

The Amazing Son In-Law Chapter 841-850

Chapter 841

Elsa felt the gentleness when Marven wiped away tears for her, and at the same time, she listened to his firm emotional confession to Avella, and her heart was extremely painful.

She said with a hoarse voice: “Marven, if Avella really loves you, I will never do anything to disturb you, but you know that she is with you because of her promise to her grandfather, you think so Your feelings, do you insist on making sense by yourself? Why not let your own life and the beginning of your life be the same?”

After that, she couldn't help sobbing and asked him, “In which sense I am inferior to Avella? Tell me, I will try to catch up with her, don't refuse so fast, give me a chance?”

Marven stood up and shook his head: “Elsa, sometimes you don't understand the mind of a man. You are kind to me at first, just like you think I am kind to you. Just because of this, Enough for me to stay with her. As for whether she loves me or not, I am not in a hurry to figure it out. I still have a long time to understand, explore and even change bit by bit. Just like you did to me, even if I repeatedly tell you that I am married and have no interest in women other than Avella, don't you still continue to confess to me?”

Elsa understood at once.

With that said, she immediately realized.

However, after the realization, she was also uncomfortable.

Just as Marven was unwilling to give up Avella anyway, Elsa was also unwilling to give up Marven anyway.

So she wiped her eyes, looked at Marven, and said stubbornly: “You don't want to give up Avella, and I am also unwilling to give up on you. Since you can wait for Avella, then I can wait for you too! No matter how long the wait. It doesn't matter, I will wait forever!”

Marven sighed: “Well, since you have decided, I will respect your decision.”

After all, Marven checked the time and said, “It's getting late, go back to the room and rest.”

Elsa nodded lightly and said: “You go back first, I want to sit down for a while.”

Marven gave a hum and stepped upstairs.

After Marven left, Elsa sat on the sofa with mixed feelings.

There were grievances, unwillingness, sadness, and obsession, all kinds of emotions popped up in her mind, making her entangled.

Elsa felt that Marven might be the only man she would fall in love with wholeheartedly in her life. If she didn't get together with him, then she would never meet a man who made her feel so excited.

She couldn't help feeling sad when she thought that she might never get the man she loved the most.

Is it because she is destined to miss Marven in this life?

No, she doesn't believe it!

She believes that God will not arbitrarily arrange a silent ending if he sends Marven to her side twice to let him save her from danger.

He will definitely arrange a perfect ending for her, as long as she can stick to it with a sincere heart.

Persevere, then persist until victory!

When Marven gently opened the door of the room, Avella was standing alone on the balcony on the second floor.

It is true that Avella is a stupid and filial girl, but it is her stupid energy that makes her insist on not divorcing him.

She is foolish and filial to Viola, but foolish and loyal to herself.

That year, soon after the two got married, Mr. Xiao passed away.

At that time, the entire Xiao family was persuading Avella to divorce him.

After all, the reason why Avella married him at the beginning was because of the father's fate, and everyone else opposed it.

Therefore, those people all hope that she can divorce him and marry the rich young master of a big family to change the fate of the entire Xiao family.

However, she feels that marrying him means marrying a chicken and a dog, marrying a dog and a dog. As long as she does not divorce him, he will never divorce himself. This is her loyalty to her marriage and her husband.

Chapter 842

If Avella hadn't relied on this stubborn "stupidity", she would have listened to persuasion and had enough.

In that way, what kind of destiny would he have?

Marven didn't dare to think.

Because the orphanage didn't accept adults, on his eighteenth birthday, Aunt Lena bought a birthday cake with her frugal money, celebrated his birthday, and sent him out of the orphanage with tears.

At that moment, Marven once again became lonely and helpless in this world.

Aunt Lena wanted to help him, she wanted to introduce him to work and provide him with living allowances, but he had no face to ask.

He found a construction site alone, and moved bricks, sand, and cement with others at the age of 18.

He was not able to rent a house, so he has been living in the prefabricated house on the construction site, eating the cheapest meals, and doing the most tiring, heaviest and dirtiest work.

