

Chapter 1348

Roxy came back to her senses and turned around to follow Mobius into the hospital.

Soon, they came to the ward that Philip had mentioned but only saw the nurse making the bed.

“Nurse, where’s the patient here?”

Roxy frowned and panicked.

The nurse said, “She’s been discharged.”

“Discharged?”

Mobius anxiously asked, “Do you know where she went?”

The nurse shook her head and left the ward.

Inside the ward, Mobius and Roxy looked at each other in surprise.

Instantly, Roxy thought of something and said, “Quick, that white Bentley!”

After saying that, she and Mobius rushed out of the hospital and looked around. The white Bentley was gone.

Mobius' face darkened as he said, "We must tell Young Master Clarke quickly."

Thereafter, he dialed Philip's phone number. Philip's voice came from the other end of the line and he asked, "Senior Pine, have you arrived in Uppercreek? How's my sister now?"

Mobius was silent for a moment before saying with a small hint of self-blame, "Young Master Clarke, we didn't see Miss Clarke. The nurse in the hospital said that Miss Clarke was discharged."

Crack!

On the other end of the phone, Philip was sitting in the car at the moment. The car was entering the toll gate of Uppercreek.

His face darkened and he suddenly became nervous as he asked solemnly, "Discharged? What happened? Who took her out of the hospital?"

Mobius glanced at Roxy next to him and said, "I don't know. The hospital can't find any records."

At these words, Philip's heart suddenly tensed.

Who took his sister away?

What was the objective?

Was it Lord Hades?

If the circumstances were unfavorable to his sister, she would have resisted.

"I'll be right there."

With these words, Philip hung up the phone.

Next to him, Wynn grabbed Philip's hand tightly and asked, "What's the matter, Phil?"

Philip's expression was grim, and with a trace of chill in his eyes, he said, "Hannah is gone."

Wynn frowned at that and asked, "What happened?"

Philip shook his head and said to his subordinates in front, "Send my instructions out. Those participating in the world tournament should continue to the venue. Have Theo arrange a few people to follow me to Uppercreek Hospital."

"Yes, Mr. Clarke."

The man responded and immediately made arrangements over the walkie-talkie.

Soon, the convoy separated at an intersection. Philip's car was followed by four other cars and they headed toward Uppercreek Hospital.

The rest of the cars continued to make the journey to the world tournament's venue.

In one of the cars, Lydia saw Philip's car changing lanes and hurriedly shouted to the driver, "Quick, keep up with Brother Philip's car!"

Here, Philip's car quickly arrived at Uppercreek Hospital.

He got out of the car anxiously and saw Mobius and Roxy at the entrance.

"What's going on?" Philip asked.

Roxy shook her head and said, "Miss Clarke must've been taken away by someone she knew. There was a white Bentley with four people in it. Except for the driver and Miss Clarke, I don't know who the other two are. One is about 20 years old, very beautiful and sensual. One is about my age and has a well-maintained appearance."

Philip immediately said to Theo who arrived soon after, "Hurry up and contact everyone in Uppercreek. Look out for a white Bentley. Search the whole city!"

Theo got the order and arranged for it immediately.