

Chapter 265

The beauty was beyond his expectation.

She has always been cold, and can even be described with a blank face, but she only smiles when she is in front of her mother. Arron has seen Suzi's smile. Her smile is sweet and clean. .

Like a high school girl.

He had also seen Suzi's indifference and loneliness. She was like that most of the time. Arron had never seen Suzi's lazy and idle appearance, and she felt very charming.

Very charming.

He looked stunned.

"Does it look good?" Suzi asked casually.

From childhood to adulthood, she never thought about the day when she would serve Israel, never thought that she would do this kind of business, even after two years in prison, she never gave up on living.

She devoted herself to learning architectural design from Aunt Shanna.

I imagined that one day I would come out of prison, take a good job in design, support myself, support my mother, and then find a congenial boyfriend and live a happy and fulfilling little life.

However, things are impermanent.

Maybe when she was released on bail by Jarod and asked her to contribute her one time to Arron, she was destined to become a seller.

Since it is for sale, she should be professional.

She looked at Arron with watery eyes, and asked again: "Does it look good?"

"Replace it!" Arron said.

Suzi: "?"

The gold medal salesperson also found it very strange. Although his face was a little bit awkward, he still said: "It's okay, Mr. Fu, even if you don't want this one, we won't worry about selling it in our store. Yes, we can change another one."

The gold salesperson didn't dare to offend Arron. Arron said let it be replaced, and she immediately went to get another one without stopping. As soon as he took a step, Arron said behind him, "You got me wrong."

Gold salesperson: "Mr. Fu, what did you say?"

"Change another style for her to wear, but this style can't be sold, wrap it up for me," Arron said lightly.

Suzi really looks good in this peacock blue, so you can see the charm.

However, Arron didn't intend to let others see this kind of charming and good-looking.

"Change to that little white dress." Arron said to the startled gold salesperson.

The gold medal sales clerk immediately respectfully said: "Okay, good Mr. Fu, I will replace it for this lady right away."

The gold medal salesman took Suzi into the locker room again.

This time, it was the little white skirt that Arron was going to designate.

The half-height stand-up collar has a small red button on the back of the neck, and the neckline is a delicate tube top with a circle of diamonds.

At the waist, a delicate red ribbon is tied.

Below the waist, there is a fluffy knee-length skirt.

This little dress was worn on Suzi, and Suzi couldn't help but surprise himself.

This is really her favorite style.

The salesperson is not very optimistic: "Miss, this is not suitable for..."

"What's the matter?" Suzi asked.

The gold medal salesman smiled: "It's okay, come out and let Mr. Fu take a look."

Suzi was led out by the gold medal salesperson and stood in front of Arron. Arron was taken aback.

"That's it!" Arron said.

Chapter 266

After hearing Arron's answer, Suzi breathed a sigh of relief, and finally she didn't have to try on again.

Trying on clothes is also a tiring job.

Especially, wearing this kind of clothes is actually for others to look at, clothes that please others, so that Suzi feels even more tired.

"Tired?" Arron asked.

Suzi said faintly: "It's okay."

Arron raised his eyes to look at the gold medal salesperson: "Wrap all the styles I choose."

The gold medal salesperson immediately cheered and cheered: "Okay, Mr. Fu, wait a moment!"

Arron looked down at Suzi again: "Do you like those styles?"

All the styles are carefully selected by him. Whether it is a mature style or a pure style, it is a style that matches her cold and lonely personality very well.

Suzi lowered his head slightly: "It doesn't matter."

Arron: "..."

Suzi said faintly: "I don't already have one on my body. Wouldn't it be a waste to buy so many more?" Isn't she asking her to pay it back? Suzi was very worried that the dress money would also be included in the cost of repayment.

She had to remind him.

"Because you don't just wear a dress dress once today, you still have to wear it in the future!" Arron snarled.

Oh!

Got it.

There should be many men she will accompany in the future, maybe there will be more than one a day, right?

So maybe how many clothes you need to change a day? Suzi didn't speak any more, so Arron took her by the hand and left the dress shop. Behind them, the two salesmen who followed the delivery muttered quietly behind them.

"Good match, like a pair of golden boys and girls."

"I think Shao Fu is a little more mature. The girl seems to be very young. Wearing today's pure model, she is even more young, like a woman in her early twenties."

"How happy to be with the woman next to Arron."

Hearing this, Suzi couldn't help smiling in his heart.

Happy?

Happiness is very simple for her, as long as her daughter is the only one who can live well, can go to school, and her brother is still alive in the world.

For Suzi, it is happiness.

How simple.

After getting in the car, Suzi followed Arron to the 'Drunk Tonight' entertainment club.

This place is magnificent and luxurious. Suzi has never been to such a place. The place where Joan took her six years ago is not as luxurious as this place, and the place she was taken by Lanita yesterday is not as good as this place. Luxury.

Before entering the door, Suzi felt that there was a kind of imperial spirit here.

Entering the door, there are not many customers who come to spend money. The inside is quiet and orderly. Suzi followed Arron into the door and into the elevator.

The elevator goes all the way to the sixth floor and comes out.

Then Suzi's wrist was held by Arron. She was a little uncomfortable and wanted to be ugly, but she was too weak to pull it away.

At the same time, there are already a dozen people sitting in the private room. This private room is very large, with as much as one hundred and fifty square meters. Inside it is a bar, a wine cabinet, a sofa area, and a bathroom.

At this time, the people in the private room were talking on the sofa, men and women.

Basically, there is a lady sitting next to a man. When the men talk about things, the women are very well-behaved and quietly sit on the side with their legs folded. When the woman and the woman look at each other from time to time, Smile at each other.

The scene is not too familiar yet.
