

Deep affection honey come back to me

Chapter: 551

I Am Going To Carry You Now

It was Cali who followed them.

Vicente hesitated, "How could it be Cali?"

The surveillance video continued to play. In the video, Cali watched John and Nina leave, then squatted beside the door and cried.

The cry attracted passers-by, and some people kindly handed over tissue and comforted her.

Staring at Cali on the screen, Vicente said, "Why was she crying like this? How could a stalker cry?"

Nina looked at John and said, "She is crossed in love."

"Crossed in love?" Vicente glanced at the expressions of the two of them, and the answer was obvious in his heart. "Did Cali confess her love to you?"

"Yes." Then John nodded, "I refused."

"Can she cry like this if you don't refuse her?" Seeing the one crumpled up in the screen, Vicente felt a pang in her heart. "Well, it's good to like anyone but you. It's better to like me than to like you."

Nina curled her lips and said, "If she likes you, it will be more troublesome. Maybe she will cry to death in the end."

Thinking of her identity as a woman, Vicente nodded, "You're right."

With a shrewd glan

stared at the phone and asked, "What's it?"

"Don't let Mr. Sean know that I'm crying like this. I don't want him to have any burden in his heart. Although he looks cold, he is very good in his heart."

"Okay." Nina agreed and hung up the phone.

Vicente sighed, "What a good girl! She only cares about others."

John said in a low voice, "I don't have any burden in my heart."

'There are countless people who liked me. If I have the psychological burden for everyone, I would be suppressed to death.'

"Since there is nothing wrong, we're leaving." John walked up to Nina, bent down and carried her away.

Vicente was speechless.

'How many year would he be sentenced for intentional injury?'

Nina exclaimed, "Can you tell me in advance next time? Put me down."

As expected, John put her down. Before Nina could stand firm, she heard him seriously remind her, "I'm going to carry you now."

After saying that, John carried Nina and Nina hung her head on his shoulder like a sack, her black hair covering her red and indignant face.

Vicente choked on the air.

Can You Refuse Me

Then John carried her into room 808.

Nina thought she would be rudely thrown on the bed, but she was carefully put on the counter.

The marble table was cold, and the dress on Nina's body was thin, which made her feel cold as soon as she touched it.

Sitting at the counter, Nina could just look at John at the same level, not as usual.

"Give me your phone." Then John reached out his hand to Nina. Although she was confused, she still handed the phone to him obediently.

Then she saw that her phone was turned off, and then John picked up his own phone and turned it off.

Nina understood, lowered her eyes and snickered.

At this moment, John stood in front of her, with his forehead against hers. They breathed together, and Nina only felt an itch on the tip of her nose.

"No one will disturb us this time." John's low and hoarse voice seemed to be murmuring to himself, but it still easily passed through the eardrum of Nina, and reached the bottom of her heart like a current.

He held Nina's face in his big hand, gently touched her eyes and nose before he kissed her.

Nina didn't clos

d I be willing to do that?

But if I want to marry her openly next year, I have to go back to Lexington City to regain power and start preparing for the wedding.'

From time to time, John patted her on the waist and said, "I'll fly to see you once a week."

"Okay." Nina felt a little better. "You are too tired to do it once a week. Change it to a month."

'A month is too long for me.'

"Just a week," John said unhappily.

Nina didn't want him to travel too long and said stubbornly, "No, a month."

"A week." John stick to his own opinion.

Seeing this, Nina had to make a concession. "Half a month. It's not good for you to come here too frequently. Don't you think I'm not tired enough from last night to today?"

Then John said in a soft tone, "We don't have to do it. Listen to me, a week is a week."

"I said half a month. You can stand it, but I can't. Can you refuse me?" Nina said in a tough tone.

John didn't say anything.

Nina asked again, "Can you refuse me? Huh?"

"No." John had no choice.

Nina snorted and said proudly, "Just half a month."

"Okay," John said.

John Returning Home

John lifted the quilt and stood up. "I'll ask the hotel to send food here."

"Wait!" Nina held his hand and John sat on the edge of the bed. He held her hand and asked, "What's wrong?"

