

The Amazing Son In-Law Chapter 871-880

Chapter 871

Marven pretended to look for it all afternoon, and received a call, saying that Aunt was going home soon, so he drove home.

Avella also received a call from her father. Although she was reluctant, she drove home.

Elsa heard that there was a visitor at home, and said tonight that she did not want to go home for dinner.

Avella wanted her to accompany her, so she wouldn't be so embarrassed, but Elsa felt embarrassed herself, so she used the excuse to work overtime and eat out by herself.

Avella couldn't force it, so she said to Dave, "Dad, after your classmates come later, try not to talk about me. I am not in a good mood today, and I don't want to talk too much."

Dave also knows that if his daughter is willing to go home at this time and eat this meal with him and his old classmates, even if it is a lot of face, he can't force her.

So he said to Marven: "Good son-in-law, you have to talk more at the dinner table later, and be more active."

"Okay." Marven nodded awkwardly.

At this time, the door bell in the villa rang, Dave couldn't wait to walk to the videophone, and immediately said to Marven and Avella excitedly: "They are here, I'll open the door."

After speaking, he opened the door and went through the yard to open the door.

Avella looked at Dave's positive look, couldn't help sighing, and asked Marven: "You said my dad and that Aunt, is there something else?"

Marven smiled and said, "They haven't seen each other for more than 20 years, what can I say? You must be thinking too much."

Avella said earnestly: "But when I see my dad like this, he seem to be a little too excited."

Marven comforted: "You don't know about this. After all, they have had a history."

Avella hurriedly said: "But my dad has already married my mother, and he and my mother are not divorced! He is responsible for and must be loyal to the marriage!"

Marven smiled and said: "It seems like Dad really had an extramarital affair. He just saw his first love today. How could it be so serious as you said."

Avella sighed and said, "I'm just worried, not that they already have something now."

At this time, Meiqing was outside the villa, marveling at this top-notch villa in Wrestvel.

She has been away from China for a long time, so she doesn't understand many domestic real estate and other things, nor does she understand.

When Dave told her the address, he only talked about Tomson Villa A05, and Meiqing didn't think too much.

But after she came to Tomson, she discovered that the villa in this place turned out to be so luxurious and atmospheric.

Seeing that Dave lives in such a luxurious villa area now, it made her faintly surprised.

Because she used to ask her classmates to inquire about Dave's recent developments over the years, but the feedback she got was that he was not very happy, which made her a little confused.

While waiting for Dave to open the door outside the gate of A05, Paul was bored, so he checked the approximate selling price with his mobile phone, and said to his mother: "The house here needs about 80 million to more than one billion. I read it online. It is said that Type A villas are the largest in size, and they probably sell for one to several tens of millions."

Chapter 872

Meiqing nodded and said, "More than one billion is not expensive, but I don't quite understand. In your Uncle Xiao's situation, how can he afford the villa here?"

Paul smiled slightly and said, "This requires you to ask him personally."

Meiqing also smiled and said, "Maybe it's called hiding."

Paul thought for a while, and said, "Well, let me be honest, I feel that Uncle Xiao should be a good person, but not like a hidden person."

Meiqing asked curiously: "What do you mean by that?"

Paul said, "It's nothing, it just feels a little strange."

Meiqing smiled and said: "Well, let's not discuss this. I should be happy for the old classmate who can live in such an expensive villa. As for the others, we don't have to ask about it."

Paul nodded and said seriously: "Mom, you are right."

At this time, Dave had also opened the door of the villa. When he saw Meiqing and Paul, he immediately said excitedly: "Oh, Meiqing and Paul, you are here, please come in, please come in quickly."

Meiqing smiled and said: "Oh, Dave, your house is really beautiful. When I entered this community just now, it felt very high-end and atmosphere. This should be the best villa area in Wrestvel?"

Dave said modestly: "I don't know if it's the best. Actually, I just moved in just two days ago."

Meiqing and Paul walked into the villa with Dave.

Seeing the exquisite decoration in the yard, Meiqing couldn't help sighing: "It seems that the decoration of your villa is also a lot of thoughtful. It should be designed for you by a high-end designer?"

