

The Amazing Son In-Law Chapter 2321-2330

Chapter 2321

Lori watched his leaving back, her whole body shivering in anger, and tears burst into her eyes instantly.

Two years ago, Lori's father had severe nephritis. Because he had RH negative blood, it has been difficult to find a suitable kidney source.

At that time, Lori did the matching by herself, but failed to match it.

Later, she was lucky. The relatives in her family found a successful match in Southeast Asia, and the other party was also willing to donate a donor for compensation.

Subsequently, Lori spent one million yuan to solve the kidney problem for his father.

I thought that after finding the source of the kidneys, as long as he took good care of him, he could extend his father's life cycle for at least 20 to 30 years.

But she never dreamed that after only two years, a severe rejection occurred in the kidney of her father's transplantation, and her kidney function dropped sharply.

People were fine before the New Year, and after the New Year, they were admitted to the hospital because of acute kidney failure.

Doctors can't find out the cause of kidney failure, and this kind of kidney failure is completely irreversible. The only way is to find a new source of kidney and perform another transplant as soon as possible.

In a hurry, Lori raised the price to five million, but even if the money was high, he still couldn't find a suitable kidney source in a short time.

Walter, a classmate of Lori studying abroad at the time, knew about this from nowhere, and then he was very enthusiastic to help her contact the kidney source from the American black market.

Walter came over today to tell Lori that the source of the kidney had been found, and that he was still a donor, and he was a very young and strong guy.

But before Lori was happy about this incident, Walter immediately revealed himself and made a series of extremely excessive demands.

Thinking of this, Lori was extremely depressed.

She also knew that it was almost impossible to find a suitable kidney source in such a short period of time...

At this moment, she couldn't help but think of the scene when she attended Warnia Song's birthday party.

Marven took out a rejuvenating pill at the time and was bought by Li Tailai at a sky-high price of 2 billion. It is said that that pill not only cures all diseases, but also turns decay into a miracle.

It's a pity that the price of 2 billion is definitely not something that Lori can get...

Although her income is not low, she has always been a high-level migrant worker after all, and her net worth is less than 100 million. How can she expect to be able to afford a 2 billion pill?

Chapter 2322

At this time, the inner door was gently pushed open.

The middle-aged woman came out and asked her, "Dongxue, that Walter is gone?"

This woman is Lori's mother, Sun Yufang.

Lori hurriedly wiped away her tears, turned to look at the woman, nodded and said, "Yes, mother, he's gone."

After speaking, she hurriedly asked, "Mom, how is Dad?"

Sun Yufang sighed, "It's still like that, I'm not awake."

As she said, she saw Lori just cried, so she hurried forward and asked concerned: "Dongxue, why are you crying? What did Walter tell you? Didn't he say that he has helped your father find the kidney source? What's next?"

Lori sighed and whispered: "The source of the kidney has been found, but what he meant was that I should work for him, and at the same time be his lover..."

"What?!" Sun Yufang suddenly widened his eyes and blurted out: "This...isn't this one of your old classmates? How could he be so shameless?!"

Lori said helplessly: "I didn't expect that he would become like this a few years after graduation."

Sun Yufang hurriedly said: "Can we give him more money? If the kidney source is 2 million, we will give him 4 million, or 6 million, as long as he can help find the kidney source and ensure that your father can transplant it in time. Even if we smash the pot and sell iron, we are still willing!"

Lori shook his head and said seriously: "This Walter's father is a relatively well-known real estate tycoon in the United States. His family strength is very strong, and his assets are worth tens of billions of dollars. How can he be worthy of our money... ...."

Sun Yufang burst into tears and said helplessly, "What should I do...Your father's RH-negative blood, originally only one in hundreds of thousands of panda blood, wanted to talk to him It is very rare for people of the same blood type. It is even more difficult to find someone with the same blood type as him, with a successful organ match, and the other party willing to donate..."

As she said, she sighed and cried, "The doctor said... the doctor said that your dad's current condition can last up to three months. If he can't find the kidney source, then Da Luo Jinxian will save I can't stop him!"

Lori nodded with a pained expression, and said, "Mom, don't cry first, and give me some time to find the source of my kidney..."

Sun Yufang couldn't hide his anxiety and sobbed: "The doctor said, your father's physical condition can wait up to 20 days. If the kidney source cannot be resolved in 20 days, even if he finds the kidney source, his physical condition, I can't receive surgery..."

