

Charismatic Charlie Wade Chapter 5051-5054

Chapter 5051

After the command, Charlie raised a glass with everyone and drank the spirits in one gulp.

For Charlie, the spiritual energy in this wine was already insignificant, so he basically didn't feel it.

However, for the soldiers in the Wanlong Palace in front of them, it was completely different!

These people never thought that this wine would contain such powerful energy.

When they drank this glass of wine into their stomachs in one breath, they only felt a strong warm current from their stomachs rushing towards their dantian!

Immediately after that, the warm current turned into a surging momentum that was like a destructive force, and suddenly rushed towards his own eight meridians!

For warriors, the improvement of their own strength is closely related to two elements.

The first element is the number of openings of the Eight Extraordinary Meridians.

It is also the fundamental element to measure a martial artist's cultivation.

The more the meridians are opened, the stronger the level and strength of the warrior.

As for the second element, it is the smoothness of each meridian.

The vast majority of warriors can only open a few meridians, but they can't make all the meridians completely open.

It's as if everyone has two nostrils, whoever has the most open nostrils has more air intake.

As for the spiritual energy, it can not only help them open up more meridians in one step, but also make the meridians they have opened up more smooth, and directly improve their cultivation from two dimensions!

Therefore, at this moment, the soldiers of the Wanlong Palace were all horrified and inexplicably discovered that the surging momentum in their bodies was not only impacting the meridians that they had opened up, but also rushed to the next meridian that they had not been able to break through.

After a while, someone shouted excitedly: "I have opened the fourth meridian! I have opened the fourth meridian!"

Immediately afterwards, someone shouted, "Me too! My God! I've been waiting for more than eight years to get through this meridian! But eight years have passed and I haven't been able to get it through. I didn't expect it to be opened just now!"

Even Xion couldn't help shouting in his heart: "I even broke through to the four-star... I can't even dream that I can become a four-star warrior like my grandfather... .."

In the crowd, some people even cried with excitement: "Five-star warrior...I finally became a five-star warrior...I never dreamed that in my life... Have the opportunity to become a five-star warrior..."

And the dozen or so five-star warriors were all ecstatic at this time, and someone blurted out: "I have opened the sixth meridian..."

"My... just got through..."

Next, there are the two existing kings of the Wanlong Palace, Chen and Salmaan.

Although the two did not break through the seventh meridian immediately, their cultivation level also jumped from the middle stage of the six-star warrior to the realm of great perfection. In fact, as long as Charlie gave them one more cup, it would be enough for them to complete the transition from six-star warrior to To the breakthrough of the seven-star warrior.

Moreover, what is even more rare is that the spiritual energy in the Qinggong wine helps them continue to expand and strengthen the six meridians that have been opened up, making their overall strength a qualitative improvement.

Even for a master like Abbas, who has already stepped into the dark realm, this glass of wine makes him feel as if he has completed a transformation. Although his cultivation has not improved in stages, he has made great progress. On weekdays, even in ten or eight years, there may not be such progress!

For a time, the more than 100 elite soldiers in the entire Wanlong Hall were so excited that they couldn't be added, and many people even burst into tears.

For a warrior, the difficulty of crossing the realm is comparable to the crossing of social class.

For some people, it is very difficult to get rid of poverty in a lifetime, while for some people, they may only be able to achieve a moderately prosperous life with a single effort.

If the middle class wants to go further and achieve complete financial freedom, it is also difficult to achieve in today's cruel society.

The same is true for the realm of a warrior.

Chapter 5052

Sometimes, even with a lifetime, it is impossible to achieve the leap from a two-star warrior to a three-star warrior.

Two-star warriors are actually the ceiling of most warriors' lives.

Not to mention, from three stars to four stars, four stars to five stars, and even five stars to six stars.

And charlie's glass of wine actually made more than a hundred people achieve the realm of cultivation in an instant. For them, this is simply the most incredible miracle.

Abbas, as the most powerful person in the Wanlong Palace, turned around to look at his brothers, and immediately found that most of them had achieved the improvement of their cultivation realm, and they were extremely excited.

When he turned to look at charlie again, in Abbas's eyes, in addition to gratitude, there was more awe.

He suddenly knelt down on one knee, looked at charlie with fists in both hands, and said respectfully, "My subordinate, thank you Mr. Wade for your kindness! I am willing to do everything for Mr. Wade!"

