

The Amazing Son In-Law Chapter 1991-2000

Chapter 1991

The noise of the two immediately attracted Dave's attention.

He looked at his mother and was speechless in surprise.

After a while, he asked Marven: "Good son-in-law, um... is that my mother? Am I wrong?"

Marven smiled slightly: "Dad, you are right, it is indeed her."

Dave exclaimed: "She... how does she wear the staff vest?! Did she come here to work?"

Marven nodded: "It looks like this."

Dave said in surprise: "This is not right. Didn't Regnar inject capital into the Xiao family? He also bought them a first-grade Tomson villa. It stands to reason that their family should be living well now!"

Dave didn't know what happened in the past two days. He didn't even know that Viola was kidnapped by his own elder brother and nephew, not to mention that Regnar had already given up a considerable part of his family assets and became a dog under Orvel.

Therefore, it is naturally not clear that the situation of Mrs. Xiao and her family has changed drastically in these two days.

Marven said at this time: "I heard that it seems that Regnar has withdrawn his capital."

"Withdrawn capital?" Dave exclaimed, "This Regnar is too unreliable. He said that he would withdraw his investment? Then why did he divest? I believe that with his assets, he doesn't care about the investment in the Xiao Group, it is just some money?"

Marven shrugged and said with a smile: "We don't know this."

As they were talking, they saw Gina poking the old lady's ankle a few times with the mop, and said in disgust: "You bad old lady get out of the way quickly, it affects my mopping!"

Old Mrs. Xiao choked and said, "Gina, the job arranged by the supermarket leader is here to help customers pull plastic bags. If I don't do it well, I will be fired. I beg you, don't have trouble with me!"

Gina snorted coldly: "I originally respected you very much, but you should know what you did this yourself. This is called self-inflict!"

As she said, Gina sneered and gritted her teeth: "I tell you a dead old woman, don't think I am a rural old lady with no culture, but my bones are very hard! And I especially don't like those who look down on me! It doesn't matter if you beat me, but you shouldn't insult me!"

After finishing speaking, she put away the mop, and when she passed by Mrs. Xiao, she deliberately bumped her and slammed her into the shelf next to her, making her grin in pain.

However, after Gina hit her, she didn't continue to pester her, and took the mop to other places to mop the floor.

The old lady Xiao stood still, the more she thought about it, the more she was wronged.

She thought to herself with grief and anger in her heart: "I have been in the Xiao family for so many years, when have I been bullied like this?! It is really unreasonable!"

"What's even more unacceptable is that I am so old now that I have to come out to do this kind of undignified temporary worker!"

"For these years, I have been in Xiao's house, but I haven't even washed a teacup myself! Now, I have to pull plastic bags for various customers in the supermarket to save their time!"

"But, what else can I do if I don't do it?"

"I don't do it, I don't even have a chance to fill my stomach..."

"I work here as a part-time worker, and at least get a pay of 100 yuan a day, and I can manage a meal at noon..."

"If I don't do it, neither Horiyah nor Gina will give me a bite of food..."

"Will I starve to death by then?"

Thinking of this, Mrs. Xiao felt so aggrieved that she stood by the shelf, sobbing.

Seeing this, Dave felt a little bit unbearable in his heart, and said to Marven: "Marven, I think your grandma is really pitiful too, she will definitely come to work in such a place as a last resort... ."

Chapter 1992

Marven asked him, "Dad, do you have any plans?"

Marven didn't know what Dave's mood was at this time, but saw that he was somewhat unbearable, so he thought he might want to help the old lady.

At this time, he saw Dave and said: "Seeing his mother living such a life and doing such a job with his own eyes, he, as a son, must be very sad, and it is not easy to stand by.

Speaking of this, Dave suddenly changed his conversation, covered his eyes, and said, "But, I didn't see anything! It was an illusion just now!"

After speaking, he quickly turned around and said to Marven: "Good son-in-law, let's go buy some fish, shrimp, meat and eggs first. As for the vegetables, we should buy them from a supermarket, what do you think?"

