

Come back to me

Chapter: 371

He Won't Hurt His Sister

John just wanted to leave here as soon as possible.

On the other hand, Richard mistakenly thought that they still needed to talk, so he didn't drive until John turned to look at him. The wind that came in turned into an invisible knife.

After realizing what had happened, Richard stepped on the accelerator and the car sped away.

Noah stood by the road and watched them leave. Then he picked up his phone and called Nina.

"Nini, John is looking for you."

"He didn't."

A muffled voice came from the other end of the phone. Noah knew that Nina was hiding in the quilt, so he persuaded, "Don't be too depressed. John is on his way to find you. You... "

"Are you going to persuade me for him? Noah. " Nina uncovered the quilt and sat up. She said discontentedly, "He only called two times. I didn't answer it, so he didn't call anymore."

Noah said, "He called you two times but you didn't answer, so he went straight to you."

"Why haven't he found me yet?" Nina stood up and went to the balcony. She looked down and said, "There's no one downstairs now."

"Ahem..." Noah wanted to tell her that John climbed to the balcony and let others send him to the police station as a thief, but he promised John not to tell her.

John had to talk about it soon as the phone was connected, he was complained by Michelle's angrily.

"Uncle John, you've gone too far. Humph, bye."

As soon as John opened his mouth, there was only the sound of "beep". Then, Michelle hung up the phone.

Since Michelle was so angry, his wife would only be angrier.

John was so anxious that he had to disturb the newly engaged James.

However, as soon as the phone was connected, there was a burst of complaints.

"Uncle John, why didn't you go to coax Aunt Nina? Why did you call me? Are you going to laugh at me together after coaxing Aunt Nina? It's my engagement party tonight, but you and Adrian took the limelight. The top search is all about you, everywhere. Emma and I have no exposure at all. I want everyone to know that I'm engaged to Emma. Can't you find some other time to make trouble? Why? Can't you?" The more James said, the more excited he became.

John hung up the phone directly, in case James would cry like a pig on the phone.

Both of them were complaining, but John sensed something different.

"The top search?" John asked in confusion.

Richard opened the top search and was surprised to see the title.

"Mr. John." The hand of Richard that handed the phone to John was trembling uncontrollably.

Turn Over The Balcony To Find His Wife

Adrian slept with the fiancée of the CEO of Ye Group, and the former friends became rivals in love.

It seemed that the relationship between John and Vivian had been rekindled, and the status of Mrs. Nina was in jeopardy.

The two hot search events instantly caught the attention of John. At this moment, he was too busy to care about himself. He had no mood to pay attention to the affairs of Adrian and others, but clicked the hot search related to himself.

John took a rough glance at the picture and saw that Vivian was wearing his coat. He immediately frowned.

"Remove the hot search that is not in accordance with the fact and ask the legal department to send a lawyer's letter to the media who spread the rumor." John handed the phone to Richard and John had always been efficient in dealing with things.

After a pause, John added, "Besides, ask Vivian to buy the whole brand of this clothes since she wore mine."

Although Richard knew the first two things clearly, he was really shocked by the third thing.

The brands that John wore were all customized for him, only for him sweat off her forehead. The wind from the balcony dispelled the haze of her dream.

And the wind brought the man's steps.

"Who?" Nina keenly sensed that there was someone. She vigilantly looked at the balcony and got out of bed.

Afraid of disturbing the other party with the light on, Nina fumbled for a pair of slippers as a weapon in her hand. She walked quietly to the balcony and hid behind the door.

She saw a tall figure in the dark night.

When John heard the wary sound of Nina, he stopped.

Since he had been noticed, why not go in generously.

John didn't hide anymore and he walked forward as usual. When he was about to make a sound, Nina, who was hiding behind the door, waved her slippers at the man's head.

Slap...

The sound of slippers hitting something could be heard in the air.

John raised his arm to block the attack. His strong arm made him unharmed.

