go around talking about it.

That was why he had to come up with such a plan.

Sure enough, when Malachi saw Fade's photo, he realized what was going on. It seemed that the family members of the woman who had been deceived were here to seek justice.

Therefore, he chuckled and said, "There may be some misunderstandings about this. Your sister came to work in our store on her own free will. We also paid her according to the contract. I don't know what explanation you need."

"F*ck, you're still pretending. Do you want to die?" Fade threw the photo on the table, then rushed over and wanted to punch Malachi.

Seeing this, he narrowed his eyes and retreated. Meanwhile, he waved his hand to order the men behind him to start a fight.

Fade's expression changed slightly when he saw this. This Malachi was actually a martial artist. However, his strength was not strong, and it was only in the early stage of the Black Level.

As soon as Malachi stepped back, around twenty bodyguards behind him surrounded Fade, almost drowning him.

Malachi retreated out of the entertainment house, curled his lips and whispered in a livid voice, "You ungrateful guy, you're trying to stir up trouble in my territory? You must know that you are not in your home country."

While speaking, the man with the sword told him, "Malachi, that girl is quite promising. Don't hurt her and let her stay."

Obviously, the man was referring to Cindy.

When Malachi saw her, his eyes also lit up. He ordered, "Don't hurt the cutie. Just beat up the man."

However, as soon as he finished speaking, the fight broke out and a series of cries were heard. Then, all of Malachi's bodyguards were struck out one by one. They were howling and thrown to the ground, screaming in pain.

18:43

Such a scene made him turn pale with fright. "You are a martial artist."

Fade snorted and rushed up to him. "You just found out?"

Seeing this, Malachi quickly shouted to the man with the sword who was beside him, "Mr. Ohta, save me."

The man with the knife was called Isumuno Ohta. Seeing Fade's attack, he snorted and slid in front of Malachi. He said indifferently to Fade, "Brat, your opponent is me."

"Get lost!" Fade shouted. This man was not enough to startle him.

"F*ck!" Isumuno was furious and shouted. He pulled out his knife and slid it at Fade. "Go to hell."

Isumuno's strength was actually quite good. Having reached the early stage of the Earth Level, he could definitely be considered a martial arts expert.

The precision and the strength of his slices were not bad. It could be seen that he was a martial artist with ample combat experience.

However, to Fade, he was just a small fry.

Facing this terrifying attack, Fade waved his hand and condensed energy in his palm. He used it to hit right at Isumuno's knife.

As Isumuno was puzzled, Fade directly slammed his palm at him and he was sent flying. He flew more than 20 meters in the air, spitting blood, and finally, he hit a wall.

Malachi did not expect Isumuno, who had reached the early stage of the Earth Level, to be so easily defeated by Fade. He could not help but be dumbfounded.

However, before he could say anything, Fade rushed up to him in the blink of an eye and grabbed him by the throat. He directly lifted him up.

In an instant, Malachi's face turned red as he struggled. However, Fade was rooted in place, and he did not flinch the slightest bit. On the contrary, his grip gradually got tighter and it made Malachi's throat creak.

In the nick of time as Malachi was about to suffocate, Fade loosened his grip and dropped him on the floor.

This scene caught the eyes of Renold and Hogward, and they couldn't help but drop their jaws.

Just now when they saw Malachi and Isumuno walk in with so many thugs, they were very excited, thinking that their boss could definitely defeat Fade. Then, they could get their revenge. However, they didn't expect such an outcome. Their boss was defeated in an instant.

Suddenly, the two people were even more frightened. They shivered in fear and lowered their heads, not daring to move at all.

Chapter 1658

After dealing with the people, Fade shut the entertainment house. Then he took Malachi to a private room with good sound isolation.

Throwing him on the ground, Fade and Cindy stared at him indifferently.

Meanwhile, Malachi finally realized something. He glanced at Fade and said, "You're not here for your sister. What's your motive? Who are you?"

Just now, Fade's horrifying strength made him realize that Fade was definitely not an ordinary person.

