

No. 1 Supreme Warrior chapter 2861 - 2870

Chapter 2861

“Since we’re betting, then we should do it properly. In order to stop you from going back on your words, let’s sign a contract. If you win I’ll give you a hundred and ninety thousand spirit crystals. If I win, you give me the same amount.”

Manse frowned, “You seem to really like signing contracts...”

Back at the market, he had robbed Jackie’s deal before Jackie could sign a contract with the black-clothed man. He did not expect that Jackie would want to sign a contract just because he wanted to bet with Jackie.

Jackie let out a slight laugh as he raised his head and looked at Manse seriously, “If you don’t want to sign a contract, then say it. There’s no need to try to get out of it. I just think that a contract is the best assurance.”

After saying that, Manse did not waste any more time talking to Jackie. Signing a contract was actually better for Jackie.

That idiot thought he could beat a chosen disciple of an eighth-grade clan. Since he was so willing to offer out a hundred and ninety thousand spirit crystals for free, Manse would be dumb not to accept it.

Manse nodded, “Then let’s hurry up and sign it.”

In order to prevent any surprises, Jackie wrote down the contents of the contract at the fastest speed he had ever used in his life. He dropped his blood on it before handing it over to Manse. After Manse took the scroll, Manse dropped his own blood on it without any hesitation.

The words on the contract suddenly twisted and distorted, floating out of the scroll in mid-air. The power of heaven and earth descended upon it, fusing with those words. After a while, the words fused back into the scroll, representing the fact that the contract was sealed.

After doing all of that, Jackie smiled as he kept the scroll. There was no longer any way to change the deal after it was set, and it could not be delayed either. Manse’s expression soured even more when he saw how happy Jackie was acting.

He snorted and said harshly, “You’re the most arrogant person I’ve seen...”

Jackie turned to look at Manse, “The feeling is mutual.”

After saying that, Jackie went quiet again. They were surrounded by disciples of the Compass Pavilion. Everyone had traces of confusion on their faces after seeing what Jackie was doing.

They felt like Jackie was incredibly surprising. Initially, everyone felt like he was being so calm simply because he was too scared, and was forcing himself to put up a front. He did not want to show any fear in front of anyone. Yet, with what Jackie was doing, everyone suddenly knew that he was not putting up an act at all.

Jackie looked so unfazed simply because he was incredibly confident in himself. Possibly too much so.

Other than Rudy, everyone there thought that Jackie had no chance of winning. Jackie did not mind either. As everyone was in disbelief, a familiar voice was heard from below. Jackie looked down, and saw the black-clothed man walking towards them, "So it's you guys! No wonder you were so against each other. There were grudges between you."

The black-clothed man was the person that Jackie had wanted to deal with from before.

The moment they saw the man, Rudy was filled with anger. The man had clearly agreed to deal with Jackie but had pulled back. Rudy coldly snorted, "You have nothing to do with this, why are you interfering?!"

The man never expected Rudy to be so rude, and his expression darkened. The man might not be the strongest of warriors, but he still had his pride. He could not bear being talked to like that by a sixth-grade alchemist.

Chapter 2862

The man furrowed his eyebrows in anger, "Why do you care what I'm saying?! Do you want to die?! I happen to be lacking an opponent. Hand over your entry token. Let's fight!"

Rudy snorted as he said nonchalantly, "Why are you pretending to be someone so strong in front of me? Don't you see the sixth-grade alchemist badge on my chest? You're trying to fight an alchemist? Why don't we compete in alchemy?"

After he said that, the black-clothed man's face reddened. If it were not because of the rules in place, the man would have already been choking Rudy.

Rudy saw that the man had nothing to say, and he started to get more pleased with himself. He had wanted to mock the man more, but was stopped by Jackie, "Why are you so hard to control? Shut your mouth from now on. No matter what happens, you'd better make sure your mouth is shut tight, understood?"

Rudy shrank back after being lectured by Jackie like that, not daring to say anything else. After all, he had greatly inconvenienced Jackie before.

The man snorted coldly before turning to look at Jackie.

He had more or less heard what was said earlier, and he looked at Jackie and said, "Do you really think you're stronger than a chosen disciple of an eighth-grade clan?"

Jackie frowned, not wanting to bother with it.

The man was not annoyed when he saw that Jackie did not answer him. Instead, he got even more interested in Jackie.