Dave said: "In fact, this villa was not decorated by us. In fact, this villa was also given to my son-in-law by his friend."

Paul's expression was very surprised, and he blurted out: "Uncle Xiao, this villa is worth more than one billion, right? Mr. Marven's friend was willing to give him such an expensive villa?"

Dave nodded and said, "Not only the villa was given away, but even the decoration was paid for by his friends. We just bought some furniture by ourselves and didn't spend much money."

Paul couldn't help asking: "Is this villa also earned by Mr. Marven showing Feng Shui for others?"

Dave happily said, "You really guessed right. This villa is his reward for showing others Feng Shui. Let me tell you, don't look at my son-in-law. It seems that there is nothing serious about doing things, and there is nothing to do. , But his ability to look at Feng Shui is truly unique in the upper class of Wrester!"

Paul felt a little strange in his heart. Normally speaking, no matter how expensive Feng Shui masters are, there will be more than one or two hundred million price tags once, right?

Marven showed others Feng Shui, and others gave him such a good villa, coupled with exquisite decoration, this should not only be for the villa, there must be other reasons.

It seems that Marven is definitely not an ordinary person!

Thinking of this, Paul couldn't help but exclaimed: "Actually, I also believe in Feng Shui. But I have never met a very good and very capable Feng Shui master. Since Mr. Marven is so capable, then my new company must Ask him to help me take a look at Feng Shui."

Dave smiled and said: "Then you can go back and talk to him, Marven is very interesting, I believe he will not refuse you!"

Chapter 873

At this time, Dave had taken Meiqing and her son Paul and walked in through the yard.

When they met, Avella was shocked by Meiqing. She heard Marven say that Meiqing's temperament and appearance were very good, but she didn't expect it to be so good.

Being a woman, Avella even envied Meiqing a little.

After all, it is really amazing that a woman can maintain such a good level at the age of about 50.

Meiqing was also a little surprised when she saw Avella. She really didn't expect that the daughters of Dave and Viola was so beautiful and outstanding.

The Paul next to him, at the moment he saw Avella, couldn't help being a little stunned. He was also shocked by Avella's beauty and temperament.

Dave introduced at this time: "Meiqing, let me introduce to you, this is my daughter Avella."

After that, he looked at Avella again, and said with a smile: "Avella, this is your father's old classmate, Meiqing, you may want her to be called Aunt."

Avella was shocked by Meiqing's beauty and temperament, and at the same time was even more worried about the relationship between her father and her.

Because compared with Meiqing, her mother really seems to be a thousand miles away. In addition, the relationship between the two of them is not stable. Now that there is such a strong competitor, it will become More fragile.

However, out of politeness, she shook hands with Meiqing very warmly, and said with some respect: "Hello, Aunt."

Meiqing smiled, and sighed sincerely: "Avella, you really look so beautiful!"

Avella said modestly: "Aunt, you really appreciate it. Compared to you, I am far behind."

"No, no," Meiqing said seriously: "When I was your age, I was not as beautiful as you."

After that, she looked at Marven and said with a smile: "Marven is really blessed to marry such a good wife."

Marven smiled and nodded and said, "Aunt, you are right. This is my blessing."

Meiqing smiled and introduced her son again, and said: "Avella, this is my son Paul. He should be one year younger than you. It stands to reason that he should call you sister."

Paul on the side hurriedly stretched out his hand to Avella and said seriously: "Hello Miss Xiao, I am Paul, my full name is Paul Smith, and I am glad to meet you."

Avella was hesitating whether to shake hands with Paul, and Meiqing hurriedly said: "Son, Avella is a married person. It is necessary to avoid suspicion when contacting the opposite s3x."

Only then did Paul come back to his senses, hurriedly withdrew his hand, and smiled awkwardly: "I'm really embarrassed, it's because I was rash."

Avella nodded slightly and smiled as a response. Marven couldn't help being surprised, Meiqing's tutoring was really extraordinary.

Dave couldn't wait to say at this time: "Meiqing, I have already bought all the ingredients and seasonings related to those dishes, and are in the kitchen now. We'll go in and beat it, what do you think?"

