

Chapter 1362

At the scene, Josh was still standing there nonchalantly without moving at all!

As for Heiner Kalua, Goryeo's youngest and most outstanding capoeira master, he was sprawled on the ground in a dead faint!

One of the cameras suddenly gave a close-up on Josh.

He shrugged and said blandly, "Too weak."

Hiss!

The venue went silent.

This sentence was broadcasted live and resounded in everyone's ears.

Immediately after...

The venue erupted into a tsunami of cheers and shouts!

The spectators who originally thought that Josh would definitely lose were now excited!

One punch!

He only used one punch to defeat Goryeo's youngest and most outstanding capoeira master!

Too strong!

From this point on, no one dared to underestimate Josh Clancy on the martial arts stage.

As for the Goryeo's martial arts delegation, all the representatives looked ashen and generally uncomfortable.

Suddenly!

A shout resounded through the audience!

"Josh Clancy is invincible! National martial arts are invincible!"

The cameras shifted and a figure appeared on the eight-screen display high in the sky.

At this moment, Philip was holding the microphone in one hand and had one foot stepped on the railing of the high platform. He leaned forward with a look of domineering arrogance and said, "Who dares to say that our country has no one else who can fight? Today, I, Philip Clarke, will show all of you that these eight people will defeat all 23 regional martial arts representatives on this tournament stage!"

His charisma of an overbearing president was displayed in full force!

Hiss!

Too audacious!

Where did this guy get the microphone from and why was the camera giving him a close-up shot?!

That handsome face was too damn hateful!

All the women in the venue got excited and looks of idolization appeared!

"Ah, so handsome!"

"He's so handsome I can hardly breathe! How can he be so cool and dominant?"

"I'm melting!"

Then, the crowd erupted and started chanting Josh's name.

Philip smiled and sat down calmly. He glanced over at the Fusha delegation area and saw Javi Lopez staring at him sinisterly.

Philip immediately pointed a middle finger at him.

F*ck!

Javi exploded in a rage. He got up, pointed at Philip, and roared, "You're looking for death!"

All the Lopez family members around him also stood up and glared at Philip furiously.

Swoosh!

Behind Philip, a group of Jensen family members and bodyguards in black suits all stood up. They stared fiercely at the other party.

Instantly, the Lopez family's presence weakened.

Why?

It was because there were nearly 100 people behind Philip!

The Lopez family only added up to 20 or 30 people!

Naturally, this scene was also broadcasted live.

Instantly, there was a barrage of comments on the major live streaming platforms!

Philip was a real man!

He was too explosive, too pretentious!

At the same time on the tournament stage, the host continued to shout, "Next, the national martial arts will fight against the Lopez family of Fusha!"

It was finally here!