Time slowly ticked away. Either because of the bet or because of Jackie's cold attitude, but it became strangely silent. There was no longer anything else being said. Right up to when the seventy-third match was about to start, Jackie did not hear anything else. Walter stood up and sighed as he shot a look at Jackie.

He said, "No matter who you see or what you hear, you're not to leave this place."

After saying that, Jackie headed down towards the stage.

Walter had wanted to say some more things to instigate Jackie, worried that Jackie would not follow him to the stage. Yet, he never expected that Jackie was more excited than he was. He had not even moved yet when Jackie was already walking toward the stage. Walter was naturally not willing to be left behind, and he walked even faster than Jackie.

After basically rushing to the stage, both of them each took one side. They looked at each other from the north and the south, and Walter impatiently pulled out his weapon, the Green Phoenix Whip.

The Green Phoenix Whip was incredibly cold. The whip constantly glowed in a faint blue hue. He glared right at Jackie and let out a cold laugh, "Do you still think you'll win?!"

At that moment, intense discussions were heard around the crowd. There were those who knew who Walter was, but no one knew Jackie. After all, Jackie had not been in Middle Province for that long and had never been in the inner region. It was no surprise that no one knew him.

Jackie raised an eyebrow, "Can you not waste so much time talking like your fellow disciples? Just fight!"

After he said that, the crowd got excited. Someone shouted, "Who is this guy? He's so daring. I don't think he knows Walter! The guy is going to suffer now. Walter will definitely make him suffer for those words!"

“What do you know?! They came from the same place just now. They obviously know each other. The guy probably knows that Walter is a chosen disciple of the Compass Pavilion. He might be so arrogant because he’s confident!”

Chapter 2863

There were discussions everywhere, but Jackie ignored everything they said. He merely looked at Walter calmly. After Walter pulled out his weapon, Jackie slowly pulled out his gray sword as well. The sword had been with Jackie for a very long time, with Jackie never Liked changing his weapon.

The Green Phoenix Whip let out a crack as Walter gave it a wave. A cold chill was released from the whip, causing even space itself to distort.

Walter only had one thought in mind, which was to cruelly torture Jackie after beating Jackie up. He wanted Jackie to know the consequences of Jackie’s actions. Walter roared as he started to form some seals. Hexagonal ice appeared on his palm. After a short moment, a few hundred arrows were floating in front of Walter. He roared angrily as he pushed forward.

The few hundred arrows rushed right at Jackie, enveloping the whole place with cold air. He rushed right at Jackie with those arrows.

Jackie steadied himself as he held his sword with both hands. He calmly faced the countless arrows that were in front of him. The arrows were all suddenly sliced in half, causing the crowd to cheer.

“This kid is not bad! If I’m not mistaken, Walter is using the upper earth rank technique, the Sealing Ice! This guy actually managed to slice it in half. He’s quite strong!”

The moment someone said that someone started to counter him, “What do you know? The Sealing Ice is an upper earth rank technique. How many people in the Whirling World are capable of using that? That attack was just a bit weaker. Walter was not serious at all. If Walter really wanted to kill this guy, he would have no chance!”

After shattering the arrows, Jackie moved and used the laws of space. In a flash, he distanced himself from Walter, causing Walter to sneer.

He mocked, “I wondered how strong you were, but you’re nothing special!”

He had just been testing Jackie earlier, and did not use his full strength. Even though Jackie broke through his attack, Jackie merely broke through a part of it.

Jackie smiled, completely ignoring Walter’s mockery.

Walter flicked the whip in his hand, “This time, I want to make sure you wish you were dead!”

After saying that, Walter shot right at Jackie. The whip in his hand danced wildly, showing after images in the air.

Those after images turned into an incredibly sealing power. Walter shouted at Jackie, "I will seal you into an ice sculpture!"

After shouting that, Walter once again cracked the whip, and all the after images solidified. At an incredible speed, they suddenly surrounded Jackie like a web.

Without any special skills, it was impossible to escape. Jackie only had two ways to get out. Either he broke through the seal with absolute skill, or he used an incredible technique to get out.

Chapter 2864

The second choice needed an incredible mobility skill that normal warriors just did not have. The second needed immense skill. Everyone could not help but be worried for Jackie. There was no way Jackie could escape being sealed.

Everyone felt like Jackie would definitely lose. After being sealed up, Walter looked like he would not let Jackie off easily!

Jackie held his sword in one hand and formed seals with his other. A hundred soul swords fused into one, and the massive sword fused into his gray sword.