Meiqing naturally nodded and smiled: "No problem, let's cook a meal for the children today."

After all, she said to Paul: "Son, you have a good chat with Mr. Ye and his wife. In the future, you have to develop as much as possible for a long time. Everyone knows and understands more. It is good for everyone's future development. Young people should Communicate more and make more friends to expand network."

Paul nodded hurriedly and said, "Mom, don't worry, I know."

Dave took Meiqing to the kitchen and turned around to explain to Marven, saying, "My son-in-law, there is my good tea on the coffee table. You can make a cup and give Paul a taste."

Chapter 874

Marven nodded: "Okay Dad, I see."

Dave hurriedly said, "Also, don't forget the thing I reminded you!"

Marven knew what he was talking about. He wanted to pay more attention. If the mother-in-law came back, she would not be allowed to enter the door and break Meiqing's affairs in her own house.

So he smiled and said: "Dad, don't worry, I will give you a military order for this matter, and there will be no mistakes."

Dave gave him a thumbs up and exclaimed, "Really my good son-in-law, I will not treat you badly in the future!"

After speaking, Dave took Meiqing and plunged into the kitchen.

Avella asked Marven curiously: "What did Dad tell you? The two of you are mysterious and seem to be engaged in a shameful conspiracy."

Marven Marven said, he definitely can't tell her that dad let him be here to guard? If Mom comes back, he will carry her away. If he can't carry, he will knock her out and carry her away.

So he smiled and said, "It's okay. Dad just asked me to entertain Paul. Don't let him think that our family has no hospitality."

"Really?" Avella was full of disbelief.

Marven said seriously: "Of course it's true. Didn't you hear that he asked me to make tea for Paul just now?"

As he said, he hurriedly greeted Paul and said, "Come here to Paul, and I will give you a taste of the high-end tea my father-in-law bought from the WeChat tea seller."

Marven feels that Paul is an American, even if he is half of Chinese ancestry, he probably doesn't know much about tea when he lives in the United States.

Therefore, the ordinary tea that his father-in-law bought by the deceit, should still be able to fool him.

Unexpectedly, Paul immediately smiled and said, "Oh, what I like most is drinking tea. Since Uncle Xiao has good tea here, I must try it."

Marven was taken aback for a while, and said with a smile: "Since you understand tea, then I think you might be disappointed."

With that, he took Paul to sit down on the sofa, ready to make tea.

Avella didn't really want to chat with her father's first lover's son, so she said to the two of them: "You two men talk, I don't like tea too much, and I have a headache. I'll go back to the house and rest for a while, sorry. I'm lost."

Paul hurriedly stood up and said politely: "Okay Miss Xiao, take a rest first."

Avella went upstairs, and Marven said to Paul: "Sit down, don't stand and talk."

After Paul sat down, he looked at the Hainan yellow rosewood sofa sitting under him, and said in surprise: "The material of this sofa is really good! At first glance, it is made of sea yellow material, and it is old. As soon as the pulp comes out, the texture of this wood is particularly beautiful, a good thing!"

Marven was a bit stunned. He really didn't expect that although Paul was a mixed race, his mother was completely a Chinese.

He speaks good Chinese, knows tea, knows wood, and even knows patina. The other half of this guy's American ancestry is not fake, right?

And why is his hobby so similar to his old man?

Had it not been for his blond hair and a standard white skin color, he would even doubt if he had been left behind by the Old Master.

Chapter 875

So Marven looked at Paul and asked curiously: "Paul, did you often come to China before?"

Paul shook his head and said with a smile: "I just come here on business occasionally, but every time it doesn't take more than a week."

Marven asked with a puzzled look: "Then how do you know so much about tea, Chinese furniture and wood?"

Paul smiled and said: "It's mainly because my mother likes these. I only came into contact with these when I was a child."

As he said, Paul said again: "Don't look at me as if I look like a mixed race, and I seem to be more of a white race, but in fact I am a downright yellow person in my bones. I have been very influenced by my mother since I was a child. I like Chinese culture and Chinese food, Chinese habits and everything in China."