He only kept a small part of the money he earned to live, and the rest was donated to the orphanage.

Because the orphanage still had many brothers and sisters who were just as helpless and lonely as himself. They are still young and need more care and love.

However, after all, the orphanage had limited funds and can ensure that they are fed and clothed, but it cannot guarantee that they eat well and wear well.

Therefore, he spared no effort to donate the money he saved to his younger brothers and sisters to improve their lives, and even buy them textbooks for them to study hard.

In the fourth year of working on the construction site, his construction team was employed by the Xiao family and began to work on a project for the Xiao family.

At that time, Grandpa Xiao, who came to inspect the construction site, could tell at a glance that Marven and his grandfather looked almost exactly the same when they were young.

And the reason Grandpa Xiao knew Marven's grandfather was because the Xiao family was the Ye family's servant a hundred years ago!

From his grandfather's generation, Elder Xiao fled all the way to Orgeyon because of fleeing. When he was about to starve to death, the Ye family took them in.

In order to repay their favor, they voluntarily sold themselves to the Ye family and started long-term jobs.

At that time, the Ye family was already one of the largest families in Orgeyon, and the head of the family was kind and sympathetic to the servants, allowing them to marry, allowing them to have children, so that they could live and work in the Ye family.

Elder Xiao's father was born and raised in the Ye family.

Later, Elder Xiao's father became an adult, and he voluntarily sold himself to the Ye family and continued to work for them.

Later, Elder Xiao was also born in the Ye family.

Therefore, when he was a child and a young man, he was raised in the Ye family, and also worked as a servant in the in the family.

The Old Master of the Ye family was about the same age as the Old Master Xiao, and the two had grown up together. Of course, there was a huge difference in status, so the Old Master Xiao knew him, but he didn't know the Old Master Xiao.

After the war, the Ye family also prepared to move out to avoid the war, but couldn't take so many domestic servants, so they gave most of the domestic servants a generous settlement allowance and dismissed them.

It was at that time that Elder Xiao returned to his hometown with the Ye family's settlement allowance.

Therefore, when he saw Marven, he firmly believed that he must be a descendant of the Ye family.

At that time, Grandpa Xiao knelt directly on the ground and knocked three heads to Marven, saying that he was kneeling and thanking the Ye family for their kindness to the Xiao family.

Then Mr. Xiao took him back to the Xiao family and insisted on marrying his eldest granddaughter Avella.

At that time, the Old Master Xiao didn't know if Marven, the young dragon, could even fly into the sky.

But he felt that the descendants of the Ye family shouldn't spend their lives on the construction site.

As the servants of the Ye family for generations, the Xiao family has the responsibility and obligation to take care of this Marven who was living away and give him a stable home!

Chapter 843

Looking back into the past, Marven was full of emotion.

There are only two people in the Xiao family who really treated him well.

One is Mr. Xiao, who has passed away, and the other is his wife, Avella.

Now, Mr. Xiao has also passed away, and the entire Xiao family is really not good to him, and only Avella is left.

Seeing Avella standing on the balcony with a sad face at this time, Marven slowly walked over, came to the balcony, and said to her: "Avella, you don't have to worry too much, mom will definitely come back safely."

Avella realized that he had come in. She glanced back and said annoyed: "You don't really care about her, so of course you don't think she will have something to do. Even if she has something, you will not really feel sad."

Marven knew that she was still mad at him, so he sighed, walked up to her, and comforted: "My wife, I know you are worried that mom will suffer and even be in danger outside, but you don't think that her character, if she can suffer a bit, will it be good for her?"

Avella said: "I understand what you mean, but the key is that the loss must be within a controllable category. If it rises to personal danger, everything will be uncontrollable..."

Marven nodded and said: "Let's take a good rest first, and we will continue to go out to find tomorrow morning, okay?"

Avella hesitated for a moment, and nodded slightly, "Go to bed first, and I will go to the police station to ask about the progress tomorrow. They said that if there is no one to be found tomorrow, they will send the missing information to the Blue Sky Rescue Team and ask them to help."