It was the first time Jackie unleashed the full power of Destroying the Void. Even though it was an upper earth rank technique, it was not much in Jackie's eyes. That was because Jackie had already reached the third level of mastery, and the power was not something to be underestimated.

Jackie roared angrily as he slashed. A massive slash shot out of the gray sword. The webs of ice that surrounded him were already right in front of Jackie.

Everyone merely heard a crack, and the solid-looking ice was actually shattered by Jackie's slash. Furthermore, the slash did not lose any power at all after breaking through the ice. It continued rushing forward, completely shattering everyone's expectations. Even Walter that was following the ice could not react in time!

Jackie had already mastered Destroying the Void. Even an upper earth rank technique like Sealing Ice was as fragile as paper in front of Destroying the Void.

Everyone had been anticipating Jackie being sealed up and left to Walter's mercy like a lamb. Still, that notion had been completely destroyed. After the slash destroyed Sealing Ice, it continued right at Walter.

Walter only reacted by the time the slash was three feet away from him, but it was already far too late to do anything. Normally, Walter would definitely have defended himself while he attacked, and would have been prepared for anything. However, he overestimated himself and underestimated Jackie. He had thought that there was no other possible result other than his victory.

After a slashing sound, the slash went through his chest. He felt an intense pain throughout his whole body. Walter suddenly widened his eyes as his whole body tossed around. The pain of a soul being ripped apart was something no one could stand.

It was as if a hundred thousand ants were eating at his soul. He even wanted to slice open his body and pull his soul out. However, there was nothing he could do at that moment. He could not even use his true energy due to the pain as he fell on the ground violently.

Walter cried out in agony. He constantly wailed as he said, "It hurts! Stop, please stop!"

Other than crying out in agony, he constantly begged Jackie to stop as well. He wanted Jackie to pull that power out of his body. He had never felt such intense pain before. In just a moment, he had already rolled around the floor ten times.

That majestic chosen disciple of an eighth-grade clan looked even more pathetic than a beggar at that moment.

Jackie raised an eyebrow, not bothering with those cries for mercy. He let out a smile as he said, "Didn't you say you'd have me begging for death? Since you've already said that, why would I save you?"

Everyone present had heard those words. Everyone who had thought that Jackie would definitely die hurriedly shut their mouths.

Chapter 2865

"Isn't Walter a chosen disciple of the Compass Pavilion? Why is he so weak?"

"Are you stupid?! Walter is not weak at all. His opponent is just too strong. Didn't you hear that Sealing Ice was an upper earth rank technique? There are so many people here, and how many of them can learn a technique like that? This guy actually broke through it. It means that his technique is stronger than Walters!"

"Could he be using an ultimate god rank technique?!"

That was immediately shot down by everyone there.

"Are you crazy? How could you say that? Don't you know what an ultimate god rank technique means? Unless you're already at the divine solidifying realm or if you're an incredibly talented late stage spring solidifying realm, you can't possibly use such a technique."

“Everyone’s here under the restrictions of the Whirling World. No one here is older than sixty. Do you really think someone who’s not even sixty can use an ultimate god rank technique?!”

“That’s right! This guy probably has an upper earth rank technique as well. He was able to defeat Walter probably because he’s already mastered it!”

“If that’s really true, then this guy must be incredibly talented. No wonder a chosen disciple of an eighth-grade clan lost to him! “

“It wasn’t a wasted trip to the Whirling World. I saw so many masters.”

Those spectators who had nothing to do with Walter were incredibly interested in the discussions. Those who were insulting Jackie earlier all changed their tones and started to praise Jackie. They all said that Jackie was a generational master. Even the chosen disciple of an eighth-grade clan seemed normal in front of him. However, the disciples of the Compass Pavilion could not remain calm. They had been sitting in the audience incredibly confidently.

When Jackie broke through the ice, they gaped in disbelief.

Walter was in so much pain, that it was obvious that Jackie had dealt a fatal blow. All of them rushed over from the stands. Walter was a much more important person than Vincent was. If something really did happen to Walter, the disciples there would have to take responsibility as well.

Vale had not recovered yet, and he was the most shocked out of all of them. Among those people, he was the one who had met Jackie the earliest. Every time Jackie appeared, he would be shocked.

The few of them rushed over to the stage but were stopped by the barrier. The laws still felt that Walter still had the ability to fight. So, the shields were still up, but Walter was already in so much pain that he could not even think straight.

Jackie’s mastery of Destroying the Void was already on a whole different level. Even though Destroying the Void had already formed into a slash and went through Walter’s body, Jackie could still control it.