Marven didn't know what he meant, and immediately said with a smile: "Yes, Dad, I think the same as you, the food in this supermarket is really not very fresh. See if there are any larger Boston lobsters, and if so, buy a few homes!"

Dave smiled, pointed his finger at Marven, and exclaimed: "You still know me! Come, let's buy lobster!"

Although Dave felt more or less sympathetic to his mother's experience.

However, he is not a fool.

He had already seen clearly the face of the old lady for so many years.

When he dared to go out with family, there was really no kindness at all, and even less thought of blood.

When she pitted his daughter Avella, the start was just as cruel.

Later, the Xiao family failed. In order to be able to live in his Tomson first-class villa, she also deliberately did a lot of disgusting things.

Dave was tired of these faces.

Therefore, he also hopes that reality can teach Mrs. Xiao a profound lesson.

Before Mrs. Xiao repented completely, he did not intend to give her any help.

Dave and his son-in-law bought a lot of things, but they didn't go back to the vegetable area to purchase. After a cart full of various ingredients, the two went to the cashier with the cart to checkout.

In the cash register area at this time, a long line was lined up in front of every cash register.

Marven and Dave lined up for more than 20 minutes before they finally reached one of the cash registers.

Seeing that it was his turn to check out, Dave hurriedly walked to the shopping cart and said to Marven: "Good son-in-law, you will scan the code with the cashier at the back, and I will put the bag in front."

Marven nodded, Dave walked into the cashier aisle first, and before Marven picked up the goods, he said to the cashier: "Come on four plastic bags, the largest one."

The cashier nodded and said, "Five cents a big bag."

After speaking, he lowered his head and took out four large plastic bags from the drawer beside him and handed them to Dave.

Dave took the plastic bag, looked up subconsciously, and immediately exclaimed: "Oh, sister-in-law?! Why are you here?"

“Huh?! It’s... it’s you?!”

In front of the cashier, Horiyah, who was wearing a supermarket employee’s vest, looked at Dave and was equally shocked!

She never dreamed that when she was forced to be helpless, run out to work as a temporary worker, and become a cashier, she would run into Dave!

Look at the young man who went out of the shopping cart on the other side. Isn’t he the trash son-in-law of the Xiao family, Marven?

When Horiyah saw that Marven took out a thick plastic bag containing several top-quality large lobsters, she thought sourly in her heart: “I’ve been hungry for a day and night, and I have stood here hungry all morning. , I haven’t waited for lunch at the supermarket. They’ve done it, and they bought a big bag of lobsters of this size! The two families who also live in Tomson, how can the difference in living standards be so big!”

Chapter 1993

Marven also saw Horiyah at this time.

Seeing her wearing a supermarket green vest, he suddenly felt a little funny.

What he thought of was when Horiyah was doing coolies in the black coal kiln.

Wonder if the black coal kiln gave Horiyah the work clothes at that time?

Don’t even know what Horiyah looks like in black coal mine work clothes.

Horiyah felt extremely uncomfortable at this time.

She really had a hard hatred for Marven.

When she set Viola, Marven rushed over and broke her good deeds.

That’s not counting.

The worst thing was that Marven donated all her money to charity and then sent her to the black coal mine.

Thinking of the time in the black coal kiln, Horiyah felt uncomfortable and wanted to die, and she couldn’t help yelling angrily: “D@mn Marven! It was he who sent me into the black coal kiln and I spent so many days in the black coal kiln. , I paid so much, but got a whole body of venereal diseases and a child, if it weren’t for him, how could I be so miserable today...”

The more she thought about it, the more she gritted her teeth at Marven.

So, seeing Marven come to buy something, she immediately said with a cold face: “Thank you for changing the cash register, I am temporarily suspending service!”

Marven was not angry, and smiled and said, "Auntie, aren't you bullying the honest people? We have been in line for so long before we get to the front. So many people have also checked out before, so how come we are here the service is suspended?"