"Honey, it's me." At the same time, John held Nina's wrist and pulled her into his arms. He circled her waist into the room and slammed the door.

The man's familiar breath came to Nina's face.

John Will Accept The Punishment Of Kneel Down

John pressed Nina against the door and bowed his head, intending to kiss her. However, she nimbly slid down the wall and avoided his kiss.

At last, John came to her. Although Nina was happy, she couldn't forget that he and Vivian were lying on the same bed.

Nina was unhappy.

"Why are you here?" Nina turned around and turned on the light. The dim room instantly became bright.

Nina stood in the light in a slip pajama. The shirt on John became a little wrinkled because of the twists and turns. He frowned slightly, and looked dejected when he saw the calm expression of Nina.

John knew why she had such a reaction.

He didn't blame her. His gloomy face gradually lit up.

His little girl was jealous, very Jealous.

"What are you laughing at?" Nina really didn't understand his emotional change, which was really confusing.

Without answering, John unbuttoned his shirt. The first, the second...

His solid chest was gradually exposed to the air. With a flicker in Nina's eyes, she turned her head and snorted.

'Don't think that you can seduce me and I will let it ill be broken as soon as you kneel down on it.'

"Break as soon as kneeling down on it?" It was not until then that John realized something and asked,
"Kneel down?"

"Yes, it's just the instant noodles that will be broken as soon as kneeling down on it." Seeing that he was a little stunned, Nina finally showed a sincere smile.

When John saw her smile, he finally breathed a sigh of relief and answered briskly, "No problem."

As long as he could make his wife laugh, he would accept the punishment of kneeling down.

John asked Richard to go back to have a rest. John went back to have a rest, and he held the Nina and slept peacefully.

The next morning, John got up early, simply freshened up and went to the supermarket.

Then, the saleslady led John to the instant noodles section. He looked around and found no one around.
Then he asked, "Which kind of instant noodles is easy to break?"

"Well, which one of your instant noodles is easier to break?"

Two voices sounded at the same time. At the same time, John and Adrian looked up in surprise. The two eyes met...

Chapter: 374

John Ate Up All The Noodles

play_arrow

"Instant noodles are easy to break when they are not soaked in water. The main reason is that the tastes are different. They are probably all in this section. You can choose according to your preferences." The saleswoman said a few words enthusiastically and was called over by others.

John looked at Adrian, and so did Adrian. The eyes of the two were full of inquiry.

"John, what a coincidence! You are here to buy noodles, too?" Adrian smiled to hide his guilt and explained to himself, "Henry suddenly wanted to eat noodles, so I bought it for him to make breakfast."

"Yes, my wife also wants to eat noodles." John also felt a little guilty. If others knew that he had bought instant noodles so that Nina could punish him to kneel down, things would be out of control.

"Ha ha, what a coincidence!" Adrian threw a big bag of instant noodles into the shopping cart.

John kept looking at his hand. Just now, he heard Adrian say that he wanted the instant noodles to be broken easily. Was it so fragile?

"Why did you choose this one?" Asked John.

Adrian's heart jolted. He picked it ran e message, she was shocked. She didn't ask him to buy it for him to eat, but for kneeling!

Big boy sent another message to explain, "I'm hungry."

Looking at the message, Nina's mouth twitched for two times and replied, "Okay.

Don't eat it when you buy it next time."

John stared at his phone for a while and fixed his eyes on the instant noodles on the table. As expected, he opened it and made noodles for himself.

After soaking the noodles, he didn't eat it. Instead, he took a photo and sent it to Adrian. Only the photo without a text explanation, and he believed that Adrian could understand.

John was revenging.

As expected, Adrian felt deeply malice. It took Adrian a lot of effort to maintain the posture of kneeling down and not breaking the instant noodles. In less than three seconds, he was so angry because of John's photo that he made a crisp sound.

The instant noodles were broken into pieces.