"Yeah." Marven hurriedly coaxed her and said, "The Blue Sky Rescue Team can mobilize a strong social force. It shouldn't be a problem to find someone to come out."

"I hope..." Avella said, turning around and walked back to the room.

Marven hurriedly followed behind her, faintly excited.

After all, tonight is a great day for him to be promoted, and finally he can sleep with wife in bed!

Even if it goes well, he can make up for the unfinished bridal chamber with her!

With that in mind, Marven hurriedly followed into the house and was about to directly hug Avella up and put her on the bed. As a result, he saw that Avella hadn't gone to the bedside, and went directly to the closet to take out a set of bedding, and looked at Ye angrily. She said: "Here, you are still sleeping on the ground tonight!"

"Ah?!" Marven asked in surprise: "Good wife, didn't you say that I can already be promoted to one level? I have been stuck at this level for more than three years, so I should be promoted!"

Avella was ashamed and angry, and stomped her feet and said, "That was what I said before. Now the situation has changed, so the upgrade will take a bit longer!"

Marven asked depressed, "How long is it delayed?"

Avella angrily said, "Slow down until mom comes home!"

Marven was taken aback, and his expression immediately slumped.

Viola, Viola, you are so lingering!

Just thinking about it, Avella was already lying on the bed and said angrily: "You are not allowed to sneak up! Otherwise I will drive you to the bedroom on the first floor!"

Marven had no choice but to say angrily: "Okay, my wife, I won't upgrade yet, I'll talk about it when Mom comes back."

This night, Marven was quite depressed.

At the same time, he was even more annoyed at Viola.

This mother-in-law, if she hadn't owed her hand to steal his premium card, things wouldn't be what they are now!

If she were honest, she would definitely be sleeping in the big bedroom upstairs now, and he and Avella would sleep on the same bed.

It seems that this woman still owes repairs!

"When I look back, I have to say hello to Zak Chen and send a few people in to teach her a lesson! At least let her learn a lesson, and dare not steal other people's things and steal other people's bank cards to withdraw money from the bank in the future."

Chapter 844

In sharp contrast with Marven, Dave upstairs.

Dave didn't fall asleep when he was excited this evening.

He remembered his past with Meiqing several times in his mind, thinking back and forth, and taste back and forth, the whole person has been completely immersed in it!

The more he thought about Meiqing, the more he looked forward to seeing her again.

Early the next morning, Dave, who hadn't slept the whole night, was rather vigorous, and his happy whole body was closed from ear to ear.

He got up early to wash, and shaved his beard clean without leaving a single stubble. Then he combed his gray hair well, sprayed some styling spray, and then turned the box and the cabinet again and looked for it. Out of the high-end suit that he had been reluctant to wear.

This suit was specially made in Hong Kong when the Xiao family was in its heyday. At that time, he was also the second son of the Xiao family. The Old Master didn't hesitate to give his pocket money, so he had a lot of face when he went out every day.

Unfortunately, Dave's life is not good these years, so he didn't get lucky. This suit still fits well.

After changing into his clothes, Dave looked at himself in the mirror, showing a satisfied smile when he was ten years younger.

Just as the so-called happy events are refreshing, the smile on Dave's face is simply uncontrollable!

He believes that Meiqing will not be disappointed when she sees him now!

Thinking of this, he was so excited that he couldn't wait to rush to the airport immediately to meet Meiqing again.

However, Meiqing's plane landed later than ten o'clock, so it was still early, so he went downstairs and came to the restaurant.

In the restaurant, Avella and Elsa were sitting at the table drinking milk. Marven was still busy in the kitchen with fried eggs and bacon. Elsa was the first to see Dave and was surprised and said: "Wow! Uncle dressed so young today. Ah!"

"Really?" Dave smiled a little embarrassedly, and asked, "Is it okay?"

Elsa gave a thumbs up: "That's great!"

Avella raised her head at this time and saw that her father was actually wearing his favorite suit. She was surprised and asked: "Dad, what are you doing in this dress?"