"That's it."

Marven nodded, boiled water in the sea of tea, and started to prepare tea, while letting people be fooled into buying tea on WeChat.

After brewing the tea, Marven poured a cup for Paul and himself, and smiled and said to Paul: "Come, taste my Old Master's tea."

Paul nodded and thanked him, then took his teacup to his lips and took a sip.

Immediately afterwards, his expression became a little weird.

After tasting it for a long time, he said embarrassedly: "Uncle Xiao's taste in drinking tea is very strange. To be honest, I can't taste the goodness of this tea. Why does Uncle Xiao treat it as a good treasure? Where's the tea?"

Marven thought to himself that this Paul was really acquainted, much better than his own husband.

He is a silly Old Master who has been drinking this kind of tea. Not only did he fail to drink it, but the more he drank, the better it tasted.

If he hadn't stopped him, he would definitely find the WeChat girl who sells tea to buy some more.

So he smiled and said to Paul: "father-in-law bought this tea from a liar on WeChat. It cost a lot of money, but it's really not a good thing."

Paul also understood what was going on. He nodded slightly and said to Marven: "I have the superb one that I entrusted to others and bought from the south. I have a chance to give some to Mr. Marven next day. Let uncle Xiao taste it. The tea is really good. It was a tea that was picked and fried by the top master."

Marven politely thanked him and said, "father-in-law doesn't know much about tea, but he just likes it very much, so if you give him good tea, it will be a violent thing. Just keep drinking this tea and entertain yourself."

In fact, Marven's psychological activity is that son-in-law hasn't given him any good tea. Does it seem inappropriate for him, an outsider?

Paul didn't realize Marven's mentality. He thought of what Dave told him before entering the villa, and looked at Marven curiously: "Mr. Marven, I heard Uncle Xiao say that this villa is for others to see. Is it true that I earned it from Feng Shui?"

Marven smiled slightly and said, "That's right. Actually, it's not just looking at Feng Shui, but by looking at Feng Shui, it solves some of the more important problems for others."

Paul said very sincerely: "Mr. Marven will tell you that, I am a person who has studied the Book of Changes and gossip and other things, but I have never had a very good Master to get started, and my spare time is also relatively limited. , So my research is relatively superficial."

After speaking, Paul said again: "By the way, Mr. Marven, my new company will be officially opened in Wrestvel soon. Could you please help me take a look at Feng Shui?"

Marven saw that this Paul was very friendly to himself, and his EQ and quality were relatively high. In line with the principle of reaching out and not hitting the smiley person, he smiled and said, "When will your company open? I can take time to have a look."

Paul was very excited and said, "Thank you so much. My company will open the day after tomorrow. If you have time, can it be tomorrow?"

"It is Okay."

Chapter 876

In the kitchen at this moment, Meiqing has put on her apron, and with the help of Dave, she began to process the ingredients and prepare to cook.

Dave hit the side, playing very diligently.

He dreams of having such a day, he and his beloved Meiqing can have a sumptuous dinner in the kitchen together.

But he didn't expect that this dream would finally come true after twenty years.

Meiqing was full of emotion. She has lived in the United States with her husband for more than 20 years, and the two often cook together, but she has never made herself feel the way she is now.

She feel that the man next to her, as long as he stands by her side, he can bring her an infinite sense of intimacy.

Cooking for him by her, busy in the kitchen with him, full of joy and satisfaction.

When two people are cooking together, there is always some friction and contact on the body. Sometimes they rub their hands, sometimes they touch other parts. Soon, the two of them are red. face.

After all, both of them have had a lot of past events, and they are each other's first love, and even when they first tasted the forbidden fruit, they both gave each other the first time.

So after so many years, after seeing each other again, the hearts of these two people are always affected by the memories of the past.

It is as if there is a strong magnetic field inside the two people, and it is the kind of magnetic field that the opposite sex attracts.

When Dave laid hands on Meiqing, they had been close to each other countless times, and had an impulse in heart several times, wanting to hug the other person directly in arms.

But this impulse was quickly suppressed by the timidity in his heart.

