Chapter 1804 Safflower Past

"No!" Wiliam roared in pain as he watched the last long-lived demon lotus crumble!

Tears burst again!

At this time, a scene that made everyone unbelievable appeared!

As the last long live demon lotus shattered, the sky suddenly lit up.

The raindrops no longer fall, and the sun shines all over the world!

On top of Wiliam and the others, a hazy vision suddenly condensed!

A child without clothes, standing in front of everyone so pretty.

This child, with an innocent smile on his face, was still waving his hands vigorously.

And the direction of the wave is exactly the ground where Wiliam is.

Waving hard, smiling hard.

It seems that all the good things should be left to Wiliam.

This is the first time Wiliam and Ji Ling have met.

But also the last time.

Smile hard, smile hard.

Then, the child's tears suddenly fell.

Tears fell more and more, and the child's smile became brighter and innocent.

The child suddenly bowed deeply to Wiliam again.

Just bowing and looking like nothing...

The child who stooped down, refused to get up again.

As if he didn't want Wiliam to see his tears.

The child's feet began to shatter.

Broken into pieces of blue crystal fragments.

Under the sun, the crystal fragments were still glowing, twinkling.

As if a child was saying, look, we are so beautiful even when we are broken.

I really have no regrets.

Wiliam was trembling all over, but he didn't blink.

The child's body began to shatter, and he finally raised his head.

It seems to slow down this broken time, so that I can take another look at this worldly flower and another look at Wiliamwen.

Broken but ruthless, it continued to spread until finally, the child's waving hand was gone, and the corners of his raised mouth were gone.

There are only a pair of eyes left, still trying to convey a sense of satisfaction and happiness.

Blink hard, then open your eyes hard...

Tears fell like rain, but still could not stop the clarity and innocence in his eyes.

Finally, the eyes were broken, and even the tears turned blue.

This scene infected everyone present.

Especially the red and thin high-rise buildings, all of them are women.

The brilliance of motherhood made them completely unbearable to see the broken picture of the child laughing and crying.

They were a group of people, crying hysterically.

Even Han Xing Wangqing, a group of thousand-year-old ice cubes, gradually began to melt.

There was sadness and sadness on his face.

"Goodbye....."

A childish voice floated in the sky, and the voice was full of reluctance.

gradually go away...

"No!" Wiliam's shrill cry resounded throughout the world!

The first meeting has also become the last goodbye!

Knowing the acquaintance of Wanzai Yaolian, the past scenes continued to flow through Wiliam's mind.

The first time I saw it, it should be the long live red flower...

When Wiliam started to remember, his grandfather didn't know where he got some materials.

Then lock yourself in the training room for a whole year!

If you don't come out for a year, you will be crowned king!

The first time Wiliam saw Wanzai Honghua, he fell in love with Wanzai Honghua.

A vermilion, how beautiful.

Every time Wiliam played with Long Live Red Flower, Grandpa always watched happily.

Grandpa would touch Wiliam's head and ask kindly, "Do you like it? If you like it, Grandpa will give it to you later."

Wiliam has been looking forward to this day.

But really waiting for this day, Wiliam was very sad.

Wang Canghai brought long live safflower, but also brought the news that his grandfather was tortured to death.

From that day on, Wiliam and Long Live Red Flower officially depended on each other for life.

Long live Honghua carries not only Wiliam's monstrous blood and hatred for revenge, but also Wiliam's longing for his grandfather.

In Wiliam's heart, Long Live Honghua is the incarnation of Grandpa.

From then on, one person, one flower, roaming the rivers and lakes.

It was the first time that Wiliam saved Bai Fengxue's life with Long Live Red Flower.

For the first time, using the long live safflower to punish evil, Wiliam defeated Lin Qingfeng's body.

Between Long Live Red Flower, there are many, many firsts worth remembering.

Until the battle of Lingyue Villa, Wiliam's Long Live Red Flower lost for the first time, and was completely penetrated into his body by She Renyi's ice snake sword and shield.

The blood of Wiliam's body was also completely drained by She Renyi's ice snake sword shield.

In order to save Wiliam, Feng Xue woke up violently.

On the occasion of Wiliam's life and death, when he thought about it, all emotions were born, and he re-nirvana.

Wiliam, who got the blood and blood exchange, slammed She Renyi's ice snake sword and shield with both fists.

The long live safflower in his body finally ushered in its first nirvana!

It was also the first time that Wiliam felt that there was a magical little life in his body.

Inseparable from his flesh and blood.

Huangquan blooms red flowers!

Long live the world seal!

At that time, Wanzai Honghua completely evolved into Wanzai Honglian.

Wiliam also successfully learned to serve the needle with his body.

In the battle with the three supreme elders of the Lu family, Wiliam's Qilin bloodline awakened for the second time.

The long live red lotus in the body has also evolved again through the awakening of the bloodline and the quenching chain of the reborn Qinglian!

Become the unparalleled long live demon lotus in the world.

This is the second evolution of safflower.

The third evolution was a battle between Wiliam and his grandfather.

Long live the demon lotus, with an air of arrogance, defeated grandpa's black flower silver needle and gained the dominance of the silver needle!

That was the most painful and tragic evolution of the Long Live Demon Lotus.

Grandpa is its owner, and Wiliam is also its owner.

Not willing to die!

Don't give in to people!

Born to be a king, how can we be co-owners!

Wiliam took the Long Live Demon Lotus to complete the rebirth of Nirvana once again.

Long live the demon lotus, who devoured the black flower and silver needle, killed the grandfather.

That was also the first time that Long Live Demon Lotus opened her ignorant mind.

In the fourth evolution, after Wiliam broke the Long Live Demon Lotus, he re-forged it with ice jade fragments.

The reborn Long Live Demon Lotus has the power of frost and space for the first time.

become stronger.

Four nirvana rebirths!

Which time was not born and died with Wiliam!

Which time is not a walk before the gate of hell!

Wiliam traded death for life, and he survived every time he was lucky.

But Long Live Red Flower, after several real deaths, she was reborn with great luck.

It can be said that the danger faced by Long Live Honghua is even more than that of Wiliam!

Rather!

"I'm sorry for you!" Wiliam yelled at the sky in grief, and tears came out again.

I'm sorry for you, there is a fluke mentality again and again, thinking that you will be okay...

I'm sorry for you, and I used you to stand in front of me again and again, blocking the threat of death for me.

At this moment, Wiliam, remorse is hard to bear!

He watched helplessly as the last trace of broken crystal light disappeared between this world.

The sun is shining, the world is miserable.

"Farewell master, please accept us, the last..."

"guard!"