The other Wanlong Hall members also came back to their senses instantly, so everyone followed Abbas and knelt down towards charlie on one knee, clasped their fists with both hands, and shouted loudly, "My subordinate, thank you Mr. Wade for your kindness! May it be for charlie. Sir, he is ruthless, and he will do whatever he wants!"

charlie looked at the more than 100 Wanlong Palace soldiers in front of him. Seeing their tears and determination, he knew that these people would definitely be his right-hand man. While relieved, he nodded slightly and said loudly: "I charlie, I will never betray your trust in the future! Whether it is the Wanlong Palace, or you, in the future, I will spread its wings like a Dapeng, soaring to 90,000 miles!"

All the soldiers and soldiers immediately listened with enthusiasm.

At this time, the fire in the underground operating room had already burned the ground hot, and the flames even poured out from the room on the ground, charlie said to Abbas: "Abbas, it's almost time, order everyone to evacuate in an orderly manner! "

When Abbas heard this, he immediately turned around and said loudly: "According to plan A, retreat in an orderly manner, remember to take all the objects that have touched the scene away from the scene, and everyone's wine glass! The aftermath team must be there Erase all traces within half an hour, and then evacuate according to the established route!"

The soldiers immediately shouted: "Subordinates obey!"

Afterwards, more than 100 people immediately disbanded on the spot, and instantly divided into several different groups, heading in different directions.

Some teams don't need the aftermath, so they just loaded their wine glasses and started immediately, went out, started the car, and drove away quickly.

According to the original plan, they had to disguise themselves as foreign workers and take a chartered plane directly from Mexico to return to the Middle East in the name of a project transfer;

There is also a team that is specially responsible for waiting for charlie's dispatch in the United States, so they have to drive by land to Los Angeles, which is very close to the US-Mexico border, and then fly from Los Angeles to New York.

In addition, there is a special team that stays behind to deal with the aftermath. After destroying all clues, they will not leave Mexico immediately, but will stay silent for three days in Mexico to observe the changes in the situation in Mexico in the next three days. If the incident and the remaining clues are found, they will be resolved immediately. If not, they will also be evacuated back to the Middle East.

According to Charlie's request, the team in charge of waiting for him to send in the United States will take all the rescued people out of Mexico, no matter where they come from, they must first bring them to the United States, and then send them home from the United States .

To this end, Wanlong Hall specially prepared a bus to facilitate the transportation of the rescued people.

However, among the on-site personnel, one person temporarily changed the established arrangement, and that person was Xion.

Li Yalin has been frozen by the Fei family, and Charlie is not worried that someone in the United States will track down Xion and bring her back to the United States. He has other arrangements.

Soon, those who were rescued, along with the "client" who had just completed the operation and was still unconscious, were all taken out of the yard and lined up to board the bus.

Trent walked at the end of the team. He saw Charlie from a distance and wanted to say hello, but for some reason, he gave up the idea again.

Seeing how he was hesitating to speak, Charlie shouted, "Brother!"

Trent turned his head subconsciously and asked a little nervously, "Mr. Wade...you...are you calling me?"

Charlie nodded and smiled, and said, "Of course I'm calling you, you won't recognize my brother so soon, will you?"

Trent was flattered and said, "Mr. Wade, you are my savior. I am in front of you, how dare I call myself a brother."

Charlie smiled lightly, looked at Trent, and asked, "Brother, what are your plans next?"

Chapter 5053

Hearing Charlie's question, Trent shook his head blankly, and said with a wry smile: "It's all like this, what else can I plan, I finally survived the disaster thanks to your blessing, so I'm going back to the United States for now. , think of other ways..."

Charlie looked at him and said very seriously: "Brother, since you have already planned to travel all the way to Mexico to become a seafarer, I think it will be difficult for you to find a suitable job when you return to the United States."

When Trent heard this, his expression suddenly became embarrassed and helpless.

He let out a long sigh and said, "If you can't find a suitable job, just find some low-end jobs to do it. My mother can find work in restaurants, so I'm sure."

charlie looked at him and said with a smile: "Brother, in my opinion, this is not the case. You have already come out anyway, so you don't have to go back in such a hurry. Since you are doing communication engineering, you might as well join Wanlong Hall in the future. Wanlongdian, let's work! Wanlongdian is now based in the Middle East and radiates the world through the sea and the air. The demand for communication will definitely increase and become higher in the future, and talents like you are very much needed. "

When charlie said these words, he already had two plans in mind.

If Trent agreed to his invitation, it would be the best, and he would definitely let Abbas give him a generous treatment, and then take him directly to the Middle East.

But if Trent did not agree, he would definitely not be able to let him stay in the secret of what happened here and return directly to the United States. Like other rescued people, he would erase all the memories of him and others about today.

But charlie easily didn't want to try the second option.

After all, he met Trent once, which is a bit of a fate. If his memory is erased, the two will have no interaction in the future, and Trent will forget today's bloody lesson and return to the United States in a confused way. Find another job.