Meiqing herself is very capable in housework, but today because she has her first love around her, she also feels that no matter what she does, she seems a little absent-minded.

Even always distracted by the man around her.

A few times when she cut things, she almost cut her own hands because of distraction.

Dave was also a little absent-minded by the side. His energy was not on washing vegetables, picking vegetables, and helping Meiqing at all, but on Meiqing herself.

At this moment, Dave even regretted moving to Tomson's big villa.

Because, if it were in the previous home, in such a small kitchen, two people were busy working in it, even if they borrowed it, they would have to touch or even stick to each other.

But the kitchen of Tomson's villa is really too big.

Even if there are five people working in it at the same time, they can be in order without disturbing each other.

Therefore, every time Dave wants to get closer to Meiqing, he needs to find some special reasons or excuses.

Dave struggled for a long time and didn't dare to hug Meiqing. Every time he mustered up the courage, he soon persuaded himself against it.

Finally, when Meiqing put the shrimp into the pot, Dave suddenly showed courage and hugged her from behind Meiqing, and murmured nervously and excitedly in her mouth: "Meiqing, Over the past twenty years, I really missed you!"

Chapter 877

Suddenly, Meiqing was hugged tightly by Dave, and her whole body stiffened in a moment.

From the bottom of her heart, why didn't she hope that Dave could hug herself tightly after twenty years?

After all, this is the only person she has loved in her life.

At this moment, the first lover from more than 20 years ago hugged her so tightly, his hands clasped tightly on her belly, and the feeling seemed to have brought her back to the twenty-year-old. Youth years.

The true feelings in Meiqing's heart were surging, and she suddenly couldn't help it, and put her hand on the other's hand.

But at the moment she put her hand on Dave's hand, she suddenly realized that it was wrong for her to do so.

So she broke away from Dave's embrace, arranging her hair in a panic, and said unnaturally: "Dave, we two can't do this, you are married after all, and I can't wrong Viola!"

Dave was immediately anxious, and blurted out: "At the beginning, she was sorry for you. When we were together, we were in such a good relationship. She knew that I was your boyfriend, and she took advantage of it when I was drunk. And in, if she were not so shameless, the two of us would have already been together!"

Meiqing sighed lightly and said: "Even though the past was her fault, I was the one who chose to let go. Since I have chosen to let go and give you to her, I will not be like her back then. I'm sorry for that, and I'm sorry for her again. This is a matter of principle. Otherwise, would I be like her?"

Dave was anxious and said, "That woman has almost ruined the relationship between the two of us for a lifetime. Do you still need to talk about her about principles at this time?"

Meiqing said seriously: "In fact, after that incident happened back then, I also knew in my heart that all of this was caused by Viola behind my back. I knew she is a villain, but I can't become a villain because of being hurt by a villain."

As she said, she looked at Dave again, and said very seriously: "You are her husband after all. I can meet you and eat with you like a normal friend or an old classmate, but we can't have such things, it's not possible at all..."

Dave's tears were streaming down. He looked at Meiqing and choked and said, "Is it impossible for the two of us in this life? After so many years, we can finally meet again, don't you want to make up for us? Was it a regret back then?"

Meiqing's expression was also a bit painful, and she sighed: "Of course I want to, otherwise I won't make a special trip back from the United States, but I think that gentlemen must do everything they want when it comes to money and feelings. If we The two have a chance to be together again, and that must be after you and Viola divorced."

Dave blurted out without hesitation: "Then I will divorce her immediately!"

Meiqing said very seriously: "Dave, don't get me wrong. I'm not saying that after you divorce Viola, the two of us can be together."

Dave asked nervously, "Meiqing, what do you mean by this? I don't understand, don't you want to be with me?"

Meiqing said sincerely: "Dave, after all we haven't seen each other for so many years, how could we suddenly decide to be together? This is too trifling."

As she said, she said with a serious face: "We were in school when we were dating. At that time, we were all students. We had to study and socialize with our classmates every day. We never lived together. Life is different from falling in love. Especially at our age, we must not only consider our own life, not only our own feelings, but also our children and their views on each other."

