

Chapter 3548

Jungle rushes.

And almost as soon as George Han left, the barren land that was destroyed by water and fire instantly returned to its previous appearance.

Anti-Buddha, all things, nothing happened just now.

At this time, George Han had already quickly flown to the jungle a hundred miles away, and rushed to the scene looking for the strange voice.

Looking at the tranquility in front of him, but the scene was a little messy. There was an unfinished beast on it, and George Han had already clenched his teeth.

“These bastards.”

Obviously, the evil gluttons who went out for food should have been kidnapped by these four so-called heavenly kings, who were actually insidious villains.

His eyes suddenly became cold, and in the next second, George Han’s jade energy exploded, and the whole person flew straight into the sky in an instant.

After a while, he stood firmly in the air, and his whole body was already full of spiritual energy, like a god and Buddha.

Dazzlingly swept through the jungle, George Han roared angrily: “If my beast dies, the four of you will be buried with you.” When the words were over, George Han flew under it, without stopping, heading towards Suntan. Then strode away.

He didn’t choose to wait. For George Han, it was just a waste of time, and he didn’t look for it. Finding the traces of these four guys in this large jungle is no different from finding a needle in a haystack.

So, his only a few options were to keep moving forward.

The four monsters couldn’t hold back and wanted to show up, which also saved George Han the pain of finding them.

But if he doesn’t come out, George Han doesn’t need to worry.

After killing the last guy in the suntan, will those guys hide again? They have no last backer, what can they use to support them?

Thinking of this, George Han quickened his pace, and only after sunset did he find a cave to rest.

The yin qi here is extremely heavy, and the yin qi is obviously stronger at night. Even if you rush to Suntan and find Sun Shengyuan at this time, it is obviously not a good time to deal with him.

So, instead of this, George Han, who had just experienced the battle with the Four Heavenly Kings, might as well rest in place.

While recuperating, I can continue to polish what I have learned, and at the same time give the four monsters some time to see if they can take the initiative to hand over the glutton of evil.

Although the possibility of the latter is almost zero, in any case, three birds with one stone, no matter how small the bird is, it is meat.

After laying down a simple barrier in the cave, George Han went straight back to the cave and sat down. Then, when the jade light began to rise, George Han also completely entered into meditation.

And it was almost a few hundred meters away from George Han Cave shortly after George Han entered the settlement.

In the dark jungle, there were bursts of subtle rustling noises.

“This kid is a thief, he doesn’t get caught at all, what should we do?”

“Yeah, I thought that this guy’s divine beast was caught by us, and he would be anxious to find us everywhere, this jungle is so This guy is so big, if you look for this guy, it will definitely consume a lot of physical strength, we can take the opportunity to attack him when he is weak, but...”

But the beginning and the process were perfect, but this ending is precisely what few people would never have imagined. of.

“Is this guy a beast? We are all ruthless, but if any of us are captured, we will do everything possible to find and rescue them. But this family

Good guy, he lost the divine beast he had followed all the way in, but he didn’t even pay attention to it. It was like nothing happened to guard against Buddha? At this moment, a voice different from the other two said coldly: “He didn’t just ignore it, didn’t he say that if anything happens to his beast, then he will be buried with us.” Therefore, it is not that he has not reflected, but that he knows what we want to do when we come out like this. “

Come on, in that case, what should we do?” Does he think he’s got us? “

“Yes, he thinks he’s got us.” Under the dim moonlight, the three monsters gradually emerged soon as he finished speaking, the earth monster suddenly stood up, and he planned to get up and go back to settle the account.

.” As

However, just two steps away, a cold sword was directly in his throat...

Chapter 3549

The monster was suddenly surprised, obviously, he did not expect that someone would suddenly have a sword in his throat, and he returned in a hurry. Looking at it, he was even more puzzled for a while.

“What do you mean?” The sword is not an entity but is transformed by the wind. Naturally, its owner is no one other than a wind monster.

But it is precisely the wind monster that is his own person, and the earth monster will be at a loss for a while, full of doubts.

The water monster also rushed to the side of the two of them, looking at the wind monster, frowning: "When our brothers got together, we once swore a poisonous oath that brothers would never kill each other, what are you doing? "

That's right, if there's something, you can put your knife on George Han's body and put it on your brother's neck." What kind of skill do you have?" stand up.

The wind monster glanced at the two of them, knowing that he was wrong, he turned his sword into one, and withdrew his hand: "I just don't want you to put us in a place where we can never surpass."

"Then George Han You have also seen his ability, if we really kill his divine beast, do you think that guy can't do what he said?"

"Though that kid is young, but he is unusually calm, he must be a ruthless character, so People are so easy to mess with?" The words fell, and the wind monster stared at the two monsters depressedly.

The water monster thought for a while and nodded, and the wind monster's words did have his reasons.

The earth monster was actually too hot for a while, but now he calmed down a little, and then listened to the two people's words, in fact, he knew that he was too reckless.

"Then what do we do? Otherwise, let him let his beast go?"

If you kill and you can't kill it, what's the use of keeping it in your hands? It's better to have less than one more thing.

The water monster didn't speak, and looked at the wind monster on the side, hoping to hear his opinion.

"It's hard to catch, just let it go, are you willing?" The wind monster looked at the water monster and said indifferently.

The water monster nodded slightly, thinking about it too, nodded, and said: "Indeed, no matter what, we caught this guy very hard, and it is always a bargaining chip. When necessary, I believe this bargaining chip will definitely be able to play its role. "

If the Sun God wins, we can't resist, but at least capturing George Han's divine beast is something we have done. Even if the Sun God blames us, I'm afraid it will be much lighter." The wind monster also nodded in agreement: "If this kid wins, then at least he has something in our hands, and we will have a chance to negotiate with him."

Hearing this, the monster nodded again and again like a chicken pecking at rice.

This is indeed a good plan, the attack can be attacked and the retreat can be defended , and it is seamless.

“It’s still the two of you who are thinking fast, but it’s me, hehe, I almost broke a major event.” The earth monster patted his head embarrassedly and said apologetically.

“Then what shall we do next? Feed it temporarily?” The wind monster and the water monster looked at each other and reached a consensus.

“That’s right, not only to keep it, but also to keep it well, we must not make any mistakes, or if there is any mistake, our chips will depreciate quickly.”

“So the next three of us have A mission.”

“What mission?” the monster asked in confusion.

The wind monster and the water monster laughed at the same time, and then the water monster said, “Raising pigs.”

“Raising pigs?”

“Yes, I raised a big fat pig.” The wind monster also said happily.

As long as George Han’s divine beast does not lose a single hair at that time, it is white and fat, then if it is the outcome of George Han’s victory, then not only will they not lose any chips, but they may also get George Han’s At least not so angry.

After all, the white and chubby raised for his divine beast, this is another kind of vote, isn’t it?

Thinking of this, the three monsters are cheerful and fart.

But how do they know that when they decide on this idea, or when they catch the glutton of evil, they are doomed to this pig... It is far from being as simple as they thought.

Even...the day of pig fat is also the time when they thinned to lightning...

they are on top of their ass today, happy and happy, and in the future, they will become weak, want to die or live, beg their father to tell their grandma...

and With the departure of this group of people, the night returned to calm.

When the sun rose again, George Han in the cave slowly opened his eyes...
