

Dragon Husband Chapter Chapter 1896

The sight in front of him really frightened Wiliam, and even Xu Rushuang who was beside him frightened.

Rao is Xu Rushuang, who is well-informed and looked at the bed with a confused expression.

Wiliam lowered his head to look at the silver needle, and then thought about my little daughter.

While thinking about it, the silver needle suddenly became Xiao Wangqing again.

Xiao Wangqing seemed to be frightened too. She opened her eyes and hugged Wiliam, wrapping her hands and feet around Wiliam's body, and burst into tears, "Wow! Dad! Scared me to death! What's wrong!"

Wiliami sweated, hugged Xiao Wangqing tightly, and couldn't tell what happened.

However, when he thought silently in his heart, there was a faint inference.

He waited until Xiao Wangqing gradually recovered, and then said to Xiao Wangqing: "Little baby, don't be afraid. Let's do an experiment and become a magician, shall we?"

"What kind of magic?" Xiao Wangqing's childish temperament immediately became interested.

Wiliam said with a smile, "I'll turn you into a needle!"

"Wow, wow! Is it like just now?" Xiao Wangqing clapped her hands and agreed.

Wiliam thought silently again in his heart, Long live the red flower.

Then, Xiao Wangqing really turned into a long live red flower, hanging in front of Wiliam.

Even Xiao Wangqing's voice could be heard in Wiliam's mind, "Wow, Dad, it's amazing! I've really turned into a needle!"

Then, Long Live Honghua didn't need Wiliam to drive her, and flew up and down around Wiliam, as if she was playing a game.

Seeing this scene, Wiliam turned to look at Xu Rushuang.

Xu Rushuang was still stunned, but she seemed to be gradually reacting.

"So, your silver needle is fused with Xiao Wangqing?" Xu Rushuang asked in surprise.

William nodded helplessly, "At present, it seems to be the case. Or to put it another way, Xiao Wangqing has become the artifact of Long Live Red Flower."

Speaking of this, William couldn't help feeling very emotional.

In fact, from the beginning, others have said this plan.

Let Xiao Wangqing become the spirit of Long Live Red Flower.

After all, the most advanced rootless spirits are artifact spirits that can be infused into weapons.

But it was denied by William at that time.

On the one hand, William was afraid that after Xiao Wangqing turned into a long live safflower, he would no longer be free and would not be able to show his daughter's charming and naive as before.

On the other hand, William was also afraid that the original artifact spirit of Long Live Honghua would disappear.

But now, after going around in circles, he finally returned to the starting point.

Xiao Wangqing still became the artifact of Long Live Red Flower.

However, the situation seemed to be completely different from what William was worried about.

Xiao Wangqing can actually transform at will!

And just like normal people.

From this point of view, Xiao Wangqing's becoming a tool spirit will not have any negative effects, but will become a great help to William.

After all, Long Live Red Flower is another Nirvana rebirth.

Moreover, after devouring the Little Heavenly Maiden and merging the Bingyu Bingyu, the strength of Long Live Honghua and Xiao Wangqing will reach an extremely terrifying level!

Perhaps, the current Long Live Red Flower has already surpassed the original level and reached the realm of immortal martial arts.

It's just, what about my bare-ass idiot?

According to the words of Tianqing Qilin senior, he will not disappear.

William was thinking when suddenly the long live safflower flew up and down in a random manner, and even nearly hit Xu Rushuang.

A silly childish laughter sounded out of thin air at the scene.

William was stunned, isn't this just a silly laughter?

He is really still there!

just where?

William looked at the flying long live safflower, and thought of Xiaoerzhao in his heart, hoping that he could also turn into a human form with a bang and appear in front of him.

Unfortunately, this dream was shattered.

Long live Honghua didn't change into a human form, but a voice from Xiao Wangqing, "Hey, it's you little fool, you're actually here? Great, I'll have playmates in the future, hahaha, I can play with you when I'm bored."

"Hahahaha!" Shi Erzhaohao seemed to understand Xiao Wangqing's words, giggling on the side.

Hearing this, William smiled.

It seems that the silly boy still exists, and it is also integrated into the long live safflower.

But, both are there?

This is a bit beyond William's cognition.

At this time, Xu Rushuang shouted out in disbelief, "One weapon and two spirits! It's unbelievable! In my lifetime, I can actually see one weapon and two spirits! God!"

William looked at Xu Rushuang and asked humbly, "What is a dual spirit?"

Xu Rushuang's eyes were red, and she said in shock, "I have only seen a record in the ancient book. In this world, the birth of a weapon spirit is already a rare thing in all things. And a weapon can hold two kinds of artifact spirits at the same time, this is only in the legend! You must know that a weapon can only have one artifact spirit, this is the rule of heaven and earth, if you force two kinds of artifact spirits, the result will be It can only be two kinds of artifact spirits devour each other, and in the end only one artifact spirit is left. I never thought that this weapon of yours actually has two artifact spirits at the same time! Isn't that godly enough?"

After listening to this explanation, Wiliam laughed.

Why not?

Xu Rushuang was right, this is probably the rules of heaven and earth.

After all, everyone wants to fight for dominance.

But Xiao Wangqing is different from silly.

They depended on Wiliam together and lived and died with Wiliam.

In fact, to put it bluntly, the two are the relationship between siblings.

This time, they experienced life and death together, and established a stronger blood relationship with each other.

It is natural for the two to coexist.

However, Wiliam still underestimated the magic of a double spirit, and things were not as simple as he thought.

“It’s finally a perfect ending! One son and one daughter have stayed.” Wiliam laughed happily.

At this moment, he really looks like an old father.

Wiliam thought of Xiao Wangqing again in his heart.

Xiao Wangqing and Sha’er were having a good time, but they suddenly changed back to their original appearance, and fell to the ground from mid-air with a clatter, landing on their buttocks.

“Ouch! It hurts the baby!” Xiao Wangqing rubbed her buttocks and sat up from the ground angrily, “I don’t want to change back to the way I was, I want to change needles, I want to play with Xiao Hanhan.”

Oh, my idiot was named Xiaohanhan by your pitiful sister.

Wiliam groaned.

But Wiliam seemed to understand.

If Xiao Wangqing appeared on the main body, Xiao Hanhan would not appear.

And if it becomes a silver needle, Xiao Hanhan's consciousness can appear, and it will coexist with Xiao Wangqing.

Interesting.

Just as Wiliam was thinking, Xiao Wangqing suddenly shouted, "Change, change!"

She turned into a long live red flower again.

Good guy, it turns out that not only Wiliam could instruct Xiao Wangqing to incarnate, but Xiao Wangqing could take the initiative to transform himself.

When Wiliam thought about it, the silver needle turned into a human.

Xiao Wangqing pouted and changed back again.

Xu Rushuang, who was beside him, was stunned.

What's so special, a second-hand father is on a magic tour with a fool to smash and pit his daughter?
