

Sir, You Don't Know Your Wife Chapter 1109

With that, Janet hung up immediately and prepared to get out of the bed to go take a shower.

However, Mason suddenly grabbed her wrist when she was leaving the bed.

Lifting her head, Janet met his dark eyes that had a profound mysterious look in them.

She thought he was taken aback by her words just now.

After all, she seldom revealed her ruthless side in front of him.

Is he disappointed in me?

Janet's eyes dimmed.

"Why are you looking at me like that?" she asked directly. After all, she seldom beat around the bush.

Mason froze for a moment before replying, "I seem to finally see this other side of you."

This was the side of J'Adore that other people had been speaking about.

She was cruel, ruthless, and bloodthirsty, and today was the first time he witnessed this.

"What do you think?" Janet asked him softly.

She was rather afraid that he would have negative comments about her.

However, this was her real self, so he would find out about it eventually.

On top of that, she did not like to hide. Hence, it was necessary to speak about this openly on the day of their engagement.

“I’m quite surprised!” With that, he laughed gently.

He didn’t say that he doesn’t like this, and he didn’t give any negative comments!

At least being surprised is a neutral adjective. It doesn’t mean that it’s good or bad.

Janet actually felt slightly happy after hearing his reply.

When she was about to say something, he stretched out his hand to caress her hair. “No—I should change the description. I’m actually pleasantly surprised!”

Pleasantly surprised?

Janet froze after hearing this.

Now this is a positive word. Does this mean that he likes me this way?

Sure enough, Mason kissed her forehead. “I like this side of you too. At least it shows that you can protect yourself well. Apart from that, I also saw a whole new side of Janet Jackson. Actually, I’m finally seeing a complete you,” he complimented her generously, enunciating each word slowly.

Janet’s pink lips curved into a smile. At this moment, joy had overcome all her other feelings. Feeling amused, she gently scratched his abdomen with her fingertips. “From the way you looked at me just now, I thought you didn’t like it.”

“You silly girl!” Mason could not help but laugh. “Do you know that I have an even more cruel side?”

"I like it too." Janet planted a warm kiss on his abdomen.

Mason's eyes darkened as he took a deep breath. Then, he freed his right hand and took out his phone.

"Sean, speak to Lee and take care of Emily's matter properly!"

Upon hearing that, Janet stopped what she was doing and her pink lips left his muscled abdomen.

She smiled at him before saying lightly, "I finally witnessed this side of you too."

We are more or less the same in this aspect!

On the other end, someone knocked on the door as soon as Lee ended the call.

With a frown on his face, he put down his phone and walked to the door.

He opened it to see a familiar face.

He tilted his head sideways as he shot Sean a cold stare with his beautiful eyes. "Your boss asked you to come over?"

Sean froze briefly before he nodded. "That's right."

"To punish Emily?"

“Yes.”

Lee licked his lips and arched his eyebrows.

I knew that Mason is no better than Janet!

He will not let Emily off the hook easily.

Both of them are so similar—similarly intimidating!

In the underground basement of White Clouds Castle, Emily pounded on the door angrily.

“Janet, you b*tch—let me out! I hope you die a horrible death! I hope you go to hell after you die, b*tch! Do you know that locking me in like this is illegal? Janet, you wh*re, I’m calling the police!”

However, no matter how much she screamed, there was no reply from the other side of the door.

“F*ck you!” Emily roared with a savage expression on her face.

Why is she being such a b*tch? So what if I destroy the engagement party? Now that our misunderstanding is resolved, all should be good! Why did she lock me in here?

She’s clearly taking revenge on me!