"No need to ask them to send food to the hotel. Let's go out to eat." Then Nina lifted the quilt and sat up, stretching herself.

She had a good sleep and her face was ruddy.

John glanced at her slender waist and asked, "Can you still go out?"

"Why not?" Nina got out of bed as if nothing had happened.

It was a heavy blow to John. He didn't regain his face until he saw Nina carefully took a deep breath when he stretched out her legs.

He stepped forward and held her in his arms. "No, I'll ask the hotel to send food here."

"I want to have dinner with you. You will go back to Lexingport City tomorrow afternoon. You won't be back until half a month later."

Nina's bright eyes were always irresistible.

"I'll be back in a week. By that time, your body will definitely recover. Let's..." said John.

"Well, we'd better ask the hotel to deliver the food." Nina compromised. 'He hadn't been in Lexingport City for a year, so he must have a lot of work to do. It is too hard for him to fly here for a week.

I don of her to check in.

Staring at his back, Nina muttered in her heart, 'John, look back at me, look back at me.'

John didn't turn around. 'I am afraid that I wouldn't be able to leave once I turned around.'

Nina didn't leave. She stood by the French window and watched the plane John was in taking off, leaving a trace of home in the air.

It was a long journey from the C Island to the Lexingport City. At night, Nina didn't sleep. She sat on the bed with her mobile phone and waited for the news of John.

In the early morning, John called.

Nina was overjoyed. Looking at the caller ID, she didn't answer it. She just lay down and waited for him to hang up.

He hung up soon and she received his message soon.

"Little girl, you're a good girl. Don't worry. I've landed safely." ....

Nina put the phone off the screen and closed her eyes to sleep.

It was at noon in the Lexingport City. It was not cool in early autumn of September. On the contrary, the sun was scorching, which was not much better than C Island.

When John left the airport, he saw a tall and straight figure from afar.

'We hadn't seen each other for a year, and James had grown taller.

He looks so handsome in his suit.'

Chapter: 554

James Turned Over

play\_arrow

John wore a mask and sunglasses, and his face was almost covered. He was also wearing cheap clothes.

He came back in a low-key way.

It was just an excuse for James to pick up his business friend. 'As soon as I turned around, I found Uncle John in the crowd who had disappeared for a year.

I would never make a mistake.

Only Uncle John's legs are straight and long, and only Uncle John could make the cheap clothes on him high-level. Only Uncle John came here like an emperor every time.

Only Uncle John could make my legs tremble and my heart tremble.'

As John approached, James's eyes became redder and redder. He raised his head and took a deep breath.

'Damn it. I'm the boss of the J Entertainment Company now. How can I cry outside?

If I was photographed, how could I convince the employees in the future? Where would my dignity be?

I couldn't cry!

A man couldn't cry like a woman.'

When James raised his head and forced tears, he didn't even know when John came to him.

"Why are you standing there, unmoved?" John passed by him qu

'Why did James suppress Mr. Shi after Mr. Shi disappeared for a year?'

"I won't let Vivian go. She used dirty tricks to hurt Grandpa, and she even planned to divorce you and Aunt Nina and marry her. Even if she returns to Ye family now and has a backer. I will seize the opportunity to kill her!" James said angrily.

John narrowed his eyes and got some information that he didn't know from the words of James. He frowned.

"What backer?" 'I wasn't surprised that Vivian returned to Ye family. Howard wouldn't ignore his daughter.

Moreover, my whereabouts were still unknown. Without my suppression, it would be easy for Howard to do anything.

But what about the so-called backer?'

James pursed his lips, "I don't know the details..."

Richard cut in, "Mr. Shi, that's why Mr. Henry asked you to come back. During the year you were not in the Lexingport City, a force rose up. The Ye family has more business now, and this business is run by Vivian. Only Mr. Henry knows the specific situation."

All of a sudden, John's expression became serious.

The Whole Family Gave Him A Cold Shoulder

On the Stone Road.

At that time, the Shi family had already received the news and were waiting for them at the door.

