

Chapter 3284

glanced at Zhu Jianshuo next to her, the Black Mountain Demon Fairy smiled lightly, and slowly landed on the ring, facing George Han's arrogant standing, she also stood arrogantly.

"Buy...buy or not." At this time, the man who was sitting on the bank got up from the ground again, grabbed the gambler, and yelled, "Why don't you continue to buy that stinky boy wins?"

"I... I am so special How about giving you a thousand times the odds?"

Just now, Mr. Yu's defeat, almost made the owner lose all his pants, 32 million amethyst, let alone kill him, even if You let him live a lifetime and earn a lifetime, and he will never be able to earn enough such astronomical figures.

Therefore, the only hope is to pull the gambler to bet another round.

Although the gambler can indeed refuse, what if the fool is stupid to the end? Then I have a chance to stand up again.

The gambler was also obviously taken aback. The nature of gambling on dogs made him nod almost without thinking, but fortunately, the remaining reason still took the initiative of the brain: "You first pay me 32 million, I Naturally continue to gamble with you."

Gou Zhuang panicked, and gave the gambler all the deposit and all the money he had collected before: "Give you so much first. How about betting with me for the rest?"

"Do you still have a bet?" The gambler counted. Although the gap between the 32 million and 32 million bets is too large, when the dealer kills other bets, there are still millions of amethysts, barely enough for himself. Repaying debts and being cool, so the remaining reason is almost gone, completely revealing the nature of betting on dogs.

"I..." The dealer was taken aback for a moment, and then he turned his mind: "I still have a house, a daughter-in-law, and a daughter. My daughter just turned sixteen this year."

"If you win, they all It's yours. On the contrary, the remaining account is written off. What do you think?" I glanced at the man who was sitting in the village, and he looks pretty good. Naturally, the wife I look for shouldn't be too bad. As for the daughter, huh. Humph.

Thinking of this, the gambler laughed, and glanced at the dealer: "Play with you."

"Okay, then we 'll make this decision."

A mad dog and a gambling dog are set like this, and at this time On the stage, although the posture of the two sides has been set up long ago, they are not in a hurry to do it.

Instead, they all seem to be waiting for others to take the initiative.

George Han was able to win like Master Yu, playing more of a mind-breaking strategy, and happened to be like Master Yu with a magic weapon in the last third move. What he didn't know was that George Han did it all the way. The block itself relied on this magical gadget, the little black stick. If he confronted hard here, George Han would naturally not be afraid, after all, this could completely cover up his shortcomings of being sealed now.

Therefore, George Han naturally defeated with one blow.

From the perspective of Young Master Ruyu, he felt that the opponent had lost even before he could play. Naturally, there was no need to fight again, but from the practical point of view, as long as he launches a personal attack, he has completely mastered the victory.

It's a pity... that Young Master Ruyu didn't do that.

But now it's different. Suddenly there is a master of Demon Venerable's cultivation base. George Han is not afraid before there is no seal of earth, but when there is a seal of earth, attacking rashly will only make himself into a bitter battle, even directly. Bye revealing his problems.

Although the Black Mountain Demon Fairy has always been relaxed, she is facing someone who needs to take action by herself, and she has stood in the ring for a long time and no one dared to attack. Obviously, she can't be too careless.

Both parties were testing each other, and for a few dozen seconds after the ceremony official announced the start, they were completely in a stalemate.

"Are you looking for death?" The Black Mountain Demon Ji frowned suddenly: "I met me, and I still don't push you up yet?"

Sure enough, the lady couldn't help it. George Han smiled slightly: "Will you be dead? , I found out after trying, came up in a hurry, and in the end you plan to be here and grind your lips with me?"

Hearing this, the Black Mountain Demon Ji suddenly became furious. No one has dared to talk to her like this, it is really annoying. .

"The deity will take your dog's life right away." As soon as the voice fell, the Black Mountain Demon Fairy mixed with a surging black air, with a terrifying aura, almost directly turning the surroundings into black, and suddenly attacked George Han directly. Come.

This blow, not to mention the people watching the battle, even George Han himself, couldn't help being shuddered.

Sure enough, he is a super master at the Demon Venerable level.

"Wait a minute, pause."

But at this moment, George Han suddenly raised his hand and shouted loudly...