Lori nodded and said seriously: "Mom, don't worry, I will try my best to find a solution..."

Sun Yufang nodded slightly, her whole body was crying.

Lori whispered at this moment: "Mom, you will be here for a while, and I will go out to breathe."

"Okay, you go..."

Lori came out of the ward and went directly to the courtyard below the inpatient department of the hospital.

It was already night and the weather was relatively cold, and there were few people in the yard.

Chapter 2323

She took out a pack of ladies' cigarettes from her pocket, took one out and put it in her mouth, and then took out a lighter, and pressed it a few times anxiously, then the flame was shot out and the smoke was lit.

Against the flames, her face was very ugly.

The cigarette was ignited, and Lori's lips lightly bit the cigarette butt and took a hard sip. The surroundings were quiet, and even the peculiar sound of tobacco being lit.

Lori seldom smokes and doesn't like to smoke, but because she has been working hard all the time, she is often over-tired and over-upset. At this time, smoking a cigarette can bring her some relief.

Smoke erupted from her delicate nose, feeling the stimulation of nicotine in the brain, Lori involuntarily shed two lines of tears.

In her mind, what her mother said was repeated.

The window period for my father to do an organ transplant is only 20 days.

If no suitable kidney source is found in these twenty days, the father's physical function will enter the end of decline.

In that case, his body will be so weak that he can't even support the surgical anesthetic drugs, let alone undergoing a major organ transplant operation...

This situation is much like some elderly patients with terminal cancer.

In summary, there are twelve words: the body is very weak and the condition is very serious.

surgery? Body can't hold it;

Chemotherapy? The body can't hold it either.

In the end, there is no alternative but palliative care.

To put it bluntly, it means to give up treatment and use painkillers to help patients relieve their pain in the last stage of life.

Lori's father was only in his fifties. For Lori, she couldn't accept that his father had passed away at such a young age.

However, the chance of trying to save his father at the moment is so slim that it makes people desperate.

The cigarette burned out, she unconsciously lit another one, and in her mind, she remembered Walter's words again.

At the same time, a multiple choice question popped out subconsciously in her heart.

There are two options for this multiple-choice question.

Option A: promise Walter, change his father's chance to survive;

Option B: Reject Walter and watch Dad pass away.

Chapter 2324

Lori felt extremely painful because it was the cruelest multiple choice question she faced in her life for more than 20 years.

.....

At the same time, Walter was sitting in a Rolls-Royce, just driving away from the People's Hospital.

Walter's full name is Walter Horowitz, an American, and his family is also a well-known real estate developer in the United States.

He had been classmates with Lori in the early years and had always had a good impression of Lori.

But because Walter was still under the nose of his family at the time, he didn't dare to pursue an Asian woman grandiosely.

However, the current Walter and the student Walter have changed drastically.

He now has sufficient resources and initiative in the family, and now he has made his business in China, and has begun to enter China's real estate field, so he immediately began to release himself.

The first thing to release myself is to reconquer Lori, an old classmate.

This is not only because he has always thought about Lori.

More importantly, Lori has made great contributions to the Emgrand Group in recent years, and his personal ability has been highly recognized by the entire real estate field.

She is not only capable but also very familiar with China Real Estate industry.

For a new American entrepreneur like Walter, if she can be used for her own use, it will not only be an excellent help, but will also save many detours.

In addition, Lori also has a great value, that is, she knows all the confidential information of the Emgrand Group well.

The real estate industry seems to be building and selling buildings. It does not research and develop high-tech technologies or produce sophisticated devices. It does not seem to have much technical content or too much confidential information.

But in fact, the real estate industry has more confidential information than most industries!

Because they are very close to the relevant departments, large real estate companies often master the direction of urban planning and development to a certain extent.

For example, a certain piece of land may be planned for development in the future, and a certain area may be covered by rail transit in the future. These are all confidential information worth millions of dollars.

In addition, every piece of land and every project must be tendered. The base of the bidding is the absolute core secret. If it is leaked, it will bring huge losses to the company.

Therefore, Walter's wishful thinking is to be able to put Lori in her bag, and then digest the confidential information of the Emgrand Group she has.

Immediately afterwards, the Emgrand Group was hollowed out in a targeted and step-by-step manner, and finally seized the entire Wrestvel market.