Adrian's eyes widened, "! ! ! "

After Nina checked in and got on the plane, a staff of the airport quietly made a phone call.

"Miss Vivian, Nina is on the plane."

In The Same Boat Of Glory And Loss

play_arrow

As soon as Vivian hung up the phone, Julie rushed in with her phone in her hand. She had just read the hot news titled "Vivian And One Hundred And Thirty Million".

"Vivi, what's going on?" Pointing at the news on the phone, Julie said discontentedly, "I asked you to seduce John, not to spend one hundred million."

One hundred million was not a small amount of money for Vivian. Although she had been scheming in the Ye family for so many years, it was impossible for her to save one hundred million. In the end, she had to sell a lot of her jewelry to pay the money.

Vivian didn't expect that John would be so heartless and make her lose so much money, but she was also lucky because of misfortune. At least in others' eyes, she was an infatuated woman.

As long as Vivian's plan in Spring City went smoothly and Nina was sent back to C Island, it would be easy for Vivian to get what she wanted.

"Mom, I have my own plan. Don't worry." Vivian took a glance at her mother's phone and didn't care about the news.

"I'm worried." Julie sat next to Vivian angrily and scolded her, "We planned to make th ter's words, but she suddenly felt that the U disk in her hand was a little hot.

"Vivi, isn't it too much to irritate Sam?" Julie was resourceful but timid. After all, Sam was a respected man in the Shi family. If they were really found out, a big disaster would be imminent.

Vivian persuaded her mother, "Mom, if we aren't ruthless, we won't get what we want. John is going to propose to Nina in Spring City tonight. If the two of them make up, my one hundred and thirty million dollars will be in vain, won't it? If anything happens to Sam, John will definitely come back. At that time, I will try to make Nina give up John."

Thinking of her daughter's flawless plan, Julie couldn't help nodding in agreement, but then she thought of something and quickly reminded Vivian, "Vivi, don't forget that Nina is the princess of C Island. We can't offend her."

"I don't intend to offend her. I just want to send her back to C Island to live a good life there as a princess and marry a powerful man. She has nothing to do with this city." Vivian had already made a plan and everything was under her control.

Chapter: 376

Take Nina Back To C Island

play_arrow

stop

It was already six o'clock in the afternoon when Nina arrived at Spring City. The scorching summer sun was slanting in the sky, and golden color was sprinkled all over the ground through the glass window.

Carrying a small bag on her back, Nina went back to her ocean view villa with her hands empty. The first thing she did was to throw herself into the big bed and have a comfortable sleep.

The sea breeze gently blew the gauze curtain, and the thin moonlight came in and sprinkled on the soft bed of Nina. She was sleeping soundly.

Moonlight was shining on the surface of the sea. A cruise ship with the logo of the royal family of C Island was slowly heading for Spring City.

On the deck of the cruise ship stood a woman with blonde hair. She was tall, and her amber eyes were even colder than the moonlight. The most obvious thing on her deep features was her red lips.

She used to be the international movie queen, Anne, who had been out of the movie for many years. Now she was the queen of C Island, and also the mother of Nina.

The forty-five year old queen Anne was well maintained. At first glance, she was a twenty year old fair skinned girl.

Anne was absorbed i ne and the others didn't know where Vivian was, but Vivian knew their route. After all, this wasn't the sea area of C Island.

Vivian took the same flight with John. She knew that there would be a risk of being exposed and it might become a flaw. But when she saw the back of John at the airport, she really couldn't help but want to follow him, so she changed the air ticket temporarily. However, she still restrained herself and chose the different grades to avoid a direct encounter with John.

Sometimes when Vivian liked someone, she would feel happy as long as she took the same plane with him.

This kind of happiness was too shallow, and Vivian hoped that it could be deeper and deeper. She wanted to live with John and have children.

In order to achieve this goal, Vivian had to do anything.

