Chapter 1212 I Am Married

He had planned to use the group dinner to confess his feelings to Arielle. Unfortunately, she had outright declined to join them.

Who does she think she is ?

Just when Arielle bid everyone goodbye, Jason stepped forward to confront her and demanded, “Arielle, what’s the meaning of this ?”

Bewildered, she asked, “What are you talking about ?”

Arielle’s innocent expression caused Jason’s temper to flare up.

Having suffered the humiliation earlier and the misunderstanding from the day before, Jason’s emotions took over his head. He scoffed, “Why are you the only one who can’t join us for dinner ? Even the most famous stars would show Mr. Sleight some respect. As a newcomer, why don’t you show everyone some courtesy by joining us ?”

“I just—”

“I know,” Jason interrupted her. “You feel superior just because you’re the boss of Sann Group. Therefore, you’re not bothered to dine with people like us. Isn’t that the case ?”

Arielle gaze darkened at once.

“I’ve never looked down upon anyone before,” she countered in an icy tone.

Even though Jason felt an inexplicable chill down his spine, he wasn't going to show any fear in a stare-down with a woman.

Gritting his teeth, he maintained a strong front and asked, "In that case, why can't you join us for dinner?"

"Because there's something I need to attend to."

Meanwhile, Sam quickly came forward to defuse the situation.

"That's enough, Jason. Arielle has a very busy schedule. In fact, she has done me a huge favor just by accepting the role. Anyway, we shouldn't impose on her personal time."

"That's right," Jason sneered. "It's a waste of time for a big shot like you to join us for a meal. Go ahead with whatever you're busy with."

"I really have something to attend to."

"Fine, then tell us what it is that's so important that you can't even eat with us?"

Arielle choked. However, after noticing that there were a lot of people around, she suddenly hatched a plan in her mind.

Raising her head and declared, "I'm going to catch someone cheating!"

The moment she spoke, her surroundings fell silent for a brief moment before breaking out into an uproar.

"Catch someone cheating? Did I hear you wrongly?"

"Isn't Ms. Moore single? Since when she had a boyfriend?"

Even though Jason's expression drastically changed, he didn't believe Arielle's words.

Given how embarrassing such an incident is, no one in their right mind would announce it publicly. Besides, after monitoring her for such a long time, I have never seen any other man by her side.

Holding that thought, Jason's frown deepened. "You don't even have a boyfriend, so how can you claim that you're trying to catch him cheating? Arielle, do you take us for fools?"

"Who says I don't have a boyfriend?" Arielle raised her brow and added, "I'm already married."

"Married? You must be kidding!" Jason was outraged.

Nevertheless, Arielle explained in a serious tone, "This isn't a joke at all. I am legally married. The reason I can't go out tonight with you guys is that I'm going to catch my husband cheating. Is this excuse good enough?"

"Y-You..." Jason was lost for words.

The revelation dealt him such a blow that he was barely able to breathe.

To be precise, he just couldn't believe that Arielle was married.

Arielle shot a glance at him. "Regardless of whether you believe it or not, I've told you the truth. And now, I must go."

With that, she turned her attention to Sam. "Mr. Sleight, I have to deal with something personal now. Do send me the bill for dinner later. Bye."

Chapter 1213 Caught In The Act

Sam had yet to regain his senses. When he heard Arielle was married, the first man he could think of as her husband was Vinson. Well, Vinson was the one who strongly recommended Arielle to be the female lead in the movie. Besides, who else is worthy of her if not Vinson? However, who would've guessed that they are married. But then again, why did Arielle sound like she was implying that Vinson has cheated on her?

With that in mind, Sam couldn't help but worry about Arielle. "Ms. Moore, is everything all right? Please let me know if you need help," Sam said in a serious tone.

"That won't be necessary. I can manage." Arielle smiled gratefully.

However, Sam could tell it was a sad smile.

Since Arielle had rejected his offer, he didn't insist on it. With a wave of his hand, he said, "Just ring me up if you need me, okay? It doesn't matter who the man is."

Upon hearing that, Arielle knew Sam had guessed who she was going to catch cheating.

She nodded awkwardly and turned around. Just when she was about to leave, she was stopped by Jason.

"I won't believe you unless you bring me along!" Jason exclaimed.