Dave hurriedly said: "I have something to do today. An old friend came back from abroad and wants to meet me for a meal."

After that, Dave said again: "Oh yes, Marven is with me at noon. Don't come home for dinner, just order a meal at the company."

"Dad!" Avella said with some dissatisfaction: "Mom is still missing! I still expect you and Marven to go out with me today to find her. Why are you still making an appointment with your old classmates for dinner?"

Dave said, "Then when they are here, I can't help but meet up, right?"

Avella said angrily, "But my mother is missing! Shouldn't you worry about her first? At this time, you are still in the mood to go to an appointment. Are you and mother not a couple?"

Dave nodded and said, "It's a couple."

After that, he added another sentence: "But I'm separated."

Avella was angrily speechless. Dad was dressed so formal at this time, and even his hairstyle was deliberately adjusted. It must have been a meeting with a female classmate.

Moreover, Dad said that the other party came back from abroad, and that is probably the first love her mother said!

She felt angry when she thought that her mother was still missing but her father was dressed up and going to eat with her first love.

Dave said seriously at this time: "Your mother can find it anytime, but I have already made an appointment with someone for this dinner. I can't break the appointment. I will search together after dinner. I will find her with Marven!"

Avella said: "Go by yourself, Marven will follow me!"

"How can I do that!" Dave said hurriedly, "I can't go alone with my son. How inappropriate? Or you let Marven go to your mother, and you come with me!"

Chapter 845

When she heard that her father asked her to meet his first love, Avella refused almost without hesitation: "I'm not going!"

Dave opened his hand: "Then don't stop Marven from following me, anyway, one of you must follow me."

"You..." Avella was furious and asked: "It is more important to eat with your old classmates, or to find mother is more important. Dad, don't you know it clearly?"

Dave blurted out: "It is clear, of course it is more important to eat with old classmates!"

"you....."

Although Avella had always had a good temper, she was really going to be blown up at this time.

Dave said indifferently at this time: "Avella, you have to understand one thing, this world does not revolve around your mother. There are four people in this family. Your mother and I have our own needs. You can revolve around your mother, but you can't force me or force Marven to revolve around her. We don't have anything to live on? We don't have any needs of ourselves?"

Speaking of this, Dave continued with a little excitement: "Could it be that if your mother can't find it back one day, I can't do other things a day, so I can only go out to find her? Then if she can't find it back forever, then I don't have to sit besides, I will find her to die in the second half of my life? If this is the case, then I would rather run away from home. Why should I do this?"

Avella was speechless.

Although she knew that what her father was talking about was false, she still had to admit that there was some truth in this statement.

Dad has been suppressed by mother for so many years, and now her mother has suddenly disappeared. For him, it should be a kind of relief, but also a kind of release.

In desperation, she could only compromise and said: "You want to party with classmates, I have no objection, but after the meeting, you have to help me find mother's whereabouts!"

"OK, OK." Dave agreed repeatedly, and said with a smile: "Don't worry, I will go all out at that time."

Marven came out carrying fried eggs and bacon. He saw Dave dressed up and said in surprise: "Oh, dad, you are looking handsome today."

Dave smiled happily, and said, "How about it, can you tell?"

Marven nodded and said with a smile: "That's so good."

Avella rubbed her temples and said to Marven: "You accompany dad to see his old classmates at noon. After meal, you will quickly go to a place like Mahjong Hall to find out if anyone saw Mom."

Marven immediately agreed and said, "OK wife, I will go with Dad."

At the same time, breakfast was also started in the detention center.

Viola slept in the toilet all night. She was trembling all over. She was hungry and almost fainted. She was looking forward to eating breakfast to add something, otherwise she would really be hungry and faint.

The two people who took the meal quickly brought back a plastic basket. Everyone went to take the meal. Viola didn't dare to take it directly. Instead, she walked up to Gena and asked pitifully, "Sister Zhang, can I have a bite? I haven't eaten anything for a day and night..."

