

Chapter 3694

Hearing George Han's words, everyone was obviously stunned at first, obviously did not expect George Han to answer this question like this Simply, so neatly, and so honestly.

After all, at this point, if it were someone else, a normal person might be able to recognize the situation, but he might not admit it.

This is to destroy his own prestige and increase the popularity of others.

Who would say such nonsense at such a critical moment?

Especially George Han, the guy who has been going around with them for several days.

But after the shock, it was full of expectations and overjoyed.

"Ha, George Han, I thought you kid would brag that you would win, but I didn't expect you to be quite self-aware."

"Yes, at least you can say sincere words like you are doomed. "

Seeing this, Han

George Han don't hate you so much anymore." The group of people talked freely, their words and expressions were filled with faint smiles and that kind of unknown self-confidence.

"Well, George Han, get down on your knees and call Grandpa, I can promise you, at least I will give you a good time when you die." Ye Shijun laughed softly: "Otherwise, it depends on your recent performance of provoking Lao Tzu many times. , you are enough to kill a thousand knives."

"George Han, Young Master Ye gave you a chance, you should cherish it." As soon as the words fell, everyone, especially the Fuye family, all laughed. , arrogant.

Yes, for they, especially those who support the family, want to see George Han's jokes, and they have been waiting for this day for an inexplicable time.

Now, with such a great opportunity, it is naturally a dream come true for them.

Therefore, at this time, their backlogged emotions are not only released at one time but also released in multiples.

George Han smiled and said disdainfully, "Someone Han is on his knees, kneeling down to his relatives. What kind of rubbish are you? You dare to let me kneel?" "

It's you who should kneel?"

As soon as a thousand words fell, the senior executives of the Fuye family were suddenly unhappy.

“George Han, what the hell are you talking about, if you have the kind of words, you can repeat what you just said.”

“Yes, I think you really don’t know how you died, and you dare to speak madly to us. , are you not sure about your own position?”

“You’re a dying person, you dare to be so arrogant, you’re a bastard.” A group of people yelled, and naturally scoffed at George Han’s remarks.

“It seems that you are all crazy, you can’t wait to kill me.” George Han sneered.

The Fuye family was not afraid at all, and many people even started on the spot, making it clear that they would teach George Han a lesson.

George Han smiled slightly: “Let’s do it, anyway, I’m dead anyway, it’s better to pull a few pads on the back.” When the words fell, George Han moved his hand, and a black qi formed in his palm.

Depend on!

At this time, a large group of people suddenly realized that their emotions were too excited for a while, and it seemed that they were pretending to be big.

Yes, George Han was going to die, but the struggle before death was enough to send many people to hell with him. This mother*er was accidentally trapped in it. This is no fun.

Who would want to give up their lives at this time?

Who wants to not enjoy the joy of victory suddenly when they are about to win?

How strong a group of people is in one second, how cowardly they are in the next second.

Those who took their legs even more directly and unconsciously shrank back.

Immediately afterward, George Han set his sights on the executives of the Zhu family: “What about you guys, do you want revenge?”

If there were no lessons from the Fuye family, a group of people would definitely speak out nonsense, but it was precise because there were So at this time, the group of people also kept silent, and even lowered their heads so as not to meet George Han’s eyes.

George Han glanced at the surrounding soldiers and masters, and the soldiers and masters couldn’t help but take a half step back.

“It looks like a bunch of trash.” George Han laughed coldly, and the next second, his eyes suddenly turned fierce and he shouted angrily: “A bunch of trash, you are so afraid of even a dying person? Don’t you dare to fight? “

Can you have a good time with your mother?" After the words were finished, a person slowly stood up...

Chapter 3695

Facing George Han, Ming Yu stood up at this moment, not only without the slightest fear but completely calm.

"In the end, I will accompany you in your last wild dance. Although I know you will disdain it, this is out of my respect for you." During the speech, two water circles in Ming Yu's hands tightened.

There are also four water circles slowly accompanying her around her body.

George Han looked at her with a disdainful smile: "A lot of gentlemen dare not go on, but it is ironic to let a girl go first."

"Although I really disdain it, is there any way to do this? I can't force it. Fight me with this rubbish." As soon as the words fell, Ye Shijun couldn't help it: "George Han, shut up your stinky mouth for me, I have enough fun with you."

* . Yes, that's right

, you bastard uttered wild words, seeing that you are about to die, we just pity you and pity you, but who knows that you will make a big fuss about it, okay, it will fulfill you and send you back to the west."

"George Han, wait for me to stab you with a thousand words."

"Your previous madness will inevitably turn into a wagging tail after a while, I said."

With Ming Yu, the Shenlong elder who came out in person, the morale of the group itself was heavy. Zhen, and George Han's words were too humiliating. At this time, more and more people began to stand up one after another, arguing.

The soldiers also regained their confidence, and the distance they retreated was approaching again.

"George Han, you are crazy." Linlong reminded softly behind George Han.

Fight well, fight well, anyway, it's already a game that must be lost, but you have to provoke for a little bit of a battle of words

The other party, doesn't this make the other party's fight more fierce, and the death and injury of himself and others are faster?

This guy George Han...

George Han smiled coldly and didn't speak.

Of course, just when Ming Yu and the others started their jackets, George Han suddenly raised his hand: "Wait."

"Why, George Han, are you afraid now? Are you afraid of being beaten to death by us?" Someone immediately mocked the road.

George Han ignored it and just looked at Ming Yu: "Make a small request."

"You say."

"My two strange beasts are innocent, so don't let them get involved in this matter, in return, if I die, I will allow them to follow you in the future."

"The gluttonous and lifelong are both rare good things, how?"

"Let's not say that they are indeed rare things, even if only Ordinary things, George Han opened your mouth, and I will agree to this matter." Ming Yu said, and glanced at everyone coldly: "Have you heard clearly?"

"Yes."

George Han nodded: "Okay." After he finished speaking, he glanced at Linlong and Evil Taotie, motioning them to rest not far away.

Linlong and Evil Taotie were naturally reluctant to agree, but when they saw George Han's eyes, they also knew that George Han was determined and could only retreat helplessly and unwillingly.

"In order to repay you for agreeing to my request, I allow you to take action first." George Han stood proudly with his hands behind his back.

"George Han, you are really presumptuous, I will teach you a lesson today so that you know that you can pretend that you are not forced."

"*, brothers, let's go together!"

"*, Han

George Han, you are insulting here. who!"

With Ye Shijun shouting angrily, greeting each other, a group of people quickly launched a frantic siege on George Han.

Ming Yu was also unwilling to be reconciled, and he tapped the water circle in his hand, and it also attacked under the shadow change.

She understands very well that this is the last step, and in this last step, what she has to do is to help the troops to stand firm in the three thousand battle against Han, and never allow any mistakes.

Therefore, even if it seems that she does not need to take action, it is enough to rely on the enthusiastic generals, and she still chooses to add insurance to this operation.

Looking at the fierce and tide-like attack, George Han knew that he would definitely lose.

But there was a weird smile on his face that didn't belong to a loser...