Horiyah said annoyedly: "I want to take a break, can't we suspend the service? Do you think this supermarket belongs to you? Follow me here! I tell you, I just won't tie it to you today! You love it. It's impossible for me to find a knot!"

Dave was dissatisfied, and with a bit of anger, he said, "I said Sister-in-law, you are a bit too much. We are the customers here, and the customer is God. You are the cashier here. You have to serve God well. Are you still standing up with us?"

When Horiyah heard him say that she has to serve the god, she was immediately furious, and she shouted: "Dave, how do I say it is your sister-in-law? You serve, do you have a sense of respecting the old and loving the young in your heart? Get out of here! Don't bother me!"

Dave exploded immediately and blurted out: "You are still an elder brother's wife. It's like a mother. You are a stinky lady who deserves to say these words to me?"

Horiyah slammed the code scanner in her hand and shouted angrily: "Dave, who the hell do you think you are?!"

Dave pouted his lips: "Say it, why? Can't I?"

Horiyah bitterly said: "You...you...you...you say one more thing, I will scratch your old face!"

At this moment, a man in a full uniform shouted angrily: "No.8, what are you doing?! Why did you yell at the guests?!"

Horiyah was shocked immediately!

Looking up, it turned out to be the manager of the cashier department!

For fear of offending the leader of the supermarket, she was swept out, so she hurriedly explained with a smile: "I'm sorry, manager, I met my relatives, so I just made a joke."

After that, she pointed to Dave and said, "This person is called Dave. He is my husband's biological brother, my relative, don't mind!"

Hearing this, the manager of the cashier department eased a little.

Recently, supermarket cashiers are in short supply. The cashier manager often looks at a large number of customers waiting in line to check out. Many customers even call the group to complain because the cashier time is too long, and he is also very troubled.

Chapter 1994

Originally, Horiyah came to look for a job today, and she applied for a day job for one hundred yuan.

However, after chatting for a few words, he heard that Horiyah had studied at university, so he asked her to try to collect cash.

The cashier work is not too tiring, and one hundred and five a day, fifty more than the handyman type of work, so Horiyah naturally agreed happily.

If there is no problem, the manager is naturally willing to let Horiyah continue to do it, but if she dared to scold customers at the cashier, then this person would definitely not be able to stay.

Fortunately, she was joking with her relatives, so there is nothing to be harsh.

So, the manager reminded: "You still need to pay attention to the impact in the workplace, and your relatives should not make jokes in the workplace, understand?"

Horiyah nodded her head hurriedly, and said flatly, "Don't worry, there will be no next time!"

The manager hummed, turned and prepared to leave.

At this time, Dave said, "Hey, are you the manager here?"

The manager turned around again: "Yes, I am."

Dave said coldly: "I want to complain to you!"

The manager asked in surprise: "You complained against me? Why?"

Dave pointed to Horiyah and said angrily: "The employee under your hand has personally attacked and verbally abused me for no reason. You don't even want to ask! This is an obvious dereliction of duty! Do you usually condone your subordinates like this?"

The manager looked puzzled: "Aren't you two relatives?"

Dave cursed: "Bah! Who is her relative?"

The manager was even more puzzled, pointing to Horiyah: "She said it!"

Dave said contemptuously: "Believe what she says? It seems that you are indeed negligent! I also said that you two are relatives! Otherwise, how could you indulge and shield her so much?!"

The manager sighed in his heart and asked hurriedly, "Sir, are you not relatives with Horiyah?"

Dave raised his head high and said coldly: "Of course not! I don't even know her! My son-in-law and I came to buy things, and the queue finally arrived at us for a long time, but she insisted that she wants to rest and let us go. The other team, isn't this deliberately making things difficult? And she just said rudely to me, you should have heard?!"

The manager panicked, and quickly looked at Horiyah, and asked, "What the hell is going on?! If you don't tell me clearly, you don't have to do it!"

Horiyah was also terrified!