Gena frowned while drinking porridge and steamed buns, and asked her, "What does it have to do with me whether you eat or not? Am I not letting you eat it?"

Viola said bitterly, "I'm afraid you will hit me again after I eat..."

Gena sneered and said, "It's good if you know it. If you want to eat, you can eat whatever you want. If you are full, you can get beaten up."

Chapter 846

Viola knew this was a threat. As long as she eats by herself, even as long as she reaches out to get the meal, she will probably suffer a meal.

So she cried and pleaded: "Sister Zhang, you beat, scolded, and punished yesterday. Please be merciful and forgive me..."

Gena raised her eyebrows and asked: "I can spare you, but who can bring my dead mother back to life? Do you know how miserable it was when she drank pesticides and finally lay in the hospital bed with breathless and suffocated breath??"

Viola burst into tears and said: "Sister Zhang...I know you are a filial daughter, but I haven't harmed your mother..."

Gena angrily said: "You still talk nonsense with me? I tell you, my mother was killed by her unfilial daughter-in-law, so I feel sick when I see someone like you! You should be glad that it is not an ancient society, otherwise I would chop you out for the sky!"

The Old Mrs. Xiao hummed triumphantly: "Gena, you are so right! This kind of woman was supposed to be immersed in a pig cage in ancient times! It is the kind of bamboo cage, put her in it, and then fall Put on a few big rocks and throw them into the river to drown her directly!"

Viola was so frightened that she didn't dare to say anything, nor did she dared to eat. She could only bow her head and stand in front of Gena, like a kid who made a mistake.

Gena drank her last mouthful of porridge, and used the last piece of steamed bread to turn around in the porridge bowl, dipped all the remaining rice fat in the porridge bowl, and ate it in one bite.

Afterwards, she said intently: "Oh, I don't seem to be full."

At this time, a female prisoner pointed to the plastic basket and said, "Sister, isn't there still one portion left in there? You can eat that portion too!"

Gena deliberately looked at Viola with a smile, and asked with a grin: "Oh Viola, I have breakfast for you, are you okay?"

"No comments, no comments!" How can Viola dare to say something? Can only nod like garlic.

Gena smiled and said, "I'm fine, I am a person who exercises a lot, so I have a lot of appetite. It took a lot of physical energy to beat you yesterday, and I really need to make up for it today."

With that, she walked to the plastic basket and took out the lunch box inside. After opening it, she held the buns in one hand and the lunch box in the other for porridge.

Because she deliberately wanted to torture Viola, she drank porridge and sucked very loudly, making Viola's gluttonous legs soft and her stomach twitching.

Gena ate up all the steamed buns and drank almost one third of the porridge. Then she shook her hand deliberately and threw the lunch box to the ground, and the porridge was immediately spilled.

Gena sighed and said annoyedly: "Why is it spilled? It's a waste..."

As she said, she waved to Viola and said, "Go to the toilet and get a mop, and mop this piece clean."

Viola has never cherished food in her entire life, and she has not even finished a bowl of rice cleanly, but now looking at the pool of rice porridge on the ground, she feels very distressed.

Seeing her eyes fixed on the rice porridge on the ground, Gena smiled and said, "Viola, if you are hungry, you can also kneel on the ground and lick the porridge."

When Viola heard this, she felt wronged and wanted to die.

Kneeling on the ground and licking porridge? How dirty this ground is! Countless people have stepped on it. The mop that mopped the floor in the toilet is already black. Now that she lick the porridge spilled on the floor, how can she stand it?

She can't lick it even if she starves to death!

Thinking of this, she hurriedly said: "I'd better drag it clean."

Gena sneered: "Whatever you do, but you will lick it sooner or later. If you don't believe it, let's just wait and see!"

Chapter 847

A little more than eight o'clock, Marven drove the car and went out with the Old Master who burned the bag.

There were still more than two hours before the plane landed, but Dave couldn't wait.

After the Tomson Villa, he hurriedly asked Marven: "Good son-in-law, do you know where the flowers are sold? I want to buy a bunch of roses to take with me."