In contrast, charlie prefers to bring him under his command, and at the same time let him retain this memory, which is considered a great joy.

Trent did not expect that charlie would invite himself to join the Wanlong Palace.

At this moment, he did not hesitate at all, but asked with great surprise: "Brother, is someone like me really qualified to join the Wanlong Palace?"

charlie said seriously: "Brother, you are an expert in communication, Wanlong Palace needs talents like you, and almost all the core members of Wanlong Palace are Chinese and overseas Chinese, there is no obstacle to communication, and integration will become very difficult. It's simple, it's definitely more comfortable than when you go back to the United States to work for foreigners."

Trent said excitedly, almost without thinking: "I am willing! I am willing! You saved my life, but if there is a chance to repay my gratitude, I will never hesitate, and I don't want a single penny of salary, as long as If the Wanlong Palace can take care of my meal, I will be satisfied."

Chapter 5054

charlie smiled and said, "Brother, if you don't want a salary, what if your wife and children are in the United States?"

"It's okay..." Trent said very firmly: "As a human being, you have to repay your gratitude. If it weren't for you, my wife, children and children would think I was missing in the future, and they would always be worried about me, looking for clues everywhere until find the news that I have been killed, and then they may learn the details of my killing from the police, and it will definitely be extremely painful and grief-stricken...”

Having said that, Trent looked at Charlie and choked: “It was you who saved my life, so that my wife, children, and children would not be in pain because of my tragic death. In this regard, you not only saved me, but also saved my life. They, in this case, I can live, it is already the best situation for them, as for the difficulties in life, I believe they should be able to overcome, it is nothing more than a little hard work!”

Charlie was somewhat moved when he saw Trent’s firm expression and firm eyes.

After a while, he called Abbas to his side and said to him: “Abbas, this Trent is an expert in the field of communications, I believe Abbas definitely needs such a talent, so let him follow you. Go back to the Middle East.”

Abbas said with a smile: “That’s great! Wanlong Palace is now preparing to strengthen its hardware investment in the communication field, and there is a lack of such a talent to help us complete the planning of the infrastructure and future blueprint!”

Charlie smiled and said: “Okay! In my opinion, in the future, Wanlong Palace can even customize its own communication satellites from communication companies, and then go to find a commercial satellite launch company to launch and build its own satellite communication system. After all, Wanlong Palace can The internal communication requires a high level of confidentiality, but it is difficult to achieve 100% security if it relies on the communication and network services provided by other operators. If it is a completely self-built communication network, the degree of security will be greatly enhanced. .”

After speaking, Charlie said again: “I remember that now both private and private enterprises seem to be able to launch their own satellites.”

“Yes.” Trent, who was on the side, knew this very well, and he nodded immediately and said, “The three biggest problems with privately launching satellites are actually related to money, one is the R&D and production of the satellite itself, and the other is the satellite. If you launch satellites in the name of Wanlongdian, it is estimated that countries will be more sensitive. I suggest that you can first register one in the United States or in an offshore center such as the Cayman Islands. Legal private companies, and then through this private company, go to the research and development companies, launch companies and approval departments of satellites.”

Abbas on the side quickly asked: “Mr. Trent, what is the total cost of launching a communication satellite?”

Trent thought for a while and said, “If you just want to realize the global communication of Wanlong Palace itself, instead of becoming a To-C communication provider, then the overall demand will be much smaller, and the cost of satellites will be in the thousands of dollars. The launch cost is about $10,000, and the launch cost is lower. At present, the launch price of Elon Musk’s Space-X is about $5,000 for a kilogram, and a satellite is about $2 million. If it is global communication, if you can guarantee that there are twenty or thirty satellites, you can absolutely be foolproof!”

Abbas didn't know much about this, and couldn't help but exclaimed, "Do you need so many satellites?"

Trent nodded and said: "Twenty or thirty satellites are not too many. Elon Musk's Starlink satellites have launched thousands of satellites so far, and will launch thousands more in the future, and the total will be 10,000. Above, if you want to achieve global communication, the more satellites, the better. If you can have satellites overhead at any time, you can almost achieve no dead corner coverage on the global surface, and the more satellites, the more processing power and communication bandwidth. The higher it is, but his satellite is developed and launched by himself, so the cost will be relatively low, and he is for commercial use, so the demand is large, and the Wanlong Palace uses it internally, so the demand will be relatively much lower."

After hearing this, Charlie was overjoyed and said, "Brother is indeed a professional! If that's the case, then come to Wanlong Palace to lead this matter, and strive to build a set of your own for Wanlong Palace in the shortest possible time. satellite communication network!"