With a serious look on his face, Sam sat on the wheelchair, with no emotions in his eyes. However, his hands on his legs were a little stiff. He was excited. 'The fellow had disappeared for a year, and he didn't even inform the family of his safety.'

I tossed and turned in the first few months. I was afraid that he hadn't completely overcome his fear of water. He had a hard time in the C Island, sea surrounding area, and I was even more worried that he would be difficult to deal with by the royal family of the C Island.'

In just two or three months, Sam was no less than ten years old. Now he didn't need to frown, and the skin on the back of his hand was about to separate from his flesh.

'Alas, I'm old.'

"Mr. Sam, they are here." The Butler Jake saw a black car coming towards them.

Dora in the princess dress jumped up happily, held her mother's hand and said, "Here they are. Uncle John is back. Uncle John is back. Uncle John is finally back."

Angela patted her daughter's hand and smiled, "He is finally back."

Other people also laughed, but there was no smile on the face of that someone was not there, he immediately took pleasure in his misfortune and said, "Uncle John, take care of yourself."

In the blink of an eye, John had a bad feeling.

"Grandpa, I push you." Out of nowhere, Chester directly ignored his Uncle John's existence, pushed Sam to the main seat, and pulled out a chair and sat down himself.

Coincidentally, they happened to be sitting on the left and right of Sam, and they could look at each other when they raised their heads.

John found that Chester had grown a lot taller and had a reserved temperament. 'He is so calm that he doesn't look like an eleven or two year old child.'

The atmosphere between the two was indescribable weird.

"Chester, how are you feeling in university?" John looked at the person in front of him. He didn't see any fluctuation on Chester's face. Instead, he felt a little alienated.

"I'm fine. Thank you for your concern, Uncle John."

John thought to himself. 'I am doomed.'

Chester is really distancing himself from me, much more terrible than being angry.

We hadn't contacted each other for a year. Why did everyone at home give me a cold shoulder?

The old, the young and the kids are the same.'

John was at a loss.

John took a deep look at Chester, lowered his eyes and said okay softly, his eyelashes covered the light in his eyes.

Chester's hand holding chopsticks apparently tightened, and his eyes, which had been calm before, began to ripple.

'Did Uncle John just say yes?

Nothing else?

As long as Uncle John cared about me a little more, I would reluctantly forgive him.

Uncle John had told me some plans, but he still didn't contact me. Couldn't he contact me secretly?

I would keep my mouth shut and wouldn't tell anyone.'

The more Chester thought about it, the angrier he became. He gulped down a mouthful of water, but still felt unbalanced.

Then, a sly smile appeared on John's face.

'If I irritated him a few more times, he would probably come to me and get angry with me. After he vented his anger, I might not need to coax him.'

After lunch, John went to the cleaned room to have a rest. Before he went to bed, he just called Nina. They chatted happily for half an hour before hanging up.

When he was about to close his eyes, someone sneaked in.

dpa to wake up." The Butler Jake stopped him.

"I can't wait any longer. My Aunt Nina and Uncle John have children."

The Butler Jake was stunned, "Really? Is Mrs. Nina pregnant?"

"No, she is not pregnant. The babies had been born. Two, two, twins, two younger cousins. I'll have two younger cousins to play in the future. Chester is too bored, not..."

Before James finished his words, the Butler Jake turned around and walked towards Sam's bedroom. He just took two steps and began to trot, shouting "Mr. Sam", and his voice was even louder than that of James's, the young man.

James was suddenly defeated and speechless.

"In that case, I'll tell others." James turned around and went to his Uncle Nelson's house.

When Nelson and Sandra heard the news, they were overjoyed, but only Chester was happy and a little sad.

'No wonder Uncle John just said yes today.

It turned out that Uncle John had his own children. Do my two younger cousins look like Uncle John or Aunt Nina?

When will my two younger come back?

Will they call me elder cousin?'

After two hours' sleep, John woke up at three o'clock in the afternoon.

After packing up, he changed his clothes and went downstairs. There were a family of eight people in the hall, and there were nine including the Butler Jake standing there.

They all looked at John and their gaze followed him from upstairs to downstairs.

The scene was more magnificent than the three trials.