Marven said, "Dad, she will be with her son. It's not appropriate for you to send roses in front of her son, right?"

Dave thought for a while, nodded and said, "You are right, then let me give her a bunch of ordinary flowers."

Marven said: "I know there is a flower shop, not far away, let's go buy flowers first."

When he arrived at the flower shop, Marven spent five hundred and asked the shopkeeper to help with a bouquet of flowers that symbolized friendship, and then he took it back to Dave in the car.

Holding the bouquet of flowers, Dave was very excited, and said with a smile: "This boss is good at craftsmanship. This flower looks very impressive! I believe Meiqing will like it!"

Marven smiled slightly, and said to his heart that Dave is a typical second spring glow. If this Meiqing is interesting to him, maybe the two can get together.

Thinking of this, Marven felt a little sympathetic to the Old Master.

“No way, for the sake of my wife, I must not let Viola evaporate from the world. Therefore, although the Old Master can happily meet the old lover now, but after a few days Viola is released, his hard life will be started.”

If Viola knows that Meiqing is back, she still doesn't know how to make trouble, then Dave's life will probably be more sad than before.

But naturally, Marven didn't tell his old man. After all, he is in the most exciting time now, so let him enjoy the feeling of freedom and the breath of his first girlfriend before Viola comes out!

At this time, Dave asked again: “Oh yes Marven, have you booked a place in Shangri-La?”

“It's booked.” Marven nodded and said, “Don't worry about it, I will satisfy you and Aunt today.”

“That's good, that's good!” Dave breathed a sigh of relief. He held the flower and looked at it again. He approached the only rose in the bouquet and smelled it, and sighed, “Scent! It's so refreshing!”

After finishing speaking, he couldn't help humming an old song: “Rose rose, I love you; rose rose, love is heavy...”

Marven shook his head and sighed secretly. He didn't expect that after some hours of freedom, he would be quite depressed...

After driving to the airport, the two arrived at the arrival hall. Dave kept staring at the arrival screen at the airport. After searching for a long time, he finally found Meiqing's flight.

The expected landing time of the flight is 10:20, and there is one hour left, and the other party is returning from abroad, there must be an entry process, so it is estimated that it will be 11 o'clock when she comes out.

Dave was very excited and didn't feel tired. He stood for more than an hour after standing.

Five minutes before eleven o'clock, a group of people came out from the exit. Dave was holding flowers looking forward to it. Suddenly he saw a middle-aged woman wearing a black dress, and immediately waved to her excitedly: “Meiqing!”

When the other party saw him, she was taken aback for a moment, and then she said with surprise on his face: “Oh my God, Dave!”

Marven also became interested, and hurriedly wanted to see what Dave's first love, looked like.

So he took a look, and he was shocked!

Meiqing is said to be the same year as Dave, and both are 48 years old, but Meiqing doesn't look like a 48-year-old woman at all!

She is tall and slender, and her skin is well maintained. She wears a long black one-piece dress, which looks like a goddess, and her hair is very dignified.

Chapter 848

As for the appearance, it is even more impeccable, beautiful and generous, and it has a bookish breath from the previous generation of intellectuals.

Among the stars of this age group, there is an actress. She is regarded as one of the most beautiful and charming women among the stars of this age group, but Meiqing is even more beautiful than her!

This famous star is in her early 50s and she is still charming, and Meiqing's actual age is three years younger than her, and she seems to be more than six or seven years younger than her!

This is an eldest sister who is less than 40 years old in her thirties!

Marven was stunned. He really didn't expect that Dave's first love was such an impeccable super middle-aged beauty. It can be imagined that she must be very beautiful when she was young!

God!

At the same time, Marven also sympathized with Dave more!

Because of Viola, he has lost such a majestic beauty, this is simply picking up a grain of sesame seeds and losing ten acres of watermelon land!

At this moment, Dave looked at Meiqing, who was still beautiful in front of him, and felt even more sympathetic to himself than Marven!

Why is there no trace of too much time on Meiqing's face after more than 20 years?