When she saw Dave and Marven, she unconsciously had a fit of strong anger in her heart, so no matter what it was, she gave Dave a start.

But what she didn't expect was that Dave went to complain to her manager!

Isn't this about breaking your own job? !

Thinking of this, she hurriedly pleaded: "Dave, please tell the manager, we are a family, and I am your sister-in-law. If I did something bad, I apologize to you, but don't take it. My job is is not a joke, I beg you, okay?"

Dave glared at her, and said to the manager: "Look at this person, and I'm still talking about her. I fcuking don't know her. She opens her mouth and is my sister-in-law, shut up still my sister-in-law. You can bear it instead of me. I can't stand it?"

Horiyah hurriedly explained: "Manager! Don't listen to his nonsense! I am really his sister-in-law!"

Dave looked at the manager, patted him on the shoulder, and asked him blankly: "If I say now, I am really your father, do you believe it?"

Chapter 1995

When the manager of the supermarket cashier department heard this, he immediately understood.

"It turns out that this Horiyah not only clashed with customers, but also yelled at them, and even called names in front of customers, it was totally unreasonable!"

"This kind of person, leaving her here to do this job, I don't know how many customers will be offended. Maybe it will hurt me in the end!"

"No! This kind of person, I must let her go right away!"

Thinking of this, the cashier manager said sharply without hesitation: "Ms. Horiyah, I kindly asked you to be a temporary worker. I didn't expect your attitude towards customers to be so bad! In that case, I don't think you need to do it anymore. Get out the cash register key, take off your vest now, and leave immediately!"

Horiyah collapsed!

She thought to herself: "I came here early in the morning to find a job, and spent the whole morning exhausted!"

"It seems that it's almost time for the lunch shift to eat, and I was looking forward to going to the staff canteen for a violent meal and filling my stomach. I didn't expect to be fired by the manager!"

“In this way, not only I will miss my lunch at noon, but my salary of 150 yuan a day will also be gone!”

Thinking of this, Horiyah cried and pleaded: “Manager! I beg you, the manager, don’t fire me, I’m waiting for this job to support my family!”

With that said, Horiyah hurriedly grabbed the manager’s arm and choked, “Manager, my husband and my son are paralyzed in bed at home. They haven’t eaten a bite of food from yesterday to now, just waiting for me to make some money. Go home and buy rice for cooking! I beg your mercy, please spare me this time, I will never dare anymore!”

The manager said contemptuously: “Horiyah, you are too good at making up stories. The front foot said that the client is your little uncle, and the back foot said that your husband and your son are paralyzed in bed at home. What age are these? Is there such a miserable family? What are you talking about here?”

Horiyah cried and said, “Manager! I really didn’t bully, manager!”

After that, she looked at Dave and cried and said, “Dave, I beg you to be honest with the manager and beg for me. Your brother and Jay are now crippled. I have to rely on this pay to feed them!”

Dave curled his lips: “You are really interesting. Is it interesting to be always messing around here? Just now, for no reason, you said that I was your little uncle. Now you have another brother for me? Isn’t it over?”

The manager reprimanded loudly and angrily: “Horiyah, if you don’t get out, I will let the security guard drive you out!”

Horiyah saw that the matter was irreversible, she gave Dave a bitter look and then said to the manager: “If this is the case, please settle the morning salary, one hundred and five a day, I did this all morning. You have to give me an eighty or a hundred, right?”

The manager immediately scolded: “I found that you are really not so thick-skinned. You have to do the job like this, and you still have the face to ask me for money? Get out! Get out!”

Horiyah annoyed and said, “If you don’t give me money, then I won’t leave!”

After all, she turned off the computer at the cash register, and then stood on the spot with her hands on her chest, if he didn’t give her money, she would not go anywhere and follow it to the end.

At this time, the manager directly called several security guards and blurted out: “Take off the vest from this woman, and get her out!”

Several security guards stepped forward without saying anything, set up Horiyah and dragged her out abruptly.

Chapter 1996

Horiyah collapsed and shouted: “Why are you dragging me out?! Why don’t you pay me the salary?!”