Chapter 3285

and as he shouted, he raised his big hand, and the Black Mountain Demon Fairy, who was already extremely powerful, hurriedly braked, almost less than five centimeters away from George Han. Quietly stopped in the distance.

The black energy she carried behind her also surged wildly behind her like a huge tail gas.

Damn , what are you doing?” “Fuck, can you pause in the ring?”

“He wouldn’t say that his shoes are not fastened?”

Underground, also looked extremely confused by George Han’s sudden call for a timeout on the way. And dissatisfaction.

This life-and-death battle can still be played like this!

“Why, are you scared?” Black Mountain Demon Fairy frowned, and she also had her uncomfortable points, and looked at George Han unceremoniously.

George Han smiled indifferently: “I’m afraid I won’t fight you, wouldn’t it?” When the words fell, George Han directly blocked her hand to keep her at a certain distance from herself: “A pause is I want to say something useful to you and me. Are you interested?”

” I’m afraid I’m afraid, why make so many excuses?” Black Mountain Demon Fairy said coldly, turning her face away, ignoring Han at all. Three thousand.

There were scolding under the stage, but for George Han, it didn’t matter. The most important thing was that the attitude of the Black Mountain Demon Fairy at this time was at least in line with his expectations.

Although she was very upset, she was obviously interesting to George Han.

“It’s been so long in the competition, and it doesn’t make sense to keep fighting, right? Besides, although the competition ring looks big enough, it’s too small for you and me, isn’t it?” Han Sanqianyouyou And the way.

“What are you trying to say?” The Black Mountain Demon Fairy couldn’t hold back her temper, turned her head impatiently and shouted.

George Han smiled. He is good at doing things like mentality. Perhaps this is the experience that others have learned from his mentality all the time.

Therefore, the ancients used to say that if we lose our horses, we should not know what is good. This is not unreasonable.

“One move determines the outcome?” Hearing George Han’s words, the Black Mountain Demon Fairy was obviously taken aback.

“Exactly.” George Han smiled: “What do you think of saving so much trouble?” The Black Mountain Demon Fairy was silent, and did not immediately answer, instead thinking about what tricks George Han was doing. .

“Why, are you scared?” George Han smiled.

“I’ll be afraid of you?” The Black Mountain Demon Ji was suddenly angry. She was just weighing and guessing what George Han was doing. If it was a pure and true move that would determine the outcome, she would naturally not want to agree.

Because she herself belongs to the kind of expert who is extremely powerful, the war of attrition is actually relatively hard for her. It was just because of this that she would give more consideration, because maybe George Han was the same as herself.

“It’s a simple comparison. It’s everyone’s true ability. It saves so many tricks. When the time comes, the person who loses and says that the winner will not win.” George Han, struggling while the iron is hot.

It makes sense to think about what George Han said. Moreover, if he refuses at this time, he will be ridiculed by this guy for not daring to take the move. After thinking about it, the Black Mountain Demon Fairy thinks that he is unlikely to be in such a situation. What’s wrong.

“Okay, it’s up to you, but you’d better not regret it.” Black Mountain Enchantress said, and nodded to the courtesy officer next to him and City Lord Zhu not far away, and signaled her to agree to George Han’s change of gameplay.

City Lord Zhu also nodded, and the ceremonial officer stepped forward and announced loudly: “Everyone, after unanimous discussion, this round of martial arts is divided into one move to determine the outcome.”

With the announcement of the ceremonial officer, the platform stopped for more time. .

“Fucking, is it a trick to make a timeout?”

“That grandson’s time-out is fucking stupid enough. I didn’t expect that the stupid one is still to come. This stupid bi will have to fight the Black Mountain Demon Girl to determine the victory or defeat. Is he sick? This guy knows this Black Mountain Demon. What is Ji’s background?”

“This is called carrying a lantern to go to the hut, thinking of ways to find death. The Black Mountain Demon Ji is nicknamed “Three Lian Hun”, which means that within three strokes, he can kill humans. This is enough to show how explosive the Black Mountain Demon Ji is. The horror of this, is this grandson playing this trick with others?” The man shook his head speechlessly and amusingly, apparently the best conclusion for himself.

On the other hand, George Han on the stage was not at all anxious. Instead, he took a step back slightly and said a sentence that caused the audience to faint.