Fade didn't bother explaining things. By his side, Cindy took out a photo of Garvet and the man from their home country. Squatting in front of Malachi, she asked, "Do you know these two people? Two weeks ago, they flew from Capital City and landed in Osko City. Then, they were never to be found again. Do you know where they are?"

Malachi took the photo and he looked puzzled. Then, he shook his head and said, "No, I don't know. I don't know who they are."

"Really?" Cindy glanced at Malachi and then looked at Fade with an inquiring expression.

"He's lying," Fade said, then he walked up to Malachi. "But don't worry, I have ways to make him talk."

"I-I'm not lying! I really don't know them, I..." Malachi saw Fade step toward him, and he started feeling nervous and shouted.

However, Fade shook his head and uttered indifferently, "You are still lying. It seems like I have to teach you a lesson."

18:43

After that, he lifted his foot and stepped on Malachi's finger. The huge momentum landed on Malachi's finger and squashed it. Instantly, he let out a shrill shout.

"Now are you going to be honest?" Fade lifted his foot. Malachi's finger had turned into a bloody mess.

Malachi's face had turned red from the pain, and he screamed.

"It seems like you are still not ready to talk. Then, I have to continue!" Seeing this, Fade lifted his right foot again.

Seeing this, Malachi was really frightened. He endured the pain and shouted, "I'll talk, I'll talk!"

"Talk then!" Fade uttered coldly.

"I know these two people. I met them once."

"Be more specific!" Fade shouted.

Malachi thought about it and said, "That's because ten days ago, Mr. Ohta from Okso City looked for me and he asked me for help."

"Who is Mr. Ohta?"

He replied, "His full name is Genkiro Ohta. He's the head of the Hachi Clan in Osko City and he is also Isumuno's uncle."

Hearing this, Fade's expression changed slightly. He didn't expect this to be related to the Hachi Clan. When he was free, he might call Liza and get some useful information from her.

A thought flashed through his mind, and then Fade asked, "Then what happened?"

18:43

Malachi continued, "Even though I'm considered the number one figure in Osko City, I'm no match for the Hachi Clan. Their organization is spread across the entire nation. That's why I immediately agreed to help them when they said that they needed my help."

"Later, I asked for the details and Genkiro told me that the task is very simple. They needed my help picking up two friends from the airport. I was to escort them in secret."

"Back then I was very curious as to why I had to escort two people. Genkiro could have found anyone for the job and they even offered me a lot of benefits for this job. One of them was that they would send Isumuno to protect me for a period of time."

"Even though I was curious, I didn't think much of it. I took people over to the airport and escorted them back to my place. Later, I secretly sent them to Genkiro's place. That was my job."

"The two people whom I was asked to escort from the airport are the two people in your photo."

Hearing this, Fade and Cindy exchanged looks, and their eyes were filled with excitement. They finally had a clue.

Fade continued to question him, "Did anything happen during the process of escorting them? Or, did you see anything out of the ordinary?"

Malachi frowned and thought for a moment. Then, he shook his head and said, "The two men didn't talk at all, and Genkiro specifically told us not to communicate with them. Hence, I didn't talk to them at all. I just escorted them back to my place and handed them to Genkiro and since then, I have not come in contact with them."

Fade thought for a moment, pointed at Garvet's photo and asked, "During the process of escorting them, did he act abnormally? Was he kidnapped?"

18:43

From the very beginning, he did not believe that Garvet would betray his country. Therefore, when Garvet fled from Capital City to Jopeno, he had been thinking about all kinds of reasons why he would do this, including that he might have been forced and threatened into doing this. Thus, this was the reason why he asked this question.

Hearing this, Cindy frowned slightly and told him, "Mr. Chen, you can't ask subjective questions."

She was a member of the inspection team, and she usually paid attention to the rules of justice. Naturally, she had to remind him of this.

Fade glanced at her and said, "I'll take note of that."

Malachi thought for a while and then shook his head. "I don't think so. They came out together. They occasionally said a few words to each other. They looked a little serious, but it didn't seem like he was being threatened."

Hearing this, Fade couldn't help but frown. However, he didn't continue to ask these questions. Instead, he changed the topic and started enquiring about Genkiro, "Where is Genkiro's hideout?"