However, no matter how loud she yelled, no one would pity her, let alone sympathize with her.

Seeing that Horiyah was dragged out of the supermarket, the manager said to Marven and Dave with a look of guilt: "You two, I'm really sorry for this matter. It's my improper employment. I apologize to you two!"

Dave nodded and said, "You are not the main fault of this matter, but you must also be responsible. This is called improper employment!"

Later, Dave sighed and said with emotion: "Yes, after all, you still don't have a good vision."

The manager nodded awkwardly: "You are right to criticize, I must improve a lot in the future!"

Dave stretched out his hand and patted him on the shoulder, and said in a tone of a predecessor's a little bit of a younger generation, "Hone more!"

"Yes, yes!" The manager kept nodding, and then hurriedly greeted a cashier who had just returned from a shift after eating, and said: "Boy, hurry up and settle the accounts for these two guests. It has been a long time for them!"

The cashier hurried over, turned on the computer, and paid for Marven and Dave.

Dave and his son-in-law left the supermarket and drove directly to a relatively large vegetable wholesale market in Wrestvel. As for the old lady Xiao and Horiyah, neither of them took it seriously.

After Horiyah was driven out of the supermarket, she hadn't dripped rice for dozens of hours. The hungry person was dizzy and her chest was on her back, almost on the verge of fainting.

She really didn't have the energy to find another temporary worker, so she could only walk home.

As soon as she returned to Tomson's villa, Horiyah sat down on the sofa, and didn't even have the strength to lift her eyelids.

Theresa, who had been taking care of Noah and Jay at home, heard the movement downstairs and hurried down to check. Horiyah was lying halfway on the sofa and asked in surprise, "Mom, didn't you go out to find a job? How come you came back?"

Horiyah cursed and said: "Don't mention it! Damn it! I'm so angry!"

Theresa hurriedly asked: "Mom, what happened?"

Horiyah's eyes were red, tears burst out, and she choked up: "I went out with your grandma to find a job, and found that the supermarket is now recruiting a large number of temporary workers, and the wages can be settled daily, so we went in and consulted. Your grandma is old. She was asked to go to the vegetable area to help customers pull plastic bags and let me be a cashier..."

Speaking of this, Horiyah was sobbing and crying emotionally: "Who knows, I met Dave and Marven, two b@stards who had shopped thousands of yuans! I lost all my work... .."

As soon as Theresa heard this, she gritted her teeth angrily: "They are too much too! How can they deceive people so much!"

After that, she hurriedly asked: "Mom, did they pay for this half-day? If you want to, you will give me some first, I will buy some steamed buns, and then go to the small restaurant to fry two dishes and bring them back. ...."

At this point, Theresa's eyes were red, and she whimpered: "Dad and brother have been hungry and crying in bed for several times. It's so pitiful..."

Horiyah burst into tears when she heard this, and said with a beating, "I blame Dave that b@stard! I was kicked out by the manager and worked all morning without paying me a penny... .."

Chapter 1997

Horiyah suddenly felt that now this ghost life is not as good as in the black coal mine.

While crying, she recalled her life in the black coal kiln, and she couldn't help sighing: "At the black coal kiln, although the environment was a bit worse, at least after I was with the supervisor, I could eat every day!"

"Not only you don't have to go hungry, but you don't have to work hard every day. It's cool to think about it."

"And...and...and that supervisor, although the person was a bit ugly and dirty, but his ability in that area was indeed very strong. On a certain level, she had also experienced it. An unprecedented feeling..."

Thinking of this, Horiyah sighed, crying and said to Theresa beside her: "Theresa, what do you mean by this family? What kind of life is this? It's not this or that thing all day long, I had some money It's all lost, and company went bankrupt. Now that I live in someone else's villa, I don't even have a stutter. When will I be heady in these days..."

Theresa couldn't help crying, and choked up: "Mom, I don't even think about it. Our family has been very good before, and all aspects were pretty good. I had a very good relationship with Phil, and we were about to get married. Suddenly, every day it got worse..."