At this moment, Walter looked at Lori's photo on his phone with a playful look, and said something in his mouth: "Lori, this time, I must completely and thoroughly conquer you!"

Chapter 2325

The next day, Marven went out and bought a few red sandalwood jewelry boxes, which were used to store the pill to be given to everyone at night.

After all, it is a life-saving medicine in the eyes of everyone, and it has to be matched with a decent packaging.

On the way home after buying the jewelry box, Marven received a call from Zak Chen.

As soon as the phone was connected, Zak Chen was very excited and said, "Master! The case of illegal fund-raising by the old house owner was sentenced this morning!"

"Oh?" Marven asked hurriedly: "How do you say?"

Zak Chen hurriedly said, "That's right, the man was sentenced to life imprisonment and all his assets were confiscated to repay the defendant's arrears. So now all assets under his name will enter the judicial auction process, including your constant concern. Old house."

"Very good!" Marven immediately said: "Old Chen, help me to report my name, I want to participate!"

Zak Chen said: "Master, rest assured, I have already signed up as a driver of mine. After all, you and your parents used to live in that house. If your name appears on the list of bidders again, I'm afraid there will be someone I figured out your identity, so I just made a claim. Please don't blame it!"

Marven said with emotion: "I don't think about this. Then take your driver's name to participate in the auction. In any case, you must take the house."

Zak Chen smiled and said, "Master, don't worry, that old house has long been listed as a protected building with no demolition prohibition. It has almost no circulation value, so the starting price is only 880,000 yuan. I don't think anyone will follow. Even if you grab it, when the price reaches two or three million, it is estimated that it can be won steadily."

"Okay." Marven relaxed and asked him, "When will the auction start?"

Zak Chen replied: "It is temporarily set at 10 o'clock in the morning next Monday."

Marven asked again, "Should I go to the court to participate in the auction or online?"

Zak Chen explained: "Now judicial auctions are basically conducted online, open and transparent. I have already signed up and paid the bid deposit. I will start bidding on the judicial auction website at 10 o'clock next Monday morning. can."

"Okay!" Marven smiled slightly and praised: "Old Chen, this thing is done very well, it's a hard work."

Zak Chen hurriedly said, "Master, you are too polite. These little things are just a matter of effort."

Marven said with emotion: "For you, it's a simple effort, but for me, it means too much."

After speaking, Marven couldn't help but feel melancholy.

Although his parents have passed away for nearly two decades, Marven still feels heartache every time he thinks about it.

At the same time, the Du family mansion.

Du Haiqing, who had always been thinking about Ye Changying's old house, also learned from the old housekeeper that the house was about to be auctioned.

She excitedly said to the old housekeeper on the spot: "Uncle Wang, please help me to sign up, I want to participate in this auction!"

The old butler nodded and said, "Okay second lady, I will arrange for someone to register for you."

Du Haiqing said, "Then you will work hard, Uncle Wang, help me solve these problems. I'll go back to my room and make a call."

The old butler said, "Good second lady."

Du Haiqing walked back to his room quickly, took out his mobile phone, and called Zynn Su.

She knew that Zynn Su had gone to Australia, but she had not contacted Zynn Su for these two days.

Zynn Su was extremely depressed because of his mood, and because he felt dull, he didn't take the initiative to contact Du Haiqing and his pair of children.

At this time, Zynn Su was sitting at the door of the villa, on the edge of the cliff next to the sea, staring at the sea below in a daze.

Chapter 2326

In the past few days when he came to Australia, he has been in a low mood, not only because his wife Du Haiqing wanted to divorce him, but also because after the scandal was exposed, his image in everyone's minds was subverted.

The evaluation of him by the outside world is simply the worst man in China in recent years, not one of them.

Because, not only did he mess around outside with his wife behind his back, he made an illegitimate daughter.

He also disguised the illegitimate daughter as a bodyguard to take home and received his wife and children under his nose;

What's more, he also directed his illegitimate daughter to commit a felony overseas!

This is not over yet.

The thing that outsiders spurned the most was that in order to avoid the exposure of the scandal, he even joined forces with the Japanese Self-Defense Force to kill his own daughter.

what is this?

This is a beast who derails in marriage, hides everything from everyone, uses illegitimate daughters as a tool of killing, and kills his daughter for his own benefit.