"This..." Malachi hesitated for a moment, but as soon as he caught a glimpse of Fade's livid gaze, he immediately said, "The Hachi Clan's Osko branch is located in the northern suburbs of Osko City. There's a tea garden there. It is Genkiro's favorite place."

Immediately, he took out the map and showed them the specific address.

After getting this piece of crucial information, Fade continued his interrogation but he didn't get much more information.

Finally, he stood up and was ready to leave, and his cold gaze fell on Malachi, as if he was considering how to deal with them.

18:43

Malachi saw Fade's eyes and could not help but be taken aback. He quickly begged for mercy, "I know I was wrong. I won't ever do it again and I won't say anything about what happened here. From now on, I will stop this business. I..."

Listening to these words, Fade was still considering whether to kill Malachi or not.

However, at this moment, Cindy, who was beside him, rushed out, and a stream of energy slashed Malachi's neck. Blood started to gush out of his throat. Malachi covered his throat with his hand, and his eyes were full of horror, but then he quickly lost signs of life and he fell to the ground.

Chapter 1659

This was somewhat beyond Fade's expectation. He turned and stared at Cindy.

She explained lightly, "Professor Song's matter is top-secret in our country and it is our priority to make sure that nothing goes wrong with this operation."

He nodded to show his understanding. Then, he stood up and said, "Then let's head out."

Then, the two left the entertainment house. Cindy also dealt with Isumuno, lit up a match and then set the store on fire before leaving.

If it was Fade, he would just head straight to the tea garden and look for Genkiro.

However, Cindy was part of the military, and this operation was carried out by a five-person team. Therefore, at her request, the two returned to the hotel and regrouped with Filex and Eilert to exchange the information they had found.

Filex and the others went to meet up with their intelligence agents who were stationed in Osko City and asked them about Garvet's information. However, they could get any useful information from them.

To their surprise, Fade and Cindy had actually gotten a specific address. They couldn't help but change their opinions of them.

After the exchange of information, Fade urged, "Now, let's head straight to the tea garden and hold Genkiro hostage. I'm certain that we can get some useful information, or we might even find Professor Song there."

18:43

Cindy also nodded and said, "Let's not waste any more time. Let's take action!"

The two of them were eager to make a move.

However, Filex, the captain of the team, frowned and said, "I think we got this information too easily. I keep feeling that there is something wrong with it."

Hearing this, Fade suddenly raised his eyebrows, stared at him, and uttered coldly, "What do you mean, Captain Zhao? Are you suspecting that I'm lying?"

Filex glared at him and answered coldly, "Of course I didn't mean that. It's just that some people are not professionals and don't know how complicated our intelligence work is. They only rely on brute force to force their way through things. I'm afraid that they don't even know that they have been scammed."

These words were clearly said to mock Fade on how simple-minded he was.

Fade was not polite at all. He directly said, "Some people are professional, but until now they still haven't gotten their hands on any useful information. No matter how unprofessional I am, at least I am more useful than these people."

"You..." Filex was furious and glared at him.

Seeing that the two were about to quarrel, Eilert quickly intervened and advised them, "Captain Zhao, Mr. Chen, don't get into a fight. The matter is urgent. We'd better come out with a plan as soon as possible!"

Fade directly said, "My suggestion is very simple. Let's head straight to the tea garden and look for Genkiro."

At this very moment, Cindy also urged, "Regardless of whether that piece of information is indeed true or not, it is all that we have now. That is why we need to go to the garden and have a look. Or else we have no idea what we are doing."

Eilert also nodded in agreement. Then he glanced at Filex and said, "Captain Zhao, what Mr. Chen and Cindy said is reasonable. How about we..."

Filex had an ugly expression on his face, but he still nodded and said, "Then let's go to the tea garden. However, in case this is a trap, we have to make ample preparations in advance."

"Of course!" Eilert nodded. He then glanced at them and said, "Since we've reached a consensus, let's begin the preparations. We'll head out in fifteen minutes."

"Yes!" Fade and Cindy went out to make preparations.

However, Filex's expression was ugly. He looked like he was about to speak but stopped on a second thought. He looked at Eilert and said, "Eilert, I think..."

