Chapter 11 Twins

"The spit on this dress is yours, Miss Mary, and you threw it on the ground, right? You are also a frequent customer, so please do not make it difficult for us, do you?"

Mary was going crazy.

She had to take out her bank card to pay the bill. The shopping guide wanted to pack this dress for her.

But Mary angrily said, "This dress is stained with saliva, and that ugly monster has worn it. I don't want it!" Then she left furiously.

She wasted her money on the dress, not to mention that ugly monster, Ceres bullied her. It was a great shame.

Ceres did not leave, but hid on the side and watched Mary leave in a rage. It was hard to tell how happy she was because of this.

While thinking of how much she bullied her in the Morris' house, she finally got revenge.

The masked man kept looking at her.

When Mary left, Ceres took the masked man and prepared to return to the store again.

"Haven't you had enough yet?" He asked.

"Enough. Of course, we will return these clothes! Anyway, I have enjoyed the feeling."

Ceres pulled the masked man away, but he did not move. "Do not return them."

"Do not return them? Are you crazy? These clothes are so expensive, leave them for the New Year present?"

The masked man simply ignored Ceres and went straight forward. Ceres quickly caught up with him. "Hey, I haven't asked you yet. Where did you get so much money as a bodyguard? You did not steal it, did you?"

The masked man finally stopped, "Mr. Smith asked me to take you out to buy clothes."

"Really?" Ceres looked at the masked man in some incredible way.

"Yes, you can ask him when you go back."

Ceres just stopped and walked for a while. The masked man suddenly stopped, and Ceres suddenly hit him.

"Can you tell me first when you stop?"

"Who is that woman?" The masked man's voice was still extremely cold.

Ceres was choked. The masked man was Johnny's bodyguard and must have had contact with other people in the Winsor's house. She could never tell the truth.

"It's my twin sister..." Ceres hung her head down.

Under the black sunglasses, the masked man's eyes showed sharp cold light.
Twin?

He did not look closely at the woman. In fact, in the course of his twenty-nine years of life, his eyes had hardly been fixed on any woman, with the exception of this one.

"She was born in poor health. My father always felt that she could not be raised alive, so she was raised in the countryside, where the environment was good. So, she hated me when she returned to the city, because I always enjoyed the love of my parents, and she had nothing. Until I married Johnny, she felt better."

That was what Mike said to others.

He erased all traces of Ceres. And he created the identity of Mary's twin sister, Sawyer Morris. In this case, although "Mary" got married, Mary could still live with her parents with the identity of "Sawyer".

The masked man did not keep asking questions, but went straight forward.

"Bill, did you notice that my neck is empty? Is there anything missing?" The voice of a delicate woman was heard.

Not far away, a scantily clad woman stuck to a man as if she had no bones.

Bill was most familiar with such tricks, but he had always spent countless money, so he wouldn't care about such a small amount.

"Let's buy it!" He said,

Bill turned around and saw a familiar figure.

“Johnny!” He exclaimed,

The masked man turned quickly.

Why did he meet this boy at this time?

Chapter 12 Be Grounded

Bill immediately chased him up. “Johnny! You came out? Why haven’t I heard any news? You are taking me as your friend! Shouldn’t I be the first one to know?”

The masked turned around, and Ceres looked at Bill and then looked at him. “Do you know each other?” She asked,

Bill noticed that Ceres was being followed by the masked man.

“Are you mistaken for someone else?”

Bill blinked. He did not admit his mistake. What was going on here?

Johnny was covering so tightly, dressing like a bodyguard, taking his ugly wife, and buying so many clothes, was this role-playing?

“Sorry, I took Mrs. Winsor out to buy things today, and now it’s time to go back.” The masked man silently spoke again.

“Oh, I’m sorry, I mistook you for someone else. You look very similar to one of my buddies. So similar when looking from behind.” Bill hurriedly waved his hand and left quickly with his sexy girl.

The masked man also strode forward, Ceres looked at Bill and quickly caught up with the masked man.

Bill secretly turned around. “What the hell? Really? Role-playing?”

The sexy girl did not know what was going on, she asked Bill, “Bill, who was that man? Why his taste so bad, that woman is so ugly.”

“None of your business!”

Ceres also felt very strange. She looked at the man just now as if he was a little familiar. He seemed to have seen her somewhere, but she could not remember.

Back home, she hurriedly unpacked up a lot of shopping bags, so she put all these things behind her.

Mary returned home in a rage and kicked her high heels away angrily as soon as she entered the door. Even the servant gave her slippers, and she reprimanded them.

Mike was reading a newspaper on the sofa. Seeing her like that, he put it away. "What's wrong with you, why do you lose temper?"

"Dad! I saw Ceres today! She was with a mysterious man saying that the man was her bodyguard, but I saw the two of them kissing and flirting with each other. Go and tell The Winsors that this slut woman has cuckolded Johnny!"

Mary said viciously.