He did not let Destroying the Void destroy Walter’s body quickly. Instead, he had it slowly eat away at Walter’s soul. He wanted Walter to still be able to fight while Walter felt the intense pain.

The Compass Pavilion’s disciples started to panic when they saw that the barrier was still there despite Walter being in so much pain.

They shouted, "Hurry up and let him go! Jackie, don't get too full of yourself. Don't think you can do whatever you want after you win this. You've thoroughly angered the Compass Pavilion. We won't let you off!"

Chapter 2866

"That's right! Hurry up and let Walter go. If something happens to him, you'll suffer greatly! Walter isn't Vincent, and there may still be room for negotiation after you killed Vincent, but if you kill Walter, even God can't help you. Once you get out of the Whirling World, the Compass Pavilion will hunt you down forever!"

The curses and warnings flew into Jackie's ears. Of course, he had expected as much. The fact that he dared to make his move meant that he was not concerned.

To the wandering warriors, Compass Pavilion was a threat, but to Jackie, they were not that important. What could they do to him?

As long as he was strong enough and managed to join a stronger clan, the Compass Pavilion would not be able to do anything.

This thing was Compass Pavilion's fault from the start, anyway, and Jackie never went against the rules at all. Had they not egged him on, Jackie would never have bothered with them.

Jackie let out a cold smile as he turned to look at the disciples from the Compass Pavilion. He deliberately raised his voice as he declared, "Listen up, Compass Pavilion! Don't think that you can do whatever you want just because you're from an eighth-grade clan. You were the ones looking for trouble from the start, targeting me after you lost your match. If you hadn't bothered me to no end, I wouldn't have bothered with you at all. You do whatever you want to just because you have a strong clan behind you, and it makes me sick!"

Jackie's words managed to gain the support of the spectators as they clapped and cheered. He had voiced out their grievances, the disciples of higher grade clans truly enjoyed showing off!

It was also incredibly two-faced, too, that only they were allowed to look for weaker opponents. The weak were never allowed to fight back. Even talented warriors would not be shown mercy as long as those warriors did not have the right background!

Everyone was pleased to hear Jackie's words, and they made it verbal.

"Get lost, Compass Pavilion. Do you think you're the only ones who can show up like that? Are others not allowed to retaliate? We've all heard how Walter said he wanted Jackie to be begging to die before the battle started. Is Jackie not allowed to do the same to him? Does that warrant the Compass Pavilion hunting him down?"

“That’s right! You’re the only ones ever allowed to do anything! For so many years, you treated the weak just like this! Don’t think that you can do whatever you want just because no one fought back!”

“Go to hell, Compass Pavilion!”

The curses were everywhere, and there were even those who started to throw dirty things their way.

The disciples of the Compass Pavilion glowered at this. They could not believe that Jackie’s words had riled up everyone else like this!

One of them could not resist shouting out in anger, “You trashy wandering warriors only know how to shout out during times like these. Once you’re out of the Whirling World, you’re nothing in front of us!”

Those words caused a greater reaction from the crowd. Quite a few of them were thoroughly angered, but thankfully, something held them back. They knew that they would be punished by the laws of the Whirling World if they fought, so they restrained themselves.

They cursed the disciples of the Compass Pavilion without stopping. Just like that, the second arena turned clamored like a night market. The constant arguments never stopped. There were too few disciples from the Compass Pavilion, and they were no match for all the spectators.

Chapter 2867

The spectators were a mix of all sorts of warriors. Some of them just loved to argue normally, and it finally served useful as they cursed the disciples of the Compass Pavilion to their hearts’ content. Some of them even used their true energy on their throats, deliberately enhancing their voices. They were worried that the people next to them could not hear the vulgarities they were spitting out.

This, however, made Jackie’s ears hurt. He never expected the words he exchanged with the disciples of the Compass Pavilion to rouse the crowd so aggressively.

Jackie helplessly sighed, feeling like continuing would bear no fruit. They would not end up fighting anyway and could only fight with their words.

In the end, Jackie could no longer tolerate it. He went to the corner of the stage and stood there silently, not planning on killing Walter just yet. He wanted Walter to beg for death. That was the promise Walter had given him before, so he wanted Walter to get a taste of his medicine.

Time slowly ticked away, but the sound of the arguments did not stop. Walter's twitching slowly grew weaker, and the barrier finally fell. The Compass Pavilion's disciples hurried over and helped Walter up.

