

Chapter 3224

His body just pushed forward slightly.

The heaven and the earth are calm, the anti-Buddha has never happened, one second, two seconds, tight and...

boom!

The world was trembling, and the space was torn apart. The black cloud in George Han's hand was like the rising sun, and like a long dragon going out to sea, a white cloud suddenly rushed out.

The vast expanse of whiteness, like a giant Kun, like a giant dragon, pounced straight down and slammed toward everyone.

Then, one is divided into three, the second blasts towards the jade face Shura and the ghost, and the first blasts towards the tens of thousands of people on the ground.

The sudden formation of silver stars blasting towards the jade-faced Shura, the one blasting towards Ghost Venerable turns into layers of black energy, and the one facing the crowd of tens of thousands of people is the huge beam of light from the original ten-color squadron.

Everything, the anti-buddha is the same as it was a minute or two ago. Three beams of light came from three directions, but at this moment, the launcher and the attacked side of the beam of light had only changed their heads.

This time, not only the seventh princess and the entourage were stupid in place, but even the ghosts, the jade-faced Shura, and the ten thousand monsters on the ground could not help but collectively dumbfounded.

What's happening here? !

The entourage couldn't help but wiped his eyes: "Is this fucking real? He...he actually bounced all his attacks back?"

If it is a bounce, then what secret technique or magic weapon is there in this world? Only then can we complete such a terrorist backlash.

After all, with the combined power of the two great masters with the crowd of tens of thousands, even the supreme defense of King Kong would be beaten to shreds.

"I understand." The seventh princess' eyes widened: "This is not a rebound."

"It's not a rebound?" The entourage turned around and looked at the seventh princess in confusion.

If it's not a rebound, then how can this guy be able to resist the attacks and fight them back intact at the same time? !

"It's absorption and reproduction." The Seventh Princess said coldly.

"Assimilation and copying?"

“I have heard people mention that there is a kind of magical skill in the middle of the world. Although it is quite tasteless when it is weak when it is weak, its attributes still make it a top magical power when it is strong when it is strong.” Seven princesses Condensedly said: “And its core is the eye for the eye, the tooth for the tooth. However, it is said that this kind of magic has been lost for a long time, why...”

Why did it suddenly appear, and it still appeared in such a young person Body?

“Bang bang bang!”

Almost at the same time, George Han’s counterattack had arrived. Whether it was Ghost Venerable, Yumian Shura, or the people underneath, even if he witnessed the beam of light attack, it was impossible to be completely physical or psychological. Reflected from the panic.

With the beam of light approaching, when it is reflected again, where can I have time?

When the loud noise sounded at the scene, it was also the day when the entire crowd exploded. With the loud bang, the corpses flew across the ground, and their flesh and blood exploded. It is not clear which is the gravel and mud, and which is the broken arm. limb.

Together with the impact, the entire city center was also strongly affected by the violent explosion at this time, and was almost completely razed to the ground in the blast of the explosion.

And Gui Zun and Yumian Shura are obviously not much better. Although the two are masters, their speed is far faster than others, but when facing their own super strong blows, even if they repeatedly resist, they just can’t completely block them.

After being repelled by each of the strongest blows for several meters, Jade-faced Shura vomited blood and finally resolved it, but the ghost who had been injured because of the undead body was damaged a lot.

After his body was directly repelled to the ground, a deep pit nearly half a meter deep was created. I don’t know whether it was by himself or by the power of the ground. He finally managed to carry it down, but the excessive injuries caused him to lie in the pit. In addition to the angry and unwilling stare, there is nothing more to do.

How could he imagine that the fatal blow that almost spent most of his current energy didn’t hit the enemy in the end, but finally took the retribution on himself.

Even if he is dreaming, he will always think about how much impact and damage this trick will bring to George Han, and...not that the plot is flipped so outrageous.

“The first round.”

At this time, George Han, standing in the air, without the slightest panic, even with an incomparable smile on his face, as if seeing a group of ants looking at the people who were dizzy and dizzy. .

“Ninety-nine rounds left, I’m ready, how about you?” George Han laughed.