"Captain Zhao, do you have anything else to say?" Eilert turned his face around and asked.

However, Filex shook his head, sighed, and waved his hand, saying, "I think... Forget it. There's nothing to say."

Seeing this, a trace of worry flashed in Eilert's gaze but he still turned around and went on to make preparations.

Fifteen minutes later, the team was ready and they headed for the tea garden.

When they arrived at the periphery of the tea garden, the sky had turned completely dark. However, it was a blessing in disguise for Fade's team.

The five of them were martial arts experts. Filex was an early stage Heaven Level expert and the other three were Earth Level martial arts experts. As for Fade, his prowess in martial arts did not need any extra introduction.

The five people snuck silently into this tea garden in the middle of the night.

As expected, the five people managed to sneak into the tea garden successfully. On the hillside, within a hundred meters, there was a Jopeno styled manor. It was brightly lit, and it could be seen that people were walking around inside it.

There was no doubt that this was Genkiro's residence.

The five of them were divided into three teams. Eilert and Cindy were a team. Filex was with his right-hand man. Fade was all by himself. They intended to sneak into the house from three different directions.

Fade quickly came to the vicinity of the manor and saw that there were bodyguards patrolling around the manor and they were all armed with swords. However, to Fade all of these people were just like mere ants.

After taking down the bodyguards around the vicinity, he jumped over the wall and entered the manor's courtyard.

There were more bodyguards inside the manor than outside. Furthermore, the bodyguards stationed inside were not only armed with swords but most of them were armed with guns.

However, it was still the same case for Fade. In an instant, he took all of them out with ease.

Due to him not knowing where Genkiro was, he could only wander in one direction and keep searching what was ahead of him.

When Fade finally snuck into the center of the house and he was about to continue further ahead, a gunshot was fired.

The entire manor was in a state of chaos. All the bodyguards were armed and they rushed towards where the gunshot was fired.

18:43

Seeing this, Fade could only stop himself from any further exploration and also head towards it.

He was incredibly quick on his feet, and in an instant he had reached the other side.

Meanwhile, in the courtyard, Cindy, Eilert, Filex and his right-hand man had been surrounded by the bodyguards.

The bodyguards kept attacking at them as the four of them kept retreating. There were a dozen corpses lying motionlessly on the ground and it was just a bloody mess. It seemed like the bodyguards had just been killed.

The bodyguards continued to attack fiercely but seeing the number of casualties, they were not stupid. Instead, they changed their strategy and went outside of the manor to surround the invaders. They took out their firearms and started firing.

This way, the four could not fight back anymore.

With their strength, a normal pistol was not a threat to them, but there were a dozen guns shooting at them. Some of them were even shooting with rifles.

Under such circumstances, even Filex, who was the strongest among them, did not dare to take risks.

Chapter 1660

The four of them had no other choice but to use the decorations in the courtyard as a cover from all the gunshots. Although they could still hold back for the time being, Fade had a keen sense. He glanced around and saw that the weakest two, Cindy and Filex's right-hand man, had blood stains on their body and they had injuries all over.

Seeing this, he immediately sprinted into action. His body flashed like lightning and from behind, he rushed straight into the middle and surrounded himself with the bodyguards.

They didn't expect that there was another enemy from behind. For a moment, their formation was in chaos. They shouted and fired at Fade.

However, their movements were not as fast as his. In addition, Fade was constantly sneaking his way through the crowd, thus they did not dare to shoot at him. They could only watch as he gradually took down their subordinates one by one.

In the blink of an eye, a dozen bodyguards had been knocked down by him.

Meanwhile, Cindy and the others had noticed Fade's arrival and they also rushed out into the battle. They launched their attacks at the bodyguards.

Every single one of the bodyguards of the Hachi Clan in Oska City could be considered a martial arts expert. They were all at the very least Black Level martial artists. However, in the face of these five Earth Level martial artists or even higher, they were just considered mere sheep. They had no chance of retaliation.

With each of them launching their own attacks, the number of bodyguards who were still on their feet decreased dramatically.

The ones who were still standing saw this and they were all terrified. They retreated immediately.