Chapter 878

"So this kind of thing is not something we can decide with our lips when we are like teenagers. We must think carefully before we can make a more mature decision."

Dave said immediately: "I can't accept what you said. I know you still have feelings for me in your heart, and I have feelings for you in my heart. Since both people have feelings, what can't you break through?"

With that said, Dave forced himself to ask: "Meiqing, I want you to tell the truth, do you really feel about me now?"

Meiqing said with some embarrassment: "How do you ask me to answer your question? After all, we were together back then, and the relationship was so good, and we were all our first loves, and we had regrets for more than 20 years. It's self-deception."

As she said, Meiqing said again: "But as I said just now, this matter is not just about how you feel."

Dave's tears flowed more and more, aggrieved like a child.

For so many years, he has suffered too much emotionally. So he felt great comfort at the moment when Meiqing came back.

When he saw Meiqing, he really realized that his previous life had always been in dire straits.

Therefore, he didn't want to live that kind of life for a minute.

Seeing Dave crying like a child, Meiqing's eyes were red.

She walked up to Dave, used her sleeves to gently wipe away his tears, and said distressedly: "Dave, you have worked so hard for so many years. If you can go back in time, return to the one before our graduation. At that time, even if you and Viola already have facts, I will not give up on you..."

As she said, she sighed sadly again: "It's a pity, time is gone, no one can let the years turn back. In a blink of an eye, we are all middle-aged and elderly people over half a hundred years old."

Dave grasped her hand tightly and said excitedly: "Meiqing! Because we can't let the years turn back, we should not let down our future! Let us not let down in a second!"

At this point, Dave was very excited, knelt on one knee, and blurted out: “Meiqing, I want to be with you!”

Seeing him kneeling, Meiqing suddenly panicked, and hurriedly pulled him up and blurted out: “Oh, Dave, what are you doing? Get up!”

Dave said stubbornly: “If you don’t agree to me, then I won’t be able to get up here!”

Meiqing glanced at the door of the kitchen and said anxiously: “Oh, get up quickly, if you let the children come in, how can you explain this?”

Dave said seriously: “If Paul comes in and sees it, then I will tell him that I love his mother. I want to be with his mother and hope to be blessed by him; if it is Avella seeing it, Then I will tell her that I love you, and I want to divorce her mother and be with you!”

Chapter 879

When talking about this, Dave suddenly became emotional.

He observed at Meiqing’s eyes and said emotionally: “Meqing, I’m really not joking with you. Every word I say comes from the bottom of my heart. In the past twenty years since you left, I have never been happy, we are all this old, why can’t we put aside those scruples and pursue a real love vigorously?”

Meiqing sighed faintly: “Dave, I have thought about everything you said, and to be honest, I also have illusions in my heart. It’s just that the current situation is really not like before. The third party I hate most in my life. So I don’t want to become a third party, so we shouldn’t be so anxious about this matter. Give me some time, and I will give you some time.”

Dave hurriedly asked: “Are you willing to stay with me after I divorced Viola?”

Meiqing’s big beautiful eyes with a few fine wrinkles observed at Dave unblinkingly, and said seriously: “Dave, I admit that one of my big motives for returning to China is to hope to see you again. I hope I can continue with you again.”

Having said that, she changed the conversation and said: “However, we are not 18 or even 20-year-old youngsters. We have to think carefully about things now. I have no way to answer the question of whether we are willing to be with you. After you are truly single, the two of us have tried to get along for a while, and I will answer your question solemnly.”

Dave blurted out without hesitation: “I am willing, I am willing, ten thousand times willing, one million times willing.”

Meiqing said seriously: “Dave, I also hope that you will seriously and solemnly consider Viola, your marriage. Consider whether there is still love between you two. If you still have love, then I will wish you all the same as before; if you do not have love, then you must tell her clearly as early as possible. I still know your character very well. If you are constantly interrupted, you will always be disturbed.”

Meiqing is already a complete winner in life, but the only thing she has not won in her life is true love.

Therefore, she is obsessed with Dave.

Everyone should have an obsessive object in their heart. If this obsessive object is with him, then his life is happy and his life is fulfilled; but if the obsessive object is not with him Together, he will regret for life.