John knew who had spread the news.

"The children's birthday is the Lantern Festival. When I just saw Nina in the C Island. The two children came out as soon as they were excited." John made up a lie calmly.

'There is no need to let them know what had happened on the C Island. It would only cause worries.'

With her bright eyes wide open, Dora asked, "Uncle John, are my cousins very cute? Do you have any photos of my cousins?"

"No. Protect the children's privacy and don't allow anyone to take pictures." John walked over and sat down.

"Can't their father do that?" Dora pouted and looked disappointed.

"Yes. The secrets can't be kept in the era of big data." Any one was allowed to take picture, not to mention John their biological father, the so-called father, Vicente.

"Ye

John sneered in his heart, 'They are thinking about my sons.'

"You have your own babies."

Henry blushed and pushed his glasses which were not too heavy. "Mr. Shi, if we can meet again in our next life, maybe we can be relatives by marriage."

Adrian smiled, "Yes. Well, stop joking. Let's get down to business."

John nodded and motioned to them to speak first.

Henry took out the tablet PC, opened a person's information and handed it to John. "His name is Tim Shen, twenty-eight years old. He suddenly appeared half a year ago, and monopolized the business of all the entertainment places in the Lexingport City and the surrounding cities for two months. He is very popular in the underworld. He is ruthless and has no background. The people gave him the nickname Master Tim."

'In the past, there was only Mr. Shi in the Lexingport City, but now there is another Master Tim, who are famous figures.'

In the photo of Tim on the document, there was a cold, hard and heroic look on his face, a murderous look on his face, and a murderous look in his eyes. He was not a person that others could offend easily.

It would be best if they could stay away from each other.

Mr. Shi Your Wife Have Taught You Well

play\_arrow

There was not much information about Tim, so others must have tampered with it.

The deepest information Henry had found out was that Tim had been chased a year ago and had been escaped to the Lexingport City. Coincidentally, he had been saved by Vivian who lived in a slum. The two of them had reached a certain cooperation and were ready to make a comeback at any time.

In less than a year, the two of them made a comeback quickly.

'Before I couldn't figure out a person's background, I could only wait and see. Moreover, now Tim didn't do anything to offend the Shi family.'

Henry saw a trace of hesitation in John's eyes. He suddenly stood up and bowed, "Mr. Shi, I have something to ask for your help."

John was not surprised by Henry's sudden move.

"Mr. Shi, I know my request is unreasonable, but the only person in the Lexingport City who has the ability to compete with Tim is you. The others either cooperate with Tim, and even if they don't provoke him, they have to show some respect to him." Henry kept bending over and said sincerely, "Please help me, Mr. Shi."

Adrian also stood up. His charming eyes became particularly serious today. He bowed to him and said, "Mr. Shi, I hope you can help Henry. As long as I moment, Adrian came out and brought back the topic, "What do you want to do? To build a palace to keep a beauty?"

"Change your words." Said Henry.

Adrian immediately saw the man opposite him darken his face at a speed invisible to the naked eye. 'I know that I had offended Mr. Shi.'

Adrian was speechless. 'Who the hell are you on, Henry?'

"Ha-ah, I'm just an idiot. Don't mind." Adrian grinned flatteringly.

John didn't want to talk to Adrian anymore. 'I just thought of the grand and luxurious scenery of the Scher Mountain. I always felt that it was unfair for Nina to live in the North Yard.'

"Build a castle for her." At this moment, John was full of expectations.

Adrian was so surprised that his jaw almost dropped. "Is it built so casually?"

"Money is enough. I'm already preparing for it. It will be built in the early spring next year." John was confident.

Adrian couldn't close his mouth at all in surprise.

This time, Henry stuffed an orange into Adrian's mouth. Seeing that he didn't move, Henry had to raise Adrian's chin by hand and bit it one after another like a rusty machine.

'In less than half a year, a castle would be built. A fatuous king, he is going to cost people and money again.'

Something Affecting Sleep

The bodyguards in the North Yard were well-trained, and they quickly packed up their own things. Amy helped Helen pack up, and then moved the North Yard empty one by one and loaded into the car.