Arielle was feeling somewhat helpless. Right then, Sasha was about the step in but she was held back by Arielle. “Okay, then. You can come along if you want. However, don’t get in my way,” Arielle said.

Jason began to panic upon hearing that Arielle had agreed to it. Could it be that she’s really married? I’m not one to go after a married woman, though.

When Jason was still caught in his thoughts, Arielle was already making her way toward the MPV.

Jason gritted his teeth and went after her hurriedly. I don’t care if she was telling the truth or not. I have to see it for myself.

He was determined to make sure Arielle was married, and she was indeed going to catch someone cheating. Otherwise, he wouldn’t give up on her.

Arielle got into the car, and she was shocked when she saw Jason squeezing in after her.

As a famous idol, Jason was rather sturdy. He was about 1.85 meters tall and quite muscular.

As soon as he got in the car, the interior space seemed to become cramped immediately.

Stunned, Arielle asked, “Are you really coming with me?”

“Of course!” Jason stared into her eyes and added, “I know you’re trying to find an excuse. You were actually lying, weren’t you? If you’re willing to apologize to me now, I’ll let it slide.”

Arielle pursed her lips and was baffled by Jason’s train of thought.

She then said to Sasha directly, “Take me to Wave KTV.”

“Yes, Ms. Moore.” Sasha threw a glance at Jason, who was sitting in the back before ignoring him and stepping on the gas pedal.

Upon seeing that both their main leads had gone, everyone in the production team started gossiping among themselves.

“Who would’ve thought Arielle is a married woman? I honestly can’t think of anyone who’s worthy of her...”

“Oh god! I need to know so badly who she is married to! However, I’m a bit scared to find out the truth because for some reason, beautiful women nowadays always end up with men who are plain looking. I hope Arielle’s taste doesn’t disappoint me!”

“Exactly! I can’t take it if a goddess such as Ms. Moore ends up with a fat and balding old man!”

While some of them were gossiping among themselves, one of them had exposed it on the internet.

Suddenly, Arielle was trending on the internet and garnered a lot of attention as soon as someone had posted about it.

Chapter 1214 Cheating

Arielle’s male fans were quick to voice their opinions.

A: “No! I refuse to believe that my goddess is married! No one is worthy of her. No one!”

B: “I agree! This must be fake news! Does anyone remember someone who has accused a celebrity of being pregnant before marriage? It turned out she was just getting chubby because of the side effects of the antidepressant she was taking.”

C: “In this day and age, who would believe such a piece of nonsensical news?”

One of the female fans added: “Regardless of whether the news is legit or not, what matters is Arielle’s happiness! We’re happy as long as she is!”

However, not many of her fans were giving her their blessings. Instead, most of them were either saying that it was fake news or wailing in agony.

While everyone was doubting the authenticity of the news, the person who exposed it uploaded another post.

The post was a video without any caption.

In the video, the camera was shaky in the beginning before focusing on a figure.

Although it was only showing the side of her face, the netizens were sure it was Arielle in the video, because no one could look as beautiful as her.

It was a video recorded at the time when she said she was married, and she couldn’t have a meal with the film crew because she had to go catch someone cheating.

The video became a trending topic the moment it hit the internet.

Arielle Is Married!

Arielle's Husband Has Cheated On Here!

Arielle & Jason.

Among the top five searches on the internet, Arielle was the center of attention in most of them.

The moment the news became viral, more and more people were aware of the fact that Arielle was married.

One of the netizens, LOL0, commented: "Really? So the news is legit?"

Brimbo: "Who is this guy? How could he cheat when he already has such a gorgeous wife?"

Ak47: "I feel so sorry for my goddess! Since there're no children involved yet, quickly divorce him! She can always change her man! Since she's so pretty, she can always find another man!"

90211 commented: "Is it just me or does anyone else here think Jason might be into Arielle?"

Suddenly, one of Jason's fans, ##E##, replied: Hey, watch it. Please don't involve Jason in this scandal. Although she's pretty, it doesn't mean every man in the world is into her.

Since Jason's name was mentioned in the post, his fans immediately stepped in and distanced their idol from Arielle.

With that, the fans from both parties started bickering at each other.

#YourNiNi#: Oh, please don't make me laugh. It's so obvious Jason was crushed because she didn't reciprocate his love for her.