Horiyah sighed and said, "I have to go to the temple to worship another day. If this continues, my life will be lost..."

Theresa said: "Mom, let me think about it now. Our family is beginning to get bad luck. It seems that it started after grandma's previous birthday."

"Huh?" Horiyah asked in astonishment: "Which time was the birthday?"

Theresa said: "Just last time, last birthday banquet, Phil gave grandma a Hetian jade Buddha, Bob who pursued Avella, and sent grandma a jade amulet."

Horiyah nodded: "I remember that Bob Jones's jade amulet is worth a lot of money. It is said to be worth three or four million..."

Speaking of this, Horiyah lamented regretfully: "What a pity! That jade amulet, along with your grandma's other antique jewelry, was sealed by the bank."

Theresa said: "At that birthday banquet, Marven also asked grandmother to borrow money, saying that he was going to see that aunt in that welfare house, do you remember?"

"Remember." Horiyah gritted her teeth and cursed: "Marven's stinky hanging silk, borrowing money at the birthday banquet, really brave. Finally, your grandma scolded him so badly. I am happy when I think of it!"

Theresa said: "I don't want to say this, I want to say, I always feel that since that night, our family has started to be unlucky..."

"Really?" Horiyah frowned and asked her, "What was the first unfortunate thing?"

Theresa hurriedly said: "The first thing is the day after the birthday banquet! I went to the Emgrand Group with Phil and wanted to send invitations to the Vice Chairman of Emgrand Group Lori. By the way, I also climbed up the relationship, and ended up in the Emgrand Group I ran into Marven..."

"Marven?" Horiyah asked, "Why did Marven go there?"

Theresa said: "Marven said at the time that he was applying for a job in the Emgrand Group, and then Phil and I mocked him, and then something strange happened..."

"What?!"

Chapter 1998

Theresa said: "I went upstairs with Phil to meet Lori Young, but she did not see us, and asked people to say that Emgrand Group would not cooperate with our low-quality garbage. Then Phil was beaten by Emgrand security guards."

After that, Theresa said again: "After that, the Emgrand Group terminated the cooperation with Phil and his family. Phil's father and uncle were very angry. Since then, he gradually became estranged from me. Then his uncle Solmon didn't know what was going on, he walked very close to Marven, and he gave Marven the big villa next door..."

"After that, the Emgrand Group contract Avella negotiated, which was terminated by the Emgrand Group because of grandma's refusal. Since then, our family has started to go downhill..."

"Bob Jones pursued Avella, chasing after her, his family went bankrupt, and he disappeared from the world for no reason..."

"Gao Junwei of the Gao family also pursued Avella, but disappeared with his dad Gao Jianjun. The Gao family is still offering a huge reward to find their whereabouts..."

“Fredmen Xiao came to our house, originally wanting to support our house, but was beaten by Marven. Not only did he lose his ability to be a man, he also returned to Orgeyon in despair...”

“Fredmen later gave me to Barena Wei. Barena also looked down upon Marven. As a result, Barena and his father also disappeared. Now the company is inherited by his illegitimate son, and I also heard that the two of them are now digging ginseng at the foot of Changbai Mountain. Not sure whether it is true.....”

Horiyah’s hungry chest was pressed against her back. Hearing this, she suddenly sat up, slammed the coffee table, and yelled angrily: “That dog Marven! He sent me to the black coal kiln. Yes! Fcuk! In my opinion, he is behind all this!”

Theresa hurriedly asked her: “Mom, can I say that Marven has some hidden strength? Otherwise, how could he have such a big influence? No one is his opponent?!”

“Strength?” Horiyah pouted her lips and said contemptuously: “That orphan, what strength can he have? He doesn’t deserve to mention strength!”

Theresa asked back: “Then how can he let so many big people respect him? This proves that he must still have some abilities that we don’t know.”

Horiyah gritted her teeth and said: “His ability is to bluff!”