Why is she still so beautiful that he can't breathe after more than twenty years?

Why is it that more than 20 years have passed, her shallow smile and faint dimples are still so high, so that she can't move his legs just by looking at her?

At this time, Meiqing walked to Dave quickly. After standing still, staring at him, she smiled gently: "Dave, I really didn't expect it, we haven't seen you in more than 20 years!"

Dave was a little nervous. He was a little helpless and said, "That, yeah, Meiqing, I didn't expect it to be... for so many years!"

When Marven saw that the Old Master was still holding the flowers when he was talking to Meiqing, he forgot to give them to her, and hurriedly reminded him behind him: "Dad, don't hold the flowers all the time, give them to her!"

Dave came back to his senses, and hurriedly handed the flower to Meiqing, and said nervously, "Meiqing, this...this flower is for you. Welcome back to Wrestrvel!"

Meiqing took the flowers with joy, took a deep look at Dave, and said, "Dave, thank you!"

There was no flower in Dave's hand. He didn't know where to put his hands at once, so he rubbed awkwardly and smiled stiffly: "Meiqing, we haven't seen each other for so many years, why are you polite to me... .."

At this time, a tall and handsome young man with blond hair came over with his luggage from behind.

This blond young man has Wang skin, no different from Wang people in Europe and America, but his eye pupils are black, and his facial features are somewhat Asian in style, and he looks a bit like Meiqing. He looks like a mixed race.

He walked up to Meiqing and yelled with a smile, "Mom, is this your college classmate?"

Meiqing hurriedly pulled him and introduced Dave, "Dave, let me introduce to you. This is my son, Paul."

Dave took the initiative to stretch out his hand and smiled: "Oh, Paul, hello!"

Then Dave quickly introduced Marven, saying: "Meiqing, Paul, I will introduce you to this man, this is my son-in-law, Marven!"

Paul took the initiative to stretch out his hand to Marven, smiled and said, "Hello, Mr. Marven!"

Chapter 849

Dave hurriedly said: "By the way, Meiqing, I have booked a box at Shangri-La Hotel. Let's go to have a meal first, and pick up the dust for you and your son!"

Meiqing smiled and said, "Thank you so much, Mrs. Dave and son-in-law, who came to pick us up from afar and invited us to dinner..."

"It should be!" Dave smiled awkwardly, and couldn't wait to say: "It just so happened that we were driving there, let's go directly!"

"Okay." Meiqing nodded, and then said to Paul: "Son, tell your driver, we won't take the company car, let's take your Uncle Xiao's car."

Paul smiled and said, "Okay mom, I'll call the driver and ask him to send the luggage to the hotel room first."

"It is good!"

Paul politely said to Dave and Marven: "Uncle Xiao, Marven, wait for me first, I'll make a call, sorry!"

Dave hurriedly said: "Oh, Paul, look at you child, you are too polite, you don't need to be so polite with your uncle."

Paul smiled and said, "I should be."

After speaking, he took out his mobile phone and walked aside to make a call.

Dave then asked Meiqing curiously: "Meiqing, you and your son returned to China, and did you arrange a driver in China?"

Meiqing nodded and said: "After Paul's father passed away, I always want to return to the country to settle, but his father left a company. Paul said that he can't throw away his father's life's hard work, so he began to gradually start business transfer to China six months ago."

Dave asked in surprise: "Did you transfer all the industries to China first?"

"Yes." Meiqing said: "But I don't participate much in these things, it is Paul taking care of it."

Dave nodded lightly, feeling a little inferior in his heart.

Meiqing and her son returned to settle in China, and even transferred the business. An enterprise worth such a lot of trouble is probably not small in scale. From this point of view, Meiqing's current economic strength is very strong.

"In contrast, I am a little embarrassed. After all, the Xiao family is now down, and I have no source of income. It can even be described as penniless. The only one who can do it is Tomson First Grade. The villa is now, but this villa is still owned by Marven."

Thinking of this, Dave felt a little bored.