"Nonsense! Do you know what you are talking about? If I'm going to tell the Winsors now that Ceres has cuckolded Johnny, isn't that equivalent to you cuckolded Johnny? When the time comes, our family will have a hard time!" Mike shouted at Mary.

Mary was so scared that she had never seen her father talk to her that way.

"Mary, do you know that someone has already investigated you? Fortunately, I made arrangements in advance, otherwise, the marriage will be exposed and our whole family will be finished!"

Mike looked at his beloved daughter. He really didn't want to blame her, so he just sighed.

"Don't go out, for the time being, wait until everything is over."

"Dad..." Mary pursed her mouth and looked at her father with a grievance.

"It is for your own good!"

After that, Mike confiscated Mary's car keys and bank cards. He even told the servants to look after Mary and not let her go out.

Mary went back to her room furiously.

"Ugly woman, wait for me! I won't let you go like this!"

Chapter 13 Depends on You!

The days are back to the past.

However, because Adam ordered that Ceres could go out at least once a week, Ceres felt that she finally had hope, because she purchased many ingredients, and she could do more things.

On that day, when Ceres was preparing to bake bread, Adam suddenly came into the kitchen.

"Mrs. Winsor, your mother has come to see you."

Ceres still paused. It was her mother, Sally Nadine.

Sally was sitting gracefully on the sofa, sipping tea. She was in her forties, but she looked like she was still in her thirties, with elegant temperament and beauty.

"Mom," Ceres called and sat on the sofa.

Sally smiled at Ceres. "Let me take a good look at you. Mom misses you so much."

This sentence made Ceres feel warm.

Just one month after she was born, Sally left her and her father and married Mike for no reason. Before Ceres was twelve years old, her mother never showed herself.

Later, when she went to the Morris's, Sally never gave her the warmth that a mother should give her. Instead, in order to please the Morrises, Sally asked her to act as a servant in their home. This was the first time that Ceres heard her mother say "I miss you".

"Dear Mary, are you doing well here?"

Hearing this "Mary", Ceres froze. She knew that her mother didn't really miss her. It was a play.

"It is quite good."

"Mary, I have not seen you for many days. Can I go to your room and talk to you?" Sally asked.

Ceres looked up at Adam, and he nodded towards her.

So, Ceres came to her room with Sally. As soon as she entered the door, when Ceres was just about to say something, Sally's face instantly became ferocious.

"You restless thing!" Sally said, and she also raised her hand hard to slap her.

Fortunately, Ceres reacted quickly and suddenly dodged her slap with her hind legs.

"Why did you hit me?"

"You seduce men here! And you even went out to make a fool of yourself! Do you know that if this matter is known by the Winsors, our whole family will have to endure it?"

Although Sally was extremely angry, she had to lower her voice. After all, they were in the Winsors' territory.

Ceres understood what her mother said. Mary went home to gossip about her and the bodyguard and Mike sent Sally to warn her.

Ceres sneered. "It's your family."

The Morris was never her family."

"Your current identity is Mary, and you represent the Morrises! Ceres, you must remember why you want to marry here!"

This sentence suddenly reminded her.

Yes, why did she marry Johny in the first place? Which little girl was willing to marry a living dead?

She did it for her father.

At the age of twelve, her father suddenly went to prison for murder and was sentenced to life imprisonment. He was still in prison.

She always felt that her father was wronged. If Mike had not promised her to help her father rehabilitate within one year, she would never marry instead of Mary.

Sally knew that her father was her weakness. When she saw Ceres's slightly melancholic eyes, she knew that what she said had played a role.

"Be careful here, do not let anyone catch you, or your father will never come out in his life!"

At night, when everything was silent, Ceres sat on the balcony drinking wine, which she took from the wine cabinet, the rooster made a "giggle" sound from time to time beside her.

A black figure appeared behind her.

Ceres looked up and met a man, "Come, drink with me!"

The masked man was puzzled when he saw Ceres. "Is your mother here today?"

"Don't let me talk about her, she is not my mother!"

Chapter 14 My Husband Is Jealous

Ceres roared.

"She is a..."

Ceres really did not want to describe Sally with some vicious words although Sally gave birth to her for ten months' hard labor.

Ceres did not continue and swallowed a big mouthful of wine.

Just because she did not say something did not mean she did not know it. Sally had done a lot of bad things with her beauty,

When Ceres was a child, she occasionally listened to neighbors talking about her mother, saying that Sally behaved badly and only loved rich men.

Ceres's father knew all these things, but he still loved her mother, so he tolerated everything.

Until she was born, Sally finally made up her mind to leave their poor family. After arriving at the Morris', Ceres also heard servants talk about how Sally got Mike and became his wife.

Ceres asked herself more than once why she had such a mother.

"Drink! If I am truly your friend, you will get drunk with me!" Ceres picked up a bottle of wine from the side and handed it to the masked man.

The masked man did not ask Ceres about what she did not finish saying. After all, there seemed to be too many secrets about her.

