

King of kings

Chapter 2500

Everyone watched, foolishly, as the white line of the Don went up and up and up.

An hour and it was over quickly.

“Stop.” The host shouted.

Everyone stopped, including Omi.

Zhu Youcai immediately looked towards Omi and his eyes were red after seeing Omi’s white line so high.

The host shouted, “Everyone, let’s take a look at the results of this year’s Divine Brain Competition, Zhu Youcai, who won first place last year, this time, he ended up reaching a height of forty meters, surpassing his previous record. Unfortunately, his forty-meter achievement looked so small under the light of Wind Lightning Cloud. Our dark horse, Wind Light Cloud, reached a final height of ninety-nine meters.”

The whole stadium cheered.

Ninety-nine meters ah, what kind of concept was this.

“Wind Lightning, becoming the winner of this year’s God Brain Competition and setting a new universe record, I think this universe record, I’m afraid that it will be hard for anyone later to break it, congratulations Wind Lightning. Please ask the rest of you to go down first, Wind Lightning will stay behind and tell everyone properly how you created this kind of universe record.”

Zhu Youcai angrily looked at Omi.

The host asked, “Wind Lightning, may I ask, how did you do it? You know, this God’s Brain Competition is really, really hard.” Remember to read the book in one second

Don Omi laughed and said, “I don’t know what happened, but I just thought it was pretty simple.”

“Wow.” The crowd wowed, actually saying that it was quite simple, was this to leave the others speechless.

“Wind Lightning, your brain is so smart, so do you have a corresponding manifestation of it in your cultivation?”

“I don’t know about that, I guess.”

“Can you tell me how old you are?”

“Around sixty million years.”

“Sixty million years to reach the lower gods is indeed not bad, but it’s not called extremely good.”

“Er, yeah.”

“Alright, Wind Lightning, you go down first.”

Omi stepped down from the stage, which was a bit of a show.

Old Sang laughed excitedly, “Wind Lightning, you’re really great, we’ve won two titles in a row, hahaha.”

Omi said, “Master, there are still two competitions left, the Divine Chess Competition and the Divine Martial Competition, when do they start?”

“The Divine Chess Competition will start soon, and the Divine Martial Competition, I’m afraid this will be tomorrow, as the Divine Martial Competition takes longer.”

Omi was busy asking, “Master, what is the main competition of the Divine Chess Tournament?”

“It’s a type of chess that has been popular in our main world since ancient times, and there are a total of twelve thousand of these chess pieces, divided into seven colors of red, orange, yellow, green, blue, blue, and purple.”

“So many chess pieces.”

“Yes, so this kind of chess is very difficult.”

“Master, can you teach me right now, I also want to participate in the Divine Chess Tournament.”

Old Sang smiled, “Forget it, we’ve already won two championships.”

“Two is nothing, besides, I’ll just participate in the Divine Chess Tournament, who says I can win the championship, after all, I can’t even now.”

“This, okay.”

Old Sang directly transmitted the rules of the Divine Chess to Omi in the form of a mental message.

Omi immediately entered the depth space and analyzed the rules of the divine Chess.

Almost

In one fell swoop, Omi had thoroughly learned how to play this chess, and it really was extremely complicated.

However, Omi felt very interested in it.

Omi continued to study it again until Old Sang was urging him on.

“Wake up, the Divine Chess Competition is about to start, have you learned how to play?”

Omi opened his eyes and said, “I learned it long ago, and I’ve consolidated and deepened it.”

"Then are you sure you can participate? I just forgot to tell you that before the Divine Chess Tournament is entered, there's a scramble session, and the scramble session must pass sixty points before you're eligible to go to the actual tournament."

"Do your best."

At this time, on the stage, the host said, "Everyone, the Divine Chess Competition is about to begin, Divine Chess, is a popular chess skill in our main world since ancient times, I believe that you gods, you usually use Divine Chess to pass your time when you have nothing to do, today's Divine Chess Competition, it's a highly anticipated event."

"The winner of the last Divine Chess Tournament was Prince Ah Yin from the A's God Emperor Family, this year, will Prince Ah Yin be able to continue to be the champion of the Divine Chess Tournament for another year? Let's wait and see, next, the first thing we are going to do is, the divine chess quiz session, in order to go on stage and play directly against each other, the quiz session must reach sixty points, otherwise you are not qualified to go on stage and play against other people, after all, there are a lot of people."

Offstage, Miss Arlo said to a man beside her, "Brother, watch out for you oh."

"Don't worry, sister, divine chess is my specialty, I love playing divine chess the most, I will win a championship."

"Mhmm, brother, go for it."

Soon after, the dweller shouted, "Please all those who participated in the Divine Chess Tournament come forward."

Hundreds of people stood to the front, and Omi was among them.

The host said, "Wind Lightning, you've already won two championships, and you're still participating in the Divine Chess Tournament, could it be, you can also play Divine Chess?"

"Oh, it's all about participation, I've only just learned about divine chess, and I'm not planning to get any ranking in the interim."

"Hahaha." Hearing Omi say that he had only just learned it on a temporary basis, suddenly, many people laughed.

The previous champion, Ah Yin, said mockingly, "Wind Lightning, although you're smart, but the divine Chess is a long-standing chess skill in our main world, could it be that you've only just learned it, and you're qualified to participate? I see you don't embarrass yourself."

"That's right, you just learned how to participate in this kind of tournament, do you f*cking want to insult Divine Chess?"

Omi said indifferently, "Even though I've just learned it, it doesn't mean that my chess skills must be bad, right?"

"I pooh, what qualifications do you have to talk about chess skills for someone who has just learned it, don't insult the divine chess of our main world." Several people around Omi said angrily.

Omi said, "Unfortunately, yet I don't feel that this divine chess is that difficult, even though I just learned it, I have the confidence to fight with you people who have been playing chess since I was a child."

"Yah yah." Those few people were itching with anger.

The host said, "Alright, don't fight, whether you have real skills or not, we'll find out in a moment, now, please look at the empty space, will a different chess game appear in the empty space, when I pick up what color pieces, which one of you will be the first one to say where to place them and be correct, gets a point."

"Begin."

Suddenly, a chess game appeared in the void.

Omi swept the entire chess game with a sweep of his eyes.

The rest of the people were also nervously watching the chess game.

At this moment, the host picked up a green chess piece.

Omi shouted, "288 marker position."

Shenny said, "Don't Omi, now you're satisfied that I didn't even deny it."