Likiliki posted: To be frank, Arielle is out of Jason's league even though he's a famous idol. She's a graduate of Maxwell University and the CEO of Sann Group while he was just an art student who got famous because of his looks.

Soon, the bickering intensified, and more and more people were paying attention to the news.

Aaron was in his study room when he saw the video shortly after it was uploaded.

Catch someone cheating? Aaron grinned mischievously and raised his brows. Well, it seems like the pictures I sent to her came in handy after all. Indeed, no matter how smart or capable a woman is, she'd become a bimbo the minute she gets emotional.

“Guards!” Aaron called out. Almost immediately, two bodyguards in suits came in through the door.

“What can we do for you, Mr. Aaron?”

“Send someone smart to keep an eye on Arielle. Don't mess it up. Otherwise...”

Aaron didn't even finish his sentence, and the bodyguards were already having cold sweats as a result of his murderous stare.

“Yes!” the bodyguards answered and were about to leave.

Then, Aaron suddenly stood up and said, “Wait!”

“Yes, Mr. Aaron? What else can we do for you?”

Aaron put on his jacket. “You guys are useless. I’ll do it myself.”

Chapter 1215 Men Are All The Same

Although his subordinates were always competent, Aaron didn’t want to take any risk because Arielle was involved. If she finds out about it again, my previous plan with the photos might be in vain! I should just go and see for myself if there’s something wrong with Arielle’s relationship with Vinson.

“Are you going personally?” His subordinate was stunned. He then instinctively tried to stop him. “The main task of our trip to Chanaea is to bring the head of the Mills back to Turlen. Besides, Vinson and Ms. Moore aren’t even easy to deal with. What if they find out about your identity?”

“Shut up! I’ve already decided what to do!” With that said, Aaron strode out.

His subordinates had no choice but to follow him because none of them dared to persuade him otherwise.

Meanwhile, Vinson was sitting on a couch in Wave Karaoke Bar. While swirling his glass of wine, he couldn’t help but throw a glance or two at a waitress serving them beer.

With their heads kept low, the directors from the other companies noticed the look Vinson had when he saw the girl.

Rumor had it that Vinson had always been unwavering, and he'd never get swayed by any random woman.

Besides, there was even a rumor saying a company had gone bankrupt because the person in charge sent Vinson a lady to entertain him.

That was why they didn't dare to get any escort while they were there. Instead, they just sang and drank with him.

However, they were convinced those were just rumors after seeing the look Vinson had on his face. It seems like men are all the same after all.

One of the directors then followed the waitress out of their room while another held his glass and went up to Vinson.

“Congratulations on your successful bidding on the project in Horington!” With that, the middle-aged man finished his drink in one gulp.

Vinson raised his brows slightly and looked at the man. “Everything worked out because you guys have left the best engineer for us. We have to keep working together to achieve a win-win result.”

“Yes, of course!” The director nodded profusely.

At that moment, the director that went out earlier had returned.

However, he wasn't alone. With him, he brought six beautiful waitresses. One of them was the one Vinson paid extra attention to.

“What are you guys doing standing there? Go and pour Mr. Nightshire a drink!” While the director was saying that, he shot the aforementioned waitress a look.

The waitress was blushing, and her heart was beating like a drum when she walked over to have a seat right next to Vinson.

Prior to that, she was over the moon when she heard Vinson was interested in her. Even if it's just for one night, it is still a blessing to be noticed by someone so rich and handsome!

With that thought in her head, she quickly opened a bottle of red wine and poured Vinson a glass. At the same time, she was inching her right leg toward Vinson's left leg.

On the surface, Vinson looked extremely unapproachable. That was why the girl was wary of him while moving toward him.

However, she was overjoyed when she realized Vinson didn't resist her move of approaching him.

After she sussed the situation, she poured a glass of wine and fed Vinson. "Have a drink, Mr. Nightshire."

Vinson's lips lifted into a smirk before taking a sip of the wine.

All the men at the scene were secretly paying attention to Vinson's reaction because they were worried that they might've done something to displease him. All of them breathed a sigh of relief upon seeing Vinson taking a sip of the wine. We did it right!

As for the girl, her heart was racing, and she wasn't thinking too much about it.
