

Dragon Husband 1824

Chapter 1824 Boundless

The previous Cang Python Moat was galloping endlessly, with roar and anger.

But now, there is no such anger.

The water in the moat flows slowly, gentle and humble.

On the edge of the moat, the people were originally struggling to survive.

However, as the moat fell again, those ancient beasts that fought with the human race returned to the moat as if they had been summoned by something.

Those who were covered in blood were also stunned when they saw this scene.

How is this going?

On the shore, surprisingly calm.

Then in this calm, some peach trees grew on the shore.

The peach tree grows and grows and blooms.

The world is filled with the fragrance of peach blossoms.

This peach blossom has the taste of wine.

This fragrance heals those who have been hurt in this world.

The screams and screams between heaven and earth subsided instantly.

"Peach and Li Chunfeng with a glass of wine..." Wiliam stared blankly at the peach blossoms blooming on the shore, smelling the refreshing aroma of wine, and couldn't help muttering in a low voice.

This is the gentleness of the spring breeze...

Incarinate into a moat, and re-guard the peace of the two worlds.

She is the spring breeze, she is the most gentle patron saint.

"You see, the Cang Mang Moat is a thing of the past, and now there is the Spring Wind Moat." Petite Rou said helplessly.

As for Li Chunfeng, she said she didn't know it before.

However, after this battle, this woman left an indelible impression on Petite Rou's heart.

There are women in this world.

Little love hides the heart, big love knows no bounds.

This confused feeling.

"Oh right, before Chunfeng falls asleep, ask me to send you a present." Petite Rou said suddenly.

"What gift?" Wiliam was stunned.

Petite Rou makes a move.

From her body, a graceful rhododendron slowly floated out.

This rhododendron exudes a gleaming light, which is truly beautiful.

"This is..." Wiliam wanted to ask, but was interrupted by Petite Rou.

"Don't talk, open your mouth." Petite Rou said.

William's mouth was slightly open.

The petite soft fingertips flicked.

The graceful azalea flew straight to William's mouth.

Then it turned into a trickle, seeped into William's mouth, and entered his body.

"What is this?" William asked directly before he could feel the changes in his body.

Petite Rou said bitterly, "This is the essence of Chunfeng's lifelong cultivation, and she gave it all to you."

"So do you know now? How difficult is it to wake up in the spring breeze. Now that her body has disappeared, her soul has been sleeping forever, and all her skills have been given to you. If you want to wake up, you can't do it at all."

When William heard this, it was like a thunderbolt!

spring breeze.....

"Oh, these things are also given to you, which will be of great benefit to you in the future." Petite Rou waved again.

Suddenly a crystal bead flew out from one side.

The bead hung in front of William.

William looked at Petite Rou suspiciously.

"This is what the monster left behind when it was gone. There is a small space inside the bead where some things are placed. You can open it by yourself." Xiao Xiaorou explained briefly.

"What exactly was that monster before?" Wiliam couldn't help asking. It was because of that monster that the current situation was created, and Wiliamtai wanted to know where this thing came from.

"Simply put, that monster has a very high status in your current world. I don't know the specifics. Maybe you can find a clue through what he left behind. But it doesn't matter. What I want to tell you is that Another very important matter." Petite Rou's expression suddenly became serious.

"What's the matter?" Wiliam asked.

"Do you think the matter will be over after that monster's soul is gone? There is no such thing in the distance, this is the beginning of the disaster!" Petite Rou said solemnly.

"Like you, there is an extremely terrifying remnant soul hidden on that monster's body. This remnant soul has escaped at the moment when the monster's soul was scattered. I smelled a familiar smell on that remnant soul. It should be a The ancient remnant soul. The remnant soul has been living on the monster, I believe it is waiting for the resurrection, and I feel that the time of resurrection is very close, after all, the breath of the remnant soul is too terrifying. I believe it will wait for his resurrection day , I will definitely seek revenge for you, that will be your real doomsday." Petite Rou added.

Wiliam was stunned for a moment.

remnant soul...

And this thing?

It is equivalent to leaving an endless trouble for Wiliam!

The monster that was sojourned was so powerful, what about the remnant soul that was about to recover!

I am afraid that a hundred Wiliam is not enough to kill!

"What is that remnant soul? Is it stronger than the ancestor of the ancient unicorn and the soldier master on me?" Wiliam couldn't help asking.

Xiao Xiaorou shook her head and said, "I'm not completely sure, so I dare not say it..."

It seemed that this answer made Xiao Xiaorou feel ashamed, and she added another sentence, saying, "Also, don't expect me and Peach Blossom to help. Let me tell you another piece of information. Although I and Peach Blossom are very strong, But just because we are too strong, we do not belong to this world. This can be regarded as a kind of suppression by heaven. Therefore, we will not be here for a long time. After a while, we will leave this world and go to other places..."

This is the first time Wiliam has heard of such a thing.

Heaven Suppression...

"Won't that remnant soul be suppressed by Heaven after it's revived?" Wiliam asked.

"Yes!" Petit Rou gave a positive answer, but the conversation changed immediately.

"But he will find you before he is suppressed, and then kill you in an instant. Petite Rou and I can't be by your side all the time. This is your greatest danger."

Wiliam nodded, a little dazed.

"So, while the remnant soul has not yet fully awakened, improve yourself as much as possible. Let yourself grow up to the point where you can't fight against the sky. At that time, the people you want to protect, the things you want to do, What you don't want to do is up to you. At that time, you are free, love if you want, hate if you want."

"Otherwise, everything is in vain, everything is cowardice."

Petite Rou seemed to want to repay Chunfeng and Wiliam, and said a lot of things that Wiliam didn't know before.

She was about to say something, but suddenly raised her eyebrows, "Oh ho ho, it seems the time has come."

"Someone is here, so I and Madam Peach Blossom will leave first."

"Wiliam, Madame Peach Blossom and I are waiting for you in another world. If you have the ability to come to our world, Madame Peach Blossom and I will have a drink with you." Petite Rou took Madame Peach Blossom's hand, and her body was broken. go.

"At that time, you were only qualified enough to ask if Chunfeng was awake..." Lady Peach Blossom whispered in the air, but Wiliam couldn't hear it anymore.

And just after they left, two thunder-like sounds suddenly came from the sky!

What followed was a thunderous storm in half of the sky!

"Wiliam!"

"Third brother!"