Theresa shook her head and said, “I think he must still have real skills, otherwise it is impossible for so many big people to be deceived by him...”

With that said, Theresa said seriously: “Maybe he really knows something about Feng Shui! Maybe he used Feng Shui behind our back to give us some tricks, so our family will be more and more unlucky!”

Horiyah suddenly stared her eyes wide, and blurted out: “You say that, it seems that there is some truth to it! He must have done the kind of feng shui bureau for us, making us more and more unlucky, and he is getting more and more lucky. Amazing!”

Theresa nodded hurriedly and said, “I think that’s what eight achievements are like! Otherwise, how could he become so powerful all of a sudden? Mom, we have to think of a way!”

Horiyah cried and said, “What can I do? We can’t even eat food now. If we want to fight with Marven and his family, we must at least have a backer!”

Theresa hurriedly said: “I’m not talking about fighting Marven, mother, we haven’t fought him before, now it’s even more impossible...”

With that said, Theresa said earnestly: “Mom, what Avella said is my cousin, Avella is my cousin no matter what, we might as well take the initiative to show him good, and then ask them to help us. Even I can be a junoir for him!”

Chapter 1999

When Horiyah heard Theresa say that she was willing to be a junior for Marven, she was immediately anxious.

She blurted out: "Theresa! Are you crazy? It's not good for you to be a junior. If you have to be a junior, how can he be worthy of you?!"

Theresa sighed and said quietly, "Mom, now I really think that Marven is actually quite good, handsome, responsible, and good character. He is much better than Phil."

"What nonsense are you talking about!" Horiyah glared at her and blurted out: "Just like Marven's stinky hanging silk, he's not worthy to lift your shoes!"

Theresa smiled bitterly and said, "In the past nearly a year, what's my own situation, can I still not know? I was the phoenix that soared in the sky before, and I fell straight down to the point where even a local chicken raised in the village is better than me."

As she said, Theresa couldn't help sobbing: "Mom, look at me now, my reputation is completely ruined, how can any man want to look at me anymore..."

Seeing Theresa in tears, Horiyah hugged her head distressedly, and comforted her: "Good girl, we can't think so, you know? Fame is a fart? How can it be more important to live well?"

Then, Horiyah said again: "Besides, you have a lot of money and have never followed a few men. Phil is one, Fredmen is one, and Barena is one. Doesn't this add up to three men? You are twenty. It's a lot, what is it to have been with three men? How many girls have not graduated from college, and there are more men who they have slept with. They are not afraid of their reputation being ruined. What is there to fear for you?"

Theresa cried and shook her head: "Mom, that's different. Falling in love in college is a small closed society. It doesn't matter what you do or do in four years. As long as you graduate, who else knows?"

"But I am different. When I was with Phil, who didn't know about it in the Wrestvel?"

"Later with Fredmen, everyone in the city knows it too!"

"Since then, my reputation has been bad. Everyone knows that I had a man who is older than my dad. Who can look down on me?"

"Not to mention that I was later used as a commodity by Fredmen and sent directly to Barena. This matter is even more known to Wrestvel..."

Horiyah was full of pain and choked up: "My dear girl, I don't blame you for this, mother, and your father and your grandma! If we didn't see our eyes open, we could not push you into the fire pit. ...."

After that, she raised her hand and slapped herself, and said angrily: "Mom, is sorry! Mom is not human!"

Theresa hurriedly grabbed her hand and cried and said, “Mom, I don’t blame you for this. I also volunteered...I couldn’t resist the temptation of money, and wanted to sacrifice myself in exchange for the glory of wealth. It has nothing to do with you, don’t beat yourself like that...”

Horiyah cried and sighed: “What kind of evil do you think I have done! How can a good life be like this...”

Theresa nodded to the side and said, “I can no longer bear the days like this. To be honest, as long as I can live a stable life now, let alone Marven as a junior. Even if Marven’s housekeeper, I am willing to...”

