

Chapter 327

As for the relationship between Suzi and the Lin family, it has always been a scar for Suzi, and she does not want to expose her scar.

But this is actually nothing shameful.

Suzi didn't go to the cafe with Darius. She was on the main road in front of the company where she applied for, and briefly told Darius about her relationship with the Lin family.

She didn't want to waste time, because she wanted to go home quickly to see what Lilly did in Fu's old house.

"I lived in my hometown before the age of twelve, which was the outskirts of a small county. My parents lived by growing vegetables in greenhouses. During the slack, my dad also went to the yard to pick up some goods.

When I was ten years old, my dad smashed my dad to death because the package collapsed while carrying the goods at the yard. That year, my mother was sick for a whole year.

Afterwards, my mother's health has been in poor health.

My academic performance was very good, and my mother didn't want me to delay studying. Two years later, my mother took me to Nancheng.

That was my first time in a big city.

I don't know what is the relationship between our family and the Lin family. My mother has never told me. My mother only brought me to Jarod's house. Please Jarod and his wife. I hope I can live in Lin's family so that I can have books to read.

Jarod was reluctant, and Moira was particularly reluctant. However, for some reason, the Jarod and his wife reluctantly took me in. Since then, I have been fostered in the Lin family.

My mother visits me every six months.

But she had never been to Lin's house. My mother always went to school to talk to me, gave me some money and left.

During winter and summer vacations, I will go back to my hometown. Sell vegetables with my mother. Although our days are poor, we are also very happy.

I once asked my mother what it had to do with the Lin family. My mother never told me.

When school starts after the summer vacation, I am coming back to Lin's family to study in Nancheng.

I lived this way from sixth grade to sophomore year.

Later, my mother's health became worse and worse, and the number of visits to me became less and less. Later, when I went to college, I spent a lot of money on living expenses, and Moira became more and more dissatisfied with me.

Jarod often dislikes me.

I asked my mother that their family disliked me so much, why did they want me to be fostered in Lin's family?

My mother cried and told me, "Suzi, you see that your parents grow vegetables in greenhouses for a lifetime, life is so hard, you will stay for three or four years, go to school, and once you graduate from college, you will be able to leave the Lin family and find a good job. In the future, you can be selfreliant, you don't have to come back to grow vegetables in the greenhouse, and you don't have to suffer like your father did. '

Seeing that my mother hopes so much for me, I don't want to disappoint my mother.

So I always endured the Lin family's contempt and dislike for me.

Until my sophomore year. Goed to jail for manslaughter. "

When Suzi said this, the clouds were particularly light and breezy. It was like telling other people's stories, including her saying that she was in jail, all in such a plain tone.

However, when he heard Suzi telling his past, Darius felt very uncomfortable, it was the kind of heart-digging pain. He looked at Suzi heartbrokenly: "You never know what is going on between your parents and the Lin family. Relationship?"

Suzi shook his head, his tone dimmed suddenly: "I want to know, I wanted to ask my mother when I was released from prison, but just three days before I was released from prison, my mother died."

Chapter 328

Darius: "..."

He didn't know how to comfort the girl in front of him, but he felt the same sadness in his heart. At this moment, the sky suddenly began to rain as if it were the occasion.

Within a few seconds, the raindrops will be big.

Suzi subconsciously raised his hand to protect his head, and Darius immediately pulled Suzi back into the lobby on the first floor.

The two stood firmly, and Darius took out his cell phone and dialed a call: "Xiao Lu, come and help me bring the files up."

Suzi: "... Didnt Darius want to go upstairs, why did he call someone to come down and get the documents?

Before long, a beautiful woman wearing professional attire and stepping on high heels came down. Darius handed the document to the woman, and then said: "Tell you Mr. Shao, I won't go up. I have something wrong with me."

The woman smiled: "Okay, Mr. Shu." After that, the woman went up.

Darius looked at Suzi: "Where are you going now, I will see you off."

Suzi: "... She wants to go home.

After a pause, she said, "No need for Shu Shao, I can go by myself."

Darius smiled: "Will you come to Arron? Are you afraid of Arron?"

Suzi: "...he actually treats me very well."

Darius smiled: "Then what are you worried about?"

Suzi also smiled.

Because of the remarks that Lilly called her up front, Suzi was very anxious to go back. She wanted to ask how the only thing was. It was not easy for them and their mother and daughter to live in this city. Suzi doesn't want to be the only one to cause trouble. If it really causes trouble, Suzi also wants to protect the only one in the first place. So she wants to go home as soon as possible.

Thinking about this, Suzi didnt insist anymore, she said to Darius lightly, "Thank you, Shu Shao."

Darius smiled comfortably. He felt relieved that this girl was willing to ride in his car. After all, he had misunderstood her six years ago, and later saw that she sacrificed her life to save Joan's life. In fact, Sanford was not the only one who was moved at the time?

He Darius was also very moved.

"Sanford he..." Darius asked Suzi, one way after another, as he drove.

Suzi's expression froze.

Sanford is the pain in her heart. She still doesn't know the country where Sanford and his parents were exiled by Arron and where they went. She also wants to know.

"I don't know where he is now." Suzi said with his head down.

"I will help you find Sanford, once there is news about Sanford, I will tell you immediately." Darius said.

"Thank you!" Suzi smiled slightly.

"Your daughter..." Darius asked again.

"She's fine." Suzi didn't look at Darius, only looked outside the glass window, and then answered briefly.

If Darius stopped questioning, Suzi would not say a word.

She is still as calm and indifferent as she was six years ago, always like a girl whose thoughts are drifting outside. Darius knows that she has suffered too much, especially in the upper class. Those people take her. When the plaything is the same, she has been played around, covering herself with layers of shells.

Unwilling to contact the outside world more, don't want to cause trouble.

Seeing that Suzi seldom spoke, Darius didn't ask any more. He just drove straight to Arron's residence. When he was approaching Arron's residence, the rain slowly stopped.

The car entered the complex and stopped downstairs where Arron was shrinking. Suzi and Darius got off one after another. Darius took out a business card and handed it to Suzi, and said gently, "Suzi, you asked me for the first time. When I borrowed money, I didn't lend it to you. That incident would make me feel guilty for a lifetime, and it will never be erased.