Standing at the place where the ocean view villa of Nina could be seen, Vivian's eyes gradually became ferocious. She stared at the seemingly calm sea and smiled gloomily.

"Nina, you can go back tonight. They are here to pick you up. That's your home."

Vivian hid a dagger in her smile and it disappeared in the sea breeze. Vivian picked up her phone and dialed a number.

Struggle Before Giving Up

play_arrow

The phone on the table was buzzing.

With sleepy eyes, Nina reached out her hand to touch the phone and answered it, but she didn't see the virtual network number on the phone clearly.

"Hello?"

"Nina, good evening." Vivian's gentle voice was full of joy, as if she had seen a friend she hadn't seen for days.

"Vivian?" Nina suddenly sat up from the bed, with surprise in her slightly open eyes.

Only the people whose phone numbers she had saved could call her. How could Vivian get through to her?

Before Nina asked, Vivian had already answered her question.

"Do you want to know why I can call you?" With a friendly smile on her face, Vivian said, "Nina, you're so good at hiding yourself. The famous painter Elk is you and the top-level hacker Elk is also you. It turns out that you like elks so much. No wonder there's a cute elk hung on John's phone."

Nina was stunned. She didn't expect that Vivian had found out her identity. Nina used the name Elk just because she was lazy. It was troublesome to pick out different names for different identities. Besides, there were so many people w

I still want to struggle."

"Go ahead." Obviously, Nina had guessed it. She raised her eyebrows and didn't take it seriously.

Vivian finally came to the point. "After John proposes to you, come to the seaside. I'll wait for you at a huge reef. I won't hurt you. If you don't trust me, you can bring John here."

Nina asked suspiciously, "Do you allow me to take him with me?"

She thought, 'It isn't like what she usually does. Does she really plan to give up so that she dares to be so calm?'

"Yes. I have a precondition. Don't let John know that I'm here for the time being. Just tell him that you want to go to the beach for a while and ask him to come with you." Vivian's eyes were cunning, but her voice was extremely calm.

"You can only ask John to come with you. If he refuses, you can only come alone."

Nina wanted to know what tricks Vivian was going to play, so she said, "I know."

"See you then. I hope he will come with you later, but I don't think he will." After saying that, Vivian hung up the phone.

Nina was confused.

'How does she know that John won't go with me?'

Chapter: 378

Kiss You Many Times

Less than a minute after the phone was hung up, John called Nina.

Nina answered the phone with a bright smile, "Honey, good evening."

Hearing the cheerful voice of his wife, John smiled. "Good evening, honey."

"Honey, what's up?" Nina asked with a smile. In order not to disappoint him, she had to pretend that she knew nothing.

All of a sudden, he felt that his wife was a little strange. 'She was at odds with me last night, but why does she become so obedient tonight?'

Does she feel better after coming to Spring City?

Just as Nelson and his wife say, changing a place will help someone change his or her mood.

Travel makes people forget their troubles, so they are still traveling all over the world, leaving their child to us.'

"Are you happy after you go to Spring City?" John asked.

Every year, Nina took a holiday in Spring City, because she could see the direction of C Island. She was a little happy, but she was more melancholy because she missed her home.

The reason why she was so happy was that she was curious about how John would propose.

"Yes,

y that Nina finally found what had been put into the dinner and then he didn't need to rush out.

It was a piece of paper. Nina frowned and said, "Not a ring? Shouldn't it be a ring?"

It was totally different from what she had imagined.

'Is he planning to write a note to propose?' Nina thought.

She stared at the piece of paper and didn't even read it. She put the dinner on the ground, pointed at the dark place where the temporary actor was crouching and shouted, "You, where is John?"

The actor was speechless. 'Do you have sharp eyes? Have you seen me?'

Knowing the surprise of John's proposal, Nina kept an eye. Although she was eating, she looked at the actor out of the corner of her eyes and knew where he was hiding.