Speaking of this, Theresa cried and said: “To this day, I really start to envy Avella...”

“At first, everyone thought that she married a trash and ruined her life...”

“But who would have thought that the rubbish she married would treat her the same for four years...”

“Moreover, this rubbish, for her to work hard, beat and scold, even if the whole world laughs at him, he will not leave Avella half a step...”

“What’s even more commendable is that this trash man can even counterattack and become Master who is respected by everyone in the upper class of Wrestvel. Isn’t this a proper super potential stock?”

“Look now, a man like Marven is really the most reliable...”

“As for Phil and his ilk, what can they do even if they have money?”

“At the critical moment, isn’t the disaster approaching and flying separately?”

After listening to Theresa’s words, Horiyah was taken aback for a moment, and immediately said with emotion: “You are right... Avella, this girl, looks stupid, she is really wise!”

Chapter 2000

“Others are looking at this, thinking about that, thinking about that and thinking about this, and they are looking at this, thinking about that, thinking about that and worrying about this, and they picked out a bunch of sh!t in the end instead...”

“By the way, Avella doesn’t fight or grab or pick it up. The old man arranges for her a stinky sh!t, so she marry the stinky sh!t...”

“Who would have thought that the smelly sh!t will turn into gold one day...”

Theresa nodded and said seriously: “If there is a chance, I must get closer to Marven. Even if he doesn’t look down on me, it is good to give our family more or less help. At this time, everyone outside Unreliable, one by one is not as good as Marven...”

Horiyah sighed and said, “Let’s do it. Mom got excited just now and became hungry. I came back to the house and lie down for a while. When your grandma gets off work, we will have food... ..”

Mrs. Xiao pulled plastic bags from customers all day in the supermarket.

The big roll of plastic bags like those in supermarkets ignited static electricity as soon as they were pulled. After a day of pulling, the old lady's hair became a little bit elegant.

However, Mrs. Xiao was very satisfied.

Because at noon she had a free lunch provided by the supermarket staff canteen.

This is the most delicious meal that Mrs. Xiao has ever eaten in her life.

There is nothing special about the food, not only is it not very tasty, but also there is not much oily water.

But Mrs. Xiao has been hungry for too long.

At this time, giving her a bowl of white rice is already the delicacy and delicacy of God's gift. If she has another dish or two with meat and vegetables, her soul will fly.

After eating and drinking enough, the old lady became motivated, and she pulled up the plastic bag, and it was not so boring.

On the contrary, she gradually felt a little enjoyable.

Busy till 5 o'clock in the afternoon, supposedly it's time to get off work, the foreman came over and gave her one hundred yuan, and said to her: "Old lady, you did a good job today. Will you come tomorrow? It is the time when people are most lacking. If you come tomorrow, I will pay two hundred a day!"

"Really?" The old lady Xiao was so happy, she put the hundred yuan into her pocket carefully, and said excitedly: "I'll come here tomorrow!"

The foreman nodded in satisfaction: "That's good, then you go back to rest first, tomorrow nine o'clock in the morning."

Old lady Xiao excitedly agreed. Then, she suddenly remembered something and said: "Foreman, what time does the cafeteria open in the afternoon?"

The foreman said: "It's six o'clock in the afternoon."

Old lady Xiao asked hurriedly, "Then...then can I go to the cafeteria for another meal?"

The foreman said with some embarrassment: "But an employee is issued a meal coupon and taken care of one meal a day. Haven't you already received the meal coupon at noon?"

When the old lady Xiao heard this, she nodded with some disappointment: "Okay, then I will come again tomorrow!"

Seeing her lost look, the foreman couldn't bear to say: "Well, old lady, you have another shift and work till 7 o'clock. I will apply with the manager and send you a meal coupon. Then you can go home after eating in the cafeteria?"

When Mrs. Xiao heard this, she was very excited and thought to herself: "If I pull the plastic bag for two more hours, I can eat another meal? Then of course, I agree!"

So she said with great excitement: "Sure foreman! Thank you very much!"