Chapter 3225

Upon hearing this, the air from Jade Face Asura's nose seemed to blow the ground debris flying across, and the whole lungs were about to explode.

With such a blow, not only did he fail to find a face to respond to, but also destroyed all the remaining faces at once. How can he not be annoyed, how can he not be angry?

Especially the Seventh Princess and Pei's family are also here, and Guizun is also here, old friends and masters, he can't afford to lose any face.

He glanced back at the crowd behind him, although it was terrible, but fortunately there was still a lot of remaining.

"Fuck, give me a scream while you are alive." Yumian Shura roared.

Immediately, many of the tens of thousands of people still alive hurriedly stood up from the rubble.

"This boy is deceiving too much, so rampant, it's hard to understand the hatred in his heart if he doesn't kill him, right?"

A group of monsters looked at each other and said that fear is natural, but anger is also indispensable. At this time, as the leaders are willing to shout out, of course they are willing to do so.

"Yes."

"Okay, brothers from Devil Cloud Ghost City, listen to my instructions."

"Yes."

"Since this child has a lot of evil powers and can block our spells in this way, everyone will charge along with me and go directly to the devil. Get angry and beat him up." Yumian Shura shouted coldly.

You have Zhang Liangji, and I have my own cloud ladder. Since the magic will be used by this child for some reason, what Yumian Shura naturally has to do is to adjust the strategy in time, attack with pure force with real power, and not to Han Three thousand and then there are opportunities for talent.

This is a master who has experienced many battles and should make quick adjustments.

"I listened to Brother Yumian Shura, he was right. In the underground world, I once had a subordinate who was killed by me, but he was relying on this method at the beginning, but he was with the dog surnamed Han. The thief fought for several rounds." At this time, the ghost who was lying in the deep pit also gritted his teeth forcibly. Although his body could not move, his voice was surprisingly loud.

With the leader and the boss commanded, the monsters who had undergone a short adjustment stabilized their positions again and shouted in unison, "Yes." Spear.

At that time, he was like a general with spear, leading the way, majestic, and killing George Han straight away.

Behind him, among the ruins of the explosion, the monsters also broke through the dense smoke in the ruins one by one, steadily holding on to the follow-up.

“Jade-faced Shura is worthy of being a jade-faced Shura.” Next to the seventh princess, after recovering from the shock, the man finally smiled because of the new charge initiated by the jade-faced Shura.

“Although the kid surnamed Han is indeed beyond our expectation and can defuse our fatal blow in such a peculiar way, what he always faces is Shura Jade Face, one of the Patriarch’s favorite generals.”

“Adjust the strategy in time and stabilize the military spirit. It is worthy of being a general.”

“It’s a pity that the kid is still too young and too arrogant.” When the man said this, he smiled helplessly: “If he is a little bit. A little low-key, a little IQ, then, the previous bet is actually designed to be only one round. At this time, no matter what, he will always be a winner, he is contented to save his life, and he has the appreciation of the Seven Princesses, which is simply life. Consummation.”

Speaking of this, the man felt a trace of regret in his words.

From the initial disdain and ridicule, to a little regret for him now, that person didn’t even know that his emotions and opinions had slowly changed.

The seventh princess nodded and didn’t say much, but her eyes were indeed full of regret when she looked at the side who had already re-fought.

“Seven princesses don’t need to be sad. It turns out that your eyes are really unique. You can recognize the hero with your eyes. You can see that this kid has potential at a glance. I believe that even if this is not done, if the Patriarch knew about it, he would definitely be You look differently.” The man lowered his head and comforted softly.

Upon hearing this, the seventh princess smiled coldly: “He will look at me differently?” When the words fell, she gave a bitter smile. Although she didn’t go on specifically, she obviously said everything: “As his daughter, I am more than You know him better.”

“Hey, the blame can only be blamed on this kid’s fate and helplessness.” The man also knew what the Seventh Princess had said, and sighed helplessly.

“Shallow fate?” The seventh princess looked up at George Han during the battle in disappointment. She couldn’t help but feel extremely disappointed, but suddenly, a gleam of light flashed in his eyes...

because at this time...