It can even be said that once a person gathers so many evils in one, he may not even be able to compare with a beast.

That is not as good as a beast!

Although Zynn Su knew that all of this was the charge that the old man Su Chengfeng had forcibly thrown on himself for throwing the pot away.

But he also knew very well that once these charges were deducted on his own head, he could not get rid of it.

Whenever he thought of this, Zynn Su gritted his teeth bitterly.

Because he even had a hunch that he might not be able to get rid of these infamy for the rest of his life.

He Zynn Su is indeed not a man of fame, but what he is most worried about is whether he will have the chance to inherit the Su family once he has these infamy.

After all, he can break the jar and don't care about infamy, but the Su family can't.

In the future, when the old man transfers power, he will feel that his reputation is too bad and refuse to give himself the supreme power of the Su family.

In that case, half of my life's hard work would have been all over.

Thinking of this, Zynn Su hated his teeth!

"Why?! Why should the old thing make me take care of it?! Why should the old thing make my daughter unaccounted for, life or death, but let me be dead!"

He couldn't help but insult, picked up a bottle of vodka beside him and drank more than half of it, and suddenly threw it into the rolling sea below.

At this moment, the phone rang suddenly.

The name on the phone screen made him startled.

"Wife?" Zynn Su was confused at first, then hurriedly grabbed the phone, pressed answer, and blurted out: "Wife! You are finally willing to call me!"

Du Haiqing said in a flat tone on the other end of the phone: "Zynn Su, I am calling to talk about divorce. You are now in Australia and will not be able to come back for a while. Or you can entrust a lawyer to help you. Go through the relevant procedures."

Zynn Su did not expect that the purpose of Du Haiqing's call was to communicate with him about the divorce, and the whole person immediately felt a burst of anger from his heart.

He couldn't help but said coldly, "Du Haiqing, as long as we haven't divorced, we still have a relationship between husband and wife. You ran to Wrestrvel without my consent during the relationship between husband and wife. I didn't stop you or blame you for this. It is enough to give you face."

"But when you are in Wrestrvel, you even called me to mention a divorce. Isn't it a bit too much? Don't you really care about our love for more than 20 years of marriage?!"

Chapter 2329

Listening to the case described by Director Chen, Lorixue carefully recalled the case for a long time, and said: "Dr. Chen, before and after my father's illness, I did not see him taking any unknown drugs, nor did I see him taking self-cooked drugs. Chinese medicine, let alone aristolochia..."

After that, Lorixue said again: "After the last kidney transplant, he was in overall good health and had mild diabetes. So he has been taking extended-release metformin tablets, but this medicine is very safe for the kidneys. Yes, it is impossible to cause acute renal failure..."

Director Chen nodded and said: "The aristolochia I mentioned just now is just to give you an example. However, the ingredients that can cause acute renal failure are far more than aristolochia, and there are many chemicals. , Organic compounds have great nephrotoxicity."

Lorixue asked, "Director Chen, is there any way to find out, what is the cause of my father's acute renal failure?"

Director Chen said: "I have sent your father's blood and urine to the laboratory for testing, but this series of tests is very troublesome, and it will be difficult to find a clear result for a while."

As he said, he said: "Lori, the most urgent task now is not to find out the cause of your father's kidney failure, but to solve the problem of the kidney source as soon as possible. This is the most important thing!"

Lorixue sighed extremely helplessly, and said dejectedly: "I have raised the price to 10 million yuan this morning, but my father has rh-negative blood. This one alone has lost more than 99% of the kidney source. ...."

Director Chen nodded and said seriously: "Lori, the current situation is really helpless. I have also mobilized friends I know to help you inquire all over the country, but there is still no news yet."

Speaking of this, Director Chen sighed and whispered: "Lori, I advise you to be mentally prepared..."

Lorixue was silent for a moment, nodded slightly, and said weakly: "Thank you, Director Chen, I know, I will think of a way..."

"Okay." Director Chen comforted: "But don't be too pessimistic. I have been in medicine for so many years and I have seen and heard many miracles. Among them are many miracles that I still can't understand..."

"Someone is declared to have only a few months of life due to advanced cancer, but after he leaves the hospital, he can face his future life with extreme optimism, and he can even spend every day as the last day. On the contrary, such people have been After it has survived, for three, five, or even ten years, the cancer cells in the body have not expanded further. On the contrary, they seem to feel a certain strength and begin to retreat completely..."