Vale frowned as he checked Walter's pulse. Even though he could still feel something, it was incredibly weak.

Manse hurriedly retrieved many pills from his spatial ring and stuffed them into Walter's mouth, but none of those pills could cure Walter's current injuries. After all, Jackie had already used Destroying the Void to destroy Walter's soul.

Some pills that were meant to just cure internal injuries could do nothing for a destroyed soul. Manse had fed Walter so many pills, but Walter showed no signs of improving, which caused Manse to panic.

Fear crept into his heart. If Walter truly died, they would all be implicated.

Manse turned his gaze toward Jackie and shot him a deadly glare. He looked like he wanted to rip Jackie apart, but Jackie was already used to that expression.

"Are you not afraid of death, Jackie?!" shouted Manse. "The Compass Pavilion won't just take things lying down. We'll get our revenge for your actions. I'll make you pay!"

Jackie laughed and nonchalantly replied, walking toward Manse, "Walter's current state is me exacting my revenge against you. If you insist, however, I'll welcome it. Of course, that depends if you have the skills to do so. I never trouble those who haven't troubled me, and I'll return any offenses against me several times over. If you refuse to give up, I'll make you all pay the price!"

Manse cowered in fear as Jackie got closer. Even though Manse loves to shout and curse, he was still already thoroughly afraid of Jackie. He had not been that scared of Jackie after Vincent lost, but even Walter had lost so badly. Manse was forced to look at Jackie in a different light.

Jackie was deathly terrifying. His talents were practically demonic.

"Y-You can't do anything here," stammered Manse. "If you attack, you'll be punished by the laws. You'll be struck by lightning, you know?!"

Chapter 2868

Jackie let out a cold laugh. "I'm not planning on doing anything to you. I'm just here to remind you, didn't you forget something important?"

Jackie's words baffled Manse for a moment. Frowning, he recalled what it was that Jackie meant. He had struck a bet with Jackie, and bitterness crept into his being as he gritted his teeth.

Manse had betted against Jackie before because he was certain that Jackie could not win at all. He was so sure that Jackie would lose terribly and that he would easily get 190000 spirit crystals from Jackie. He never expected that he had actually dug his own hole.

Jackie won their bet!

Jackie extended his hand. "Hurry and pay up, I don't have all day. I have things I need to do. I just wanted to bet ninety thousand spirit crystals, but you insisted on adding a hundred thousand to the bet. You set the bet to a hundred and ninety spirit crystals yourself, so give it here."

Manse nearly spat blood upon hearing Jackie's words. Despite his reluctance, however, it was what had happened. Jackie had only said 90000 spirit crystals were to be in the bet, but Manse was sure that Jackie would lose and added 100000 to it.

He shot himself in the foot!

Manse wanted to slap himself at that moment. 90000 spirit crystals might still be a sum, but it was not too bad. 190000, however, was a different story.

Alas, he and Jackie had signed a contract, and he could not back down even if he wanted to. If he did not pay up, the contract would immediately take effect, and he would not be able to bear the consequences.

What followed was a strangely smooth process. After Walter was brought out of the stage by the disciples of the Compass Pavilion, Jackie obtained the third token, and it was slightly more special. The entry token had turned into an exit token. That meant that he could get out of the city right after he arrived at the third level.

Jackie let out a sigh as he put the token into Mustard Seed before he brought Rudy to the third level. Compared to how noisy the first and second levels were, the third level was more vacant. Other than the exit and the entrance to the fourth level, there was nothing else on the third level. A few people were resting in the perimeter, though, seemingly wondering if they should head to the fourth level.

Jackie pulled out the entry token as he toyed with it in his hand.

If it were anyone else, they might have been worried about how difficult the fourth level could be, and they might be puzzled over whether or not they should ascend. However, he did not have that thought at all. If he did not go to the fourth level, no one there probably could.

Rudy did not even need to ask to know what Jackie was thinking. He looked at Jackie earnestly and was more than certain to follow him wherever he went.

Rudy looked at the other warriors that were on the third level and whispered with a laugh, "These people must be conflicted if they should head to the fourth level. After all, the second level probably wasn't that difficult for them. Those who enter the fourth level are all quite strong. No one knows what will happen there and whether they'll lose their lives."

Jackie turned to look at Rudy and, after thinking, said, "Why don't you stay here as well? I didn't get any information from the exit token. I don't know what sort of challenges are waiting there. You're too frail, and I think you'll be in danger if you tag along."