Ceres took the bottle and directly drank on it one mouthful at a time. This was the wine collected by Johny, many of which were foreign wines, which were very strong. Ceres never drank wine like this at all, and she did not know that the wine was so strong.

She drank too much without leaving anything.

She stood up and waddled on the balcony, singing softly.

"Cucurbits, seven flowers on a vine, hey! Black cat sheriff! I have a little donkey, and I never ride it. Today I will ride it to the market. I have horns on my head and a tail behind me. No one knows how many secrets I have. Goblin, give it back to my grandfather quickly!"

Ceres pointed at the masked man with a wine bottle in her hand. "Give my grandfather back..."

The masked man's face was covered by the mask, and she could not see any emotion. He just said faintly, "You are drunk."

"I'm not drunk! I'm a little green dragon, little green dragon, I have many little secrets, little secrets." Ceres continued to sing the ballad while she suddenly sat down in the arms of the masked man.

She looked at the masked man with blurry eyes. "Can you show me what you look like?"

She stretched out her hand to prepare to lift the mask of the masked man, but the man opened pushed her hands away. "You drink too much. I will send you back to your room."

"I did not drink too much! I mean it, not much." Ceres pushed the masked man impatiently, but she could not even stand. She stumbled, but fortunately, the masked man held her.

Ceres pursed her lips and held onto the masked man. She smiled with curved eyes and blurry eyes, which seemed to be full of endless temptation.

The masked man suddenly kissed her lips without holding them. Only the next second, he suddenly felt something standing on his head.

The cock seemed to be declaring sovereignty.

The masked man quickly waved his hand to shake off the cocks, and the rooster flew down from his head again.

He could not wait to kill the rooster with one knife.

Ceres laughed. "My husband is jealous."

She staggered and fell into the arms of the masked man once again. Ceres couldn't stand up. "I can tell you a secret, you know? I..."

Ceres leaned closer to the masked man's ear and whispered, "Am not... Mary."

The masked man's hands loosen their grip, and Ceres directly sat down on the ground, lethargic.

Chapter 15 I Am Not Her

Jazz bar.

This bar was founded by Bob, which was the secret base of three people. Before Johny declared his waking up, the three of them could only meet secretly there except communicating on mobile phones and computers.

Johny's face was extremely gloomy as if he had been splashed with ink.

Even Bill did not dare to show off, he did not dare to sing songs, and just sat quietly playing mobile games. At that time, he did not dare to provoke Johny.

Bob held a stack of documents in his hand, and his face was slightly dignified.

"According to the clues you provided, I did find out that Mike has only one biological daughter, and there are no twins at all. The so-called twins were no more than a story made up by Mike. Now, the real Mary is at home. What are you going to do?"

John's dark eyes were fascinating and frightening.

"What the hell? Damn Mike cheated five hundred million with a counterfeit! Who gave him the courage to take five hundred million with an ugly monster?" Bill said while playing games.

Bob looked at Bill, and Bill immediately made a gesture to seal up his mouth and then continued to play games with his head down.

"I also investigated that Henry had been very close to Mike recently. The Morris Group has come back to life because of these five hundred million. Henry's reputation in the Winsor Group is getting better and better. If he received the help of the Morrises again, it would be even more powerful. Hey, are you really not going to do something?"

Bob had begun to faintly worry about Johny. Henry Winsor was Johny's brother

"Yes, yes! Johny, you should hurry to announce that you are awake, otherwise, that bastard will ride on your neck and shit again. The revenge of the car accident has not been taken on him!" Bill leaned again and said.

That time, Johny looked at him coldly. Bill suddenly closed his mouth tightly, then pointed to his mobile phone, lowered his head, and never dared to say a word anymore.

"Bill is right. It's time for you to wake up. We must stop them from colluding, otherwise, it would get out of hand. We will be dormant for three years and can't give up all our previous achievements."

Johny breathed a deep breath as if everything was under his control.

"What's the name of the girl who married me?"

Bob froze. Was that the point?

But he still patiently replied, "Her name is Ceres Taylor, the daughter of Mike's wife to her ex-husband. She is not related to the Morrises. It is good for the Morrises to take her in. She is also a servant without money in the Morris'."

Johny nodded slightly so that many things could be explained. No wonder she was so good at cooking, and no wonder she did not have a bad temper.

"Let's leave this matter for the time being. No one should speak out. Pretend you don't know anything." Johny stood up directly and went out straight towards the door.

Bob was incredibly staring at his back when he left, he did not know what the hell this guy was doing.

Bill secretly leaned in. "So, you think Johny is being carried away by hatred, like that ugly? Let me tell you, I saw Johny went shopping with that ugly girl that day and played role-playing! He pretended not to know me. I did not even know he is so good at flirting with girls."

Bob also fell into deep thought.

He did not object to Johny falling in love. After all, he was twenty-nine years old and looked like thirty years old, but the girl was a little.
