

His True Colors Novel Chapter 2994 - 2995

Chapter 2994

George Han smiled lightly, but did not step forward, just stared at her faintly.

But a few seconds later, this girl still did not move.

Could it be. Not pretending?

Thinking of this, George Han frowned slightly, looking at her appearance, it seemed that she really didn't look like it. Thinking of this, George Han hurriedly walked over a few steps, and slightly pulled her up to take a look. Suddenly, I felt anxious.

Her complexion was a little pale, and her pretty little mouth was faintly blackish. This is a sign of poisoning.

Could it be that she was tricked by those two guys in the battle just now? !

Thinking about it carefully, it seems very possible, but this girl may not know it, and follow her all the way down the mountain, because the influence of the foot process intensifies the blood flow, which causes the poisonous hair!

Shaking his head speechlessly, George Han gently carried her on his back and walked towards the cave where he and the pangolin were hiding.

Fortunately, this place is not far from the cave, and George Han deliberately drove her away because he was almost at the destination and didn't want to pester her anymore.

Although she is quite tall. The difference is not much, but the weight is very light. Even George Han had to sigh that this big beauty on her body is really a special president. There should be more places than anyone, but there shouldn't be even the slightest flaws.

Go back to the cave. Smoky, even a big beauty who has been in a coma due to poisoning. The body was coughing involuntarily because of the choking too much.

The pangolin was busy putting the things roasted on the fire on the stone. Hearing the sound of someone entering the cave naturally knew it was George Han, but when he heard the female voice coughing. Suddenly, he couldn't help stopping his work, and looked at the entrance of the cave vigilantly.

Under the smoke, I couldn't see clearly, and waited for a while. I saw George Han slowly walking in with a figure behind his back.

"Miscellaneous, where's Xiuxian?" George Han couldn't help but vomit.

This Nima is full of smoke. It's like cooking, it's obviously Huayu Dengxian.

George Han's complaint hit the center of the nest. The pangolin was embarrassed. He originally thought that George Han had just woke up. He was not in a good mood, so he volunteered to learn George Han's cooking. But there are some things that seem easy, but they are difficult to do.

Ignore what George Han said. The pangolin stood up, glanced at the beautiful woman on George Han's back, and felt dissatisfied for a while.

Superb!

This face is perfect, and this figure is...tsk. At first glance, my whole body is hot and dry.

"Anyway, the rice is not cooked yet, why don't you go out for a circle?" The pangolin looked at the big beauty, his saliva almost came out, and couldn't help but say to George Han like a pig brother.

George Han rolled his eyes. He is connoting pangolins, but it is obvious that pangolins are also using themselves to go around, but after a lap, they brought a beautiful woman back to connotate themselves.

"Fuck off, it's okay to clean up your broken things. People who know know you are baking things, and those who don't know think you smoked mice in the hole." replied. George Han gently placed the big beauty on the original large stone slab, and then followed. He got up and checked her situation.

Her face is now more haggard, and the black green on her lips is also deeper. It seems that the toxicity of these poisons is not small, but the short time of entering the hole has increased a lot.

"Damn, I thought it was an outland beauty, it turned out to be poisoned." The pangolin glanced at the beauty and muttered.

However, when she lay down, she could see more clearly, she was indeed the best among the best.

"Help her protect her heart." George Han ordered.

The pangolin was stunned for a moment: "Me?"

"Is it me?" The pangolin nodded, and then, when George Han helped her up, a burst of energy slapped her back with a palm of his hand and paused. Time, I saw the big beautiful woman Liu frowned, and a mouthful of blood spurted out.

“What are you doing?” George Han looked at the pangolin depressedly. Are you treating someone else’s injuries, or do you think they are not seriously injured? !

“I...I heal.” The pangolin said innocently.

Hearing what he said, seeing his serious appearance, George Han frowned, and then, looking at the beautiful back of the big beautiful woman, his mother, wouldn’t it? !

At this time, the pangolin also stood up suddenly..

Chapter 2995

“That...I’ll go out first.” The pangolin rolled his eyes away, then he went into the cave and called out the sleeping evil gluttons together.

Before leaving, the cargo put a stick of firewood on the dying fire. It’s just that after his special treatment, the firewood has been moistened by the water in the cave. After this, the smoke reappeared.

“You’re going to die.” George Han was choked and almost couldn’t help crying. After spitting out a pangolin, George Han still endured uncomfortably. Then, he glanced at the big beauty. The hand stretched slightly towards her leader.

“I’m sorry.” The hand suddenly pulled down gently, and as the big beautiful woman snorted, George Han’s white dress was gently pulled down by George Han, revealing her jade-like back.

It’s really white, smooth and tender, tender and translucent.

However, George Han obviously didn’t focus on this, but at this moment, the black palm print on the beautiful jade back of the big beauty.

No wonder the pangolin just took the palm of her hand. Not only did she not appear to be treated at all, but she also appeared extremely uncomfortable.

This palm, if George Han remembers correctly, it should be when she learned to yawn by herself. Was injured by the man in black sneak attack.

At that time, the man in black was repelled again and again, and his heart was already extremely angry. So a dead hand was laid in anger, it was this poisonous palm.

This was much longer than the time she expected to be poisoned, and after being poisoned, not only did she follow her for a long time, but she also fought against black and white Shuangsha. Therefore, the circulation of poison may also be far deeper than George Han thought.

“Don’t be poisonous.” George Han murmured.

If it is highly poisonous, even if the dose of poison is small. Or the body’s toxin is very light, and it will often rapidly multiply by hundreds of times because of this. At that time, if you want to save it, it is tantamount to grabbing business with Yama.

It’s not harder than climbing to the sky.

Slightly lifted his hands. Perceiving the reflection of the seal of blood in his body, George Han drew out a little energy. Although this energy is almost equivalent to nothing for dealing with the enemy, it is for George Han. It is enough to spy on the physical condition of the big beauty.

With a light movement, the palms were placed slightly on her silky fragrant shoulders. That tiny amount of energy instantly entered her body.

As the energy flowed, George Han quickly took a sigh of relief. Sure enough, this woman was as strong as she had seen. The only difference was that she was not experienced enough.

This may also be the fundamental reason why she can carry on for so long after being poisoned.

and. Her solid foundation means that even if it is poisoned, she can persist longer than ordinary people, and give her body more opportunities.

However, just when George Han was relieved. The thing that worries him most still appears.

Poison is in my heart!

Although her skills are very deep, as George Han has seen, she has almost no experience, so she is almost always in a state of turmoil in battle. Although George Han taught her external, internal luck. But no one taught her. She completely followed her own set, and then used it in a panic...

This also allowed the toxins to spread in the body faster, and it also hit the heart.

This may be any novice, but extremely talented person. It’s the easiest mistake to make.

With a long sigh, if it falls into the hands of others. She is bound to die today, but George Han who is proficient in the art of the fairy island and the poison king. But it may be her only hope that she should never die.

The way to save her is very complicated, but in the final analysis there are only two words: suck, pass!

Looking at this big beauty, not only is George Han very embarrassed at this time, but what is even more worrying for George Han is that if she wakes up and learns this method, how can she change it?

What should I do? !