Concurrently, a group of about eight men in Jopeno uniforms rushed in. Every one of them exuded a strong aura and it could be seen that they were the real experts.

After exchanging blows with them, Fade realized their strengths. They were all in the middle stage of the Earth Level and they had great teamwork. After the fight broke out, they managed to successfully repel Cindy and Eilert back.

Coupled with the bodyguards who were shooting down on them on both sides, Eilert and the rest's situation became even dire.

In a blink of an eye, Cindy, Eilert and Filex's right-hand man had blood stains on their bodies.

Seeing this Fade shouted, "You three, retreat. Captain Zhao and I will deal with this."

He and Filex were both Heaven Level experts and they could deal with what was in front of them. Thus, Fade was the first to rush up and attack the enemy.

Filex's movements were slightly slower, but he still rushed out from behind Fade.

Facing the eight fighters, Fade was not even frightened at all. He flashed ahead and instantly took down two of them.

The enemy also felt his strength and their leader shouted, "Be in formation and take down that guy with all your strength."

All of a sudden, all of them turned and faced Fade with swords in their arms. They launched their attacks at him and for a moment, he couldn't retaliate and could only block their attacks.

However, this only lasted for a mere second. Fade's eyes sank and he condensed a stream of energy and launched it at them.

18:44

Their formation was directly blown apart by his attack and he immediately rushed up ahead.

It seemed like he had transformed into a beast. He leaped right at them and tore them apart.

In a blink of an eye, four warriors were killed by him.

Seeing this, their leader was really puzzled and he quickly urged them to retreat.

Meanwhile, Fade's eyes were scarlet red with killing intent. How would he let them retreat just like that? He leaped forward again and attacked them.

While they were trying to retreat, he had killed another two of their warriors. Now only two of the enemies were still standing and one of them was their leader.

When they saw this, their gazes were filled with terror as they tried to flee.

However, their efforts were in vain. They could only watch as Fade closed the gap between them. They felt as if death was waiting for them.

With a swoosh, Fade sent out a ray of positive energy, which drew a semicircle in the air and cut the warrior in half, causing the entire place to be a bloody mess.

The only person left was the leader and he gritted his teeth as he tried his best to flee.

"Where do you think you are going? Go to hell!" Fade started rushing up again and chased after him.

In a few seconds, he caught up with their leader and he shot out a Qi-blade.

However, at this very moment, his sixth sense kicked in and he felt a threat was coming right at him. His entire body was tingling.

Noticing that something was wrong, he instantly changed his route. Instead of continuing to chase after him, he jumped, deviated from his original path, and jumped to the other side.

At the moment when he jumped, from the corner of his eye, he caught a hot bullet whistling past him, heading to the spot right where he previously was.

In the end, the bullet tore Fade's clothes and when it finally hit the pillar behind him, the pillar exploded and burst into pieces.

If he had not changed his route in the nick of time, the bullet would have hit his chest.

This was a special explosive sniper bullet. Fade was a powerful peak stage of Heaven Level martial artist, but if such a bullet penetrated right into his chest, the chances of him surviving were close to zero.

Even if he could survive, he would have suffered severe injuries. This was obviously a death trap for him. It was all due to Fade's keen senses which was why he could dodge that bullet.

He glanced at where the bullet was coming from. He saw that there was a sniper hidden among the rocks a hundred meters away from the manor.

However, after the ambush had failed, the sniper did not intend on firing the second shot. He got up immediately and fled into the woods by the hillside.

He was too far and Fade had an enemy right in front of him that he had to deal with. Thus, he could only ignore the sniper for now. He erupted his positive energy and pursued the leader.

The leader wanted to watch as Fade was hit by the bullet, but who would have known that he had evaded the shot.

The leader's eyelid twitched and his heart jolted. He sprinted straight ahead quickly.

However, when he turned back, it was too late. A sharp virtual sword burst out from Fade's fingertips and slashed down in the air. The leader was at the peak stage of Earth Level but he had no room to retaliate.

The virtual sword slashed the leader into two halves as it flew high in the air and dropped down heavily. Blood gushed out and it was a bloody scene.

Fade did not look back and immediately returned to the courtyard.