"There is another very miraculous case. It happened in our Wrestvel People's Hospital. A patient with high paraplegia healed suddenly..."

Lorixue thought that Director Chen was comforting her, so she nodded gently, but in her heart she didn't think that such a miracle might happen.

So in her opinion, the only solution now is to find the source of the kidney.

There is no other way.

Coming out of Director Chen's office, Lorixue walked to the ward in a desperate manner.

She really didn't expect that her father's condition had already deteriorated to this level, but it would accelerate again.

The twenty-day window period suddenly became fifteen days.

I don't know whether this window will continue to be shortened tomorrow and the day after tomorrow.

Just a few meters away, she suddenly received a call from Marven.

At this moment, Marven was on the way to Qin Gang's house, remembering that Lorixue had not given him a definite answer, so he called her to ask if she had time at night.

Chapter 2330

As soon as the phone was connected, Lorixue respectfully said, "Master, what do you want?"

Marven smiled and said: "There is no order, just the same thing that I said yesterday. Are you free tonight? If you have time, come to Qin's home to gather together. You will all come to see me at home during the Chinese New Year, but I have been Now, there has been no Zhang Luo that everyone has a meal together, and I feel sorry for it."

Lorixue smiled reluctantly and said, "Master, what are you doing so politely with me..."

Marven said with a smile: "Hurt, this is not a question of politeness, it is a polite exchange! I have prepared a small gift for everyone. It is not worth any money, but a small amount of care. If you have time, just Come and sit down. It doesn't matter if you don't have time, I'll give you a gift later."

When Lorixue heard this, she hurriedly said: "Master! How can you condescend to give me something...Let's do it, you give me a time and place, I will be there at night..."

Marven said: "Well, I will send you the time and place on WeChat in a moment."

Lorixue hurriedly said, "Good young master!"

After finishing speaking, he said with some embarrassment: "Master, I may not be able to stay too long at night, and I may have to leave early then, please forgive me!"

Marven said indifferently: "It's okay, just look at your schedule and don't delay your own affairs."

Lorixue breathed a sigh of relief.

In fact, with her current whole person state, she is not interested in any dinner.

After all, his father was dying in the hospital bed. At this time, let alone rushing to the dinner, even eating, in Lorixue's opinion, has lost the necessity.

From last night to now, apart from drinking a few sips of water, she didn't drop the rice, but she still didn't feel any hunger.

However, Marven was his boss after all, and he was so kindly inviting, which made Lorixue feel that it was a bit unsuitable not to go, so he decided to sit there at night.

After making the decision, she put the phone back in her pocket, and walked back.

Returning to the door of the ward, she heard the whispering sound from inside the ward. Lorixue felt tight and hurriedly pushed the door in. She saw her mother sitting on the sofa crying bitterly in the small living room outside the suite ward. Walter, his college classmate, stood in front of his mother with a smile on his face.

At this moment, Lorixue broke out in an instant, and she angrily rebuked: "Walter! Who let you come?! What did you tell my mother?!"

Walter turned around to see Lorixue coming back, smiled slightly, and said, "Lori, I came to tell my aunt that there has been a slight change in the kidney source in the United States."

Without waiting for Lorixue to ask further, he sighed: "Hey! Lori, rh-negative blood is too rare, and rh-negative kidney sources are even rarer. This kidney source is now being scrambled by a French patient. , The price paid by the French is also very high, plus I have not confirmed with the donor for a long time, the donor side has already been a bit swayed..."

Lorixue frowned and asked coldly, "What do you mean?"

Walter smiled and said: "I mean it is very simple, Lori! This kidney source can be said to be one in a million, and the owner of this kidney source is willing to sell a kidney in exchange for cash, so as long as you agree to my terms, I You can get him to undergo a kidney removal operation in the United States today, and then order someone to freeze the kidney and transport it to China, and he can transplant his uncle tomorrow...but..."

At this point, Walter slapped his lips: "Tsk, tusk... But if you don't agree, the donor will probably be sold to the French. You know, there are only two kidneys. If he wants to survive, he has to keep at least one. If he sells one of the kidneys to the French, it is absolutely impossible for him to sell me another kidney!"

"So, you must carefully consider my conditions, because the time left for you is running out!"