Therefore, Meiqing's return to China this time can be said to be nothing else, just to rediscover the unforgettable love during this period of sunset in life.

Dave couldn't wait to say: "Meiqing, as long as you don't dislike me and are willing to stay with me, I will definitely divorce Viola!"

Meiqing sighed softly and said, "Whether you and her were intentional or unintentional, or if you were used by others, in the final analysis, you have betrayed our feelings. If you are really willing to make up for it, then of course I am also willing. Give you a chance."

Recalling that year, Dave suddenly stood up and once again hugged Meiqing face-to-face.

While hugging her tightly, he said: "Meiqing, I regretted what happened back then for more than 20 years. This time I will never let myself regret it again. You must wait for me!"

Meiqing nodded and said softly: "Okay! I'm waiting for you! But you can't hold me like this anymore. What we do now is wrong!"

Dave said stubbornly: "Whether it is right or wrong, I just want to hold you now!"

Meiqing was struggling in her heart. Want to talk about her feeling of being held in his arms, but she has lived a decent life in her life and cannot accept that she is so close to a married man.

So she said in a panic: "Oh, you let me go first, it's not good for us, and I still have to cook..."

Dave said: "I have you in my heart, and you also have me in in your heart. What's so bad about this!"

After speaking, Dave actually plucked up the courage, lowered his head and wanted to kiss Meiqing.

Meiqing hurriedly avoided him, and said very solemnly: "Have you talked to yourself for a long time?"

Chapter 880

As she was talking, a burning smell spread in the kitchen.

Meiqing exclaimed: "Oh, my Longjing Shrimp!"

Having said that, she hurriedly pushed Dave away, blushing and ran to the side of the stove, and when she looked into the pot, she let out a mournful cry: "It's over, it's over, the shrimps are all cooked!"

Dave quickly reminded her from the side: "Quickly turn off the fire, or it will burn out soon."

Meiqing hurriedly turned off the gas on the stove. The shrimp that had been burnt in the pot said helplessly, "I blame you, originally this was my best dish, but it's all over now... ."

Dave was also embarrassed and guilty, and said, "Should I go out and buy you a bag of shrimps again?"

At this time, both Marven and Paul, who were drinking tea outside, could smell the mushy smell spreading out of the kitchen, and Marven subconsciously said, "Is it not a mess?"

Paul frowned and said, "My mother cooks very professionally. It shouldn't happen to her..."

Marven stood up and said, "Paul, sit down for a while. I'll go in and take a look. Don't be surprised."

Paul hurriedly said, "I will come too."

After saying that he was about to get up, Marven stretched out his hand, pressed him back, and said with a smile: "Sit and drink tea. I'll just go and see it."

What Marven was thinking at this time was, if his mother and father-in-law were doing the firewood in the kitchen at this time, and the two of them were disheveled and forgot what was in the pot, how embarrassing would he be to rush in like this?

He's different. His mother and Dave are not related by blood. He just went in to watch the show.

Paul didn't know that Marven's heart at this time was all thoughts of watching the show. Seeing that Marven had already stepped to the kitchen, he didn't insist on it anymore.

Marven came to the kitchen, opened the kitchen door, and probed in.

Seeing that the two people in the kitchen were hurriedly tidying up and had burnt the pot, their clothes looked neat, and there was nothing wrong with them, Marven couldn't help feeling a little disappointed.

He wanted to come over and eat a melon, but he didn't even have a watermelon rind.

However, looking at the faces of the old man and his first love, both seem to be a little red, and it feels as if the two should have had some closer contact just now.

So Marven deliberately pretended to be surprised and asked: "Dad, Aunt, I don't know what burned, are you two all right?"

Dave hurriedly said in a panic: "Well, nothing is wrong, nothing is wrong, just accident, the pot burned, I am dealing with it, don't worry."

Marven said, two people can still see the confusion after watching a pot, you two must have done nothing good just now.

Dave said with a guilty conscience at this time: "Marven, you should go out and have tea with Paul. It is enough to have me and Aunt here..."