"Come out. I see you." Nina said helplessly, "It's okay if you don't come out. Point at the route."

The actor reached out his hand in the dim light to show the direction. The light in the villa could only light up his hand.

Nina went straight to the destination, ignoring the sign of the comic character standing quietly in the darkness.

Chapter: 379

It s Warm

play_arrow

Nina walked along the direction which the actor pointed at and reached a place which was a certain distance from the sea. On both sides of the road, there were small trees as tall as people. Small colorful lights flickered and there was brightness in front of her.

After walking for a few minutes, Nina couldn't feel the strong sea wind, but only the breeze. She looked back and couldn't see the sea.

Part of the sea was blocked by the huge reef and the rest was dark.

Sitting on the reef, Vivian hid herself in the dark night. Although Nina couldn't see her, she could see the little figure of Nina with the flickering colorful lights.

Nina just glanced around casually and continued to walk a few steps forward. She saw John standing straight ten meters away, who was holding a bouquet of roses in his hands. He was so nervous that his legs were closed together.

At the same time, John also saw his wife coming slowly. He immediately straightened his collar and walked over with the bouquet of flowers in his hands.

"Honey,

ut no one believed me. Now, if anyone doesn't believe me, I will show them my hand." Nina rubbed against John's body with a smile.

"You're so lovely." He chuckled.

She raised her chin and snorted, "Of course."

"My little girl," John said with a smile, patting Nina on the back. "I've prepared the proposal for a long time, but it's still disturbed by you. No matter what I do, you always do something out of my expectation."

"So are there other surprises?" Nina blinked curiously.

"On your way here." Then he pinched her face, patted her on the shoulder and said, "Go back and walk again."

Looking at the dark road, Nina thought it would be troublesome for her to run back and slowly walk again, so she pouted and said, "I want to look at the surprises from here."

With a doting smile, John said, "Then it will be reverse."

"It doesn't matter. Maybe it's another story." With excitement and curiosity, Nina walked over.

Then he picked up his clothes and put one hand in his trouser pocket, staring at her figure.

Chapter: 380

Drew A Story Of Them

Nina walked to the dim light and looked at the wooden road in front of her. She looked carefully at both sides and found that there was a sign of half a meter high on both sides.

She reached out and touched the sign, and the darkness in front of her suddenly became bright. The signs on both sides of the road were lit up in order, like the lights lit up one after another at night, lighting up the entire crooked road.

These signs were different from ordinary signs. They were all comic characters, and they looked like she and John.

Two comic characters on the first sign were kissing in the way of holding a koala. Beside them, there was a vigorous and powerful line: Honey, remember to kiss me when you see me.

As soon as Nina saw it, she knew it was John who wrote it. She burst into laughter and looked at the comics with different postures on both sides. They were all her and John's past.

Nina, who was good at observing, also saw a little bit of the style of John on the lines of the characters in the comics. She turned around and asked the man behind her, "Did you draw it?"

"Yes. Not bad, right? " John raised his eyebrows and n."

There was still a year left before the summer vacation next year. He would find a psychologist as soon as possible and cooperate with the treatment actively.

He didn't even want to take this step before.

But looking at the expectant eyes of his little girl, he was willing to take this step.

Even if he would face the fear deep in his heart.

"Next year?" Nina's eyes flickered. Why was Vivian so sure that John didn't want to go to the seaside with her?

Was there any secret that Nina didn't know about John?

"Next year." John rubbed Nina's head, his eyes flickering as if he was thinking about something important.

Seeing this, Nina nodded and said, "Okay, you have to watch the sea with me next summer vacation. But wait for me here. I have something to do and will be back soon. "

"What's the matter?" John held her hand and was worried about her.

However, John had already told Richard and others to stay as far away from him and Nina as possible. They couldn't be seen within a kilometer.

Nina said vaguely, "I just have something to deal with. Just wait for me."

Then, Nina turned around to look for Vivian.