Chapter 2869

Rudy shook his head vehemently at Jackie's offer, not wanting to follow through. "I don't want to stay here. If you go to the fourth level, you'll go to the fifth as well. There are seven levels in this tower. Who knows if you'll just be sent out or transferred to somewhere once you conquer the seventh level? What will I do if I'm left alone here?"

Jackie nodded silently at Rudy's words. Rudy's concerns were not unwarranted, no doubt. If he headed to the seventh level in one go, the tower might see him as a perfect challenger. It might reward him immediately and instantly transfer him somewhere else. If he left Rudy there, he might not meet him again.

Jackie's expression seemed uncertain even after a few seconds, and Rudy, fearing his expression, reached out to grab Jackie's arm.

"I entered Thousand Leaves Pavilion as your dependent. Since I'm your dependent, I won't be facing any challenges at all. As long as you continue climbing, I won't leave no matter what dangers we face," said Rudy earnestly. "Even if I am unlucky enough to die there, it'd be my own doing."

Ever since he knew Jackie, Rudy felt like he had constantly been in danger, but it was not in his hands to change.

While he knew nothing else, he was certain of one thing, Jackie was incredibly reliable, and he would only be able to survive if he followed Jackie. He wanted to get through these two years and leave the Whirling World to the Golden Pills as soon as he could.

Jackie nodded at Rudy's words. The two of them arrived at the entrance to the fourth level where a few people gathered, yet all of them looked wary. After all, they did not know what the future had in store for them.

Jackie was about to enter the fourth level when Rudy grabbed his arm. He looked at Rudy with a frown.

Rudy took a few deep breaths before saying, "I know you're very confident in yourself, but you still have to be prepared. Even though we're still in the Whirling World, those from the Compass Pavilion won't just sit there idly. They probably won't stand a chance against you alone, but if they come in groups, we'll have a hard time for sure."

Jackie nodded. He had already thought about that. If he was truly afraid of the Compass Pavilion, he would not have faced them so strongly from the start.

"I'm the same as always," answered Jackie. "I won't do anything to those who've done nothing to me. If someone wrongs me, I'll pay it back several times. If Vincent didn't cause me trouble, we wouldn't have been caught in a conflict. They were the cause of everything. I know they'll cause me more trouble, and I'll fight back. Don't worry, I won't put myself in danger."

Jackie's words were incredibly calm as if he was just talking about his meal. Hearing these words, Rudy felt more at ease.

Chapter 2870

Rudy exhaled before he spoke, "When you were facing Walter just now, I noticed that Grayson kept looking at your battle. I was paying attention to him, and he noticed me later on. I couldn't see his expression because I was too far, though. His stare toward me felt so unnerving, as though I was about to be bitten by a snake. You were right, Grayson probably sees us as enemies."

Jackie nodded. Ever since Grayson appeared, a lot more questions surfaced in his head. Jackie did not believe a single thing those elders said anymore. There had to be an even bigger secret behind everything!

Jackie was about to say something when Rudy interjected, saying, "I know what you want to say, and I understand everything Without you saying it. I know my recklessness caused you trouble. I'll remember this in the future, and I won't cause you any more trouble."

Jackie felt a little more at ease to hear Rudy's promise. After all, Rudy was a naive fool who would let his emotions get the better of him in many situations. Rudy eventually realized the errors of his ways.

After saying all that, Rudy seemed to have been relieved of a heavy burden as the two of them entered the fourth level.

They were greeted with an incredibly bright grassland, where a few people lingered around. Most of them sat on the grass, holding a crystal ball in their hands. Most of them had their eyes closed, and a few were whispering amongst themselves.

The atmosphere was somber and heavy. Even if there were any discussions, everyone's voices were muted. That was the fourth level of the tower, and it looked like they had entered a different world.

Rudy blinked as he looked at the purple crystal ball in Jackie's hands. After that, he, confused, looked at everyone who was sitting.

Before he could ask anything, Jackie pulled Rudy to a secluded corner to sit. After they settled down, Rudy impatiently said to Jackie, "What's all this? What's that ball in your hands? Why does the ball in their hands have a color to it that's different from yours? What's the fourth level?"

Rudy was filled with questions at that moment, and Jackie explained everything in detail. The moment Jackie entered the fourth level, a wave of information was transferred to his head, including the fourth level's rules, in detail.

The fourth level was not a battle between challengers. If they wanted to enter the fifth level from the fourth, they needed to kill a certain number of wind beasts.