

The Charismatic Charlie Wade Chapter 3942

When Fei Kexin heard this, she couldn't help asking with some curiosity: "Kelly, Huaxia should be very traditional twenty-eight years ago. At that time, someone from China invited you to China for private house design? This person is too avant-garde."

"Yes." Kelly West said with a look of admiration: "My noble person, although he is Chinese, he actually grew up in the United States, and later married a big family in Eastcliff. Young Master, so he moved from New York to Eastcliff."

Fei Kexin frowned slightly and said, "You said that she has lived in the United States since she was a child and invited you to China for a private house design. You are not allowed to disclose it to the outside world. Is she famous in the United States?"

Kelly West looked at Fei Kexin in surprise, but she didn't expect that Miss Fei's insight was so sharp, and she found the key point all at once.

So, she smiled slightly, nodded and said: "In fact, thirty years ago, she was very famous in the upper class in the United States. Even now, many people talk about her in awe."

Fei Kexin was even more curious when she heard this, and asked her: "If this is the case, then maybe I have heard her name. What is her name, is it convenient to tell me?"

Kelly West thought for a while and chuckled softly: "She has been away for many years, so there is nothing inconvenient."

As he said, Kelly West put away a smile, with a look of nostalgia, admiration, and a bit of sadness: "Her name is Lydia. Thirty years ago, she was called The investment queen of Silicon Valley, I don't know if you have heard of it. If you haven't heard of it, it's not surprising. After all, she has been around for nearly two decades. When you were born, she had already left the United States."

Hearing the three words Lydia, Fei Kexin was stunned!

She exclaimed: "Lydia...How could I not know Lydia, she is us..."

Speaking of this, she paused for a while, and hurriedly said again: "She is the pride in the hearts of countless Chinese people!"

In fact, Fei Kexin instinctively wanted to say that Lydia is the idol of all their Stanford alumni, the spiritual leader who inspires all Stanford alumni to work hard, and the existence of Stanford like a totem.

At Stanford, no one does not know Lydia, even if she has passed away twenty years, Stanford University is still full of her imprints.

She is the highest-ranked female alumna in the Stanford Hall of Fame. She has supported a large number of eagle-like entrepreneurial projects in Stanford and Silicon Valley, and many of them have now grown into giants in the Internet and technology fields.

At Stanford, there is a road named after her, a teaching building named after her, and a student fund.

At the same time, she is also recognized by all Chinese alumni of Stanford as the light of Chinese in Stanford.

Although Fei Kexin had never seen Lydia, she had heard of Lydia's deeds since she was a child.

Therefore, when she was very young, she regarded Lydia as the greatest idol in her life.

And she was admitted to Stanford because of the influence of Lydia.

And when she arrived at Stanford and learned more of Lydia's deeds, she was not only shocked, but also cast into the ground.

Deep down in her heart, she even felt that if her future achievements could be one-third of Lydia's previous year, then she would be worthy of this life.

However, she didn't expect that the interior designer who met for the first time would be an old acquaintance with Lydia!

Therefore, she stood there in a daze, her heart was already surging.

At this time, Claire stood aside in a daze.

This was the first time in her life that she heard Lydia's name.

She didn't know what these three words represented, let alone the inextricable connection between these three words and her. She just felt that the name was as beautiful as a poem...