At that time, the three of them, John and his friends, were watching and chatting. After the North Yard was empty, the construction team came. The North Yard collapsed into a ruins, with dust flying.

The construction was started at a shockingly fast speed.

Adrian and Henry looked it regretful. On the contrary, John praised the efficiency of Richard.

The mountain where the North Yard was located belonged to John. He had also asked people to raze some land for convenient expansion. In addition to the banyan trees Nina planted, many trees were affected and fell down.

As early as John had been in the C Island, she had found the designer who had designed and built Scher Mountain. Then they had finished the design drawing.

The designer was hired with a lot of money.

The construction of the castle was going on day and night. Indeed, as Henry expected, it would cost people and money. The rest of the workers wouldn't be affected as the two groups of people worked in turn, but they didn't have hat are you thinking about? I just want to know more details."

"Really? I can't count." Nina imitated his trick.

John said, "Do you want to have a look? Maybe you can count it out with a look."

"What? Your achievements?" With her back to the camera, Nina went to take the nightgown she would wear after taking a shower. She didn't notice the snicker in John's eyes.

When Nina turned around to face the camera, John said, "Only you know my feat."

Nina's body froze and she was speechless.

John seemed to be satisfied with her response, "Then I'll get up and show you."

Nina was speechless. ! !

As John stood up and unbuttoned his belt, Nina covered her phone with a snap and scolded him with a red face.

"Get out. Bye."

After saying that, Nina quickly picked up her phone and hung up. If she paused for a moment, she would see the complacent smile on John's face.

Nina sent him a message with her fast fingers.

"You know it affecting sleep! ! !

Go away. I'm going to take a shower."

Seeing the news, John couldn't help laughing.

Standing at the ajar door of the office, Richard couldn't help but look sideways to find out what was going on when he heard the laughter.

Meet With Tim In The Nightclub

play\_arrow

Amy had an independent office designed in simple black, white and gray.

'Since I became Mr. Shi's assistant, I found that I needed to learn a lot, especially how to deal with people.

The way their Shi family dealt with people was all brain and fists. When did they have to rely on the expression on their faces and this mouth?'

Looking at the books on the table, Amy felt it troublesome. She frowned and didn't say anything. She crossed her arms and sat on the chair like a piece of wood.

'I thought it was the best to let Lena be Mr. Shi's assistant. Compared with me, Lena was fond of laughing and talking, so I should be the bodyguard.

But at that time, the boss chose someone between the two of us to go to the Spring City. He said that Lena was a little lively and good. I really didn't understand why. Being a bodyguard was not a girlfriend.'

However, what she didn't know was that the same idea had been made by John, in case that Noah would still love Nina.

Worried, Amy finally reached out for a book. When she just turned a page, her phone rang.

"Mr. Shi."

"Tell me what you haven't finished."

"Yes, sir. We will meet with Tim at half past seven this Sunday evening in the Silverhall Nightclub." Amy sat straight.

"I have to go abroad for three days on Sunday. Postpone it or in fix it in advance and not strong.

However, the scene was chaotic. The bunny girl was singing with a microphone in her hand. The song she was singing was quiet and gentle. The flirtations on the sofa stopped after someone came in.

The man sitting in the middle of the sofa was smoking, and the women in bold clothes were sitting on both sides, either massaging his shoulders or massaging his legs.

The man breathed out smoke rings in a relaxed manner, and his big hands moved on the woman's thighs. With a "Clap", he slapped her, which made the woman shout shyly and directly go into his arms.

He was no other than Tim. He had stubble under his chin and a very serious face. He looked like a tiger that could open its bloody mouth and bite people at any time.

"John." Tim called his name directly and pushed the women in his arm away, "Get out of here, all of you!"

Then he pointed at the bunny girl who was singing, "You stay and continue singing. I'll reward you."

The two men, who had just finished flirtations, each held the woman in their arms. "Master Tim asked others to leave. You don't have to."

In an instant, there were only three women left in the room.

With a condescending look on his face, John called out directly, "Tim."

It seemed that only the two of them dared to call each other's name directly.