Given his current situation, would Meiqing look down on him?

It's been half a lifetime, and most middle-aged people have at least a certain career, industry and family business, but he still have nothing to do now, which is too shameful!

Marven also saw that Dave's expression was a little upset, knowing that he must think that Meiqing is too good, and he is not worthy of others, but he did not break it either.

At this time, Paul finished the call and said with a smile: "Mom, Uncle Xiao, and Brother Marven, I have already told the driver, let's go."

"Okay." Marven said with a smile: "Then let's go."

The four people went out of the airport together. A brand new Rolls-Royce Phantom stopped in front of them. A foreigner got out of the car and respectfully said to Paul: "Hello, general manager!"

Paul nodded slightly.

The foreigner driver said to Meiqing, "Hello, Chairman."

Meiqing nodded and smiled, and said, "Mike, you help me deliver my luggage to Shangri-La, and directly ask the front desk to send the luggage to my and Paul's rooms."

Chapter 850

The foreigner driver nodded hurriedly and said, "Okay chairman, I will go now!"

Then, he opened the trunk of the Rolls-Royce Phantom, took all the suitcases in Paul's hand, and stuffed them into the trunk.

After doing this, he asked Meiqing again: "Chairman, don't you and the general manager want to go in this car?"

Meiqing nodded and said, "I'll take my old classmate's car, you can go."

Dave looked at the brand new and luxurious Rolls Royce, feeling particularly uneasy.

He can see the value of this car.

The bare car costs eight or nine million, and this car is equipped with a pure gold little golden man logo, and it costs more than two hundred thousand!

Therefore, Dave felt even more inferior.

He couldn't help but said to Meiqing, "Oh, Meiqing, you should take this Les Royce over there. My car is not up to grade. I'm afraid that you won't get used to it and you will be wronged again."

Meiqing said seriously: "Dave, we have known each other for so many years, do you think I am the kind of person who loves vanity?"

Dave was suddenly embarrassed.

He hesitated and said: "My car is just an ordinary BMW 5 series. I'm afraid I will wrong you..."

Meiqing was a little angry, and said, "Dave, why do you care about these things so much now? Rolls-Royce and BMW 5 series are all the same, even if it is still the kind of 28-year-old bicycle popular among your male students. Are they all a means of transportation? Don't talk about the BMW 5 Series, even if you are riding a big 28 to pick me up today, I am willing to ride."

As she said, Meiqing said with a smile, "But I guess it's a bit hard for you to ride a bicycle at your age now?"

When Meiqing said this, Dave felt a lot more comfortable.

He was really afraid that Meiqing was used to being a Rolls-Royce and would feel a little uncomfortable when sitting in his BMW fifth series. If it made her feel uncomfortable, he would have trouble.

However, Paul suddenly said to Meiqing in a low voice at this time: "Mom, maybe you should take this car. The comfort of the BMW 5 Series is very poor, I am afraid you can't adapt."

Meiqing waved her hand, and also whispered: "When you see my old classmates in the future, don't drive this public car. Ask if your company has the most common commercial car, like the Buick gl8 two or three. A hundred thousand cars, I don't want to come back after more than 20 years, to make everyone feel too distant."

Paul reluctantly said: "The company really doesn't have such a cheap car. The most common commercial vehicles are Toyota Elfa with more than one million..."

Meiqing said: "Then just buy a car worth two or three hundred thousand."

Paul had no choice but to nod his head and said, "Well, since you have ordered, then I will arrange it."

After speaking, he stepped to the driver and told him: "Go back and buy a Buick gl8."

The driver was taken aback for a moment and said, "General Manager, our company doesn't have such a low-end car."

Paul said, "It's okay, just go buy one and come back."

"Okay, Sir."

Because Marven's physical fitness far exceeds that of ordinary people, he couldn't help but admire Meiqing very much when he heard the whispers among them.

This aunt is not only beautiful and extraordinary, but more importantly, her emotional intelligence is too high.

He can even have a foreboding that Dave, the Old Master, should soon be completely fallen...
