

Chapter 3686

group of people are obviously full of doubts, Zhu Yanshuo also got up suddenly, waiting for the later spies almost as soon as they entered the temple, He frowned, feeling a little uneasy in his heart, and asked angrily, "Did you forget the time of the report?" The special envoy of Shenlong... Han... George Han's side..."

Upon hearing the name of George Han, Ming Yu stood up slightly, but more people in the cabin had casual sneers on their faces.

What else can he do with George Han?

Isn't there some funny news? !

They have no interest in it other than laughing at it.

"What happened to George Han?" Zhu Yanshuo, like Ming Yu, was a rare sober person and asked briefly.

The later spies were finally enough to say the next sentence. At this time, they hurriedly said: "George Han's side suddenly... suddenly launched an attack."

What? ! !

Hearing this, Zhu Yanshuo's complexion suddenly changed.

The unease in my heart was also confirmed at this moment.

Ming Yu also suddenly opened his eyes!

Launching an attack at this time, George Han is really scheming.

"Damn, is that trash trying to find death? How dare you attack us at this time?"

"Hmph, are you too bold to seek death?"

"Break in, this kid is abominable."

A group of executives also woke up from last night's decadence, but, unlike Ming Yu and others, they were more filled with anger.

In their eyes,

what is George Han now?

It's just a tiger that has been locked in a cage for an unknown time.

Although this tiger was once mighty and mighty, once it is imprisoned and tamed, how wild can it still be?

But unfortunately, such a broken tiger has the courage to rush out of the cage and bite people now.

Isn't this ridiculous? Isn't this whimsical?

Shouldn't this be a good lesson for him?

"George Han, did you mean to play with us like this for the past few days? When we relaxed our vigilance, we suddenly launched an attack and wanted to use this to break the game?" After three days of recuperation, although he still Futian, who was going to travel in a wheelchair, also came, and frowned at this time.

In fact, right now, that should be the case.

At least the state of the majority of the people on the scene has shown that the laxity of most people at this time is extremely high. At this point, Futian's words are not groundless.

Zhu Yanshuo nodded: "From the experience of fighting with George Han, this should be the truth."

Ye Shijun sneered: "George Han is quite a thief. However, he thought that he could rely on cleverness once or twice. Winning with ingenuity means that it can be done every time?"

"He has his plan, so we don't have our plan?" Zhu Yanshuo also laughed coldly.

The special envoy of Shenlong is mighty, in fact, he had already predicted and prepared for this matter three days ago.

Although the soldiers responsible for the sneak attack in the outer layer, including many of the current executives, are very lax, in fact, the elite soldiers and masters, as well as the ambush hidden in the darker places, are always playing 12 points. the spirit of.

Han

George Han wants to take this opportunity to steal chickens?

Sorry, that would just fall into the trap they had set in advance.

"That's right, for the past three days, we have been singing every night, but in fact, we have already been lurking with murderous intentions, waiting for George Han to be arrested." Ye Shijun also sneered.

"Now, this damn guy has finally shown his head." Futian also gritted his teeth, thinking that George Han had made him go to hell a few days ago, and Futian was angry.

"***, George Han, this time, let's see how you died in this endless net." Ye Shijun clenched his fists, frowned, and swept to everyone present: "Everyone, there is a good show to watch soon. It 's gone."

Everyone was stunned for a moment, and then burst into laughter...

And at this time on the battlefield, on George Han's side, the sound of killing had already started, and the smoke filled the air...

Chapter 3687

George Han suddenly led the army out!

Linlong attacked, and behind the gluttonous hall of evil, pangolins quickly escaped with Xia Wei as agreed in the morning, while George Han launched the most ferocious attack under the cover of the top and bottom.

Or, to put it another way, a total mad, desperate attack.

The three days of anti-Buddha had already suffocated it, and it seemed that he had already felt desperate and made a final counterattack.

He ignores any sneak attack directly, relying on his body to carry it directly, while his attack depends entirely on his mood, and he will directly hit him wherever he sees it.

He doesn't care where you are, let alone how many people you hide, anyway, it's an indiscriminate attack.

Even if there is only one person, releasing the spell of large-scale bombing is a complete waste of infuriating energy, and he does not hesitate at all.

It's fried!

Just bang!

For a time, George Han's whole body exploded, and the soldiers hiding not far from his body suddenly fell with blood mold.

Under this indiscriminate attack, even if they can hide again, it is still difficult for them to make themselves safe.

A large area of people began to fall, and along with the buildings they were hiding, came a complete transformation into powder.

With the start of the battle, the original small harassment troops were also urgently reinforced, and then a large number of troops were divided into several groups to continuously harass George Han.

The effect is of course immediate.

George Han's pace began to be slowed down.

But compared with three days, it is still more than one or two grades worse.

This is of course not because they underestimate the enemy, nor because they are slack, but entirely because George Han is completely dead.

The harassment of those small groups of troops is actually very fierce. Even if most people do not hide, they have to defend themselves obediently.

But George Han is different. He still ignores these as if he ignores the sneak attack of a single soldier. George Han also has the ability to do it.

However, this made it miserable for the large troops that besieged him.

Losing these harassments is equivalent to losing their assistance. It would be pure bullshit to rely on their group to deal with Han 3,000.

Even if they mainly procrastinated and fought and retreated, when George Han's strength, speed and other aspects crushed them, these meanings became very small and humble.

A group of rabbits, no matter how hard they try, it is absolutely impossible to surround the tiger.

Moreover,

it is still a lifeless tiger.

Soon, under the impact of George Han, a large number of troops were killed, wounded and wounded, and their formation was completely chaotic.

Although, as soon as they withdrew, a large number of new troops would soon face the 3000 Han, but obviously, how long can these troops last under such circumstances?

Therefore, in just half an hour, each large group of at least a few hundred people has changed back and forth for at least seven or eight waves, and in each wave at least half of the people died on the **** of Han 3,000. .

The cold arrows around them are still continuing, but facing George Han's hard-charging, they really don't have much to do.

City Lord's Mansion, inside the hall.

"Report!"

Accompanied by an urgent long roar, a scout hurriedly ran all the way from outside the hall to the feet of several people.

"The front line is tight, please ask for reinforcements."

Zhu Yanshuo stood up abruptly: "What did you say? Need reinforcements?"

A group of executives also suddenly looked ugly and got up one after another.

"Since George Han of the frontline launched the attack, it was a completely desperate and crazy attack. Our cold arrow tactics hidden on the edge were directly ignored by him.

He just grabbed our large troops and chased them fiercely. It was just this. Yes, the seven or eight armies have already been dispersed, so the front-line commander sent me here, hoping that Elder Shenlong will send out masters to help lay down cold arrows around to ease the pressure of our army's frontal attack."

"Otherwise, if George Han is completely let go, Our army...our army is afraid that within a few hours, it will...will be completely maimed by it."

What? !
